

LIKE NORFOLK HOSPITAL

NEW YORK PRESS EDITORIAL MAN PRAISES INSTITUTION.

IS FINEST HE HAS EVER SEEN

"I Have Been Through a Great Many New York City Hospitals," He Said, "And This is Superior to Anything I Have Ever Seen."

The following letter appeared in the Omaha Bee yesterday morning:

Omaha, Oct. 13.—To the Editor of The Bee: In company with a brother, Mr. James Carr Garrison of the editorial staff of the New York Press, the writer recently visited the asylum for the insane located two miles and a half from Norfolk, and I do not think I am violating any political precedent (being a democrat) when I quote his remarks. He said:

"I have been through a great many of the hospitals and sanitariums of New York city, and must say that the management and appointments of the Norfolk institution have been a revelation to me. I have never seen anything superior from whatever viewpoint, and the homelike air pervading is assuredly very charming and must be of great advantage in the treatment of the unfortunate inmates. It is more like a large family than an asylum, and I shall return to New York with a broader appreciation of the great state which has made such an institution a possibility."

These are also my sentiments, and in lieu of the adverse criticism which the partisan papers have been directing toward the state board on account of the appointments of the new asylum, it is only fair to state that we found no voluptuousness therein—simply sanitary cottages, built of the best material, in a substantial manner and furnished with the best furniture procurable with the idea of solidity rather than luxury. Economy and simplicity prevail throughout, and nothing is wasted. Even the bricks from the burned building are being crushed and used for walks and driveways, giving employment to any who care to work, and contentment seems to be the watchword.

Superintendent J. M. Alden, his assistant, Dr. Nicholson, Steward Peters and Secretary Gutzmer seem to be the proper men in the right place, and patient or visitor who fails to succumb to their bright influences and graciousness of manner are indeed beyond hope.

Sincerely,
A. D. Garrison,
2410 Seward street.

WEDNESDAY SIFTINGS.

P. F. Carroll of Lynch was here today.

F. G. Aurlinger of Neligh was in the city today.

J. M. Long has gone to Stanton today on business.

George Stalcope has gone to Neligh where he is to move a building.

A. O. Perry, at Atkinson real estate man, was in Norfolk yesterday.

Miss Maude Duell and Miss Ethel Raymond of Creighton were here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hecht and son of Plainview went to Omaha this morning.

R. H. Reynolds is in Stanton, where he has a contract for a new brick building.

Attorneys Mapes and Robertson transacted legal business in Madison yesterday.

John Dunkle of Fremont is in the city. He was formerly a druggist at Humphrey.

D. E. Clemens and Fred Meyers were in the city today on business from Tilden.

T. J. Patras left at noon for a business trip to Madison, Humphrey, Newman Grove and Lindsay.

Mrs. Goodrich and family left yesterday for San Antonio, Texas, where they will make their future home.

J. B. Hinks of Sioux City is on the Norfolk-Emerson mail run this week as substitute for Charles Culler.

George Richardson, republican candidate for county clerk, was in Norfolk today and went to Madison this afternoon.

H. S. Stinson of Foster, S. W. Duell of Meadow Grove, and P. L. McFayden of Bonesteel were early arrivals in the city this morning.

General Superintendent C. C. Hughes has returned from a trip over the Northwestern, where he went with the newly appointed officials.

Rev. W. J. Turner performed the ceremony for the Mittelstadt-Koenigstein wedding and not Rev. J. F. Poucher, as announced in the report.

Sol G. Mayer returned last night from a trip to Lincoln. Mrs. Mayer and little daughter, who accompanied him to that city Sunday, will remain during the rest of this week.

Mrs. S. F. Dunn, who had been visiting in Omaha for the past few days, left there at noon today for Nebraska City, where she went to attend the state convention of the Rebecca lodge, as delegate from the Norfolk lodge.

