

REPUBLICANS IN CAUCUS

DELEGATES TO CITY CONVENTION NAMED LAST NIGHT.

COUNCILMEN ARE NOMINATED

Gow, Craven and Halverstine, All Now Members of the Council, Were Nominated for Re-Election — Central Committeemen are Named.

For councilmen on the republican ticket:

First ward—C. C. Gow.
Second Ward—Dan Craven.
Third ward—Gay Halverstine.

Norfolk republicans met last night in the various ward caucuses and named councilmen to make the race this spring, selected delegates to the city convention and named their central committeemen.

There was a fair attendance at the caucuses of the First, Second and Third wards, but no caucus was held in the Fourth.

The councilmen were nominated without any contests except in the Third where James Lough and Gay Halverstine were both mentioned, Mr. Halverstine being selected on the second ballot.

The First ward caucus was held in the city clerk's room of the city hall. The Second ward held forth in Mapes & Hazen's office and the Third in the assembly room at the city hall.

The councilmen nominated were C. C. Gow, in the First; Dan Craven, in the Second; and Gay Halverstine in the Third. These gentlemen were all nominated to succeed themselves, all being members of the city council at the present time.

The central committeemen named were M. D. Tyler from the First, W. A. Witzigman in the Third. The Second ward did not name a committeeman, and neither did the Fourth.

Delegates were instructed to cast the full vote of the delegation at the city convention Saturday night.

The delegates elected to the city convention Saturday night from the various wards are:

First ward—W. H. Blakeman, M. D. Tyler, Storrs Mathewson, C. C. Gow, Dr. P. H. Salter, Dr. H. J. Cole, J. S. McCary, W. H. Widaman, W. M. Rainbolt and C. E. Burnham.

Work in the first degree was given by lodge No. 46 of the I. O. O. F. at Odd Fellows hall last evening. Afterward the new members and members of the lodge adjourned to Zirfas' restaurant where a light luncheon was served.

Winnetoon Notes in Creighton News: Dr. Macomber of Norfolk, who was visiting at the Simon Kirk home, is reported to be confined to his bed at present with a siege of sickness. His friends in and around our little city hope to soon see him able to be up and around again.

Pierce Leader: The High school will hold a declamatory contest in the opera house Monday evening, March 19. Seven contestants have entered. The successful contestant is to represent Pierce schools in a contest to be held at Norfolk April 4, during the week of the Northeast Nebraska Teachers' association. The proceeds of the sale of tickets for the local contest will go into the library fund for the public schools.

The fight against the injunction, restraining the city council from action on the Phillip avenue ordinance, is not to be made until it comes up in the ordinary course of the district court's work, when an answer will be made by the city attorney. The original intention of demanding a special hearing before the opening of court has been dropped as it could have facilitated the settlement of the case but little. In either case it would have been carried on to the supreme court, and it is there that the main delay will be. The fragile hopes of a compromise have been completely dissipated and there is no doubt but that the fight on the injunction will have to be carried through the supreme court before the council will be in a position to vote on the proposed ordinance.

Pierce Leader: Harry E. Mendenhall and family removed from Pierce county last Saturday to Presho, South Dakota, the new town at the end of the Milwaukee railroad, which is forty miles west of Chamberlain. Harry and his brother Jim together with B. S. Leedom of the Osmond Republican, have just returned from an extended trip in Lyman and Stanley counties, looking over the homesteads taken last fall by Mr. Leedom and a number of others from Osmond, and they express themselves as being highly pleased with the conditions and opportunities offered in that new country.

In fact, Harry opened up a real estate office in Presho March 1 and after resigning his position as teacher of one of our very good schools he leaves with his estimable family for their new home in Presho, where the best wishes of their many Pierce county friends certainly follow them.

Ten traveling men without a pack of playing cards among them is an oddity but something that actually occurred during the blizzard last week. On the Northwestern train, which was snowbound near Arabia, there were ten traveling men. When they discovered that they were bound to stick in the snow for hours to come they decided to have a game of cards but no cards were handy. A canvass was made of the train and it was found that among the ten commercial travelers on the train there was not a pack of cards, although one of them invariably carried a pack of cards and a cribbage board. In leaving home on that trip his satchel happened to be too full and he threw out the cribbage board and cards as something that he could readily dispense with. He presumed that he could always find someone else on the train with an outfit, but such proved not to be the case on this one occasion when they were needed worst of all. As no one else on the train could produce a pack of cards the game was deferred until after the train got out of the snow and then cards weren't needed to while away the time.

