

NEW BUILDING UNFINISHED

JANUARY 15 WAS THE DATE ORIGINALLY FIXED.

BUT IT WILL BE MANY WEEKS

Better Progress Has Been Made Lately and the Board is Encouraged to Believe that the Building Will Be Complete By April.

By the provision of the contract the new high school building was to have been completed today and ready to be turned over to the board of education for use when the second semester of the school year begins next Monday. But January 15, the contract date for completion, finds the building many weeks from being finished.

This much is to be said, however: recent progress on the building has been very satisfactory. The roof is virtually on. The boilers are about set and the pipes are being placed. Heat can be turned on the building in about two weeks. A large amount of lathing has been done. Most of the delay from now on will be connected with the plastering.

Teachers over north Nebraska are watching the new high school building with interest as it is hoped that many of the sessions of the north Nebraska association will be held in the new building if it is finished by April.

SCHOOL BEGINS NEW SEMESTER.

Beginning Pupils May Enter Public Schools Next Monday.

Pupils may enter the public schools of Norfolk on next Monday. A requirement exists in Norfolk that children starting to school for the first time must enter on their work the first part of the semester. A new semester starts Monday and during that week beginners will be received in the preliminary classes at the Grant, Lincoln, Washington and Edgewater schools.

High School Notes.

Last week at the high school was spent in reviews preparatory to the semester examinations which take place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Pupils who rank over ninety per cent in department are excused from all examinations in studies in which they have secured grades better than ninety per cent. At one time the rule existed that for every five points that a pupil fell below the ninety per cent mark in department the pupil had to take one of the examinations from which he would have been otherwise exempt.

The next class party of the senior class will be at the home of Ralph Luikart. On Friday night the class was very pleasantly entertained by Miss Edna Loucks at a leap year party. Refreshments were served during the evening in the class colors, pink and green. This party was the fifth of the series.

Miss Hattie Adams, a junior, has returned to school.

A. Morrison, superintendent of construction of the new high school building, recently told one of the senior boys that the earliest date they could hope for the completion of the building at the present rate of progress was July. Members of the senior class are very anxious to get into the new building before they leave the high school.

CENTERING ON LIBRARY SITE

The People of Norfolk Generally Desire Old Gercke Corner.

Public sentiment among Norfolk people is rapidly centering upon the old Gercke or Howe Egbert property, directly south across the street from the postoffice, as the ideal site for the new $10,000 Carnegie library building which is to be erected here.

It is pointed out on all sides that the postoffice is the central point of the town—the point at which people most congregate. Therefore, it is further urged, the library located directly across the street from the postoffice would afford the greatest benefit to the greatest number of people.

It is argued that people going for their mail could drop conveniently into the library to enjoy its advantages. The site which will bring the greatest use of the library to the greatest number of Norfolk people is the site that is needed. The matter of a few dollars one way or another is insignificant when the future is taken into consideration.

The city is to spend $1,000 per year in maintaining the library, and naturally the people want the greatest good from their money.

If the library board would select one site upon which to solicit subscriptions, rather than two, the matter of raising funds for the purchase of the site would be materially simplified. With two in the field, a great deal of confusion is bound to arise to more or less complicate the matter.

ANOTHER SITE IS OFFERED.

Corner East of Postoffice Offered for $2,300.

Another site has been offered to the library board. This is a corner one block east of the postoffice building, 65x176 feet, and it is offered by J. W. Ransom for $2,300. The lot is No. 1, block 4, Mathewson's addition to Norfolk. On the lot stands a sixteen-room house equipped with city water, gas and surrounded by cement walks. "I consider this site fully equal to the site on Fifth street, and it is offered for less money," said Mr. Ransom. "If it is cheapness that is wanted, this is the site."

Mr. Ransom also said that he realizes, as does everybody, that the logical and ideal site—the only real site—is the lot directly south across the street from the postoffice.

SIXTY-SIX LETTERS IN NAME

A Sister of Geo. W. Losey Goes the Clinton Man Three Better.

The Clinton man with sixty-two letters in his name has been beaten. A sister of ex-Sheriff George W. Losey of Battle Creek has sixty-six letters in her name.

T. A. T. W. S. E. T. K. O. H. Lindoff of Clinton, Ia., whose full name reads "Through Trials and Tribulations We Shall Enter the Kingdom of Heaven," claimed the longest given name in the United States.

The Lindoff claim is disputed by ex-Sheriff Losey in favor of his sister, now Mrs. Martha Virginia Beveline Elizabeth Amanda Caroline Sarah Ann Rosaline Losey Beckley of Pueblo, Colo.

