

CARL AUSTIN IS INJURED

NORFOLK FOOTBALL PLAYER WAS HURT AT SIOUX CITY.

KIDNEY INJURED, ANKLE ALSO

He Was Hurt in the Early Part of the Game But Played Right Through Till the End—Rested Better Last Night Norfolk Lost.

[From Monday's Daily.]
 Carl Austin, who plays at the position of center rush in the Norfolk high school football team, was quite seriously injured in the game at Sioux City Saturday afternoon against the Sioux City high school, which resulted in a score of 45 to 0 in favor of the Sioux City boys. Austin was injured early in the game but said nothing about it and played through to the end. A heavy opponent poked his knee in the back of Austin and injured his kidney. The boy also sprained his ankle. He was brought home Saturday night and taken from the train to the house in The Heights in a cab. He was unable to walk into the house and was carried in by Ross Tyndall. Last night he rested somewhat better.

Three Sioux City players were put out of the game by Norfolk players.

The Sioux City Journal said: Norfolk was decidedly on the ragged edge, their backs failing to get together in a single play, although they outweighed Sioux City slightly.

Larry Longnecker was by long odds the star for the local high school, making his gain whenever he was called on and carrying the ball thirty and forty yards on several occasions. Chauncey Hobson, who played full-back for the first time, showed an unusual ability in the position. Schott played a pretty game at quarter and Browning starred at end. Hoffman, right half, and Erskine, right end, for Norfolk, were the Norfolk stars. Throughout the game the Nebraska high schoolers displayed an ability to tackle hard and fiercely. This was the only point in the game in which they excelled Sioux City.

Norfolk kicked to Sioux City's 15-yard line. After gains of ten, four and five yards they were held and forced to kick. Norfolk fumbled the ball and Schott, the Sioux City quarter, caught it on the bounce and carried it over for a touchdown. Browning kicked goal nicely. Score, 6 to 0.

Sioux City kicked to Norfolk's 20-yard line. After a gain of some yards they were held for downs on the 15-yard line. Turner then bucked the line for four yards, followed by three cross backs by Hobson, who carried the ball over for the second touchdown. Browning failed to kick goal. Score, 11 to 0.

Hard Scrimmage.
 Norfolk kicked to Sioux City's 20-yard line. Longnecker carried the ball around the end for six yards. The Norfolk quarter then forgot to pass the ball and the visitors were forced back fifteen yards. They kicked, but the ball was blocked and downed by Turner. Sioux City was forced back on an attempted end run by Schott. Sioux City kicked.

Norfolk again failed to pass the ball and was forced back ten yards, but immediately recovered on a 25-yard run around left end. Sioux City then forced the visitors back and they had to kick. Browning blocked it and fell on the ball. Sioux City, after fruitless bucks, kicked, the ball being recovered by Patterson, Sioux City's fast little right end, out of bounds. Hobson, by repeated bucks through guard and tackle, netted thirteen yards. Browning netted ten more around right end. There the Norfolk boys took a brace and Sioux City was forced to punt. The kick was blocked and downed on Norfolk's 55-yard line.

At this stage Schelly, the Nebraska quarter, tried something new. After the ball was passed to him he deliberately threw it down, evidently expecting it to get up and walk over the goal line, but the grounds were a little new and the ball didn't respond. Sioux City downed it and Turner got away around right end for a touchdown after a brilliant run of forty yards. Browning kicked a goal. Score, 17 to 0.

The Second Half.
 Sioux City kicked to Norfolk's 20-yard line. By failing to make their necessary ten yards the visitors forfeited the ball. Longnecker, playing low, plowed through right guard for eight yards. Hobson waded through for twelve yards, making another touchdown. Browning kicked goal, making the score 23 to 0.

Hornor kicked off for Sioux City to Norfolk's 10-yard line. The ball was downed on the 14-yard line and continually forced back until on the 8-yard line. Sioux City now took the ball and Patterson was substituted by Peterson at right end. After a gain of seven yards, Hobson carried the ball over for another touchdown. The goal was again made by Browning. Score, 29 to 0.

After this the play became loose. Norfolk was penalized for off side play and fumbling became quite frequent. Turner and Hobson, by cross bucks, netted twelve yards. Longnecker was then sent over for another touchdown. Browning failed to kick goal. Score, 34 to 0.

