SOCIAL EVENTS OF WEEK

THE SUMMER SEASON HAS NOT MARRIED ACTIVITY.

WAS A WEEK OF MISCELLANY

There Was a Little of This and a Little of That, and All in All it Made a Busy Week for Social Folk of Norfolk.

The fact that summer has formally been launched, according to the calendar, seems to have less effect than usual upon social activities in Norfolk. Perhaps the lateness of the season and the continued cool weather up until now has served as an agent in thus prolonging things which are generally given over to the cold months of winter and which as a rule come to a sudden and abrupt end when the sun's rays get burning. The past week has been one of miscellany in a social way, a little of this and a little of that making up the schedule. On the whole it has been a most delightful week, though mostly an informal one, in keeping with the season. A prominent feature of the week was the Harper-Walker wedding.

Pleasures of the Week.

On Monday evening the West Side Whist club closed its season with a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Baum on Madison avenue and Eleventh street. The dinner, which was prettily served in courses, was a delicious repast in keeping with the formal bringing to an end of the season's playing. Tables were cleared later for whist, at the end of which prizes for both the season and the evening were awarded. For the season Mrs. J. S. Mathewson and Mr. F. E. Davenport were winners of highest scores and each was presented with a beautiful water color, the work of Mrs. Weatherby. These prizes were awarded by Mrs. Warrick. In the evening's playing, Mrs. Boas and Mr. Burnham won high scores, Mrs. N. A. Rainbolt and Mr. E. A. Bullock second highest, and Mrs. D. Baum and Mr. D. Baum booby prizes. Mrs. Boas received a pretty silver jewel box, Mrs. Rainbolt a plate and Mrs. Baum a feather duster; Mr. Burnham was presented with a silver ash tray, Mr. Bullock with a pack of playing cards and Mr. Baum with a toy cart. The season through has been a very enjoyable one for the club.

One of the most unique and altogether delightful events of the season was given to a number of friends last evening by Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hays. The guests enjoyed a charming program of song and reading rendered by Miss Conklin and Miss Hamling of Omaha. Miss Hamling, a cousin of Mrs. Hays, has a wonderfully superior voice and her singing was very greatly appreciated by the Norfolk audience. Miss Conklin is a reader who was engaged from Omaha for the evening. She gave an interesting and very capably done sketch of "Madame Butterfly," telling the pathetic story with unusual force. After the treat of song and story the guests enjoyed a delicious luncheon.

Miss Hamling leaves next year for Germany where she will study voice culture at Leipzig and Berlin. Her friends hope that she may become a pupil under the famous Martini. Owing to the fact that she sings in an Omaha church, Miss Hamling was compelled to return to Omaha today. She was accompanied by Miss Conklin.

One of the most enjoyable events of the week was the little speech made at the Junction depot Tuesday afternoon by Secretary of War William Howard Taft. Secretary Taft's address was in fact, one of the most charming orations ever listened to by Norfolk womankind. It was more than a political speech. It was a profound appreciation of what real good looks are. The secretary said the women of Norfolk had the handsomest, happiest, healthiest, and so forth faces that he had ever laid eyes on, and it's no wonder he made a hit. The secretary is considered quite a ladies' man anyway, they say.

Norfolk Eagles are feeling justly elated over the election of P. M. Barrett of Sugar City aerie to the presidency of the state aerie at Lincoln during the past week. The delegates returned Wednesday, reporting a fine time. Those who attended were: P. M. Barrett, M. R. Green, C. H. Groesbeck, Frank Carrick, E. B. Kauffman, Martin Slawter and J. H. Conley. Mr. Groesbeck was accompanied by Mrs. Groesbeck and little son.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. W. M. Rainbolt entertained a number of friends informally at 1 o'clock luncheon for Mrs. W. H. Bucholz of Omaha. Yellow predominated in the decorations, yellow roses and yellow ribbons as place cards being used effectively. At five hundred, which was enjoyed during the afternoon, Mrs. George D. Butterfield was successful in attaining the highest score. A pretty kerchief was her prize.

Mrs. E. Mittelstadt's sixty-eighth birthday was observed by a family reunion in the home of her son, Mr. L. C. Mittelstadt, Koenigstein avenue and Twelfth street, Monday. A very pleasant day was enjoyed.

Mrs. John R. Hays entertained a number of ladies at a pleasant 1 o'clock luncheon Thursday afternoon. After the luncheon hour, cards were enjoyed during the afternoon. At each Mrs. Burt Mapes had high score and received a dainty silver paper cutter.

Sam Erskine on Saturday evening entertained a party of friends at a dinner party in honor of John Bridge, who left during the week for his new home at Spokane, Wash. The guests of the evening in addition to Mr. Bridge were Oliver Utter, Archie Gow, Charles Landers, Elmer Hardy, Ralph Lukart and Boyd Blakeman.

A farewell surprise party was given in the home of Judge and Mrs. I. Powers Tuesday evening for Mrs. W. H. Bridge, who left Norfolk Thursday with her sons for their new home in Spokane. Two beautiful sets of forks were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Bridge by the friends who gathered at the Powers home.

A number of Norfolk girls enjoyed a house party at Madison during the past week. They were: Miss Dorothy Salter, Miss Merle Blakeman, Miss Fannie Friday, Miss Mabel Odiorne. The young ladies were guests of Miss Margaret Long for the week-end.