Mrs. Fannie Graham died at 2:30 yesterday morning in Everett, Washington, of valvular heart trouble after a short illness of a few days. Her death was scarcely unexpected by her brothers and sisters in Norfolk as they received advice Sunday of her serious illness, although a later telegram had announced an improvement in her condition. Her son, Dr. Frank Graham, was the only relative present at the time of her death. Mrs. Graham was sixty-three years old, and was born in Greenville, Orange county, New York, where she was married to Daniel T. Graham on October 8, 1862. In 1885 Mr. and Mrs. Graham removed to Norfolk and later to Madison where they lived until 1889, when they returned to Norfolk. Death with her family seemed to run in cycles. The year of her return to Norfolk she lost both her son, Louis, and daughter Ella, then Mrs. L. M. Stuart. Following his daughter's death shortly Mr. Graham and Frank were both taken ill with typhoid fever from which Mr. Graham did not recover. On December 28 of the same year Mrs. Stewart's baby daughter also died. The sorrow and trouble that came with these deaths broke the health of Mrs. Graham, and she never fully recovered from the strain. But one son, Dr. Frank Graham, and one grandchild, Miss Lena Stewart, survive her. Six brothers and sisters survive her: G. F. Durland of Plainview, C. B. and A. J. Durland of Norfolk, and Misses Elvira, Josephine and Etta Durland of Norfolk. While the funeral arrangements have not been decided upon it is presumed that Mrs. Graham will be buried alongside of her husband in Prospect Hill cemetery in Norfolk. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Durland, who are now in California, will go to Everett and return with the body to Norfolk.

A Habit to be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by Leonard the druggist.

DRUGS IN FOOD.

If in Doubt Read the Following.
At a hearing before the committee on public health of the Massachusetts legislature, on a bill designed to prevent the wholesale drugging of the public, the following eminent Boston physicians testified against the healthfulness of Rochelle salts, and strongly recommended the passage of a law which would prohibit the sale of those cream of tartar baking powders which leave this dangerous drug in the food: Dr. Hartung, Dr. C. O. Kepler, Dr. F. B. Foster, Dr. G. M. Palmer.

The average consumer of baking powder does not know that a reaction occurs in the process of baking. When a chemical reaction takes place the nature of the original material is entirely changed, so that the substances which remain in the food to be eaten are very different from those which compose the baking powder before baking. For this reason the statement that a baking powder contains alum or cream of tartar is worthless so far as informing the consumer as to what he eats. What the consumer wants to know is what goes into his stomach; not what is in the can. The much advertised cream of tartar trust powders are of such composition as to leave large quantities of Rochelle salts in the food. They have never denied this; they dare not deny it. Why be induced by their clever advertising to buy their brands and pay 45 to 50 cents a pound for a baking powder that leaves in the food a medicine that should be taken only by the physician's directions? The finest baking powder in the world can be made for 25 cents a pound.

There is a high grade baking powder on the market that is sold at a moderate price, and one that leaves the food free from Rochelle salts, alum, or any injurious substance. The Calumet Baking Powder company guarantees this to the consumers, and it is well to avoid all baking powder that cannot make this statement. In view of the purity and healthfulness of Calumet baking powder it is recommended by the leading physicians and chemists of the country.

A Question That Every Man Should Decide for Himself.

There is one subject in which many of us are interested and that is, what is the quickest way of getting rid of a troublesome cold? Is it best to take some new remedy put out with exaggerated claims, or to pin your faith to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a preparation that has won a world wide reputation and immense sale by its cures of this disease? This remedy is for sale by Leonard the druggist.

Notice to Land Seekers.

A large tract of valuable agricultural land is to be thrown open for settlement on March 20, 1906. This land has been in litigation for twelve years and on the twentieth of January the United States land office handed down an opinion which will open this land for settlement on the 20th of March.

The tract consists of about 66,000 acres of fine agricultural land in North Dakota, or about 400 homesteads. This is a very fine tract of land and is worth, at the present time, from $3,000 to $4,000 per homestead.

It is valuable wheat land with an immense deposit of lignite coal underlying it. A special excursion for March 20 is being arranged to take a party of people up to see this land and will be in charge of an agent of the Illinois Central railroad company. It is a chance of a life time to get a good quarter section of farm land and a coal mine for the asking.

In order to avoid a rush the facts are not made public at this time but full information can be had by applying at the Illinois Central city ticket office, 1402 Farnam St., or addressing Samuel North, District Passenger Agent, Omaha, Neb.

TAKE CARE OF TEACHERS

HOW MANY NORFOLK HOMES WILL BE THROWN OPEN?

MR. BODWELL WANTS TO KNOW

There Will Probably be a Couple of Hundred Teachers in the City Who Can Not Find Quarters at the Hotels. Must Know Soon.

[From Friday's Daily.]

Superintendent Bodwell of the Norfolk schools, is desirous of ascertaining how many people of Norfolk can open their homes to the teachers who are to visit the city in April. He would like to know, too, how many teachers can be accommodated in each home, whether just lodging or board and lodging can be supplied and what the rates of charge will be.