Hornor kicked to Norfolk's 15-yard line, where Norfolk was held for downs. Sioux City, by a 10-yard run by Longnecker and one by Turner, scored another touchdown. Browning failed to kick goal. Score, 39 to 0.

Norfolk kicked off and Longnecker returned the ball ten yards. Sioux City was held. Schott kicked thirty yards. No return was made and the ball was soon lost to Sioux City. Repeated bucks placed Sioux City on Norfolk's 13-yard line. Here they were penalized for off side play. Schott attempted to drop kick for goal but failed. Longnecker broke away on an end run and just before being tackled passed the ball to Browning, who made off for a touchdown. He then kicked goal, making the score 45 to 0.

The lineup was as follows:

Miss Virginia Ingoldisby has taken charge as teacher of the school seven miles north of Tilden.

Frank Kopach bought the 120-acre Roberts farm northeast of Meadow Grove for $2,500.

John Cada, an old inmate of the county poor farm, had a successful operation performed on his eyes by Dr. E. Tanner and Dr. Campbell of Tilden Saturday.

Paul Friche, formerly of Norfolk, and Fred Steiner of Madison were here on business Friday.

F. Vogel, a student of the Lutheran Theological university at Springfield, Ill., is teaching school this season at the Lutheran church at Buffalo Creek.

Hengstler Bro. received two carloads of manure spreaders this week. It is a sure sign that there are some prosperous farmers living in this vicinity.

Clark Bryant was here Saturday on business from Norfolk.

Chas. Casselman of Warrnoville was visiting friends here Saturday.

S. F. Heitzman, who is a carpenter foreman for the Northwestern road, was about seventy-five chickens less than usual last week. He was on the road and his family were at the Alkarsben in Omaha at that time.

Herm Zitekowski of Norfolk, democratic candidate for representative, was here Saturday to get acquainted with Battle Creek voters. All of us gave him a warm reception, but no promises.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon the barn of C. A. Hedman and the barn of the Methodist parsonage burned to the ground. The fire started in Hedman's barn, south of Main street, by small children playing with matches. Mr. Hedman's loss is about $500, and the other barn about $100. No insurance. They are building new barns now of more modern style.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scheer of Green Garden and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kaul of Madison were visiting here Sunday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. Hoffman.

Contractor Chas. Werner is building several large cattle sheds for Fred Tegeler at Blakely.

Ed Braasch of Norfolk was here Tuesday and set up a large granite monument on the resting place of the late Henry Aldag.

Gottfried Wolsky, one of our old settlers, east of town, is seriously ill with an attack of appendicitis this week.

Gottlieb Schilling of Meadow Grove, a well known old farmer of this county, moved to Norfolk Monday, where he expects to spend the rest of his days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Fuerst and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fuerst were visiting Saturday with Jacob Gabelman and family and other friends at Green Garden.

Edward Ringer was here the first of this week on business from Neligh.

D. B. Duffy and Co. have quit doing business here this week. They have been in the implement and well business and moved the balance of the stock to Norfolk.

W. A. Messick of Elrado, Mo., is here on an extended visit with his daughter, Mrs. Rudy Tiedgen and family.

Steve Coley, who has been foreman at the Osborn livery and feed barn, moved Wednesday onto the S. T. Nappor ranch, north of town.

T. L. Sims of Neligh was here Wednesday and Thursday raising a monument on the grave of the late Chas. Verplank. He is also moving two bodies of that family from the old Hale graveyard to the Union cemetery.

Mrs. Annie Severa and son Raymond returned Tuesday from an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kerbel at Omaha.

J. M. Lulow was here Wednesday from Emerick.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dittrick were here the first of the week visiting his parents and other relatives.

Fred Richardson, son of ex-Representative Richardson of Madison county, and Miss Edith Reavis, second daughter of W. F. Reavis, were united in marriage by Rev. Starling of the Baptist church Wednesday.

SOCIETY RUNNING ALONG

ORDINARY RATE OF SPEED HAS BEEN MAINTAINED.

BUT HAS BEEN PLENTY TO DO

Next Week Promises to be One of Activity—There Have Been Luncheons and Smaller Parties During the Past Few Days.

Society has been running along at an ordinary rate of speed during the past week, with plenty to do but without any of the particularly strenuous life to exhaust the city's nerve energy. The coming week promises to be a busy one from the drop of the hat.

Pleasures of the Week.

The West Side Whist club enjoyed a meeting last night with Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Salter.

