

DANIEL WEBSTER, THIEF

ROSEBUD INDIAN PLEADS GUILTY TO HORSE STEALING.

ALLEGED ONE OF A BIG GANG

One More Red Man, Accused of Horse Stealing, Has Been Bound Over to the Circuit Court—Officers Still Cleaning Out the Rustlers.

Bonesteel, S. D., April 24.—Special to The News: Daniel Webster, a full-blood Indian who was arrested the first of last week for horse stealing in the Sully flats on the Rosebud reservation, was arraigned before Judge Biggins yesterday afternoon, pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing the horses and was bound over to the circuit court under a $500 bond, which no doubt will be easily raised today.

This case is a continuation of the Wilcox horse stealing affair which occurred some months ago and at that time Webster was a witness in the case.

The county officers are endeavoring to clean up the band of horse thieves which have been in progress on the reservation for some years.

Will Jones, a full-blood Indian police, was a witness in the case and at the time the papers were served on Wilcox Webster acted as an interpreter.

Jeff Seissons, deputy sheriff, acted as an interpreter in the case yesterday. States Attorney Backus handled the case for the state and Geo. A. Jeffers for the defendant.

ATKINSON HEARS FROM FRISCO

Johnson is Safe—Del Aikin is Suffering From a New Illness.

Atkinson, Neb., April 26.—Special to The News: Atkinson has been personally interested in the late disaster that visited San Francisco in the welfare of the son of Mrs. Johnson, widow of the late Col. B. W. Johnson, so long postmaster at this place. Mrs. Walker, a sister who is at present in the postoffice, has wired and also written, but have heard never a word from the brother, and they telegraphed the mayor of San Francisco to see what he could find regarding the son.

Yesterday's noon mail brought the glad news from the son, that he was living and well, but that all he had was on his back. Mr. Johnson was a lawyer and had lived in the city for many years, his mother spending the winter with him there, only a few years ago. The letter had no stamp on it, and the news of his loss is great, but yet the friends consider it good news as he lives. Mr. Johnson came from that city only three years ago, to the point, to attend his father in his last illness, and arrived only a few hours before his father passed away. It was a long trip, and he was delayed in some manner, but for a time it was feared he would not reach here in time to see his parent alive, which he did.

Atkinson and vicinity was visited with one of the most severe wind storms first and later heavy rain, of the season. The wind blew a perfect gale for some hours before the rain fell which was gladly welcomed. The weather man had predicted generally fair, but the barometer indicated the storm that came.

A. C. Crossman, who recently moved to Omaha to live, returned with Mr. Kennard, for a two-days' stay, and was out in the worst storm of the season. They both returned to Omaha today.

Mr. Del Aikin, editor of the Graphic, has recently returned from Omaha, where he has been for treatment for some severe nerve trouble, being the first case on record of the disease in the United States. He is not improving as rapidly as he had hoped to do, but is some better.

CHILDREN DRANK WHISKY.

Famishing Little Ones in Fire Zone Driven to Use of Liquor.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 26.—A fragmentary account of the terrible sufferings endured by the little children of San Francisco in the earthquake was brought to this city Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Huskey and Mrs. Kate Land, who lived together on Pine street.

"Under our own observation," said Mrs. Huskey, "was the case of one child, ill of diphtheria, who was carried into the streets Wednesday night by her parents and died in agony on a lawn that morning."

Utter lack of water in some districts peopled by the refugees set the children to moaning and pleading for drink. Men of ruined families made every human effort to satisfy the thirst of their little ones. Falling at last, and in desperation, they invaded the neighboring saloons and brought whisky to the women, mothers poured small quantities of the fiery liquor into tin cans and other available receptacles and gave to the tots to drink. The natural result was to increase the pangs of thirst twentyfold, and the sight of staggering children was of ten witnessed.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Butte Woman, Stung by Catfish, Finds Inch-Long Spine in Foot.

Butte, Neb., April 26.—Special to The News: A very peculiar incident was brought to light yesterday. Mrs. Robt. Cameron was stung by a large catfish some time last June, on the ball of the foot, just back of the great toe. She suffered considerably at the time but finally concluded it was all right, as the opening healed over. It has bothered her considerably at times and recently became so painful that she concluded to consult a physician, who, upon lancating her foot, found imbedded a fish spine fully an inch long, which was of a hard, bony substance, with ugly snags on either side.

