

LIBRARY GETS THE MONEY

IT WAS STURGEON'S HOODOO DAY. ALL RIGHT.

NICOLA'S CURVES WERE FAST

Nobody Could Connect With His Spits and Jack Koenigstein Was There to Hold Him—It Was Friday, the 13th, and a Shut-Out.

[From Saturday's Daily.]

When the second amateur swiftest was set down in the sporting calendar for "Friday, the thirteenth" Norfolk people sighed and shook their heads and said that someone would be beaten. Sturgeon ought to have been suspicious when the lawyers appealed from the results of the first game but he smiled innocently, hired the Norfolk band, a laurel wreath and a banner of victory and started out to collect more funds for the trade promoters' treasury.

The $26.50 that represented the receipts of Friday afternoon's game belongs to the public library. By a score of 9 to 0 the lawyers, insurance and real estate men clinched the gate money for the public library and the the honors of the day for themselves. Sturgeon's White Sox were not only beaten but they were shut out. Maps' "Own" might have connected with one score or a hundred; they had the game anyway it went for there wasn't a White Sox that could get next to Nicola's curves and only two of the tribe ever saw third base.

It was Nicola's game. The Durland Trust company man has pitched some when occasion demanded and he has been in heavy training for two weeks. When the trade promoters have practiced, Maps' "Own" have simply loafed and laughed—for they pinned their faith in Nicola and he was there with the goods. And Jack Koenigstein was there to hold him.

The story of the game is told in the summary:

Dust From the Diamond.

In the fourth after five runs by the library champions had been chalked down O'Brien relieved "Father" Hoffman in the box but the lawyer march continued for two more innings.

Carl Davenport dropped the catcher's mask to connect with the ball on two occasions.

Burton sent one out to Mathewson in the first inning and Mathewson took it in the most matter of fact way.

Hoffmaster, whose weight gives him some momentum, made a grand sweep from first to second but the burst of speed swept him on ten feet past the moorings of safety and a cruel umpire called him out.

In the seventh spectators thought Kauffman was mad because Billie Powers had smashed him too hard with the ball but Kauffman was merely angry because the umpire thought that Powers had touched him at all.

C. A. Smith, who officiated Friday, is classed as one of the best umpires in north Nebraska but fortune favored him that the contest never became close.

A third game to decide the tie has been suggested. The trade promoters won the first game eight to five. The lawyers nailed this contest nino to nothing. But the trade boosters will insist on a Nicola-less game as Maps' pitcher has been voted into the professional ranks.

NAMES "CITY LIMITS" COMMITTEE

Craven, Haase and Kauffman Will Investigate Expansion Matter.

Mayor Durland has appointed the "city limits committee." The mayor announces that Councilmen Craven, Haase and Kauffman will compose the committee which is to go into the matter of extending the city limits of Norfolk to conform with the actual boundary lines of the town.

Councilmen Craven, Haase and Kauffman will act with City Attorney Hazen. They are expected to make a comprehensive investigation of the boundary question and to devise new boundary lines for the city along rational lines. At present Norfolk limits run in almost any old direction and wandering around in an aimless fashion fail to bring a considerable part of the city within the legal limits.

To devise new and satisfactory boundary lines will be a task of some proportions. It will require time, study and plenty of investigation. No report will be expected from the committee until the meeting of the council next October.

LOGAN IS IN NEW PROJECT

NORFOLK MAN INTERESTED IN STREET SIGN COMPANY.

SEEKING OMAHA FRANCHISE

W. P. Logan of This City and Willis McBride of Elgin are interested in National Street Sign Company. Have a New Idea.

A Norfolk man is interested in an Omaha project which is receiving a great deal of attention from the Omaha papers at this time.

W. P. Logan of Norfolk and Willis McBride of Elgin are two of the eight men who are back of the National Street Sign company which is seeking a street sign franchise from the city council of Omaha.

Signs are to be installed on every street intersection in Omaha. The signs are to be of neat design and the expense of their installation will be about $45,000. The question at Omaha is whether the city will expend several thousand dollars for the signs or give the National Street Sign company a contract to erect them free and get its money out of an advertising privilege.

The income of the company would come from the valuable advertising space which it would acquire in connection with the sign posts. The company is a new one, is handling a new idea and is making its first venture at Omaha.

The Omaha World-Herald speaking of the project says: "A new ordinance introduced in the city council provides for a contract with the National Street Sign company for placing street signs at all the street intersections for a period of seven years. The latter proposition provides that this shall be done without expense of the city, and the company shall have the right to place a metal advertising sign on each post, of the same as that bearing the name of the street, for advertising purposes. It is provided that the city shall receive five per cent of the gross receipts of the company. The incorporators of the company are Willis McBride, W. P. Logan, Harry G. Graham and Charles E. Wilkinson.