Mrs. L. C. Taylor pleasantly entertained a company of ladies at her home on South Fourth street this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Rainbolt entertained a small company of friends last Saturday evening for Mrs. E. C. Harris of Chadron, who was visiting in the city. Six-hand euchre was played during the evening, after which a delicious lunch was served.

Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Mittelstadt pleasantly entertained a small company of friends at 8 o'clock dinner Monday evening, at their pretty home on Koenigsstein avenue. The dinner was given in the nature of a farewell for Mr. and Mrs. Max Asmus, who left on Thursday for their new home in California.

Miss Elvira Durland pleasantly entertained a company of eighteen ladies at her home on North Ninth street Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Ezra Durland of Chicago, who had been visiting with friends and relatives for some weeks and who left later in the week for her home. A dainty luncheon was served.

Miss Lizzie Schram was the victim of a jolly surprise party on Monday evening, when thirteen of her young friends arrived at her home to help celebrate her birthday. Miss Schram was the recipient of a beautiful gold cross and chain. Cards afforded pleasure during the evening and dainty refreshments finished out the birthday celebration later.

The Trinity Social guild enjoyed Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Mullen. The meeting was held as a farewell for Miss Mabel Estabrook and Miss Helen Dickover, who, with Mr. and Mrs. Max Asmus, left on Thursday to spend the winter in California. Miss Estabrook and Miss Dickover had long been valued members of the organization and will be greatly missed by the membership.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Blakeman entertained thirty-five friends Tuesday night at a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Max Asmus. Progressive six-hand euchre was the feature of the evening, Max Asmus winning the gentlemen's prize, Mrs. J. C. Stitt the shouting prize. Four of the ladies cut for the ladies' high score, Mrs. Max Asmus getting it. A delicious three-course luncheon was served. The home was decorated with carnations.

Yesterday was the forty-second birthday of Gus Nitz and he took advantage of the opportunity by giving a party to his friends at his home on Braasch avenue, a large number of friends being present. The evening was passed with music and games as the entertainment. A fine supper was served at the close of the party. Among the many presents given him was a large cup and saucer which if used continually for a week, would have to be refilled but once. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Beltz of Stanton.

Mrs. George B. Christoph entertained at two pleasant luncheons during the week, on Wednesday and Friday.

On Wednesday about thirty-five ladies were invited for the luncheon and afternoon. The luncheon was prettily served in four courses. Six-hand euchre and finch were amusements of the afternoon, there being three prizes. Mrs. George H. Burton won the shouting prize at euchre, a cut glass knife rest; Mrs. Gillette was most successful in the high score and was presented with a pretty plate; Mrs. Meyers won out in the finch game and also received a plate.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Christoph was at home to about fifty ladies. The same scheme of entertainment was carried out as on the previous afternoon, with a luncheon at 1 o'clock and finch and six-hand euchre through the afternoon. Mrs. Wallerstedt was most successful at shouting and was presented with a pretty cut glass salt and pepper set, Mrs. W. P. Logan won the high score and received a china plate, while Mrs. Garvin was the victor at finch and was presented with a pretty nut dish.

The Theater.

There was to have been a playlast night, but the date was cancelled. Tonight George L. Sheldon speaks at the Auditorium and Monday night Mr. Shallenberger will speak.

pal event of the week at the Norfolk playhouse. They proved a surprise to many, as they had improved their form over a year ago. They put up jolly fun for a couple of hours, and fun on the stage is much preferred by the general public in Norfolk today to heavier tragedies. "We have troubles of our own," the people declare in this city, "and we go to the theater to be amused and made to forget our troubles."

One of the principal theatrical events of the entire season will come to Norfolk next Tuesday night with Mr. Walker Whiteside, who opened the Auditorium here some years ago. The play is a high class comedy and will be one of the best things north Nebraska will see this year. Many people are expected from out of town and the seat sale will probably go rapidly. The party from Neligh, including Miss Lillian Anderson and friends, will occupy a box.

Depending upon the patronage given by Norfolk to the Walker Whiteside attraction next Tuesday night, will depend whether Norfolk shall get good things this season.

In the line of entertainment, though not theatrical, comes the beginning of the high school lecture course next Wednesday night. Mr. Packard is one of the funniest and cleverest cartoonists on the American platform today and will be well worth seeing. In fact it will be a rare evening lost if he is not seen. He can be highly recommended and it is to be hoped that the Methodist church will be filled to overflowing to watch him sketch mirthful cartoons for an hour or two. The single admissions are fifty cents but as this is the beginning, a season ticket to cover five excellent attractions can be had for $1.50. The five lectures come at a cost of $475 to the course, or nearly $100 each. They are all high grade.

