

STIRS UP INVESTIGATION

CHIEF FLYNN ADVISES OFFICER BRAASCH TO RESIGN.

BRAASCH PREPARES DEFENSE

Members of the City Administration Have Been Looking into the Incident Involving Nightwatchman—Council May Look into it Monday.

The Friday night episode in which Night Officer Braasch was involved has been the subject of a lot of investigation by members of the city administration.

Officer Braasch is still a member of the police force although Chief of Police Flynn on Monday evening suggested to the night officer the advisability of withdrawing from the force.

Officer Braasch, however, far from intending to resign, is understood to be preparing a statement in his own defense. The officer claims that his course has been governed by instructions from his superiors and he is understood to think that others than himself might be involved in a general housecleaning.

Unless the matter is cleaned up in some other way the whole affair will probably be the subject for an investigation by the city council next Monday evening.

The Nebraska Telephone company still has an expert cable man in Norfolk repairing the damage done to local cable lines by the severe electrical storm that preceded the recent tornado by a few days.

The county commissioners have made a change in the road that runs along the Northwestern tracks just west of Kent's siding. By throwing the roadway south of the tracks the commissioners have eliminated two railroad crossings and rendered the road that much safer for travel. O. N. Stuke, deputy internal revenue collector, has succeeded in having his headquarters transferred from Columbus to Norfolk, thus keeping one more family here and bringing to this city one more factor. Mr. Stuke was formerly railway postal clerk out of Norfolk and a few weeks ago was appointed as deputy internal revenue collector for northern Nebraska. Columbus has been the headquarters but as Norfolk was better located for the work, Mr. Stuke had no trouble in persuading the department to make the change.

A crowd of Norfolk young people enjoyed a melo-drama portrayed in real life Tuesday night. The young folk drove out for a hayrack party in the moonlight. At the farm of Burl Reed, southwest of the city, the young men of the party climbed out of the hayrack and seized a bunch of watermelons that lay conveniently close to the highway. Of a sudden the stilly night was interrupted by a dozen explosions. A shotgun began spitting flame and shot out from the cornfield. The crowd showed signs of fear—or at least some of the crowd. Some of them knew that it was a "put up job."

As soon as the sewer tile is in place men will be put to work in the trenches. With twenty men Elsing says that he can finish his contract in three months. About 2,200 feet of sewer tile is to be laid, Norfolk's first sewer district including the territory along Norfolk avenue from Seventh to Thirteenth streets, running half a block south of Norfolk avenue and a block and a half north.

Yankton Press and Dakotan: President Hill, of the Yankton and Southern Railroad company, reached the city Monday evening from Texas, where he has been engaged several months promoting his great enterprise. Texas has the big end of the great continental project to handle and Texas will really get vastly more permanent benefit from the completed road than the intervening states, not excepting South Dakota, though it has been estimated that the road will increase the annual value of the state's winter wheat $100,000. Texas is a strong state already, but has only entered upon the threshold of a career that is destined to land it in the front rank of our sovereign states—possibly first in the front rank. The sentiment among the Texans is as favorable to the building of the Yankton Southern as is the sentiment here at Yankton. At Houston, where the southern terminus will probably be located, there is but one party and every one of the 75,000 inhabitants are members of it. Houston is found to possess advantages of location that make its future less problematical than that of Galveston, though the latter with its 35,000 population is already a shipping port. President Hill is sanguine of the success of the road and has the best means of knowing not only the difficulties to be surmounted, but also the opinions and attitude of financial men toward the enterprise. The undertaking involves great labor and time as well as money and our people may feel assured that nothing is being neglected that will facilitate its progress.

SMITH BROS. ARE COMING

HORSE SALES WILL BE MOVED TO NORFOLK.

NEXT SALE TO BE HERE OCT. 7

Arrangements Were Completed Last Night for the Transfer of the Newport Horse Sales to This City Immediately.

Smith Bros., who have built up a horse market at Newport, are coming to Norfolk.

The next big range horse sale held by this firm will be in Norfolk a week from next Monday, Oct. 7. Arrangements for the transfer were completed in Norfolk last night.

A stock company of Norfolk business men have subscribed enough funds to build the sale yards, which will be leased to Smith Bros. for five years. The exact location of the yards has not been determined but the site will be immediately selected and the construction work begun.

The last sale at Newport was held Monday. This firm has outgrown Newport as the crowds are now too large to secure adequate accommodations there. They had determined to transfer and had Sioux City in view. Prompt attention and liberal action by Norfolk business men secured the new business for this city.