MEANS MUCH TO DRAYMEN

FREIGHT TO HOSPITAL AMOUNTS TO $3,500 ANNUALLY.

WITHOUT THE RAILROAD SPUR

The Announcement of the Past Week That There Would Be No Railroad Spur Built From M. & O. Track to Hospital Had Significance.

The virtual abandoning of the plan to build a railroad spur from the M. & O. track northeast of Norfolk to the state insane hospital means, it is estimated, about $3,500 annually to Norfolk teaming interests.

A year ago when active building operations were carried on at that Norfolk hospital the state paid about $3,000 to Norfolk teamsters for hauling building material and other supplies to the hospital.

Now with extensive building operations in sight the annual "dray bill" of the state will, it is estimated, amount to about $3,500 in Norfolk. It is more than a two mile haul to the hospital from the Norfolk depots.

WAS RECORD RUN OF STOCK

CATTLE POURING TO MARKET FROM THE RANGE.

MANY FROM NEW LINE AT DALLAS

Last Week Was The Biggest Week of Cattle Shipment Through Norfolk Over Northwestern in Road's History Excepting Once in 1905.

This last week has been a big week in the range cattle movement from the northwest through Norfolk to Omaha and Chicago markets. Thousands of cattle from the western range have filled the long lines of trains passing through Norfolk in unusual numbers.

It was a big week in the cattle business. Its only equal was one week back in 1905 when a record in the cattle movement over the Northwestern was established.

During the shipment week which closed Friday 715 cars of western range stock was loaded west of Long Pine and beyond the Rosebud. All of this stock passed through Norfolk during the week over the Northwestern, calling some thirty-five special stock trains into play.

It was a busy week for the Northwestern, these big shipments made by the northwest cattlemen to market. Adding the regular and special stock trains to the through trains from the range country fully sixty stock trains went through the city last week.

The record made by the range stock movement in the western country in 1905 was 771 cars. Last week with the 715 cars made the nearest approach to these figures.

Now that the range stock is swinging into market it does not appear that the movement will fall much if any below the figures for last year.

In the movement of the present season the new extension into Dallas cuts a considerable figure. This is the first season that range stuff has come over the Bonesteel line, the Dallas extension bringing the Northwestern into the country that formerly shipped from Valentine and other points on the west line as well as over the new Milwaukee extension.

The range shipping week runs from Friday to Friday with the railroads. After Friday the big business of the week sets in and starts to fall away by Tuesday or Wednesday.

Congressman Boyd is Anxious to Hear of All Legitimate Claims.

Congressman J. F. Boyd was in Norfolk from Neligh Saturday afternoon,

In every county seat in the district, as well as in some other towns.

Congressman Boyd is anxious to learn of all the legitimate claims which old soldiers have for pensions or for pension increases. When he comes across a war veteran who has no just claim for a pension, the judge doesn't hesitate to tell the man that he believes nothing can be done.

The other day at Fullerton the high school principal insisted upon an address and the school children were given a short talk by the district's representative in congress.

PRIMARY LAW A FAILURE

FORMER SENATOR ALLEN SAYS IT IS VISIONARY.

THINKS IT WILL BE REPEALED

Former United States Senator Allen, Who Was in Norfolk From Madison, Said the New Primary Allows Trickery in Naming Candidates.

Former United States Senator William V. Allen of Madison, who called attention to unconstitutional features in the direct primary law at the time of its enactment, does not hesitate to say that he still thinks the law bad. The recent practical test of the new law has convinced Senator Allen that the new law is bad in practice as well as being theoretically faulty.

The primary law was again characterized as "visionary" by Senator Allen in Norfolk Friday.

"And not only visionary," the senator said, "but an expensive piece of visionary legislation. Every vote cast at the Madison county primary cost Madison county a dollar.

"And far from accomplishing good the law is evil. It strikes at representative government, the foundation of good government.

"The law opens the way for designing men who can manipulate the primaries of both parties. It opens the chance for fraud. Its arbitrary forms limit the expression of the voters.

"Let us restore our government to first principles. Let the initiative be with the voter. Let the voters meet together and choose whom they wish to represent them.

"The law in my mind is clearly unconstitutional. But whether or not the courts set it aside, I think it will be repealed. It ought to be repealed as a visionary, unsatisfactory piece of work and men should be sent to the legislature who stand for its repeal."

AINSWORTH MINISTER RESIGNS.

Growing Cough Gives Rev. Mr. Paxton Great Alarm.

Ainsworth, Neb., Sept. 16.—Special to The News: Rev. Robert Finley Paxton, pastor of the Congregational church at this place, tendered his resignation Sunday to take effect on or before Oct. 15. He gives as his reason his failing health. His wife died here last spring of consumption and his own growing cough has given him great alarm. He is a good man and a popular minister and everybody here is his friend. They all regret the necessity that compels the resignation and all will sorrow at his departure. Ainsworth people hope that a change in climate may restore his health.