Coming Events.
 A dancing party will be given at Marquardt hall next Friday evening. The Collins orchestra of LeMars, Iowa, will furnish music.

Mrs. John G. Haskell of Wakefield has issued invitations to her Norfolk and Wayne friends, to whom she will be at home in Wakefield on the afternoon of Tuesday, October 23. The trains run conveniently for the trip, and a number of Norfolk ladies will accept the invitation.

Clubs.

The Wednesday club enjoyed a pleasant and profitable meeting at the home of Mrs. Sol G. Mayer on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

The Nebraska federation of woman's clubs has been in session this week. The Norfolk woman's club being prominent in the federation, a review of the history of the club, as read by Mrs. George N. Beels at the tenth anniversary meeting of the organization, is not inappropriate at this time. Mrs. Beels said in part:

The woman's club occupies a unique position among organizations of a similar character. It is democratic in its character and purposes, emphasizing the fundamental elements of womanhood rather than the artificial distinctions. Its fundamental principles are equality and usefulness. In harmony with this ideal the membership of the Norfolk woman's club has never been limited, but everyone is received who is in sympathy with its purposes. In the ten years of its existence the following ladies have been presidents, each holding office for two years:

Mrs. Cora Beels, Mrs. Nora Taft Pratt, Mrs. A. J. Durland, Mrs. M. A. McMillan and Mrs. J. R. Hays. Of the original charter members the following still retain their membership in the club: Mesdames Bullock, A. J. Durland, Beels, Beeler, Coryell, C. B. Durland, Matrau, Oxnam, Owen, Warwick, Weatherby and Snyder. The subjects chosen for study have covered a wide range of thought, including England, America, Spain, Holland, Russia, Greece and The Netherlands. The general work of the club has been in two departments, literary and household economics. The club has been ably represented at the state federation meetings by such well known ladies as Mesdames Durland, Bullock, Pratt, Reynolds, Brake, Oxnam, Cole, Utter and Erskine in addition to the presidents. The club has been ably represented in state work by Mrs. A. J. Durland who has been chairman of the club extension committee; also of the state program committee. She has been vice president of the state and delegate to the biennial at Minneapolis and speaker at the state teachers' association. Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Beels have furnished papers for the state federation meeting, and four papers written by Mesdames Humphrey, Robertson, Baker and Beels have furnished papers for the reciprocity bureau. So the club has reason to be proud of its position in the state work. It has also been busy locally. A series of open meetings to which guests have been invited and refreshments served, have been features of the work.

Several art meetings have been open to invited guests and have been red letter days in the history. Club members have always taken an active and sympathetic part in our public schools. This interest has been manifested in various ways. For several years, the Perry Art magazine was placed in the schools. A series of receptions have been given to our teachers, also to the members of the teachers' association whenever its meetings have been held in the high school room. Among those who have addressed the meetings were Prof. O'Connor, Mrs. Brake, State Superintendent Fowler and Dr. P. H. Salter. The economic department has been practical and busy. Two cooking schools have been held under their supervision. Special meetings have been held where Dr. H. J. Cole and Dr. K. W. Williams have appeared as speakers.

The club has been hostess to the Stanton Sorosis, Pierce Culture club and the Wednesday club of Norfolk. Through the courtesy of Superintendent Reynolds the visiting delegates enjoyed a trip to the sugar factory. Several speakers from abroad have spoken under the auspices of the club: Miss Pierson of West Point, on "South Africa;" Dr. Wood, on "The Philippines;" Mrs. Sawyer, on "The Relation of the Home to the Future Citizen;" and Mrs. Stoughborough on "The Library Movements." The club was instrumental in securing the district meeting for Norfolk. This occasion brought a large number of ladies to our city and furnished several enjoyable entertainments to the public. The members are public spirited and take an active interest in the prosperity of our city. The club believes in patronizing home institutions and industries; in being helpers, not kickers; in making Norfolk the best city of its size in Nebraska.

The club takes special pride in the establishment of the public library. It has worked for this during the entire ten years of its existence, and expects to see that it is properly maintained and cared for. The members are anticipating great things for the future and expect the coming decade to be crowded full with good works.
