

WHOLESALE FRUIT HOUSE

HALEY & LANG ESTABLISH A BRANCH HOUSE HERE.

LIKE THE NEW FREIGHT RATE

The New Firm Began to Ship in Fruit This Morning and are Unloading at the Koenigstein Block Quarters.

Today, two days after the new distributing freight rate became effective in Norfolk, a wholesale fruit house has been established in the city.

Messrs. Haley are in the city today superintending the work of starting. One Mr. Haley will be in charge here as manager.

Speaking of the new rate which the Commercial club of Norfolk has secured, for distributing, the elder Mr. Haley, who has had long experience in the fruit wholesaling business, commended the Commercial club and the new rate.

"It would seem the sensible thing," said Mr. Haley, "to go after a tangible rate—one that there was some possibility of getting. That is a good start and will bring new business, which all adds to the city's influence."

Advantages of Norfolk's Location. In a circular letter which the firm will soon issue to their trade, Messrs. Haley & Lang discuss the advantages of Norfolk as a location for wholesale business and say, among other things:

"We have opened a distributing branch house at Norfolk, Neb., in order to serve the trade in northern and western Nebraska and southern South Dakota to better advantage. We call your attention to the following advantages of this location.

Lower Freight Rates. "On October 12 a new distributing freight tariff was put into effect from Norfolk, which will enable you to ship goods in our line from Norfolk at considerable saving in freight charges over Omaha, Lincoln and Sioux City. Most goods in the green fruit line are classified at first class rates, in less than car lots, so you can readily see there will be a big saving in cost to you, by ordering from Norfolk.

Time. "By filling your orders from Norfolk, we can save you from twenty-four to thirty-six hours time against shipments from Omaha, Lincoln or Sioux City, which is a big advantage to you. The fruit will reach you in better and fresher condition, and there will be less damage from over-heating, in the summer, or freezing in the winter.

"It will be our aim to ship orders on the next train after receipt of same."

Postage Stamp Rates. In further discussing the advantages, Mr. Haley said to The News today, "By virtue of the postage stamp rate, we are able to ship certain classes of fruit into Norfolk as cheaply as into any other point. We can ship into Norfolk from Duluth at the same rate that it costs to ship from Duluth to Florida. The rate is the same everywhere, so that it comes to Norfolk as cheap as to Sioux City and saves re-shipping at increased cost. And the out rate helps get it from here to our wholesaling points."

FRIDAY FACTS.

Mrs. Ira Hamilton is visiting at Pierce.

J. L. Bley was here today from Madison.

C. H. Mohr was here today from Plainview.

J. W. Hodges was here today from West Point.

L. O. Kerr of Fairfax, S. D., was in the city today.

Miss Nellie Lambert of Foster was in the city today.

John H. Lindale of West Point was in the city this morning.

Asa K. Leonard returned this morning from a trip up the Bonesteel line.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moldenhauer are enjoying a visit from their daughter, Mrs. Neuman.

A. C. Van Horn will leave Monday for Ames, where he goes to work in the sugar factory there.

The West Side Whist club enjoyed second meeting of the year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Darius Mathewson last night.

Miss Frances Velez was hostess at a supper party last evening in which a number of friends were invited to aid in her birthday celebration.

Mrs. W. H. Johnson and Mrs. O. J. Johnson were hostesses at a delightful 1 o'clock luncheon today, at the home of Mrs. W. H. Johnson, on Koenigstein avenue.

A social was held at the home of the Misses Durland, North Ninth street, last evening. It was under the Christian Endeavor auspices and was well attended. Miss Harriet C. Wood, formerly teacher in the Norfolk schools, will have the position of principal at Marysville, Idaho, this winter. She recently secured a first class certificate in that state, with an average of 96 on fifteen studies.

The News is preparing to print many thousands of election ballots for counties all through northern Nebraska. This office is prepared to handle ballots in any amounts either from county clerks or for local papers that do not care to do the work themselves.

Another republican precinct candidate has withdrawn from the race. Col. S. W. Hayes, who was nominated by the republicans for justice of the peace, declares that he will not accept the office and that there is no use in using his name as that of a candidate.

