

REPUBLICANS NOMINATE

H. A. PASEWALK IS NAMED FOR MAYORALTY CANDIDATE.

JULIUS HULFF, CITY CLERK

W. H. Johnson and W. H. Bridge are Nominated for Board of Education. E. J. Schorregge for City Treasurer. The Convention.

[From Monday's Daily.]
For mayor—Herman A. Pasewalk.
For city clerk—Julius Hulff.
For city treasurer—E. J. Schorregge.
For city engineer—W. H. Salmon.
For board of education—W. H. Johnson and W. H. Bridge.

Little difficulty was met in deciding upon a nominee for mayor at the republican city convention Saturday evening, and Herman A. Pasewalk was selected on the first ballot. The indecision and lack of candidates, which had marked the impending mayoralty nomination for several days previous was lifted Saturday evening and sentiment crystallized about the name of Mr. Pasewalk. On an informal ballot a majority of the votes were cast for him, and he was made the party candidate for mayor on motion. With the exception of nine votes cast by the First ward for A. H. Kinsau, the other votes were scattering and were merely tentative.

Mr. Pasewalk, when given the nomination, said that he would like to consider the matter until today. The nominees for the other three city offices were named by direct nomination, and no ballot was taken. For the two vacancies on the school board five names were entered in the race. W. H. Johnson received the full vote of the convention on the first ballot and was declared one of the nominees. The names of M. C. Hazen and Dr. C. S. Parker were then withdrawn, and the nomination was given to W. H. Bridge on the second ballot.

The central committee from the four wards were announced as: M. D. Tyler, First ward; J. M. Covert, Second ward; W. A. Witzigman, Third ward; and W. H. Livingstone, Fourth ward.

Mr. Pasewalk Accepts.
Mr. Pasewalk announced this morning that he had decided to accept the nomination for mayor tendered by the republican convention Saturday evening. While he did not seek the nomination, and urged his friends to find some one else when they talked with him, yet he realizes that to decline now would be to leave the matter in bad shape, and rather against his own inclination he will stand as the candidate for the sake of his party and his friends, and he will use his utmost endeavor to place Norfolk in the republican column again.

Rev. Yingling and Rev. Pantle of Dayton, Ohio, closed a very successful series of meetings at Hillsdale U. B. church last Tuesday evening. There were twenty-seven conversions and twenty-nine members were added to the church. Wednesday evening Rev. Yingling preached a very touching and eloquent sermon to a large audience in the M. E. church in Battle Creek. Rev. Pantle conducted the song service which was certainly enjoyed by all present. While here these gentlemen won many warm friends who regret that they could not have remained longer. They left Thursday noon for Dayton, Ohio, but it is hoped they will return again in the near future.

COMRADE OF JO WHEELER.

Major McLaughlin of Fort Randall Fought With Famous General.

Major John H. McLaughlin, the venerable soldier of Fort Randall, S. D., who was of so much service to the government in persuading the Rosebud Indians to treat when it was desired to throw open the reservation, was a fellow soldier with the late General Jo Wheeler, and Major McLaughlin has written some of his reminiscence of Wheeler for The News. He writes:

"Fort Randall, S. D., March 8.—Editor Norfolk News: I see the name of General Joseph Wheeler is still on record and I am pleased to learn that none of the writers has one word to say against him, and none could. I have had the honor of serving with General Wheeler. We were ordered to New Mexico and he took station at Fort Craig until the breaking out of the war when he, like many others, succumbed.

"With him to succumb was Colonel Loring, afterward General Loring of the Confederate army who, in bidding the boys goodbye, tears streaming down his cheeks, took down the lines and shook hands with everybody in the regiment.

"Wheeler was a Napoleon in the saddle. He left his seat in congress to battle for his country. I have the honor of receiving letters from him which I enclose and which I hope you will return to me for I prize them above all riches for we were boys together. He has one son whom I remember, named after himself, and if he shall ever have the record his father bore, I shall be pleased to learn it before I die.

"Yours most respectfully,
"John H. McLaughlin."

One of the letters from General Wheeler to Major McLaughlin is as follows:

"Headquarters Department of the Lakes, Chicago, July 20, 1890.—My Dear Sir: I gave me great pleasure to receive your letter. It is true that nearly all of the old rifle regiment are dead. William H. Jackson is living at Belle Mead, near Nashville, Tenn., and has become quite wealthy. Lindsay died in St. Louis some time ago. Tilford is a colonel on the retired list. Cressy died very recently in California. Captain Duncan's widow and daughter, who is also a widow, are living in Washington. Mrs. Duncan's brother is now General John M. Wilson, corps of engineers. It will give me great pleasure to see you if you come to Chicago. Truly your friend,
"Jos. Wheeler."

In another letter General Wheeler, writing from Washington to Major McLaughlin, says, among other things: "I recollect that just before I left Fort Craig that a sergeant or corporal was tried for insubordination. I think the charges were preferred by McQuade. This sergeant or corporal was a large, fine looking, well built man, and the evidence against him was pretty strong. When the prosecution was over he was asked if he had any defense. The sergeant was brought in and this is the only question he asked, 'What was my character as a commissioned officer?' McQuade replied, 'Very insubordinate as a non-commissioned officer.' This was the only defense, and I recollect that he was sentenced to 14 months with ball and chain, and to forfeit pay, office, etc. The war came on soon afterwards, and I often wondered what career he had in the civil war. Do you recall this corporal's name, who was tried?"

"With very high regards,
"Truly your friend,
"Joseph Wheeler."

Island agent said nothing to indicate that Hagerty was in sight, merely desiring, it is presumed, to know what Hagerty looked like so that, in case he should turn up at Grand Island, he could be spotted and that reward of $1,000 claimed.