Mrs. R. Thiem went to Columbus yesterday to assist her brother, Roy Carter, in packing his household goods. He has so far recovered from his recent illness, brought on by the death of his wife, that he is able to be at his place in the drug store at Columbus a part of the time.

It is reported from Meadow Grove that E. H. Luikart of Tilden has sold his interest in the Meadow Grove bank to a party from Iowa.

J. W. Humphrey brought three new tailors to Norfolk last night from Omaha. He went to Omaha Monday to secure new workmen for his Norfolk shop.

Twelve persons from Primrose were registered at the Pacific Hotel this morning for breakfast. They were in the city on a land inspecting venture.

Mrs. W. H. and Mrs. O. J. Johnson yesterday afternoon entertained in the second of their 1 o'clock luncheons. Ladies living in the district south of Norfolk avenue were invited yesterday, those from the territory north of that thoroughfare having been invited last week. Both parties were given in the home of Mrs. O. J. Johnson on Koenigstein avenue. Prizes yesterday were won by Mrs. I. J. Johnson for euchre; Mrs. J. S. Mathewson for "shouting" points; and Mrs. Viele for dinnch. A delightful luncheon was served at 1 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Maynard have received cards announcing the marriage of Mrs. Maynard's brother, Ray Seymour, formerly of this city, in California last week. He lives now at Redlands, Cal.

Mrs. Edith Offenhauser will accompany her sister, Mrs. Dunning, to Sioux City tomorrow for an extended visit. L. M. Wolf will have charge of the Offenhauser jewelry store until further arrangements are made.

J. A. Light, who has lived in his house east of the Junction for the past two years, today moved into the city and has reoccupied his home on South Third street. He will either rent or sell his property at South Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Wells of Savage, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Payne of Neligh, passed through the city this morning enroute to Madison where they had been summoned by a telegram announcing the death of Mr. Wells' mother.

Mrs. Adam Hall of David City will arrive in Norfolk tomorrow for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Doughty. Mrs. Hall is a grandmother of W. F. Hall of this city and is an old time friend of Mr. Doughty's mother, who is here on a visit from Belle Plaine, Iowa.

The Northwestern officials who had been making a tour of the Nebraska & Wyoming division this week, returned to Norfolk early this morning from Long Pine. Assistant General Superintendent Frank Walters and Superintendent C. H. Reynolds came in on the morning train.

W. H. Johnson left yesterday noon for a southern trip, his exact destination being unknown at the time he started on the journey. Mr. Johnson has been suffering from a severe attack of the grip for the past three weeks and the continued cold, wet weather of the present week kept him from rapidly recovering his strength. He has gone now to Oklahoma City and hopes that in the warm air of the south he will within two or three days recuperate and begin to rebuild his energy. Mr. Johnson did not know definitely just how long he will be away from home.

Lorna Doone castle No. 96, Highland Nobles, will celebrate their first anniversary on Monday evening, October 21. Both the I. O. O. F. and the G. A. R. halls have been secured for the occasion. The Odd Fellows' hall will be used for the reception and entertainment of guests and the Grand Army hall will be used for the banquet board. The committee on entertainment is hard at work and a good program is promised. The aid society of the order have charge of the banquet. The committee plans to make this one of the finest fraternal order feasts ever known in the city.

A surprise party was perpetrated last night upon Charles Gerecke at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gerecke on Norfolk avenue. The occasion for the party was the fact that Mr. Gerecke is to leave the city next Sunday and his friends wished to tender him a farewell affair before he got away. The party people "met" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Baker and swooped down upon their unknowing host at 8 o'clock. He was, of course, much surprised and highly elated. The evening was spent in having a good time till a late hour. Among those who attended were members of the home talent company which recently gave a farce in the Auditorium, and of which Mr. Gerecke was a member.