At times it is said that two passenger coaches filled with buyers from everywhere, have gone into Newport to attend those sales. It was seen by the firm that Norfolk, with five lines of railroad from five directions, would afford much better opportunity to secure crowds, while accommodations here would be adequate to the situation.

The sales will mean advertising for Norfolk. The Smith Bros. advertise their sales not only locally but in stock papers in Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and other places. Buyers are said to come from as far as Indiana.

The range horse sales begin June 10 and run into November. Other sales will be held through the winter. The Smith Bros. will build a large stable for their own use. The yards to be built here will be similar to those at Newport, containing forty-four pens. They are the same as sale yards in live stock market places.

MEETING OF STOCKMEN.

Important Gathering to be Held at South Omaha.

Dr. Charles A. McKim, state veterinarian, has sent the following notice to stockmen:

I wish to call your attention to the stockman's meeting to be held at South Omaha, Neb., in the Exchange building on Wednesday, October 2. A program is enclosed.

I hope you realize the importance of this meeting and I wish to urge upon you the need and opportunity for you to be present.

Many subjects of interest to you as a stockman will be discussed and opportunity given you to ask questions or offer your advice as to the means of handling and controlling diseased animals in the state.

By a recent ruling of the interstate commerce commission the inspectors of the bureau of animal industry are prohibited from inspecting cattle or sheep, or issuing certificates for the same at time of shipment when they are going from point to point within the state, it is only when they are offered for interstate shipment that the government inspector can act.

You of course realize the importance or meaning of this ruling, and the benefit to you if your stock is healthy, of having a clean bill of health for them before they leave home. This you cannot secure if you wish to ship to South Omaha, under the above ruling of the commission, therefore you are compelled to ship out of the state to avoid delay in having your cattle held up at destination for inspection.

This is one matter we wish to have adjusted so as to prevent this discrimination against our state market. The question of tuberculosis in cattle and swine, and of the packers buying subject to post-mortem inspection will also be discussed.

As you notice by the program all these subjects and others will be discussed by speakers from all the different interests concerned, and opportunity given for any one present who wishes to express his views.

State control of all diseases of a contagious nature, state sanitary work, co-operation of the federal and state authorities, local meat and milk inspection, etc., will be considered.

Address of welcome, Thos. Hector, mayor of South Omaha.

Response, Dr. A. T. Peters, Lincoln, Neb.

The agricultural college and experiment station a factor in preventing animal diseases, Prof. E. A. Burnett, dean of the Nebraska agricultural college, Lincoln, Neb.

Co-operation with the federal government in eradicating contagious diseases, Dr. Ramsey, chief of field inspection bureau of animal industry, Denver, Colo.

How to keep a herd free from disease, Dr. O. E. Dyson, formerly chief of bureau of animal industry, Chicago, Ill.

What the state sanitary board has accomplished for the state of Minnesota, Dr. M. H. Reynolds, Minnesota agricultural experiment station, St. Anthony Park, Minn.

What a clean bill of health means to the stock owner (viewed from a commissionman's standpoint), by representative of live stock exchange.

The relation of the packer and the commissionman to the stockman, J. J. Ferguson, Chicago, Ill.

What Missouri is doing for its live stock interest, Dr. D. F. Luckey, state veterinarian, Columbia, Mo.

Report on sheep scab, cattle mange, and tuberculosis, Dr. Wm. F. Pfeiffer, state veterinarian, Cheyenne, Wyo.

The agricultural press and the live stock interest, W. A. Hervey, Twentieth Century Farmer, Omaha, Neb.

The needs of Nebraska, Dr. C. A. McKim, state veterinarian, Lincoln, Neb.

Iowa's campaign against diseased animals, Dr. P. O. Keto, state veterinarian, Forest City, Iowa.

These papers will be freely discussed by the stockmen and five-minute addresses on important topics relating to live stock will be given by prominent stockmen of the state.

EARLY CLOSING MOVE HALTS.

Fair Store Refuses to Sign Agreement to Close at 6:30 O'clock.

Only the attitude of the management of the Fair store is said to stand in the way of an early closing agreement for Norfolk avenue stores. At the instance of the clerks' association a closing petition has been drawn up and circulated for signatures among Norfolk merchants. Save at the Fair store the movement met with the approval of local merchants. The petition was circulated by Messrs. Sturgeon and Beeler.

