tive Insurance Committee Adjourns

the board of trustees of his company had been appointed to investigate the ther conferences. company and its methods. The members of the committee are: William H. Truesdaie, Effingham B. Morris and John W. Auchineless, all prominent in the financial and business world. This action was taken at a meeting of the board and was a result of the insurance investigation. The matter was brought before the board by Mr. Mc-Curdy and the committee will begin work at once.

A still more important development was the statement issued by President FORTY THOUSE HEAR PRESI Morton of the Equitable Life, showing that the receipts of that company for the nine months of this year exceeded the expenditures by $16,723,197, an in SHOULD DRIVE OUT LYNCH LAW crease of over $500,500, compared with the same period last year. Receipts from premiums on policies for the third quarter this year were over $1,000,000 less than in 1904. The expenses of the third quarter of this year were $839,918 less than last year, but for the first six months there was an increase over last year of $424,943.

After an entire day given over to examination of Emory McClintock, actuary of the Mutual Life company, and to the reading of column after column of figures, the legislative committee adjourned until Nov. 8, the day after the municipal elections.

The testimony of Mr. McClintock was of a technical nature. His ideas were, in many respects, at variance with the established methods of insurance companies and that of his own company in particular. This was especially apparent when the subject of deferred dividend policies were being inquired into. He said the word "deforred" was ambiguous and misleading, as it implied that dividends were accumulating or were paid at the ena of each year. The company, he said, reserved the right when it wrote a policy to say what amount should be apportioned at the end of each dividend period. Mr. McClintock also said he was strongly in favor of limiting the amount of business a company should write. He said an attempt had been made to come to an agreement with the New York Life and the Equitable to limit the amount of business done by each company to $1,000,000,000 This was finally increased to $1,500, $00,000, but James H. Hyde of the Equitable first declined to enter the agreement, and then George W. Perkins of the New York Life objected. Mr. Hyde's reason was his ambition to make the Equitable the largest insurance company in the world. Mr. McClintock thought a law limiting the amount of business would be a good thing and felt sure the Mutual would tender its support to such legislation.

These views are contrary to those expressed by President McCurdy of the Mutual when he was on the stand. Mr. McCurdy did not think that any company's business should be limited. even at the point when that business failed to be profitable to the company.

DENT SPEAK AT LITTLE ROCK.

Chief Executive Says it is a Menace and Reproach to the United States. Inspects Fort Logan H. Root-Off for New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 26. - President Roosevelt arrived at Stuyvesant's docks at 9 o'clock this morning and was given an enthusiastic reception as he appeared. The weather is cool and cloudy.

Little Rock, Oct. 26.-President Roosevelt spent seven crowded hours in 2nd around Little Rock and his journey from Fort Logan H. Root, on Big Rock, on the north side of the Arkansas river, to the city park in Little Rock, was marked by enthusiastic demonstrations of welcome on the part of thousands of people appearing on the streets for the occasion. While in Little Rock the president delivered two speeches, in one of which he declared that the menace and reproach of lynch law should be driven out of the United States, and in doing so elicited hearty applause. A large portion of the president's audience was composed of negroes and the chief executive's words pertaining to lynching were apparently deeply impressive upon them. The president's declaration that "If a president is worth his salt, he's the president of the whole country," was given so parnestly that it speedily drew forth plaudits from the assembled thousands.

After inspecting Fort Logan H. Root, the president and his traveling companions were taken in carriages Crossing the river, the party proceedon Main street. Yellow Fever Situation

New Orleans, Oct. 26 .- While the day of the president's visit does not find yellow fever stamped out in New Orleans, it is the conviction of all! federal and other scientists who are gathered here that the risk he runs in coming to New Orleans for a day is infinitely small. The crowded program which has been arranged will keep him constantly on the move, and if there are infected stegomyia at large in the city, they will have little opportunity to attack him. But while the fever has not been entirely stamped out, it is so nearly completely eradicated that there is considered little danger either for natives or for visitors. There was a slight rise in the number of cases, the victims being found in sections already affected. The death list continues insignificant.

Makes a Speech at University and Addresses Bankers' Convention.

Lincoln, Oct. 26.-Leslie M. Shaw secretary of the treasury, addressed more than 1,000 students at the State university and later spoke to the Ne braska Bankers' association on the subject of "National Finance."

He said, in part: "Our financial system is the best in the world, be cause it is constructed on the decimal or metric system. The system is not perfect, largely because it is non-clastic. It fails to respond in volume to the changing needs of seasons and of localities. That there will be no fur ther currency legislation until we shall have experienced a panic occasioned by this want of elasticity, I am convinced. The country does not appreciate the danger, and until the dan ger is fully understood, no remedy will be applied. We came nearer such a panic Sept. 30, 1902, than most perple appreciate. Annually we have an excess of money during the spring and summer months. Annually we pass through a period of anxiety as we approach the period of crop mov ing, for annually the volume of money is relatively insufficient to meet this sudden increase of business. TORE UP THE SALOON CHAIRS

Then the Animal Stretched Himself Out Before the Bar and Remained Until Daylight Despite Efforts to Remove the Brute.

Chicago, Oct. 26.-The novel spectacle of a drunken horse in a saloon owned by Frank Weideman, in Vincennes road, while furnishing amusement to the frequenters of the place, so incensed the neighbors, it is said, that, with other aggravating conditions, the matter was brought to the attention of the authorities and the case received a hearing in Justice Grant's court yesterday afternoon, when a fine of $50 was imposed.

It was asserted by witnesses that recently several of the hangers-on around the saloon led a horse into the saloon and stood it before the bar, One of the crowd, it is alleged, filled a bucket with beer and to the surprise of all present, the horse partook of the beverage. A second bucket, it is said, was offered the animal, which drank it with avidity. shortly anerward the norse manifested symptoms of intexication, and several inmates of the saloon sought to lead it out. This aroused the ire of the animal, which proceeded to use its heels, and teeth. After breaking up chairs and concerting the place into a pile of debris the animal, overcome by the drink and its exertions, placidly stretched itself on its side in front of the bar and went to sleep, where it remained until daylight despite every effort made to remove it.