Mr. Losey writes to The News from Battle Creek: "Editor News: I have just read the article in The News of this date headed 'Sixty-two Letters in Name.' Mr. Lindoff of Clinton, Ia., will have to guess again before he can claim the longest name even in Iowa as my only sister, who was born in Davies county, Iowa, forty years ago, can I think, give him several better so far as letters are concerned.

"I herein hand you her name in full, sixty-six letters, beginning with Martha Virginia Beveline Elizabeth Amanda Caroline Sarah Ann Rosaline Losey and now Beckley by Marriage. 'My sister now resides in Pueblo, Colo. 'Now this is no joke but her actual name. I could explain how she came to get all those names but refrain at this time from doing so. 'I am respectfully, Geo. W. Losey."

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.

We'd rather be imposed on a little than spend all our time in fighting for rights that may not be rights.

Some people have an idea that they are exalted above others because they sing hymns with "real feelings."

Everybody is expected to marry once, and there is not much talk when you marry the first time but people look wise when you marry the second time, and roar when you marry the third time.

When some men lose money it is not their misfortune; it is the misfortune of those from whom they borrow it.

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

ELECTIONS IN NORFOLK BANKS HELD ON TUESDAY.

VERY FEW CHANGES ARE MADE

The Citizens National Bank Increases Its Board of Directors From Eight to Nine—One Change in Directorate of Nebraska National.

Few changes were recorded Tuesday in the directorates and in the officers of the Norfolk national banks. During the day the annual stockholders' meetings were held in each of the banks, followed by the annual meetings of the directors.

In the Citizens National bank election E. M. Huntington was added to the board of directors, increasing the number of directors from eight to nine. In the list of Nebraska National bank directors Burt Mapes replaces F. A. Blakeman. At the directors' meeting of the Norfolk National bank Carl Wilde and Fritz Asmus were chosen as assistant cashiers.

The stockholders of the Citizens National bank elected the following board of nine directors: George W. Schwenk, L. A. Rothe, E. M. Huntington, P. J. Stafford, John Welsh, L. Sessions, Obed Raasch, J. E. Haase and James F. Toy of Sioux City. The directors then met and re-elected the old officers: James F. Toy, president; L. A. Rothe, vice president; J. E. Haase, cashier; W. J. Stafford, assistant cashier.

The fourth annual stockholders' meeting of the Nebraska National bank chose the seven directors: Isaac Powers, M. Benedict of Hoskins, A. H. Kiesau, Burt Mapes, W. A. Witzigman, C. A. Johnson of Fairfax, S. D.; and G. D. Butterfield. The board of directors made no change in the list of officers: G. D. Butterfield, president; C. A. Johnson, vice president; W. A. Witzigman, vice president; W. P. Logan, cashier; P. L. Zuelow, assistant cashier.

No changes were made in the board of directors of the Norfolk National bank, the old board being returned: F. P. Hanlon of Omaha, Dr. A. Bear, A. Degner, N. A. Rainbolt, F. J. Hale of Atkinson, C. E. Burham, S. S. Cotton, H. E. Hardy and William Zutz of Hoskins. In electing officers the directors advanced Carl Wilde and Fritz Asmus to the position of assistant cashiers, the office of assistant cashier having been vacant since W. M. Rainbolt left the bank. The full list of officers of the Norfolk National bank is: C. E. Burham, president; Dr. A. Bear, vice president; E. W. Zutz, vice president; L. P. Pasewalk, cashier; Carl Wilde, assistant cashier; Fritz Asmus, assistant cashier.

At the meeting of the directors of the Citizens National bank a four per cent semi-annual dividend was voted and the balance remaining from the six months' profits carried to the undivided profit account. Reports to the directors showed that the bank had had a very prosperous six months. The dividend meetings of the other two banks were held earlier in the month.

"IN GOD WE TRUST."

The Motto Which Produced First Love for the New Country.

The motto "In God We Trust," placed on an American coin may as President Roosevelt says be dangerously close to sacrilege and without warrant in law but Henry Klossner when he came to America from across the seas forty-two years ago, found a message in the old motto. It told him that there was a common God, whose people spread across the sea, and from that motto on a coin came his first feeling of love for the new land.

Henry Klossner now is a prosperous farmer living near Bloomfield. He still owns a farm north of Prospect hill, where he formerly lived. The dropping of the coin motto recently brought old memories to his mind and he wrote this interesting letter to his friend, L. M. Gaylord: "Your kind letter received and I am glad that you are better, and around again. We are all well and today I think that I will tell you a little of my own story.