The Union Pacific railroad company began this morning a number of improvements on their property here. The platform at the station is being rebuilt and the switching tracks are being repaired. They are also placing new crossings over Norfolk avenue.

Ollie Cagle, the man from Pierce who was knocked down and so badly injured here during the last firemen's tournament, was married Wednesday evening to Miss Maude Drebert of Pierce. He is manager of the stock farm belonging to Dr. Alden, superintendent of the Norfolk insane hospital.

C. O. McDannel of Giltner, Neb., has taken a position as salesman with Baum Bros. Mr. McDannel is a clear case of want ad results. He lives near Grand Island and was passing through Norfolk on a hunting trip. He picked up a copy of Norfolk's daily newspaper and saw a want ad for a salesman. The opportunity struck him and he got the job.

Work has actually begun on the new cement sidewalk which is to extend a half block along North Fourth street from the Norfolk avenue corner. For weeks and weeks the sand has been piled in a heap and people passing that way have been subjected to serious inconvenience on rainy days but the material, for which the workmen had been waiting, has at length arrived and the new walk will soon be in.

"You may send me down a case of those white grapes." This was the first order given to the Haley & Lang fruit wholesale house in Norfolk. It was given yesterday afternoon by C. P. Parish and the wholesale business began a minute later, when the grapes were delivered. Fred Haley, the local manager, and W. C. Smith, traveling salesman for the firm in this territory, are both working hard to install the wholesale house.

The dress rehearsal of the local talent entertainment was held at the Auditorium last night and proved a success in every way. Graham Humphrey and his six assistants—all pretty young ladies—were dressed in their pretty white costumes which will make a hit tonight. Fritz Asmus wore his "Flying Dutchman" costume, a winner. W. F. Hall wore a striking darkey garb, Miss Ethel Hartley was dressed in her "old maid" array and Miss Ethel Doughty dressed in her stunning character gown.

Pierce Leader: A merchant tailor was up from Norfolk last Friday looking for a man by name of Riemann, who some time ago went down to Norfolk and ordered a suit of clothes and gave Pierce as his home. Several days later Riemann called up the Norfolk tailor and asked him if he would send the suit up that day as he wanted to wear it that night. He further stated that he would be in Norfolk in a day or two and settle or would send the amount. It has been several weeks since that time and Mr. Riemann has not called to settle nor has he sent the necessary amount. He was unable to find him here.

From present indications it is safe to predict that there will be scores of out of town people in Norfolk next Wednesday night for the production of the musical extravaganza, "The Prince of Pilsen." Inquiries from Pierce, Plainview, Creighton, Battle Creek, Madison, Tilden, Neligh, Stanton and many other points near Norfolk show that there are many people contemplating the trip. Those who do come will have a chance to see the finest theatrical production in a musical way that Norfolk has been able to boast of. "The Prince of Pilsen" has made a wonderful hit all over the world and it has outlived many of the other popular musical comedies. When the man says, "Was you ever in Zinzinnati?" the audience goes wild.

WRIGHT MAY LOSE ONE HAND. John Wright Writes of Condition of Injured Son.

John Wright, writing to Henry Hollyfield of this city concerning the accident in which Harry Wright was so badly mangled, says of his son's condition: "His right wrist was broken and both legs at the ankles. His face was bruised and he is badly hurt. His left ankle was not so badly broken but his left is all mangled up. It is the arm that gives him pain. He may lose his right hand. The doctor can tell better in a day or two. Take it all in all, he came out lucky, and unlucky, too. He didn't lose his life, but he was badly wounded. His mother will stay with him until he is able to be moved—probably six weeks. The man killed was buried here today. We have all kinds of sympathizers here. It is the worst accident that ever happened in Beatrice. He is in good hands here.

"John Wright."

MR. WALTERS IS POPULAR

NEW OFFICIAL ON NORTHWESTERN WELL LIKED.

WILL NOT BRING HIS FAMILY

Norfolk is to be the Center of the Battleground Among the Railroads in the Race to the Coast—New Office Effective Monday.

