J. W. Humphrey returned at noon today from Rochester, Minn., where his son was operated on last Saturday. Graham is improving rapidly.
J. F. Walz, with the Lee-Miller hardware company of Fremont, has been visiting friends in Norfolk since Tuesday evening. He will return tomorrow.
Fred Phillips of Exeter, Iowa, stopped off in Norfolk to enjoy a short visit with his old friend, Dan Craven. They were boys together back in Iowa.
Lloyd King, John Zavadi and Chas. Monroe of Humphrey spent the Fourth with friends here. Mr. Zavadi goes from here to Yankton, S. D., on a visit. The others returned to their homes this morning.

The contract for installing the sewerage system in Norfolk will be let by the city council tonight.

The Stanton and Neligh baseball clubs will play at the Oakland G. A. R. celebration next Wednesday.

A party of Norfolk people are enjoying a camping expedition at Clearwater. They are H. L. Doughty and family, Miss May Barrett, Miss Jessie Howe, Will Tannery of Madison, J. T. Wolfkel.

There were fewer accidents in this year's celebration than is usually the case. The caution that has swept the entire country seemed to have its effect and not so many badly burned victims are reported in this section as in previous celebrations.

Mrs. Luikart returned last night from Omaha, where she has been in St. Joseph's hospital for the past four weeks. She is still weak and was required to take to her bed on arriving home. She feels much better, however, than when she went to the hospital.

Unknown boys placed a huge giant firecracker on the porch of the home of Dr. A. Bear. The explosion tore out several boards from the porch and frightened persons in the house badly. Dr. Bear was forced to employ a carpenter to repair the damage done by the cracker. He says that if he could learn who did it, he would prosecute the boys.

The Whitney telescope attraction in the Auditorium last night was greeted with a good house, despite the fact that it was the Fourth of July and a hot night, and the spectators were well pleased with the exhibition. The pictures were unusually good, being thrown on the canvas without the usual flicker that accompanies that sort of pictorial display. The show went to Pierce from here.

Mrs. A. N. Anthes, who had started with a party of friends and relatives on an automobile trip from Omaha to Chicago, and who expected to be absent a month, was taken suddenly ill a few days ago and was compelled to abandon the journey and return home. She arrived in Norfolk Tuesday evening. Mrs. Anthes will probably go to Excelsior Springs for a few weeks in order to recuperate and regain her strength.

Bob Appleby of Stanton this week sold to Herman Armbrust of Pilger the James Milliken ranch of 3,480 acres in Sheridan county. Mr. Appleby, a member of the firm of Vinling, Appleby & Pugh, took Mr. Armbrust to Sheridan county and, after the latter had inspected the ranch, the deal was closed in ten minutes. The ranch is eighteen miles from Hay Springs. Mr. Milliken was formerly chief of police in Fremont and is a prominent citizen of that city.

A number of towns around Norfolk celebrated the Fourth. A large crowd of Norfolk people attended the Battle Creek celebration, a good many others went to Madison, some went to Hoskins, others went to other places and some stayed at home. The early trains yesterday morning were crowded with people going away to celebrate. Pretty nearly the whole town of Stanton went to West Point, where there was a celebration. Pilger and Stanton played ball there, Stanton winning in a victory of 8 to 5.

The following announcement has been received by Norfolk attorneys from Madison: "Mr. William V. Allen, late senior member of the law firm of Allen & Robinson, Allen, Robinson & Reed and Allen & Reed, desires to announce the dissolution of those firms and that he will continue the practice in the offices occupied by him for the past twenty-three years." It is said that Mr. Allen's son, Henry, will continue in practice with him, studying law under his father's tutelage. Mr. Reed will continue at Madison, and his son will practice with him.

