

IN JAIL FOR SWEARING

ANTI-PROFANITY CRUSADE BEGUN IN NORFOLK.

COSTS LESS TO COUNT FOUR

A Section Man From Winside Swore at a Negro in Norfolk and Spent the Night in Jail For His Offense. Last Week a Swearer Was Fined.

If you want to swear in Norfolk—don't. At least not out loud. Count four instead. It's less expensive.

There is a "ban" against swearing in Norfolk. Men are arrested for it.

If you have to relieve your feelings go out and kick a telephone post but don't swear.

Last week a Norfolk man was fined $10 for swearing at a policeman. Yesterday a man from Winside was thrown into the city jail for swearing at a negro.

Chief Flynn is a democrat but his anti-swearing crusade hasn't any color line.

The man from Winside said he came from the section. He gave the name of John Welling. He didn't claim any southern connections but when he steered up Norfolk avenue bearing something of a "load" and encountered a local colored man he became profane.

The man's words were reported to the chief and a night in the city jail for the swearer resulted.

The man who swore had companions in jail and two of the quartet who spent the night in the city jail were said to be father and son, bound from Verdigre to North Platte.

PROFANITY GIVEN A REBUKE

New Jersey Recorder Sentences Aged Man for Swearing at Young Girl.

Montclair, N. J., Oct. 29.—For insulting a girl who rebuked him for shooting craps in front of her home, James Foochey, fifty-eight years old, has been sentenced to ninety days in the Essex county penitentiary by Recorder Yost, who said that he intended to discourage profanity among the "young" generation here.

The democratic central committee that is managing the county campaign met in the city hall in Norfolk Monday afternoon. Campaign matters were discussed and a decision reached not to protest against the decision ruling out nominations resulting from names "written in" on the primary ballots.

J. F. Flynn, chairman of the committee, presided.

Fremont Tribune: The Northwestern's new motor car is out of commission temporarily, and this morning a steam locomotive pulling one car went down the line to York for the daily trip.

The six-cylinder two-hundred horse-power gasoline engine in the new self-propelling car had been balky for three or four days, and was not giving the best of satisfaction. It was said to be "missing on two cylinders." So it was sent to Omaha for repairs in the Union Pacific's garage.

Neligh Leader: Two cases were before the county judge Wednesday from Elgin, both of them arising from a daughter of Willis McBride being injured by a merry-go-round. One was a replevin case, and judgment was rendered for plaintiff, McBride, on all property except the possession of the cable. The second was a damage case against the owners of the merry-go-round for injuring Jeanette McBride, and the judgment was favorable to defendant, the court holding it had no jurisdiction over the defendant.

Chairman Cornell of the republican committee of the Fifteenth judicial district calling at the republican state headquarters in Lincoln was sanguine over the prospects for republican success. "We expect to elect both Douglas and Jencks in our district," said Mr. Cornell, "because the republican party is harmonious and united. Both are able men and are well known over the district. The people want a change up there and they are going to get it. I said all I have to say in my recent statement, which was published, regarding the attacks on me personally, so there is no use to repeat it."

As a result of no nominations having been filed at the primaries for the office of county surveyor in Madison county that office is accordingly to be thrown open for a free-for-all race at the polls. No candidates for surveyor will be listed on the official ballots and the voters will have to use their lead pencils to express a choice. It is presumed that A. J. Thatch, who would have won an "all-party" nomination had names "written in" on the primary ballots been held valid, will land the office at the general election.

In Norfolk some voters will write the name of City Engineer Salmon on the election ballots.

The injunction proceedings brought by the Northwestern against the town of Clearwater to prevent the town from opening a street across its right of way will not be dropped from the court record of the Norfolk district of the federal court. A demurrer filed by Attorney J. B. Smith of Neligh on behalf of the town and argued before Judge T. C. Munger of the federal bench in Norfolk last month has been overruled and a journal entry to that effect forwarded to Norfolk. If the demurrer had been sustained the case would have been dropped from court but the injunction proceedings will now come up for regular hearing.

