

BOCHE BACK BEHIND BARS

HE MAY NOT BE ABLE TO SECURE $15,000 BAIL.

SIGNERS ARE NOT FORTHCOMING

In Handcuffs Herman Boche Was Returned to Madison After Having Spent a Fruitless Day in Norfolk Searching for Signatures.

[From Tuesday's Daily.] Boche's $15,000 bond did not materialize Monday. Boche after spending the day in Norfolk in handcuffs and in charge of two deputy sheriffs was taken back to the Madison county jail late in the afternoon.

As men who had been counted on to sign the bond were seen to hesitate at attaching their signatures to the paper it seemed possible that Boche might not be able to give the required bail, fixed at $15,000 by Judge Barnes at Madison Saturday.

Boche while in Norfolk Monday attached his own signature to the bond so that his presence here was no longer necessary.

Efforts on Boche's behalf were continued Tuesday.

Herman Boche spent the greater part of the day in Norfolk waiting for friends to come forward and sign the $15,000 bond that would secure his release from jail confinement pending his murder trial. More delay was experienced in securing signatures than had been expected. Late in the afternoon it was known that only one name in addition to Boche's had been attached to the bond but Boche's attorneys stated that the bail would probably be furnished before night.

Boche, himself, is worth more than the bond required. The value of his farms and property south of the city is placed at $17,000, sufficient to prevent loss to the other signers. It was said, however, that men who had been counted on to sign the bond had refused to do so during the morning.

The proposed north Nebraska baseball tournament that was to be held in Norfolk this fall seems in danger of vanishing away in thin air. Neither the firemen nor the Brownies, both of whom considered taking charge of the tournament, have taken any steps to organize the proposed three day ball carnival.

Instead of building a brick fire tower the Norfolk fire department is going to purchase two modern hose carts for their use. The hose tower project has been abandoned on account of the expense. At the meeting of the department last evening the purchase of the new hose carts was ordered. The new carts will replace the present carts in the city hall.

A pony belonging to Olof Cummus of Stanton rural route No. 3, strayed away from the buggy while in Norfolk circus day, has been located through The News want column. The animal strayed into Edgewater park and was taken up by William King. Both loser and finder came to The News for a solution of the loss, and the lost pony will thus be restored to its owner.

John E. Fogarty and his bride, formerly Miss Pearl Widaman of Norfolk, arrived in the city yesterday on their wedding trip from Gorgeona in the Panama canal zone. They are the guests of Mrs. Fogarty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Widaman.

Ross Tyndall and Lester Weaver expect to leave at the same time to attend Wesleyan university at Lincoln. Other state university students will leave later in the week.

The following are the subjects for the week's series of sermons by Rev. H. W. Knowles, the boy evangelist who is holding special meetings at the Christian church: Thursday evening, "The Two Laws;" Friday evening, "Lot's Wife;" Saturday evening, "Wanted, a Man;" Sunday morning, "The Temptation;" Sunday evening, "Union of God's People." There were five additions to the church last evening, making a total increase of nineteen since the meetings opened in the new church.

After three months spent on the road S. R. Carney of the Faucett-Carney candy company has returned to the office this week, relieving M. M. Faucett of the firm who goes out on the road again. By exchanging of office details for the life of the commercial traveler and by again dropping the traveler's troubles for the rest of the office Messrs. Faucett and Carney by their system of exchanging duties believe that they have successfully worked out the vacation problem, and will continue the alternating system.

The seat sale for the Saturday evening performance of "A Bachelor's Honeymoon" will start at the regular place Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Prices will be 25c, 35c, 50c and 75c. A matinee performance will be given Saturday afternoon at reduced prices. This play is a farce comedy and made a great hit when presented in Hoyt's theater, New York. It was pronounced "screamingly funny" by all of the New York critics. For ten months its successful run there continued. The company presenting the play here is a capable one, with Herbert De Guerre and Miss Grace Johnson in the leading roles. The company assembled here and will begin their season in Norfolk Auditorium Saturday. Aside from the local interest in the play and players, the play itself is a successful fun-maker of merit.