Gildea Brothers have bought out the marble establishment of Korth & Apfel on East Norfolk avenue, and will continue in the place of business henceforth. James Gildea has also bought out the share of M. M. Stannard in the tomb stone establishment of Stannard & Gildea, and this firm will be consolidated with the other. James Gildea still has control of the medicine business that he has long operated out of Norfolk through this territory. The Gildea brothers have been residents of Norfolk for a long time, where they are well known. They plan to devote their entire time to the marble business.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Rainfall for the Week Was Above Normal in Nebraska.
Lincoln, Neb., July 3.—Special to The News: The weekly weather bulletin, as issued this morning showing conditions up to last night, is as follows:
The mean daily temperature of the past week averaged 2° above normal in the southern counties and 1° below normal in the northern. The maximum temperatures were slightly above 90° on Thursday and they were also above 90° at many stations on Friday and Saturday. The minimum temperatures occurred generally on Tuesday morning and they were slightly below 60°.
The rainfall was above the normal in most of the state. It exceeded an inch in about all of the counties in the eastern half of the state and ranged from two inches to more than four in considerable areas.

CELEBRATED THE FOURTH

LARGE CROWD ASSEMBLED FOR FIREMEN'S PICNIC.

HAD A GOOD LINE OF SPORTS

The Day Was an Ideal One for the Picnic and Basket Dinners Were a Feature—Contents Afforded Great Fun All Day Long.

The big firemen's picnic that was held at Pasewalk's grove yesterday was a perfect success in every way. The day was an ideal one for the affair.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended a Fourth of July celebration congregated on Norfolk avenue shortly after 9 o'clock in the morning and from the time the parade started the people were kept busy with one thing and another until the glorious Fourth had passed.

The day's activities started with the parade at 9:30. It formed at First street and marched to the grove. At its head rode Mayor Friday and Fire Chief McCune, followed by the Hadar Concordia band. Next came Mathewson post G. A. R., followed by the Pioneer Hook and Ladder company. The Hadar Union band followed by the Mast, West Side and F. E. & M. V. Hose companies concluded the parade.

After arriving at the grove the bands rendered a few selections, and the sports of the day commenced.

First the Mast Hose company defeated the Pioneer Hook and Ladder company in a ball game, the score being 10 to 9. It was a very hard fought contest with hard hitting and good field work on both sides. Severns, Miller and Wetzel each knocked out a home run.

The Contest.
In the bun eating contest for boys from ten to fourteen years of age, Herman Lehman won first and Otto Zutts second. This feature caused much amusement as the bun's were very large and suspended on strings. The contestant could not touch the bun with his hands.

Miss Ira Potras won first in the girls' potato race. Miss Nora Fuesler, second. The tug of war for boys was very interesting. The boys, who live west of the tracks, won out after a hard contest.

The hose race between the Mast Hose company and the Pioneer Hook and Ladder company was a neck and neck run until within ten feet of the line when the Masts gave a spurt and crossed the line only a few feet ahead of the hooks. Time, :28½.

At noon the Hadar Union band, under the direction of H. Frey, gave an excellent concert which was appreciated by all.

Things were then suspended for the dinner hour. A large number had brought their baskets and a picnic dinner was enjoyed in the grove. The cup race for men started the afternoon amusements, Lenser winning first money, Hellerman, second. The potato race for clerks was won by Kent, Lenser second.

The tug-of-war between the Hook and Ladder company and West Side Hose company was one of the most exciting contests of the day. The hooks won after several minutes of hard pulling.

The ladder climbing contest was won by Beemer. Brueggeman, second. Time, :05½.

The Mast Hose company carried off the honors in the sham fire fighting contest, running a half block, laying fifty yards of hose, coupling to hydrant, attaching the nozzle and extinguishing their fire and the Queen City Hose team's fire in 55½ seconds.

Running race for men, 75 yards, Kent first, Parrish second, Brueggeman third. Time, :09.

The fat man's race was won by Evans, Bly second. Time, 3 hours.

The three-legged race was won by Kent and Reed, Beemer and Kennerson second.

Human wheelbarrow race, Kent and Reed first, Beemer and Kennerson second.

In the ladies nail driving contest Miss Helen Marquardt won first prize, Miss Nettie Newark second. The feature of this contest was pounded fingers and dents in the boards.