The petition and signatures follow: "We, the undersigned merchants of Norfolk, Neb., agree to close our places of business at 6:30 p. m., excepting Saturday evening, providing all merchants of competing lines also sign this agreement. Dry goods and clothing stores at the usual hour, (6:20 p. m.) Groceries and meat markets at 6:30 p. m. This agreement is to stand good at all times except the holiday season, that is during the month of December.

SHOULD AMEND COURT LAW

SO THAT FEDERAL COURT CIVIL CASES WOULD COME.

SENATOR W. V. ALLEN'S OPINION

The Federal Court Division Law for Nebraska Should be so Amended as to Require Civil Cases to be Tried in District.

"What Norfolk ought to do is to get an amendment to the new federal court law that would apply the same conditions to the trial of civil cases in the federal division in which they originate as now apply to criminal cases in the several federal court divisions. Only by the prisoner's attorney setting up existing conditions unfavorable to a fair trial in the home division can a criminal case be changed from one division to another. But civil cases can be taken away from the Norfolk court on the request of the parties and with the approval of the judges. And that approval will never be a difficult thing to secure. So what Norfolk and the other Nebraska court centers outside of Lincoln and Omaha want to do is to get an amendment."

This was the advice to Norfolk offered yesterday by former Senator William V. Allen of Madison, who was discussing federal court prospects while in the city between trains.

Senator Allen said that he expected to try federal court cases in Norfolk, in fact he would have argued a demurrer in this city at the recent term of court if his time had permitted.

"Federal court in Norfolk," remarked Senator Allen, "can be made a matter of great convenience to the people of this big Norfolk district. It will be much handier to go to Norfolk than elsewhere, but nevertheless Norfolk people should work for some provision to keep the cases at home. Then you would have 'real' federal court just to the extent that litigation arose in the district."

CASES IN PIERCE COURT

WILL BE LONGEST JURY SESSION IN HISTORY.

MARRIAGE LICENSE CASE UP

In This Case John J. Frey is Charged With Falsely Swearing to Girl's Age in Order to Marry Her—Brown Will Sue the City for $10,000.

Pierce, Neb., Sept. 25.—Special to The News: This court was in session here yesterday and Monday with Judge Graves of the Eighth district in the chair. Only a few cases of minor importance were disposed of and the jury trials set for next week as the jury does not come until Sept. 30.

The case of Fritz Leben vs. E. R. Sconce, which was a $5,000 damage claim for alienation of Leben's wife's affections, was settled out of court. Mrs. Leben secured a divorce from her husband at a former term of Pierce district court and this suit was the outgrowth of the divorce proceedings.

Many Jury Trials.

Jury trials already set give promise of occupying the court's attention for more than a week and being the longest time that the jury has been kept busy in the history of Pierce county litigation.

Among the more important cases to be tried is that of Leander R. Brown vs. the city of Pierce for $10,000 damage for alleged injury sustained because of defective sidewalk. This case was once tried and taken to the supreme court where it was reversed and returned for a new trial.

Another case that has caused considerable comment is the case of the state of Nebraska vs. John J. Frey. This is the case wherein the parents of a Miss Cottrell file complaint against John J. Frey for falsely swearing as to the age of Miss Cottrell and himself, whereby he procured a marriage license and was afterwards married to Miss Cottrell.

Cases of the Henkin Mercantile Co. vs. various insurance companies will all go over the term. These cases are the result of the big fire in Plainview, Neb., January, in 1907.

FIRST LIGHT FROST ARRIVES

Temperature Drops to 33—Frost Not Severe Enough to Kill.

The first light frost of autumn gave silver tips to cornfields around Norfolk early Wednesday morning. But it was not a killing frost. The mercury got down to thirty-three. An area of exceedingly high pressure—the barometer going up to 30.08—arrived from the northwest and made this territory the chilliest place on the map during the night.

HOME FROM MASONIC MEETING

braska. The success of the celebration was particularly gratifying to Past Grand Master C. E. Burnham, who not only was at the head of the executive committee in charge of this important Masonic event but was called on to preside over the afternoon and evening program at the Auditorium as a result of George H. Trimmel, master of ceremonies, being called from Omaha. Mr. Burnham delivered the opening address at the Auditorium in the afternoon. It was estimated that over 3,500 Masons were present from outside of Omaha. Norfolk was represented in Omaha by Past Grand Master and Mrs. C. E. Burnham, by Past Grand Master S. W. Hayes, the oldest Mason in Nebraska, and by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Viele, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Dean, George Burton and L. C. Mittelstadt.