County examinations for eighth grade pupils in Madison county will be held this year as follows: Newman Grove, Friday, May 4; Norfolk, Monday, May 7; Meadow Grove, Tuesday, May 8; West Emerick, Wednesday, May 9; Tilden, Thursday, May 10; Battle Creek, Friday, May 11; Madison, Monday, May 14.

Excitement in Norfolk reached something of a high point among a few persons yesterday afternoon when a rumor spread about the streets to the effect that Patrick Hagerty, the fugitive O'Neill banker, had been apprehended. The rumor proved to be false and was based on the fact that a Union Pacific agent at Grand Island had telegraphed to Agent Elseffer at the Union Pacific station here, asking for a description of Hagerty. Mr. Elseffer said this morning that the Grand Island agent had been told that a number of complaints have been made to Mayor Friday against small boys, who make it a practice of shooting about town with .22-caliber rifles. It is asserted that several persons have had narrow escapes from being struck with stray bullets as they passed along the streets. Boys, shooting at pigeons, sparrows and other birds, have become careless and sometimes the bullets carry on so that they endanger human life. For this reason Mayor Friday will enter upon a crusade against the use of the small rifles in the city, and will see that the city ordinance against the use of firearms within the city limits is strictly enforced. According to the city ordinance it is unlawful to fire a rifle inside of the city, and the law is to be enforced strictly hereafter.

Two young men living north of the city were badly bruised and cut about the face in a runaway accident at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. August Marquardt sustained a gash in his forehead, two inches long, and so deep that the bones of the skull were perfectly visible. Albert Brandenburg received more or less severe scratches about the cheeks. The two young men were just starting to drive home, their horse having been kept in the Krantz livery stable, when the animal swung around and started back for the barn door. In the turn their buggy was tipped over and the drivers thrown upon the hard, rough road. Dragged for a little distance, their faces were bumped along the jagged highway and gashed at every bound. Dr. Walter Pilger was routed out of his midnight slumber to care for the wounds. No stitches were taken in the forehead gash of Marquardt, the hole being closed with adhesive plaster. No serious results are anticipated.

Sunday was a big day for the churches that are engaged in the union meeting. In the morning the evangelist preached in the Methodist church on the subject of "Heaven," and in the evening to an audience that filled the auditorium and nearly filled the lecture room besides he preached on the subject of "Hell." The afternoon meeting for men was well attended and a number of men signified a desire to live a better life. The singing was a great feature of the meetings. There has been erected a temporary platform in the church which will seat nearly 100 children and it was filled with the little folks who, under the inspiring leadership of Mr. Jackson, nearly sang the roof off the house. The solos by Mr. Jackson both morning and evening were appropriate to the sermons and were well received. The meetings will continue this week. Every afternoon at 3 o'clock will be held the Pentecostal meeting and in the evening at 7:30 after a song service the evangelist will preach. Mr. Olmstead is doing a good work for the churches which is appreciated by the large crowds who come to hear him. A portion of the high school orchestra assisted with the music in the afternoon and evening. They added greatly to the success of the day.

The influx of traveling men into Norfolk this spring promises to make quite a substantial increase in the population of Norfolk. There are at present more than eighty commercial travelers who make Norfolk their home. Besides this there are always from forty to sixty or seventy commercial travelers who Sunday in the city but who do not make their homes here. Last week three traveling men moved into Norfolk from other places, and there have been one or more each week previous to this for some months. It has been a steady inflow with scarcely any moving away from the city. One of the resident commercial travelers said this morning, "I know of six or eight traveling men who are considering moving into Norfolk right now. I would not be a bit surprised to see thirty or forty of them move in during the spring and summer. Over one-half of the traveling men in this territory are living in Norfolk right now and the remainder are bound to come. A few, of course, have homes elsewhere which they own. These will not come to Norfolk if they can possibly get to their present homes every two weeks. Then there are a few who have to go into their homes every week. These, too, will probably remain where they now live. As for those who are not tied down to their present homes, there is no doubt but that they will practically all move to Norfolk shortly. The railroad facilities leading into every part of their territory are such that Norfolk is desirable above every other town in the territory for a home. Then again it is a good home town. Rent is low enough, the cost of living is not great, and it is enough of a city to be enjoyable to live in. So the traveling men are all going to come to Norfolk to live. The United Commercial Travelers have a lodge in Norfolk and the T. P. A. a post."

BUILDING FREE OF DEBT

LAST MORTGAGE ON ODD FELLOWS' HALL IS LIFTED.

STORY OF PLUCK AND JUDGMENT

Twenty Years Ago the Odd Fellows of Norfolk Determined to Erect a Building—The Handsome Business Block Has Paid for Itself.

For the first time since it was erected in 1888 the Odd Fellows building is free from debt. The last indebtedness was removed yesterday afternoon when the $1,000 due on the last mortgage was paid, and the mortgage was turned over to the officers of the lodge. Special exercises will now be held at which the mortgage will be burned publicly and with ceremony.

The history of the building is one of great foresightedness and pluck. Starting with but $300 in the treasury the lodge set out almost twenty years ago to build the present building. They organized a building association among the members of the lodge. With the money secured from the building association and what they could borrow the building was erected. It was dedicated in 1888.

Since the dedication of the building the income from it has been sufficient to wipe out the indebtedness of the building and to buy back the stock from the members so that today it does not represent a dollar of donations. It has simply paid for itself. The members, who took stock in the original building association, were not only paid for their stock but were paid interest on their money as well. Year by year the income has been conserved, and a little more of the indebtedness against the building paid off. The last mortgage, which has just been raised, was made nine years ago for $4,000. During the intervening time $3,000 of it had been paid off and it still had one year to run. However, as it was possible to pay off the remaining amount at this time, the payment was made and the building stands today free from debt and a Norfolk investment that has paid for itself.