Gregory Times: There has been something doing in Gregory the past week in the way of securing ways and means for the construction of a city hall building. A subscription paper has been passed among the business men of the town for the sale of stock at $10 per share, and up to this time $2,000 worth of stock has been disposed of. A meeting of the stockholders will be held on Friday night of this week for the purpose of electing officers, considering steps to be taken in letting the contract and any other initiative measures of the proposition. The building, when completed, will have cost in the neighborhood of $4,000 and will be one of the finest of its kind in this part of the state. It is proposed to build it two stories high and install in the upper part a first-class opera house and assembly room for public gatherings. On the lower floor will be the city hall proper which will be divided in rooms for council chamber, fire room, hose house, etc.

SOLVES BALLOT PROBLEM

SATISFACTORY PLAN OF MADISON COUNTY CLERK.

BOTH PARTIES ARE SUITED

County Clerk Richardson Submitted the Prospective Ballot to the Democratic County Central Committee, Offer Chance to Take into Court.

Madison, Neb., Oct. 29.—From a staff correspondent: County Clerk Richardson solved the election ballot muddle to the satisfaction of all parties and without taking arbitrary action.

County Clerk Richardson announced that he would follow the ruling of the attorney general and the precedent set by the secretary of state in omitting from the election ballots the nominations secured as a result of names being "written in" on the primary ballots.

But recognizing that two views were held in the matter the county clerk notified the candidates interested of his decision and announced that the printing of the ballots would be held up to afford the candidates time to test the matter in the courts if they should so desire.

Monday the democratic central committee met in Norfolk and their decision was to abide by the action of the county clerk.

Chairman John F. Flynn of the democratic committee is quoted as saying that he appreciated the courtesy of Mr. Richardson in bringing the matter before the candidates the way he did.

These judges and clerks of election will preside over the polling places in Norfolk next week: First ward, W. H. Widaman, Edward Braasch and J. S. McClary, judges; E. R. Hayes and T. C. Cantwell, clerks; Second ward, F. G. Coryell, E. W. Uecker and C. F. Haase, judges, S. D. Robertson and August Brumand, clerks; Third ward, Anton Buchholz, Julius Degner, H. M. Roberts, judges; Alex Miller and George N. Bewls, clerks; Fourth ward, Steve Burnette, Mike Kennedy and H. H. Luke, judges; W. M. Green and Robert Eccles, clerks; outside precinct, C. P. Byerly, John Wade and John Henderson, judges, T. E. Odlorne and F. D. Krantz, clerks.

From the list of election officials announced for next week's elections Madison county has the outward aspect of a democratic county. By law each of the two leading parties is entitled to a judge and a clerk of election, the third judge going to the majority party, that is the party casting the largest number of votes in the precinct at the last general election.

As a result of the democrats having carried twelve out of the twenty-three precincts of the county at the 1906 election the minority party in Madison county still has a little bit the best of it as regards election officials.

Only one change was made in the Norfolk polling places this fall. The outside precinct's voting place has been changed so that voters in the building east of the Oxnard once occupied by the Daniel paper store. The other polling places will not be changed. The first ward voting at the city hall, the second ward at the West Side hose house, the third ward in Councilman's Buchholz's residence and the fourth ward at the Junction hose house.

The Madison high school is one of the Nebraska high schools which have been designated as normal training schools by the state department of education. Normal work is being carried at this time and an extra teacher for the work will be added on January 1. Fifteen high school students are taking the normal training work at Madison.

Next year when the Norfolk high school is housed in its new structure that school will receive the endorsement as a normal training school that is now extended to Madison. But whether Madison does or does not also receive state aid at the same time it is stated that normal training will not be dropped from the Madison course of study.

Normal training as a practical feature of high school work was credited as having made good at the recent teachers' meeting in Lincoln and Madison is well satisfied with its progress in her own school.

County Superintendent F. S. Perdue will appear on the program at a teachers' meeting at Butte on November 9.

A wedding in which the bride and groom are two well known young people connected with pioneer families of this vicinity will take place next Saturday afternoon at the Virginia ranch where Miss Grace Martin, the daughter of Joseph Martin, will be married to Mr. Harry Loonan who has recently engaged in the grain business in Iowa.

With the county jail empty Madison county hasn't a very wicked appearance.

SHADY G. ENDS SEASON.

Pronounced the Best Trotter Developed in West This Year.