Occupying two coaches and two baggage cars with pretty girls and stage paraphernalia, the big company of seventy people, most of them stunning lookers, arrived in Norfolk on the M. & O. train this morning from Sioux City to present "The Prince of Pilsen" at the Auditorium tonight. The troupe played in Sioux City last night and in Lincoln the night before that. They passed through Fremont yesterday but did not stop. Originally the company had intended to play at Sioux Falls but later Norfolk was put on the routing instead. This is one of the biggest companies that has come to town. Of course Norfolk has had stars along the legitimate line, such as Walker Whiteside, Otis Skinner and Marie Comstock, Frank Keenan in "The Poor Relation," Paul Gilmore, Charles Hanford and many others; there have been musicians here in the shape of Sousa and his famous band and Innes and his band, but today is the first time a really, truly, "alive and breathing" musical comedy, with a world of success behind it and with the original songs in its lips, ever struck the place. There is every indication of a good houseful tonight, though there are a number of good seats remaining unsold.

SUPERVISORS ON TICKET

JUDGE HARRINGTON MAKES RULING IN HOLT COUNTY.

DONAHOE'S NAME ON BALLOTS

Acting Under the Instructions of the Attorney General, the County Clerk in Holt Refused to Place Supervisors on Ticket.

O'Neill, Neb., Oct. 17.—Special to The News: County Clerk E. S. Gilmore was today served with a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel him to place the name of John B. Donahoe on the ballots as the fusion nominee for supervisor in district No. 2.

The writ was issued by District Judge J. J. Harrington. The case grows out of Clerk Gilmore's refusal to file the supervisor nominations, "off-year" elections. This law has Clerk Gilmore acted under the attorney general's interpretation of house roll No. 317, a law enacted by the last legislature to do away with the then declared unconstitutional by the supreme court so far as it relates to county officers, but the attorney general has held that the law is valid in respect to supervisors and township officers and that there would be no objection for these places, hence Clerk Gilmore's refusal to file nominations.

Under Judge Harrington's ruling, however, the clerk will proceed to file the nominations, and supervisors and township officers will be voted for in Holt county at least.

Mickey Lays Corner Stone.

Chamberlain Case.

Auburn, Neb., Oct. 18.—Court here is engaged again in empanelling a jury for the Chamberlain case.

RECORD PRICE FOR LAND.

Hundred Dollars an Acre Paid in Cuming County.

West Point, Neb., Oct. 18.—The record price, up to this date, for Cuming county farm land was reached in the sale last week of the Anton Psota farm, just west of this city for the sum of $100 per acre. Schinstock brothers, the noted stockmen of West Point were the purchasers. The tract consists of 200 acres of bottom land. The improvements are of the ordinary character but the land is exceptionally fertile, having been heavily fertilized by Mr. Psota during the last ten years. So rich has this ground become that the usual yield of corn has been eighty-five bushels to the acre for some years past.

Very Rev. Joseph Ruesing, rector of the Catholic church in West Point has been seriously ill with a nervous disorder but is now slowly recovering.

Albert Radler, whose left foot was cut off by a passenger train about ten days ago, is recovering from the shock of the accident and the consequent operation. Doctors Thompson and Summers have amputated the leg a short distance below the knee.

View of Live Stock Markets at South Omaha, C. A. Mallory, Manager.

South Omaha, Oct. 19.—It has been some time since we have had a fall season when the supply of cattle has been more uniformly distributed or a more even and generally satisfactory market.

The supply of fat native cattle continues small and prices for the choice grades are well sustained. The other grades come in competition with the range cattle and are still selling at moderate prices. The bulk of the receipts are range cattle and will so continue during this month and next.

The quality of the range cattle is not as good as earlier, there being more of the common and poorer steers and the last runs of cow stuff.

With so much feed in the country and with sheep and lambs so high, the demand for stockers and feeders continues liberal and we note an active demand throughout. We look for liberal receipts of all kinds of range cattle for a few weeks and while we don't look for any permanent decline, we are liable to have natural reactions most any time, when we advise buying cattle and think all who need any cattle should correspond with us and place their orders as soon as possible.

