

CLEARWATER HAS STRIKE

ICE HAULERS AND ICE CUTTERS WANT BETTER PAY.

PICKETS ARE ESTABLISHED

Recruits Who Started Out to Work This Morning at the Old Rates Were Greeted With Cries of "Scab"—Season Short, Famine Imminent.

Clearwater, Neb., Feb. 9.—Special to The News: Clearwater is in the throes of the biggest strike in the history of Antelope county today. All of the ice cutters and ice haulers of the town, some fifty in number, went on a strike and, the employers having refused to grant the increase in wages asked for, the ice making is tied up, the season is fast drawing to a close and an ice famine for next summer stares the town in the face.

Taking advantage of the fact that ice can be made here but a few days more, the workmen struck yesterday afternoon. The haulers of ice, who had been getting 25 cents per ton for their work, struck for a raise of 10 cents per ton, making for them, 35 cents per ton. They are able to haul about eight tons per day, so that they were making about $2 a day and they want $2.80.

The ice cutters who work on the river have been getting 15 cents an hour and they struck for a raise of 5 cents per hour, which would give them $2 per day.

The employers refused to grant the raise and the men quit.

Cries of "Scab."

The employers then succeeded in getting a number of men about town to agree to work at the old rate and when they started out this morning with picks and tongs and saw they were greeted everywhere on the streets with the cries of "Scabs! Scabs!". The result was that these recruits also dropped their tools and no ice is being put up in Clearwater today.

Mrs. W. H. Butterfield entertained a household of friends Thursday afternoon at six-handed euchre and flinch. There was a tie for the euchre prize between Mrs. John R. Hays and Mrs. Sturgeon, which was won on the cut by the former. The flinch prize was won by Mrs. A. Anthes and the shouting prize by Mrs. Huntington. The prizes consisted of beautiful displays of hothouse flowers. Supper was served to the guests before they departed.

In the jury trial of the Norfolk Lumber company against B. Hight for a bill for lumber the former was awarded $52.67. The original bill against Hight amounted to $115 and he in turn claimed an offset sufficient to overbalance it by $90. In the testimony the various claims of Hight for services rendered the Norfolk Lumber company as a carpenter, for unloading lumber and for shortages of invoices were considered and scaled the original bill down to the amount allowed.

A letter was received yesterday by Secretary Mathewson of the Commercial club from a man who claims to represent one of the big packing houses of the country, asking what bonus Norfolk would give for the establishment of a packing plant here. Mr. Mathewson replied stating that not much could be expected in the way of bonus but that a site might possibly be granted in case the deal were a bona fide proposition. Mr. Mathewson has for several years been personally acquainted with the writer of the letter, and says that he has never known the man to "talk through his hat."

The total eclipse of the moon last night was clearly visible in Norfolk. The moon entered the shadow at about 11 o'clock and the eclipse became complete between 1 and 2. The air was clear and the moon brilliantly white until the blackness crossed its face at midnight. Not many people in Norfolk remained awake to see it but some few are known to have set alarm clocks so that when the proper time for the shadow approached they were awakened and given a view of this phenomenon. There will be another eclipse of the moon this month, when it is partially obscured by the sun on February 22.

A letter has been received from Butte asking for definite details regarding the man who appeared before County Attorney Koeningstein last week and declared that he was going crazy. The Butte people were interested because of the first name given by the man, which was Barney. It is said that there was a man named Barney who formerly lived at Butte and from whom his wife secured a divorce at the last term of district court. It is said at Butte that this sort of a stunt would be very much like that Barney. It has been learned since, however, that the name of this man is Dick McKay and not Barney at all, so that there is no possibility of this being the same person.

The funeral services over the body of J. K. Hutcheson will be held Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church according to present arrangements. A letter has been received by A. H. Working on this assumption arrangements are being made by the Masons to hold the services on Sunday. The present intention is to hold the services under the auspices of the Masons, burial to be at Prospect Hill. Rev. J. R. McKenzie of Oakdale assisted by Rev. W. J. Turner will conduct the religious services over the body. The body will be taken to the home of A. H. Viele upon arrival here and remain there until the services.

LIGHT ON PACKING PLANT

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS WILL FORM STOCK COMPANY.

EACH MAN WILL BE SALESMAN

Each One of 100 Commercial Travelers is to Take $100 Stock in the Proposition, Making $100,000 to Start With.

The possibilities of a packing plant coming to Norfolk grow stronger as additional information comes to light. According to information given out by a prominent member of the Commercial club the proposition of organizing a stock company with 100 members was first broached by a traveling man, who is one of a number who are working in that direction. According to his statement a number of traveling men in Norfolk territory and even outside of it in Iowa and Nebraska, have the matter under consideration.

At the next meeting of the Iowa State Traveling Men's association, of which these men are members, the matter is to be taken up and an attempt made to interest 100 traveling men sufficiently to start the enterprise. Each one is to take $1,000 stock in the new stock. With the $100,000 thus raised the plant will be prepared. Then each stockholder will put in $100 a month for four or five months or as long as necessary to get the packing plant on a sound financial basis.

It is pointed out by the traveling men that besides the natural advantages which Norfolk possesses as a point for small plant, the co-operation of 100 traveling men in the sale of the products will be of incalculable benefit to the plant. Each traveling man will act as a salesman for the company and all expense of sales will thus be done away with. Every particle of territory in which the company could compete will be thoroughly covered and the various products and brands rapidly established.