The following written for the Horseman and Spirit of the Times by Perigo, concerns Shady G, a horse broker, trained and developed by John S. Kay at Neligh:

His two races at Elm Ridge, Kansas City, Mo., marked the last public appearance for the year of Shady G, the best trotter developed in the west this year. Shady G is a high class trotter of the water. He started in ten races, won seven, was second in two and third in the other, earning $3,400. He improved rapidly from week to week and won his last six starts. His record was taken at Sioux City, Iowa, in his second win of the meeting. W. P. McCreary, Ed Allen and other good judges tell me that he won the heat in a big jog and that he could have stepped in 2:08. At Kansas City last Monday he raced over a muddy track and simply tow-roped a high class field, which included Copperfield, Charm P and other mighty good ones.

Shady G is the best trotter in the west, according to my way of thinking, that is left in the 2:10 class. He will race all day and then go again the following day. I saw him make his first start of the year at Quincy, Ill., in July and trot a field of good trotters into the ground over a muddy track. In his next two engagements he ran into the Canadian gelding, Johnny, and made him step around 2:13 each time to win. Then at Wyoming he met Major K and the pair went five heats all the way from 2:15 to 2:17, and Shady G was first or second each time. Then came his six straight victories.

I fell in love with Shady G the first time I ever saw him. "I loved him more than I love my mother today," as the song has it. He is the handsomest red sorrel you ever saw in color, with a stripe in his face and three white legs. He retires for the season with the cleanest set of legs and feet a horse ever had—in fact, he is absolutely sound. Tom Cox, who has trained and driven him all his life, is entitled to a great deal of praise for his work. Shady G is owned by M. H. Griffen, White Lake, S. D.

FATHER AND SON JAGGED

PARENT AND HIS BOY SPEND A NIGHT IN JAIL TOGETHER.

FROM FARM NEAR VERDIGRE

P. A. Scharf and E. E. Scharf, Who Came to Norfolk From Verdigre Enroute to North Platte, Got Overloaded With Booze Together.

Father and son, drunk the night before, stood before the bar of justice in Norfolk police court Tuesday morning.

And they were not of the usual run of police court prisoners, either, but hard working sons of the farm who fell by the wayside in Norfolk.

P. A. Scharf and E. E. Scharf, father and son, came from their rented farm near Verdigre bound for a home-stand just out of North Platte.

Norfolk whiskey is intoxicating and father and son drank to the limit during their Monday evening stay in Norfolk. Then the law stepped in and the male representatives of the Scharf family lay down together in the city hall.

Scharf, sr., has a winning smile and the lines in his face are honest lines. "We were merely drunk," said Scharf, sr.

"And never before arrested," said Scharf, jr.

"Dollar and costs," said Judge Elseley.

Then out of each pocket came a roll of greenbacks.

Father and son each paid his own fine.

"Thirty minutes till train time," said Chief Flynn.

"We're off," said the son.

"But not a word in the paper," said the father.

SECRETLY WERE MARRIED

WALTER CHIPPS AND MISS ELMETH GRIEP WED.

MARRIAGE STILL A SECRET

Two Norfolk Young People Went to Pierce Monday and Were There Secretly Married by the County Judge. Kept From All Friends.

Cupid plays in the open and "secret" weddings will out.

Walter Chipps, a young painter of Norfolk, and Miss Elmeth Griep, whose parents have lived in Norfolk for many years, were secretly married Monday evening in Pierce. After the ceremony the young people returned to Norfolk and have behaved with so much circumspection that even the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Griep, have not suspected the wedding.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the county judge at Pierce. It was performed with great secrecy, the judge even being prevailed upon to keep the affair from the local papers.

Walter Chipps works for H. A. Haley, "Mrs. Chipps" has been employed by Mrs. N. W. Clover and is still at the Clover home. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Griep, have lived in Norfolk for many years and have made their home at the Junction.

PHYSICIANS' FEES GO UP

TOWN VISITS WILL ADVANCE FROM $1 TO $1.50.

COST OF LIVING THE CAUSE

Arguing That the Price of Commodities Has Advanced, Norfolk Physicians Have Nearly All Agreed to Advance Price of Town Visits.

It is probable that physicians' fees in Norfolk will go up within a day or two. An agreement to this effect has been signed by nearly all of the profession in the city and it is said that all will likely agree to the advance in fees. From $1, the fee for a town visit will be advanced to $1.50.

Case for the advance is assigned by the physicians to the increased cost of living. The new fees will become operative as soon as all of the profession have signed the agreement. It is pointed out that physicians' fees are, where they were twenty years ago, while the cost of commodities has generally increased. It is also pointed out that fees in all small towns are higher than in Norfolk.