Persons who can accommodate the visiting teachers will confer a favor upon Superintendent Bodwell by either telephoning him or sending word by teachers. He can be reached at the high school by phone A42 or at his house by phone F50.

It is possible, in case there are 500 teachers here, that there will be a couple hundred or so who can not be taken care of in the hotels and it is desired that these be given places in Norfolk homes. The convention begins April 4 and lasts the week.

The hotels are already receiving queries for rooms to be used during the teachers' convention in April, and are making reservations of rooms. The earliness with which the requests for rooms are being made is a certain indication that interest in the coming convention is strong and that there will be a large attendance.

FAREWELL PARTY.

Number of Her Friends Surprise Miss Elsie Case at Home.

A very pleasant surprise was given Miss Elsie Case last evening by a number of her friends, who came in a body to bid her goodby. She has given up her position in the local telephone exchange and will take charge of the exchange at Woolstock, Iowa, which is owned and operated by her uncle.

PRISONER ESCAPES JAIL

MAN UNDER SENTENCE ELUDES GUARD AT VALENTINE.

HOUSE CLEANING IN CHERRY

Many Prisoners Are Given Sentences.

First Woman Convicted From That District is Sent to the Penitentiary. Gamblers Convicted.

Valentine, Neb., March 16.—District court adjourned here after a ten days' session. There was an unusually large docket and a large number of cases were disposed of. There were three convictions for keeping gambling devices, two for robbery from the person, one for larceny and one for stabbing with intent to kill.

John H. Stratton and William Spence were each fined three hundred dollars for keeping gambling devices, Charles E. Price convicted for selling liquor without a license drew $500 and costs. John G. Stetter and Harry F. Hillsinger, convicted of keeping gambling devices were fined three hundred dollars each. Harry Strickland and Robert Adams, convicted of robbery, were sentenced to three years in the pen. George Royles, convicted of larceny, was given one year in the penitentiary, and Lillian Kitchen, convicted of stabbing with intent to kill, was sentenced to two years. This is the first woman to be sentenced to the penitentiary from this district.

There was a large number of cases on the civil docket which occupied the attention of the court for several days. Five cases for keeping gambling devices were continued over the term by agreement.

Robert Adams, one of the prisoners who was given a three years' sentence, made his escape from the county jail. When the jailor, Mike Clynnes, entered the jail to give the prisoners their supper, Adams made a break for the door and succeeded in getting past the jailor and out of the building before he could be overtaken. As it was dark and stormy at the time, the prisoner up to this time has eluded his pursuers. The sheriff and his deputies are still searching for the escaped prisoner.

Judge Westover presided at this term of court and conducted the business of the court in his usual business-like manner to the satisfaction of attorneys and litigants alike. Attorneys from a distance were Judge E. M. Bartlett of Omaha, M. F. Harrington of O'Neill, Judge W. W. Wood of Rushville, and Allan G. Fisher of Chadron.

PROF. JAMES A. BENT DEAD.

Man Who Owned Much Land in This Territory and Was Popular Here.

Prof. James A. Bent, who at one time owned land in every county in northern Nebraska and who was popular all through this section, being, perhaps, the best known out-of-the-state man in the territory, died recently at Los Angeles, California. A report of the death says:

Prof. Jas. A. Bent passed away January 18, 1906, at Los Angeles, Cal., aged 83 years. Funeral and interment at Wheaton, Ill. Sermon by Dr. J. E. Roy. Prof. Bent was born and educated in Middlebury, Vt., and Andover and Union seminaries. He filled two Vermont pastorates, when failing voice made necessary a change of climate. His real life work began in southern Illinois. Hoyleton seminary, which today is double its original size, he built. He also organized seven churches and Sabbath schools. He was for years a professor of mathematics in Wheaton college, devoting vacations in preparing hand-books for maps of Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. He was also a constant correspondent for newspapers, ever presenting the advantages and claims of the new west. His personal interests were subordinated to the good of the whole community and country he loved so well. Many hold his memory in enduring affection, for the liberal employment furnished during famine years. In northeastern Nebraska the first trees were of his planting. When health for twelve successive winters urged him to southern climates his love of nature and outdoor life had great gratification. Beautiful jessamine hedges, avenues of stately eucalyptus and fruit orchards are his memorials.

After the loss of his wife his never rugged health allowed him no settled home, but his rare ability to help and interest others made him everywhere welcome. He leaves two sons and two daughters to cherish his memory. Ill but for a few days, pneumonia suddenly seized him for its victim and as "a sheaf fully ripe he was gathered home."

Walter Schulz III. Pierce Leader: Walter Schulz, who has been clerking in the Fair store at Norfolk for the past month, has been obliged to take a lay-off for awhile on account of his health, which is not of the best at the present. Since Walter has been working at Norfolk he has advanced rapidly, being third clerk in the store, and his illness coming on at this time is regrettable indeed.