It is presumed that the story emanating from Sioux City early in the week was based on this proposition and is the same thing. Whether the original intention has been changed so as to include stockmen and cattlemen is not known although there is a possibility that such may be the case. Again the project was first considered when it was supposed that the sugar factory could be made into a packing house. Whether the refusal of the traveling men or not is not known, although it is pointed out that from an economic standpoint it would be cheaper to build a new plant than to use the old building. The cost of altering the sugar factory to comply with the needs of a packing house would be considerable and it never could be made to be as economical in handling as a plant specially designed for the business. For this reason it is presumed that the change of plans of the industrial company will not change the aspect of the original project.

The contracts were not let, however, but it was decided to readvertise for bids. The county board also decided on building an addition to the county jail for which plans and specifications were ordered drawn.

It was rumored here today that O. H. Gillespie had sold a half interest in his general merchandise store. In an interview Mr. Gillespie states that such is not the case exactly. He says, however, that he has made arrangements to turn his business into a stock company in which a number of farmers and Madison citizens will be interested. The name of the concern will be The Madison Mercantile company, and it will be capitalized at $20,000.

The Highlanders' ball and banquet came off last night and in point of numbers was possibly excelled only by that of the Modern Woodmen of some time ago. The drill team, composed of the flower of handsome young manhood of Madison, commanded by Henry Faes with sword at side, appeared in white caps, coats and leggings and did their part admirably. Refreshments left nothing to be desired save the dance which followed and lasted till a late hour. Attendance was by invitation but extended practically to everybody.

Wide interest in the coming meeting of the State Association of Commercial Clubs, which is to be held in Omaha on February 20 and 21. The initial meeting at which the association was organized was held in Fremont a year ago and there was a splendid response to the invitation of the Fremont Commercial club, indicating that there was a very general desire in the state for some sort of organization which would enable the various local commercial bodies to interchange ideas and to work together in a practical fashion upon state wide subjects.

The officers of the state association have already received numerous and enthusiastic acceptances from the local bodies throughout the state, who will send large delegations to the Omaha meeting. It is the desire of the officers to have representatives present, not only from every organized commercial club in the state, but also from every town that desires to have a commercial club. A general invitation has been issued and there will be little or no formality about the credentials of delegates, the one requisite being that they are Nebraska businessmen.

The principal session of the association will be held on Tuesday evening and will begin with a dinner tendered by the Commercial club of Omaha to the delegates. After the dinner there will be formal addresses as follows: "Central and Western Nebraska, Its Present and Future"—Hon. F. M. Currie, Broken Bow.

"Shall We Have a Constitutional Convention?"—H. M. Bushnell, Lincoln.

"Harmony in Towns"—Chas. F. Horner, Lexington.

"Education, Its Practical Relation to Business"—E. O. Garrett, Fremont.

"Nebraska's Balance Sheet for 1905."—Don C. Despain, Lincoln.

"The Country Commercial Club."—Hon. W. M. Robertson, Norfolk.

"Shall We Send Lawson Our Proxies?"—Chas. G. Ryan, Grand Island.

It will be seen that this program covers a wide range of subjects and the character of the speakers who have accepted assignments on it assures the association that those subjects will be treated in an able and interesting manner.

The Nebraska Retail Lumber Dealers association adjourned its sixteenth annual convention at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon after organizing a mutual fire insurance company, electing its officers and those of the association, adopting resolutions favoring the abolition of the tariff on white pine rough lumber imported from Canada, opposing the formation of a lumber trust in Nebraska, appealing to Nebraska's delegation in congress to oppose the parcel post law, reaffirming opposition to combination in restraint of trade and expressing sympathy with the national anti-trust policies.

O. O. Snyder of O'Neill was elected president of the lumbermen's association and William Krotter of Stuart, vice president. The new directors elected were: P. M. Green of Aurora and G. W. Eggleston of Bennett for terms of three years. The other directors, H. H. Mohr, A. V. Perry, Henry Binger and A. B. Outhouse, held over. The legislative committee is G. W. Baldwin of Crete, P. D. BUY FOSTER MARBLE PLANT

Stannard & Gildea Promise to Make Norfolk Marble Center.

[From Friday's Daily.]

The Foster marble works have been purchased by Stannard & Gildea and are to be thoroughly overhauled and improved so that the scope of the business will be largely increased. The new owners are figuring with an outsider to put in $20,000 additional capital with which to make the necessary improvements to make the business the largest of its kind in the territory west of Omaha and on the Northwest-ern line.

It is the intention of the new firm to put in machinery at a cost of $20,000 and do practically all of the cutting and polishing with it. At present most of the tomb stones made in Norfolk are shipped in practically finished. The cost of these stones laid down in Norfolk is so great that competition with larger manufacturers, who finish their own stone, is almost impossible. With this machinery it will be possible to ship in granite and marble in carload lots and unfinished. The machinery will not only cut the stone into any desired size or shape but will put a rough face on it, polish it or give it any other finish possible by hand. With the additional capital Stannard & Gildea believe that they can buy much more cheaply by handling nothing but carload lots of the rough stone. They will put two men on the road all of the time.

Last year, before he sold his old marble works, Mr. Stannard did a business of $20,000. To do this he was on the road but half the time and was unable to meet much competition that came from other parties with machine equipped plants. This he will now be able to meet and so with the two regular salesmen they expect to do a business in excess of $100,000 a year.

The plant acquired by them has been owned and run by Mr. Foster for about twenty-two years, although he had not made an active fight for business during recent years because of numerous outside interests.