WEDNESDAY WRINKLES.

Among the out-of-town visitors in town were: Aug. Calves, Pierce; P. R. Washabaugh, Bonesteele; Wilford Stanford, Henrick; G. F. West, Wayne; Ed. A. Frey, Niobrara; Olbin Olson, Bristow.

The Commercial club did not meet Tuesday morning.

On Friday, Nov. 8, and not this week, the next Elk dancing party will take place.

John D. Haskell of Wakefield, well known in Norfolk, was elected president of Wakefield's new commercial club.

Mrs. A. K. Leonard and Mrs. L. E. Wallerstedt will entertain a company of ladies Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock in Marquardt hall.

Fremont Tribune: The Northwestern put its motor car in service on the York run again this morning. It went out from Fremont on time this morning with twenty passengers.

Miss Lizzie Zastrou on the occasion of her birthday entertained the F. C. C. club. Games were played during the evening. Refreshments were served. The thirty-five guests present enjoyed the evening.

Steps are being taken to secure a new pastor for the Baptist church of Norfolk, the church pulpit having been vacant since Rev. F. W. Benjamin's departure for California. Members of the church expect to secure a new pastor during the coming month.

Plainview News: R. H. Wood went to Norfolk Saturday to meet his wife and daughter, who arrived from Goshen, New York. After visiting over Sunday in Norfolk, they arrived in our city Monday morning and will move into the John Fischer residence formerly managed by Aug. Erdman.

That Manager Stadelman of the independent telephone company, who saved $3,500 by delaying his purchase of copper wire cable until after the extreme break in the price of copper bought at just the right moment, is attested by the upward movement of that metal. One of the recent developments has been a sharp advance in the price of copper over the price of ten days ago, the United Metals Selling company reporting a raise of over a cent from the former price of 12 1/2 cents a pound.

The farmers in the vicinity of Battle Creek are the latest to have organized a branch of the anti-horse thief association. The organization of the Battle Creek branch was effected by George Losey, chief captain of the north Nebraska association. These officers were present at Battle Creek: E. J. Brink, president; John Ridekroh, vice-president; Fred Volk, secretary; Herman Hogrefe, treasurer; Frank Massman, captain. The Battle Creek anti-horse thief society starts out with a membership of thirty.

Creighton News: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Peterson came up from Norfolk Tuesday and are packing household goods preparatory to shipping to Norfolk to work where they will reside in the future. Mr. Peterson has accepted the position of manager of the big laundry there at a remunerative salary. They regret to leave Creighton and their numerous friends and neighbors regret to have them go. They are very fine people and we certainly wish them the best in their home. Johnson Claggett will occupy their residence.

Stanton Picket: A few years ago the farmers and others were told that apples could not be grown in Stanton county, that the trees would winter kill and that the seasons were too cold. However, the experiment of growing fruit trees was tried and now Stanton county is raising as good a quality of apples as can be found in Iowa or any other western state. The first apples ever shipped out of Stanton county went by rail last week. There were two carloads, both of which went to Sioux City, having been taken in by buyers of that town. One load of apples came from the Canfield place and the most of the others from the farm of Andrew Spence. The quality was excellent, the varieties consisting of winter fruit.

The vicinity of Wood Lake is the Mecca of north Nebraska hunters just now, according to George D. Butterfield, who returned to Norfolk Tuesday from a western trip to purchase feeding cattle for the firm of W. H. Butterfield & Son. Mr. Butterfield encountered hunters everywhere and they all seemed to be bagging their share of ducks. The winter flight not having set in the native duck of necessity receives the full attention of the hunters. South winds have tended to make this year's flight a late one. Some 300 head of heavy steers were purchased by Mr. Butterfield in western Nebraska. The cattle were shipped through Norfolk to the Butterfield ranch at Magnet, where they will be fattened for market during the coming year.

Humphrey Democrat: Miss Ida Reiland of this place and Wm. Barr of Norfolk were united in marriage in St. Francis church in Humphrey Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, Father Kurzer officiating. The bridesmaids were Miss Elenora Schueth and Miss Annie Scharwarth and the groomsmen were Carl Smith and R. F. Reiland. After the ceremony a reception was accorded the young people at the home of the bride's parents at which only the relatives and the close friends of the bride and groom were present. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reiland of this place, and the groom is a railroad man on the Northwestern with headquarters at Norfolk, where they will make their home. The young couple left Tuesday evening for their new home. The Democrat joins in extending congratulations.