"It was forty-two years ago today that I landed in New York. I left Bremen, Germany, the fourteenth of October, 1865, on an old sail ship, Coriolan and got to New York on January 13, 1866. But I did not arrive on the same ship as we were shipwrecked. We had a fearful storm and after six weeks voyage we had to return to Queenstown, where we waited a week for a steamship from Liverpool. We boarded the second ship on Christmas morning and arrived safe in New York on Saturday, January 13, 1866.

"Here I want to say that the first $5 I saw was given to me by my sister's little five year old daughter. I asked my sister what the little inscription on the coin meant. She said 'Wir Vertraun in Goot,' or 'In God We Trust.' That made a deep impression on me, that after such a fearful trip I had arrived in a new land where they also believed in God. It made me feel more to love the new land.

"Now I see last week in the Norfolk Daily News that the beautiful motto 'In God We Trust,' is omitted from the new coins. It is something we can not be proud of.

"Yours very truly, 'Henry Klossner.'"

ANNUAL FIREMEN'S CONVENTION

Big Delegation Goes to Nebraska City Next Week.

Next Tuesday morning a big delegation of Norfolk firemen will leave over the Northwestern to represent the companies of this city at the annual firemen's convention in Nebraska City. Some sentiment has existed favorably to bringing the next convention to Norfolk but most of the firemen seem of the opinion that the local treasury just now is not in condition to bear the heavy expenses of an entertainment such as Norfolk would want to furnish. The following firemen will probably be among those who go to Nebraska City: Queen City hose company: H. W. Winter, Henry Klug, William Klug, H. Paul, Max Schmeidenberg, Ed Benning, James Reynolds; West Side hose company: Millard Green, Ray Hayes, Will McCune, John Krantz, J. W. Napper and Frank Flynn; Mast hose company: R. McFarland, Late Kennerson, L. Bruce, Warren Rouse and Jess Beemer; Pioneer hook and ladder company: Fred Hellerman, V. A. Nenow, Phillip Fuessler, C. H. Pilger and Ed Bruggeman.

HEIRESS TO A FORTUNE

MAY BECOME MISTRESS OF AN ENGLISH ESTATE.

STORY OF A NORFOLK WOMAN

Edna Ingham Has But to Establish Her Identity to Share in the Fortune of Her Grand Father, John Ingham, Gentleman.

Miss Nellie Ingham, who has been known in Norfolk as "Edna Ingham," may become the mistress of a noble English estate. Miss Ingham has made her home in Norfolk for about four years.

Edna Ingham is heiress to a share in a fortune of $100,000 in England. She has commenced an action in the district court at Sioux City to establish her identity.

In 1885 John Ingham, an Englishman, came to Sioux City with a child about two years old. He claimed to be in straightened circumstances and a home for his infant daughter was found with Louis Paggar, a farmer living near Sioux City. The father remained in Sioux City for a short time working in the St. Elmo hotel, leaving little information about his little daughter, Nellie. From the little information that was elicited the man gave the impression that the child's mother had died in England.

Miss Ingham lived with the Paggars until she was about eighteen years of age. She left shortly afterwards to make her own living. She located at Bancroft and is said to have gone under the name of Paggar.

A short time ago Judge A. Van Waganen of Sioux City received a letter from a firm of solicitors in Liverpool, Eng., asking him to advertise for the daughter of John Ingham, Jr., of Fullwood, Lancashire, England. Judge Van Waganen took up the search with the result that he located Miss Ingham in Norfolk.

After locating the probable heiress a letter was received from a Mrs. Somers, who with her husband is now running an automobile roadhouse a short distance out of London, and she stated that she was the former wife of Ingham and mother of the girl. It developed that Ingham, Jr., had borrowed quite heavily from the trustees of the estate of his father and the $20,000 had diminished considerably by reason of the loans.

Miss Ingham is said to have in her possession a photograph taken when she was a child, and this will be one of the important factors in proving her identity. The witnesses who will be summoned in the case will be asked to identify the photograph as that of Miss Ingham. They are Henry Metz, Joseph Paggar, Julia Fachman and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Waddington. A list of questions has been prepared that will be propounded to them by Fred W. Sargent, who has been appointed special examiner by the court. The date of the hearing has not yet been set.