We quote: Fair to good steer calves, $3.50@4.00; good to choice $4.00@4.25; fair to good stock steers $2.75@3.25; good to choice stock and feeding steers $3.25@3.75; choice to extra selected steers $3.75@4.25; feeding bulls $2.00@2.40; heifers $2.25@2.75, with better calves about $3.00.

The general quality of the cattle sold at Omaha is better than at most any other market. We do not look for much higher prices for fat cattle this winter and would not be surprised if outside prices are not sustained during the winter and spring months but it now looks like the right kind of cattle bought and handled right would be more profitable than sheep. Hold half fat cattle until good but ship fat cattle fast as ready.

Hogs—The trade is beginning to wake up to the fact that old hogs have been marketed closely and with a good fresh meat trade and the stacks of provisions gradually diminishing, the sentiment and prospects for much lower prices in the near future have changed somewhat.

As we have stated before, the country must have the use of a corn crop about six months before it is reflected in the hog supply or market and while we don't feel "bullish" enough to advocate much permanent advance we do not believe the situation warrants good hogs selling much below $5.00 this side of January. We look for better prices for the distant future for provisions and only moderate receipts at all markets the balance of the year.

This market continues well in line with the bulk selling $5.05@5.20, with top $5.20. We still advocate the shipping of choice hogs to Chicago so long as that market commands such Receipts of sheep and lambs for the past week show a slight decrease from those of a week ago, and the prospects are that receipts of range sheep and lambs will continue to decrease from now on until the end of the season; although the inability on the part of the railroads to furnish cars enough to move the stuff promptly that is ready for shipment may cause a slight congestion here at any time, which will possibly cause heavy receipts for a day or so. The demand continues strong for all classes of feeders, and the prospects are that they will continue to sell at strong prices and will no doubt show an advance.

Lambs averaging from 50 to 60 lbs. are selling from $5.00 to $6.50; 40 to 50 lb. lambs $5.00 to $6.00; yearlings $5.00 to $5.40; wethers $4.75 to $5.00, and ewes $4.00 to $4.50.

Fat sheep prices show an advance of fully 40¢ per cwt. from last week's best prices, while the best lambs are selling only steady. The percentage of desirable killers among the receipts is very small, and will no doubt continue so until stuff commences to come in from the feed lots. The prospects are that prices will continue to advance during the next few weeks.

Lambs are selling from $6.75 to $7.25; yearlings $5.40 to $6.00; wethers $5.00 to $5.25, with a few fancy bunches as high as $5.50, and ewes $4.75 to $5.00.

There is a very urgent demand for ewes that are desirable for breeding purposes, prices ranging from $4.50 to $5.00.

Actors Took Drives.

The lively clatter of horses' hoofs sounded and resounded on hard Norfolk avenue and the merry laugh and gay little shrieks of chorus girls echoed up and down the town shortly after noon when the seventy people, who came with the "Prince of Pilsen" company, began to look around for something to do during the afternoon.

Many of the playfolk hurried to the liverystables and secured the best horses of the town, several striking out for long saddle jaunts into the country while many more clambered into double seated carriages—five girls and a man to the carriage—and drove around the town.

"I'll bet on the winner," sang out one pretty little chorus girl in a black gown and with extremely high heeled boots. She was waving her arms wildly at a pair of athletic young fellows just passing on good looking gallopers.

The company scattered out toward various hotels. Many of them are at the Oxnard, many at the Pacific and many others are stopping at other places.

Around the stage entrance to the Auditorium there were lively moments as the singers came and went, sizing up the situation. One of the stars—the man who plays the real prince—picked up a comrade, chucked him into a push-cart that was handy, and wheeled the fellow around for a ride.

Jess Dandy, who takes the comical part of "Hans Wagner," is a great big jolly fellow, with a smooth face and nose glasses, whose checks and eyes are alive with smiles that run out of little nests in his face and always dance about.