Concerning Frank Walters, who has been appointed to the position of assistant general superintendent of the Northwestern railroad, with headquarters here, the Sioux City Journal says:

Sioux City is to lose Frank Walters, the genial and popular superintendent of the Sioux City division of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway company.

Mr. Walters is to be transferred to the territory west of the Missouri river, which for the next few years is to be the battle ground for the great systems which are fighting for territory and building extensions to the Pacific coast. The Northwestern is rushing an extension westward from Casper, which is a part of the Nebraska and Wyoming division. Mr. Walters next Sunday will become the assistant general superintendent of this division.

The circular announcing the promotion of Mr. Walters was received in Sioux City yesterday. It was as follows:

Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company, Office of the Manager Nebraska and Wyoming Division, Omaha, Neb., Oct. 10, 1905.—Mr. Frank Walters is appointed assistant general superintendent, Nebraska and Wyoming division, with headquarters at Norfolk, Neb.

Effective October 15, 1905.

Geo. F. Bidwell, Manager.

Approved: W. A. Gardner, General Manager.

Mr. Walters will go to the Nebraska and Wyoming division as assistant to Charles C. Hughes, who was general superintendent for the old Sioux City and Pacific and the Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley road. They will have jurisdiction over all the lines west of the river and of the important Casper line, now being constructed.

Mr. Walters is one of the best liked railroad men who ever lived in Sioux City, and his family has a wide circle of friends. He began railroading twenty-two years ago as a car checker for the Minneapolis and St. Louis at Fort Dodge. He then was successively operator for the Illinois Central at Cedar Falls, night operator for the Illinois Central and Omaha at LeMars and train dispatcher for the Illinois Central at Fort Dodge.

In 1886 he was a train dispatcher for the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern at Esterville, and in a short time was transferred to the general offices of the Cedar Rapids route at Cedar Rapids. Here he rose rapidly from train dispatcher to chief train dispatcher, then to trainmaster, then secretary to the general manager, then superintendent of the Cedar Rapids division.

When a few years ago the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern was absorbed by the Rock Island Mr. Walters continued as superintendent of the Cedar Rapids division until December, 1903, when he resigned to cast his lot with the Chicago and Northwestern Railway company. He was appointed assistant superintendent of the Ashland division, with headquarters at Kaukauna, Wis., and six months later he was promoted to the superintendency of the Sioux City division to succeed W. D. Hodge.

Mr. Walters will leave for Norfolk as soon as his successor shall be appointed. Mrs. Walters and the children will remain in Sioux City this winter.

TALKING, HE DROPS DEAD

FRANK HART SUCCUMBS SUDDENLY AT WINNETON, NEB.

A PROMINENT YOUNG FARMER

Yesterday Afternoon at 4:30 O'Clock Frank Hart, Who Lived Northeast of Winnetoon, While Talking to the Blacksmith, Died.

Creighton, Neb., Oct. 13.—Special to The News: Frank Hart, a young farmer who lived five miles northeast of Winnetoon and who was well known throughout this entire country, dropped dead yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock while standing before the anvil in the Scheer blacksmith shop at Winnetoon. Mr. Hart was talking when he suddenly sagged down dead.

He was a man about thirty-five years of age and leaves a wife and five small children to mourn his loss. Heart failure was the cause of his sudden death.

SCHOLAR STOLE FOR WIFE.

Son of Clergyman, Caught as Purse-Snatcher—Released.

Oliver Hamilton, son of an English Episcopalian minister, graduate of Eton college near London, a handsome, athletic young fellow who speaks several languages, and bears unmistakable signs of a gentleman and a scholar, was arrested late Saturday night for snatching a purse from a woman, says a St. Louis dispatch. He confessed to the policeman that caught him and said he and his wife were starving, and he did not know what he was doing. He was detained at the Four Courts over night and Sunday morning, the woman whose purse he stole refusing to prosecute him, and the police verifying the young man's story of suffering, he was released with the injunction to go and sin no more.

For two weeks young Hamilton declared he and his wife had subsisted on bread and onions.