Little definite concerning the English connections is of course known at this time. The letter from the English solicitors referred to the estate "of John Ingham, gentleman, of Fullwood in Fullwood county in Lancashire, England." After Miss Ingham's father left Sioux City word was received that he had been working on a railroad in the west and later news came of his death.

Miss Ingham has been in Sioux City in connection with the court action brought. She left Sioux City for Omaha and will return to Norfolk Friday evening.

Edna Ingham is a young woman of twenty-three, tall, slender and of rather striking appearance. She came to Norfolk about four years ago. For two years her attorneys have been working on the clue to her English claims.

Edna Ingham was one of the witnesses to the murder of Frank Jarner on May 1, 1907.

It is also something of a coincidence that the granddaughter of "John Ingham, gentleman," was one of the witnesses to the double Nethaway tragedy a few weeks ago when Valney Nethaway shot his wife in a crowded coach. Miss Ingham was one of the passengers.

"Farmer" Burns was announced for a wrestling match at West Point for Thursday evening, agreeing to throw "Rastus" Thomson of Wahoo three times in an hour of wrestling. Jack O'Leary of Norfolk arranged to go to West Point Thursday to challenge Thomson for a match.

FREE LUNCH FOR EXCHANGE

TRADE PROMOTERS AGITATE NEW PLAN FOR NEXT EVENT.

BUSINESS MEN TO CONTRIBUTE

Trade Promoters Are Disposed to Stand Treat to the Farmers Who Attend the Next Exchange in Norfolk—Donations Are Solicited.

A proposition for Norfolk to furnish a free lunch for all "exchange day" visitors on the occasion of the next exchange day is being discussed among members of the trade promoters. So far sentiment has been found to encourage the suggestion that Norfolk entertain its farmer friends at lunch when they come to Norfolk for exchange day on February 4.

A number of the leading business men have offered to make liberal donations in the way of furnishing supplies for the proposed lunch. A hurried canvass of part of the business men makes it appear that the lunch proposition will have sufficient support.

All business men who are willing to give provisions towards the exchange day lunch will inform H. W. Winter, C. E. Hartford or J. D. Sturgeon and the offer will be noted and the supplies called for the day before exchange day.

In addition to donations of commodities, cash subscriptions will be received. In connection with the lunch the committee will have to have from $10 to $50. Part of this money will go towards providing roast beef for the town's guests. A statement of receipts and expenditures will be made after exchange day.

one of the delegates at large to represent Nebraska at the Missouri River Navigation congress at Sioux City, Ia., on January 22-23. Mr. Logan's appointment comes from Governor Sheldon. Norfolk will be well represented at this important congress as Mayor Durland has already appointed the five delegates allotted to Norfolk.

Len Leiger, charged in the Pierce county courts with assaulting Lon Snyder, a McLean farmer, was bound over to the district court under $2,500 bond on the assault charge, which charges assault with intent to murder. On the robbery charge, connected with the same alleged offense Leiger was bound over under $1,500 bond.

Congressman Kinkaid has been notified of the following pension allowances: Edward S. Weed of Bailey, William H. Thompson of Ord, Rasmus Scrimler of Lillian, Thomas J. Twenty-two hundred acres are involved in the deal. If the settlers pay the price set the state will receive about $53,000.

The Stanton county complaint charging Richard Boldt with discharging a shot gun at Henry and Paul Donner has been dismissed. Boldt, who is a prominent farmer living on the Stanton county line, admitted that he had had trouble with the Donner boys, but claimed that he shot in the air and that his only motive was to hasten the flight of the Donners. All of the parties concerned live on the Stanton county line a few miles from Norfolk. The complaint was filed last Friday immediately after the alleged shooting.

Captain Fisher of Chadron notified Attorney General Thompson that he would accept the evidence now secured in his case as a basis for the proceedings instituted against him for disbarment. When the supreme court overruled Capt. Fisher's motion to dismiss the case against him it directed the attorney general to prepare for a formal suit against Capt. Fisher for disbarment. It was left to the discretion of the defendant whether the evidence now secured be used or whether witnesses should again be summoned. Capt. Fisher's action will probably save considerable time. The hearing of the case had been postponed until February 6.

Charging that John Thamsen, a Norfolk shoemaker, was the father of her unborn child and that he had failed to keep his promises of marriage, Miss Hannah Perry came up from Madison Wednesday to swear out a warrant against Thamsen. The two left for Madison during the day with the intention of being married during the afternoon. Miss Perry is a girl of about nineteen years and has been in America about six months. Thamsen also came from Germany but has been in America about a year.