C. A. Smith of Newport was in Norfolk yesterday afternoon and left last night for Atkinson, where he went to look after the loss of a carload of horses which were cremated in a stock car the night before. Mr. Smith said that these twenty head were particularly choice stock and were being shipped east to a brother, who intended to sell them on an eastern market.

The Norfolk fire department was called out at 5:30 o'clock Thursday morning for the second miniature fire of the week. Early in the morning a big coal bin adjacent to the Norfolk steam laundry was discovered ablaze. The fire however was of small proportions and was quickly extinguished on the arrival of members of the department. No damage resulted.

JULIUS TO JOIN THE JOKESMITHS

Norfolk City Clerk, With M. Twain and Others, to Honor Bill Nye.

City Clerk Julius Hulff of Norfolk is going to Los Angeles, Cal., with the funny men of America.

The American press humorists going to their national convention at Los Angeles will pass through Omaha Friday. Such men as Mark Twain, "Buster Brown" Outcault, Bob Burdette, George Ade, Peter F. Dunn and others of like national fame are expected to occupy the two sleeping cars that are to carry the humorists out of Omaha Friday morning.

Julius, who is really quite funny, has arranged to join the party at Omaha and will accompany the press writers on their western junket to do honor to the name of their illustrious predecessor, the late Bill Nye.

Julius will cling to the smile promoters as long as they linger in the west land. He will also call on relatives and in all his visit will cover three weeks. Norfolk lost Julius at noon when he stepped onto the Omaha bound train at the Northwestern city station. He left at 12:21 p. m.

Mr. Hulff took his violin.

DRUMMERS PLAN PICNIC

WHICH WILL BE HELD IN NORFOLK, SEPTEMBER 21.

WILL HAVE WARM BALL GAME

Norfolk Will be Glad of the Fact That This is to Become an Annual Event Among the Commercial Travelers of This City.

Norfolk commercial travelers are getting ready for "picnic day." A week from next Saturday, on September 21, members of Norfolk council No. 120 of the U. C. T. with other north Nebraska travelers as their guests will enjoy a pleasant holiday from the dust of the road. The picnic will be held at Edgewater grove.

A feature which lends special interest to the picnic is that it is to be an annual affair, an event that will be fixed permanently in Norfolk's calendar as "traveling men's day" in this city.

There is every prospect that the first annual picnic of the Norfolk commercial travelers will be one of the largest gatherings ever held by traveling men in northern Nebraska. Travelers from all the neighboring towns have been invited, the invitations not being limited to the U. C. T. fraternity.

It is an interesting program that has been worked out for traveling men's outing day in Norfolk.

In the morning the ball game between Norfolk and Columbus travelers will be played at the driving park. The game will be called at 10 o'clock.

At 1:30 p. m. carriages will leave for the picnic grounds. Field sports and boat riding will be features of the afternoon. Addresses will be delivered by Fred W. Hawken, grand secretary of the U. C. T. of Nebraska and by E. A. Bailey, grand councilor.

U. C. T. post meeting will be held in the evening with a big list of candidates to initiate.

Here are the two baseball teams that will open the morning's program:

Norfolk U. C. T. post: R. E. Bryant, Charles Chandler, Gus Markitan, Frank Lowry, Tom Price, F. G. Gettlinger, D. S. Day, Ed Engle, Frank Conley.

Columbus U. C. T. post: Sam Pray, L. Osborne, George O'Brien, Pat Cunningham, Tom Eaton, R. Plummer, F. Ferrand, J. Boserman, Martin Rathburn.

BOCHE'S PROSPECTS SLIM.

No Bail Has Yet Been Secured For the Slayer of Frank Jarmer.

The sunlit sky which smiled on north Nebraska Wednesday morning after circus day was not for Herman Boche, who, unable to obtain signers to the required $15,000 bond still remained in the confines of the county jail at Madison. In fact, after three days of effort there seemed to be even less prospect of Boche securing bond for his release on bail.

Tilly Olson.

Tilly Olson, the Swede girl, was greeted by a large house at the Auditorium last night and apparently the audience was pleased with the funny stunts of the comedy. The play is a Swedish dialect affair and one in which ridiculous situations abound. Tilly has a hard time of it for a while but she finally succeeds in rescuing the hero just at the proper moment.

A want ad. will sell those lots quickly—if you need to "raise some money."