IMPROVEMENTS AT CEMETERY.

Prospect Hill Association Will Build Structure This Week.

The Prospect Hill Cemetery association will this week begin the construction of a new storage building on the grounds northwest of the city. The structure will be 12x14 feet and will have modern conveniences in connection.

NATIONAL LIVE STOCK COMMISSION CO.

Vic wof the Live Stock Markets at South Omaha, Neb., C. A. Malloy, Mgr.

South Omaha, April 26.—Cattle.—If Chicago and the other eastern markets would behave as well as the river markets and particularly South Omaha, we could show the cattle men a better market. The eastern beef market is nearer "cleaned up" than for some time and unless the May contracted cattle interfere, which will only be temporary, we still have confidence in the market for good cattle. The trade this week ruled active, and prices are 10 to 15c better than the low time last week with a narrower range in prices.

The beef cattle are generally in stronger hands, but the strong corn market may force further liquidation in the near future, and thereby postpone still further the better general market. Present prices for the best cattle are good, and most of the cattle selling above 5c show some profit to the good feeder, but cattle of the right kind must be bought to better advantage if the majority of feeders are successful. In the absence of quotations, we quote fat steers 10 to 15c higher than last week, other grades about steady.

Butcher Stock.—The supply of butchers' stock continues moderate, and under a good demand the trade is active at full prices. We still urge our readers to ship their butchers' stock and light and medium steers soon as they can, as we look for lower prices for these grades soon as grass cattle start from the southwest.

Stockers and feeders.—The high price of corn and the disappointing market for beef cattle does not seem to "curb" the demand for stock cattle, and prices are well maintained. We do not look for much change next week or possibly next month, but we consider them high enough for the producer and feeder, and therefore advise both to govern themselves according to their special conditions. We are buying stock cattle right along, and will be pleased to furnish proper information and service to all who request it.

Range cattle.—Our latest reports from the west show a very small loss, and the general condition good of both cattle and the range. We look for a fair supply of hay fed cattle during next month.

Hogs.—Since our last letter, we have had a liberal run of hogs following spring seeding, and the natural reaction we cautioned you about, and now we believe the market is in a better condition to react a little the balance of the week.

The packers are free buyers, and the bulk of the hogs are selling $6.30 to $6.35, with prospects favoring a better market in the near future. We look for liberal receipts again after corn planting and would not be surprised to see a little lower range in prices next month, and continue to advise shipping hogs freely that are ready for market.

Our "system" of handling the hog business and keeping our people posted continues to bear fruit by receiving new customers every day, our business for April showing the largest percentage yet.

Sheep.—During the past week receipts of mated sheep have steadily diminished, and only a very small percentage of the offerings come in this class. The demand is strong for everything at prices fully 25c to 40c higher than a week ago. Best wooled wethers and yearlings selling from $6.25 to $6.40; ewes $5.50 to $6.00; fair to good ewes $5.00 to $5.40. Nothing of any account selling below $5.00. The bulk of the sheep now coming are clipped; wethers and yearlings selling readily at $5.00 to $5.40; ewes $4.50 to $5.00; fair to good $4.25 to $4.50; culls $4.00.

Lambs.—This branch of the trade is holding the attention of every one interested in the business. The big flood of lamb stuff for market at this season expected by every one, but the National has failed to materialize, and instead a very decided shortage has become evident, and prices have steadily gone up and will go still higher. The western feeders have shipped out closely, and in a few days another surprise will come when the trade learns how few lambs are now feeding for market east of Chicago. We know that the bulk of the eastern feeding is nearly out.

As our readers know from our former advices, we are not guessers, but keep ourselves thoroughly posted, and when we give advice, they can depend upon it being correct. Best wooled lambs are selling from $6.80 to $7.00; good shearing lambs in good flesh $6.50 to $6.75; fair fleshed feeders $6.00 to $6.40; common culls $5.50 to $5.85; good clipped lambs $5.50 to $5.85; fair to good $5.00 to $5.40; common and culls $4.00 to $4.25.

In Memoriam.

Whereas, The Beneficent Father of all has called from our midst our esteemed brother and past counselor, Otto F. Tappert; be it

Resolved, that we as members of Norfolk council, No. 120, of the United Commercial Travelers of America, bow in grace and acquiescence in love to the will of a just and gracious God.