Mrs. T. M. Hull was hostess Monday afternoon at a birthday party given for her mother, Mrs. Force, who was eighty-two on that day. Thirty-five guests enjoyed the afternoon. Mrs. Force was the recipient of a number of dainty tokens of esteem.

Harper-Walker.

One of the prettiest weddings that has taken place in Norfolk in a long time was that of Miss Nina E. Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Walker, to Mr. J. Earle Harper of Clearwater at the First Congregational church in Norfolk Tuesday morning. The church had been beautifully decorated with flowers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Turner.

Miss Laura Durland was bridesmaid, Miss Nola Walker maid of honor, Mr. Heman Walker best man. Miss Fannie Norton acted as pianiste and Mr. Julius Hull as violinist. Mrs. C. E. Greene of Plainview sang a solo. Miss Mary Hardy was flower girl. Ushers were Messrs. J. C. Stitt, L. P. Pasewalk, John Bridge, B. C. Gentle. The bride was gowned in a beautiful white gown trimmed with valenciennes lace. She wore a veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Walker. A delicious three-course breakfast was served to forty guests. The bridal couple left on the afternoon train for a honeymoon trip in the southern part of the state. The bride wore a pretty blue going away gown.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper, who are among Norfolk's most prominent and popular young folk, will make their home at Clearwater, where the groom is engaged in the drug business.

On Wednesday at the home of relatives in Bellwood, Miss May R. Lillie, formerly of Norfolk, and Mr. Charles E. Musgrove were married. Miss Lillie was a daughter of the late William W. Lillie, a well known Norfolk Commercial traveler, and much of her life was spent in Norfolk, where she has many warm friends. Mr. Musgrove has been a commercial traveler, but is about to engage in business in Nebraska. Cards announcing the wedding have been received by Norfolk friends.

Coming Events.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Durland of Plainview have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Mary Frances Durland, to Mr. Cress Ideal Bernard next Saturday, June 29, in the Congregational church at Plainview. The wedding will take place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

SALOON TAXES.

Madison County Saloon Men Will Not Be Assessed on Occupation Taxes. Saloon keepers in Madison county will not be required to pay taxes on the "occupation tax" which they have already paid into the city and village treasuries. Saloon men have taken the position that the occupation tax levied against them is a "tax" pure and simple and that to list the face value of the occupation tax as assessable property is to force the saloon men to "pay a tax on a tax." The county board of equalization meeting in Madison Thursday took the same view of the matter and ordered the saloon occupation tax stricken from the assessors' books as assessable property.

Saloons in the county, however, will be assessed to the full value of their actual license fee.

PACIFICS WON THE GAME.

Whirlwind Finish Was Feature of the Day's Playing.

Commercial men stopping in Norfolk for Sunday disregarded the summer heat yesterday, pulling off a strenuous game of baseball at the driving park diamond. The wreaths of victory were gathered in by the Pacifics by a score of 6 to 5 over the Oxnards.

As Tom Price and his cohorts journeyed from the Oxnard they annexed to their ranks Haak and one or two other local players of proper scoring ability. These Oxnards closed the game with a whirlwind finish but the Commercial men from the Fifth street hotel had already napped up enough scores to clinch the game. A large crowd, composed in part of McPhail of Minneapolis, held up the grand stand's end of the game.

Line up: Oxnards: Haak, Johnson, King, Reynolds, Burr, Price, Peters, Parish, Wait. Pacifics: Compton, Rock, Sterling, Potter, Glittinger, Donald, Lowery, Gorman, Meyer.

Score: Oxnards .....0 0 0 0 0 5-5 Pacifics .....1 4 0 1 0 0-6

Dust From the Diamond.

Rock's catching was a feature. Meyer stopped a fly that every one applauded. Tom Price was on speaking terms with every position in the field. Potter got over heated. Wait connected with three in the field.

Compton was the only man to score a second time. Donald with his ten bet steadied things. Lowery was a matinee hero with his field work, Gorman was the goods on second base while Sterling on first was better than a glass arm.

FIVE DIED IN FLOOD.

Several Other Persons Missing Since Storm in Black Hills.

Rapid City, S. D., June 24.—Five people are known to have been drowned in the terrible flood in the Black Hills last week, and it is greatly feared that others will be found when some of the ranches within a radius of thirty or forty miles to Rapid City are visited. Word was received here yesterday that Clint Davis and his family have not been seen since the flood, and as the house has been carried down and cannot be found it is feared that the family were in it. The ranch house of Eardly Ham was struck in the night by the flood and the family were compelled to take refuge in an upper story until 5 o'clock the next afternoon, when they were rescued from their perilous position. Another family in this vicinity were forced to abandon their home and spend the night out of doors on a slightly higher place, either standing or sitting in the water. John E. Murphy, in charge of the government irrigation dam at Belle Fourche, last night received word from his wife that a child had been drowned and asking him to return home. Mr. Murphy, thinking it his own child, was greatly alarmed, and as the railroad track was washed out, secured a team. He rode all Friday night over the terrible roads, at several places fording the swollen and dangerous streams, and once losing his way so completely that several hours were spent in getting back upon the road.

Mr. Murphy safely reached White-wood, where he telephoned to his wife and ascertained that it was his nephew instead of his son that had been drowned. The child was drowned in the cloudburst that swept down Stage Barn gulch.