Miss Ruth Daniels of Omaha, who is visiting with Norfolk friends, has just returned from a hunting trip with a party of friends south of the Yellowstone park, near the famous "Jackson's Hole" country. Miss Daniels was successful on the hunt in shooting a large elk, the first one to be secured by the party. The animal's head, a splendid specimen, has been received in Norfolk and will be mounted by Sessions & Bell. The teeth are pronounced by old hunters as unusually handsome. Every member of the party secured one elk—all the law allows, but this was the largest. This elk was one of a small herd. He was shot three times, the first time in the neck and the second time in the shoulder. That part of the country is said to contain many elk and a number of bear. Miss Daniels rode 250 miles horseback and had an ideal outing.

Neligh Leader: Hans Zimmer of this city recently bought a cornhusking machine to be placed on his big farm southwest of Neligh. He had been investigating the matter for two or three years, and informed the company when they had perfected the machine so they could guarantee it to work, to send him one. They wrote him awhile ago that they were now ready to do this, and one was immediately ordered, soon after set up and was to be tried Wednesday. It is expected to gather eight acres per day, but if it will husk five it will satisfy Mr. Zimmer. The machine was set up with a guarantee that if it failed to work to the entire satisfaction of the purchaser it should be returned without charge for freight or the expenses of the expert. The machine is described as follows by an exchange: Five horses are driven on the harvester and a single row is husked at a time. Drag hooks bring all down corn into the clutches of the machine, so that whether the corn is flat or standing the ears are husked. An elevator deposits the husked corn in an accompanying wagon. From eight to twelve acres a day can be taken out. At this rate a big field can be quickly gathered, and the owner of the machine can then do work for other farmers. It appears that the husking problem has been successfully solved by the ingenious machine. They cost $350.

THINGS BOOM AT GREGORY

NOW UNDERGOING MOST RAPID GROWTH IN HISTORY.

MANY NEW HOUSES GOING UP

Business Men of That Thrifty City Have Formed a Stock Company With Which to Build a City Hall. Waterworks System Going in.

Gregory, S. D., Oct. 29.—Gregory is now undergoing the most rapid growth of its history. Five new dwelling houses to cost from $1,200 to $3,000 were started the past week. There have been an average of about four or five new residences started each week during the past ninety days. There are also a number of large new business houses under way. The business men of Gregory have formed a stock company for the purpose of building a city hall. Over $2,000 was subscribed in twenty-four hours. It is proposed to erect a two-story building to cost about $5,000.

The pipes for the mains of Gregory's new waterworks system have arrived and are being distributed about town. The mains will consist of a large trunk main, about one mile long, extending along Main street from the massive concrete reservoir on the Gregory heights in North Gregory to the C. & N. W. railway grounds in the south part of the city, together with branches extending through the east and west sections of the city. The gravity system of pressure will be used and the system will have the best pressure and will be on the whole the most complete and effective of any city in southern South Dakota.

FARMERS HAVE MUCH CASH

A THOUSAND DOLLAR BILL DEPOSITED AT NELIGH.

REJOICE IN WHOPPER CROP

Depositing $100 Bills is a Common-place Incident at Neligh, and One Farmer Has Placed a $1,000 Gold Certificate in Atlas Bank.

Neligh, Neb., Oct. 30.—Special to The News: Not only are the farmers of Antelope county rejoicing over the "whopper" crop this year, but a number have bank accounts in this city that would certainly startle the people of this part of Nebraska if their deposits could be seen.

It seems merely a matter of course to deposit $100 bills with a large number, but only one so far has had the pleasure of depositing a $1,000 gold certificate. This incident occurred this week and was deposited by a prosperous farmer of near Neligh at the Atlas bank.

GREAT BARGAIN.

NORFOLK ADJUSTS ITSELF.

Meets New Condition Without Inconvenience—Endorse Action.

Norfolk people have readily adapted themselves to the cashier's check basis for transacting business and the course of the local banks has been very unannouncedly endorsed as the wise measure at this time, in view of the financial situation in New York and the action of Chicago and other banks in adopting the clearing house certificate plan. No particular inconvenience has been caused by the new system and the