Resolved, that we tender our deepest heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Otto F. Tappert and other members of the family in this, their sad bereavement, in the loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father; for in this your loss, is our loss, as we loved him to a man, he was beloved by every commercial traveler, none knew him but to love him, as he always had a kind word and a cheering smile for all.

Be it Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the council records, and a copy be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and to the "Sample Case," and to the two Norfolk Daily Papers.

WORRIED ABOUT MR. DORSEY.

He Was at His Office and Has Not Been Heard From.

Fremont Tribune: The friends of G. W. E. Dorsey are growing somewhat apprehensive because of the absence of news from him. Mr. Dorsey's office was in the district of San Francisco that was most seriously damaged by the earthquake and it undoubtedly was destroyed. He and his wife and Mrs. Dorsey's mother, Mrs. Hodge, were probably staying at a hotel. Mr. Dorsey had left Fremont only a few days before the catastrophe and until today it was considered doubtful whether he had reached his destination. This morning, however, Lou B. Coman received a letter from him dated 7:30 p. m., April 17, evidently written in his office. This was ten hours before the earthquake shock.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dorn, who are in the city on their return from Europe, received the joyful tidings Saturday night that their daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Cunningham, and family are safe.

A belated telegram from Mrs. C. D. Costello, a sister of Marion O. James, arrived in Fremont today simultaneously with a postal card from her telling of the welfare of herself and husband. Mr. Costello's business was wiped out, but the family escaped without damage.

E. H. HARRIMAN AT FRISCO.

Union Pacific Magnate Wires Agents of the Situation There. The following message was received at Union Pacific headquarters here last night, being a message from Mr. Harriman regarding the San Francisco situation:

"Having gone over the situation in San Fran I am deeply impressed with the necessity of uninterrupted forwarding of food stuffs with which to feed the two hundred thousand homeless people. The situation is well organized and the U. S. quartermaster's department is receiving and dispersing through its channels and through the various local relief associations all supplies as fast as received, but the fact should be made public in all quarters that it will require continued effort on part of everyone to keep supplies coming. The railroads are of course handling all such supplies free and the people must respond to call for help."

WOMEN MEET AT MADISON

THIRD DISTRICT CONVENTION BEGINS WEDNESDAY.

MANY REACH NORFOLK AT NOON

An Interesting Program Has Been Arranged for the Two Days' Session in the County Seat—Reception Held at Home of Mrs. Hays.

MRS. MAY GREEN ARRESTED.

Pleads Guilty to Being Inmate of Disorderly House, Fined $20.

Mrs. May Green, who had been arrested by the police last winter and who later left town, was caught at the Junction, just as she was boarding a west bound train, by Officer Livingston. She was placed in jail over night and pleaded guilty to a charge of being an inmate of a disorderly house. She was fined $20 and costs, making $28.10, which she paid. She was formerly arrested at the home of her brother-in-law, Otto Johnson.

DEPOSITORS DISPLEASED

CLAIMED THEY WERE ANXIOUS TO FIGHT M'GREEVY.

THEY DID NOT WANT TO SETTLE

It is Said on Very Good Authority That the Losers in the Defunct Elkhorn Valley Bank at O'Neill Were Anxious to Push Cases.

It is learned on good authority from persons in Norfolk today from O'Neill that the reports sent out from Bassett regarding the dismissal of the McGreevy case, did not present the true attitude upon the subject so far as the depositors and losers in the defunct Elkhorn Valley bank were concerned, and it is said reliably that, instead of desiring to settle their losses with McGreevy and trade him his liberty, as had been reported, the depositors in that wrecked bank were ready and anxious to push with a vim the cases against McGreevy.

It is said that the overtures looking to a settlement were made not by the prosecuting witnesses and depositors, but by the defendant's attorneys. They, it is said, asked for an adjournment of court or an extension in order to effect a settlement.

No objection was offered to the extension, it is claimed, by the state's attorney, and later the case was dismissed because of the attempts at a settlement.

The reason that the depositors have had such a difficult time all along has been, it is learned, the lack of sympathy on the part of certain persons needed in the prosecution, and it is said that the depositors and the friends of the depositors very deeply deplore the fact that the cases could not be pushed vehemently in the courts.