Racked in mind and body, too proud to beg and unable to find employment, he wandered the streets all of Friday and Saturday until, half crazed with hunger and lack of sleep, he committed the first crime of his life.

EMIL SPOERING IN COURT

HIS FAMILIAR FACE AGAIN BEFORE THE JUDGE.

IS ACCUSED OF BEATING WIFE

Emil Pleaded Not Guilty, However, and Was Let Off With the Costs of the Case—His Wife Filed the Complaint This Time.

Emil Spoeering was in police court again today.

This time Emil was hauled up on the carpet on a charge of beating his wife. His wife, Mrs. Ida Spoeering, swore out the complaint and had Emil arrested. Judge Westervelt assessed the defendant the costs in the case, $4.10, and released him on a promise to be good in the future.

Emil's face is a well known picture in police court. Once he had a number of small boys arrested because, while he was walking with his sweetheart, the boys touched him on the arm. He arrested them on the charge of assault.

Another time Emil was arrested for beating his guardian, Mrs. Edith Schultz, a sister by adoption.

Again Emil was arrested for stealing railway ties.

A few weeks ago Emil's horse was strangled in the river, when Emil drew on the rope.

Mrs. Schultz this morning paid Emil's costs in court.

TYPHOID EPIDEMIC.

No New Cases Developed Today at Lincoln Asylum.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 13.—No new cases developed at the Nebraska state insane asylum here yesterday in the typhoid fever epidemic. Today is the critical day and if no new cases develop before night, Dr. Greene believes there will be no further trouble. He still thinks that the fever was caused by flies and was not due to the water.

TODAY THE CRITICAL ONE

IN TYPHOID EPIDEMIC CASE AT LINCOLN ASYLUM.

ONE NURSE DEAD, ONE WILL DIE

Dr. Young, Formerly of the Norfolk Insane Hospital, is Among the III. If No New Cases Come Today, Epidemic Will be Broken.

According to the news dispatches today, this is the critical day in the typhoid fever epidemic at the Nebraska insane hospital at Lincoln and Dr. Greene, the superintendent, says that if no new cases develop before tonight he will fear no new trouble.

Dr. Greene still believes that the spread of the disease was due to flies and not the polluted water, as announced in some papers.

Among those ill is Dr. Young, formerly physician at the Norfolk institution.

One nurse is already dead and another at the point of death. Miss McGraw died and Miss Shoemaker probably can not live.

The hospital is so overcrowded that patients are compelled to sleep on the floor. Members of the state board still believe that the epidemic is due to water from one of the reservoirs.

SUICIDES IN CREEK.

Unknown Man is Found Dead Near Chadron—No Acquaintances.

Chadron, Neb., Oct. 13.—Special to The News: An unknown man was found dead in the Bordeaux creek a few miles east of this city on Monday morning. Officers were notified and telegraphed to an address given in a book found in the dead man's pocket but no friends nor interested parties could be found. The county coroner, Dr. Elmore, empaneled a jury to hold an inquest and after due investigation rendered a verdict to the effect that the man came to his death by committing suicide by drowning. He was buried in the potters' field here.

Word was received here today that Mr. N. H. Gingerick of Grand Island, Neb., father of Mr. George M. Gingerick of this city was dead and would be brought to this place for burial, arriving here Friday morning.

The football team of Chadron ademy went to Douglass to play at the Wyoming state fair last Friday and won out over the Douglass team by a score of 13 to 0.

Many hunters from far and near have been scouring the country about here for all kinds of small game but most of them are not successful as there seems to be no game except a few ducks in all the northwest part of the state.

The farmers of Dawes county are busy threshing and marketing the largest crop of small grain and hay ever known here. The abundant rains of the past season caused an abundant growth of all kinds of crops. Wheat especially is turning out a good yield.

Chadron is enjoying a season of building and repairing which is pleasing to the friends of the city. A number of new residence buildings have been erected this season and most of the contractors are engaged for six months to come. A large amount of cement sidewalks have been laid which add greatly to the neat appearance of the place.