At this juncture the most thrilling and heroic performance of the day took place. Prof. William Hahn rescued the fair damsel from the fourth story window of the burning building. He ran lightly up the shaky ladder and gathered her in his arms. In descending poor William accidentally lost his hold and let the fair one drop. She fell almost three stories but was caught in the life net below. Prof. Hahn surely deserves a Carnegie medal.

Leese of the West Side Hose company fought Gleason and Krieger of the Queen City Hose company to a draw. It was a very long, exciting contest, first one and then the other side seeming to have the advantage. Two teams from the Mast Hose company then fought Munsterman and Beemer, defeating Kell and Kennerson after a hard fought contest.

This concluded the day's sports. At 8 p. m. the Hadar Concordia band gave a very good concert on Norfolk avenue.

ACCIDENTS OF THE FOURTH.

J. Baum Burned His Hand With a Rocket—Champion's Finger Cut.
J. Baum burned his hand quite seriously last night in setting off a sky rocket.

Harry Y. Champion, a traveling man, accidentally put his hand into the knives of an electric fan, cutting his first three fingers very seriously. It is feared that he will lose one of the fingers.

Roy Uecker, one of the Hadar band boys, had his hand severely cut by the explosion of a large cannon cracker last night. The palm of his left hand was torn open and made a very painful, though not serious wound.

HOW JOBS ARE LOST.

Man Who Stole Time is Considered the Most Striking.
Now and then the letters received by the Lost Job editor indicate that injustice has been done by employers in discharging workers unjustly, but in most cases it is clear that jobs are lost because they deserve to be lost.

A surprising thing, too, about the lost jobs, as evidenced by the letters received, is that most workers who get fired are not expecting it. The man that's scared of his job, usually is able to hang on to it. The confident man, who thinks he owns his place and that he can do as he pleases, really is the one that is in danger.

The reasons assigned by the job losers this week are tabulated as follows: Intemperance still holding first place: Drunks 4

Common Form of Dishonesty.
The prize of $5 offered each week for the best "How I Lost My Job" story is awarded to C. H. S., who admits that he was dishonest, inasmuch as he stole time from the firm. However, it is to be feared if all the workers who steal the bosses' time were to be fired some Saturday night there would be a general tieup in business Monday morning. The account of C. H. S. is given in full:

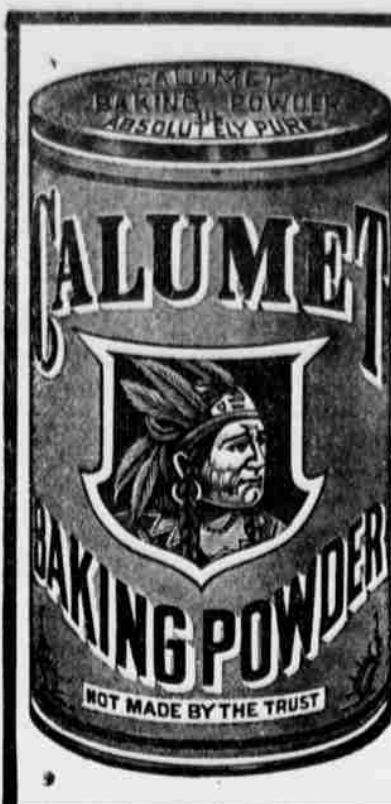

"I am another of the race of 'bread winners' to acknowledge that I lost my job—though my bread and butter depended upon it—through dishonesty. There are several ways of being dishonest, and, though my work consisted largely in handling nickels and dimes, not one of them ever came up missing; yet the charge against me, literally speaking, was one of dishonesty.

"I was collector for a fairly good firm doing a large credit business, and also did some work on the books. I had been behind a desk for three years—long hours and hard work—and when such a change was made as to allow me some outside work, I am afraid I was enclined to abuse the privilege, for the shopping and visiting habit soon seemed to get possession of me.

"When I was told that evening that my services were no longer needed, I realized that I was a thief—not a thief in the general term—for I had carried off no worldly goods—but had been guilty of theft of time."