It is a well known fact, of course, that repeated overtures had come from the defendant between the time of the bank wrecking and the time of the statement now that the overtures at Bassett originated with the defendant. It will be recalled how letters were written by Mrs. Haggerty and others, offering to settle the cases out of court, a year ago.

With this phase of the matter brought out, those who had censured the depositors for seeming selfishness in trying to recover their losses, regardless of right and wrong, will take a new view of the matter and their criticism will turn to sympathetic resentment.

TO MEET HERE NEXT YEAR

NORTHEAST NEBRASKA BANKERS CHOOSE NORFOLK.

MR. BURNHAM IS PRESIDENT

Norfolk Was Well and Ably Represented and Was Honored All the Way Around—Mr. Butterfield an Ideal Toastmaster, Bucholz Speaker.

Norfolk was chosen for next year's meeting of the Northern Nebraska bankers in this district. The convention and banquet at Oakland were successful in every way.

Officers elected were: President, C. E. Burnham, Norfolk; vice president, George Haas; secretary, George D. Butterfield, Norfolk.

There were some ninety bankers in attendance at the convention. As usual, Norfolk was well and ably represented. Mr. Butterfield, as toastmaster, is said to have perfectly filled the difficult place and he gave each one of the speakers a touching up that sparkled with wit, and his each little speech proved very effective.

Mr. Bucholz at the head of the table, furnished the ideal picture of the after dinner speaker. His effort was frequently interrupted by applause and his list of admiring friends was visibly lengthened among some of those who had come into the state since his departure for California, and among whom he had not heretofore been able to keep in touch.

All agreed that the meeting in Norfolk next year is to be a hummer. Those present from Norfolk were Mr. Zutz, Mr. Maynard, Mr. Burnham, Mr. Witzigman, Mr. Butterfield, Mr. Bucholz and Mr. D. Mathewson.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Miller have returned from Denver and are again at their home on South Third street. Their son, Charles, is still in Rapid City.

Mrs. J. A. Keleher has received word from her sister, Mrs. Earl Sisk of San Francisco, stating that their family is all safe but that they lost everything they had by fire. Mr. Sisk holds a position with the Santa Fe railroad.

Norfolk bankers who attended the convention yesterday at Oakland, returned at 11 o'clock this morning over the M. & O. train. Among those who attended from Norfolk, not included in the list of yesterday, was J. B. Maynard, who represented the Durland Trust company at the convention.

The club composed of young ladies of the Junction was entertained last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Frazier by Mrs. Frazier and Mrs. James Johnson. Flinch and other games were a pleasant feature of the evening and delicious refreshments were served. This club meets every other week with members.

A telegram was received by E. A. Bullock last night from Rochester, Minn., announcing that Mrs. A. F. Johnston, mother of Mrs. Bullock, was successfully operated upon yesterday morning by Dr. Mayo. She sustained a minimum shock from the effects of the operation and the surgeons said that she has about seventy-five chances out of 100 for recovery. The case was a very serious one but it is now hoped that Mrs. Johnston will rapidly recover. She is a sister of N. A. Rainbolt of Norfolk.

The supreme council of the Loyal Mystic Legion has called a district meeting of delegates to be held in Norfolk on June 5 to elect a delegate to attend a meeting to be held in Lincoln on July 3 for the purpose of organizing a State Grand Council of the order. This district comprises the same territory as the Third congressional district, and each subordinate council within this territory is expected to send a delegate to said district convention. The local council here will be expected to make arrangements for this meeting and the entertainment of the delegates. A good attendance is requested at the regular meeting tonight.

The postoffice service in Norfolk is being improved. The office is open now until the Union Pacific train arrives at night, whereas it formerly closed at 9 o'clock. A clerk now reaches the office at 4 o'clock in the morning and makes up all mails that have been deposited in the mail box at the postoffice, for early outgoing trains. This was until lately impossible, the mails formerly having always been locked up at 9 o'clock on the preceding night. It is said that an improvement is badly needed in the carrier service, as an additional carrier is much needed to give Norfolk the right kind of service and it is probable that a petition will be sent to Postmaster Hays asking that another carrier be put on, soon.

"The fool inherits, but the wise man must get." Happily, the very "To Get," is rather easily conjugated by those who make a wise and timely use of the little want ads.
