

BOY'S NOSE IS BROKEN

HEAD BADLY BRUISED IN HAY PRESS ACCIDENT.

ARNOLD THIESSEN OF LYNCH

Controversy With Bally Hay Press and the Machine Was Not the Worst for the Difference—Wounds Are Not Serious But Uncomfortable.

Lynch, Neb., Jan. 22.—Special to The News: Arnold Thiesen had his nose broken and the back of his head badly bruised and cut up yesterday evening in a hay press. The machine did not work properly and was stopped and Mr. Thiesen crawled under the machine to find the trouble. While working a spring broke, the loose end striking the back of his head near the base of his brain and jamming his face into the framework, breaking his nose and jamming his face badly. At first it was thought that he was badly hurt at the back of his head but the doctor found only a slight scalp wound there. However, the lad will be laid up some time.

NORFOLK'S KIND OF A SHOW

A Musical Comedy, With Plenty of Girls, Fun and Music.

Laughter, smiles, tears, show-girls, comedians, tuneful musical, dramatic situations, elaborate costuming and scenic displays, are all promised Norfolk theatre-goers when Broadway's favorite comic opera star, Grace Cameron, makes her appearance in C. H. Kerr's latest, biggest and best success, "Little Dollie Dimples," which is now in its second year, at the Auditorium, Saturday night.

This piece cannot be termed a musical comedy, nor is it hardly after the style of the old fashioned comic opera, but is classed more in the line of a musical drama. Miss Cameron, whose voice is that of the lyric or coloratura as well as a dramatic soprano, will be heard to great advantage in the various solos and finales, which are far better, musically speaking, than the average musical comedy or comic opera affords. Yet she appears in her little baby impersonations which have made her famous in the vaudeville halls of all Europe and America. Her part was fitted to Miss Cameron, taken from the most notable success she has achieved, as Dollie Dimples in "Piff Paff Puff," at the Casino theatre in New York, and to say that this part is the best that Miss Cameron has ever had an opportunity to appear in, is but putting it mildly. There are show girls galore, pony ballets, chappie choruses, and all that sort of thing which goes to make up the average musical comedy performance; but over and above this, there is one of the most notable casts that has ever appeared in an entertainment of this kind. Prominent among the comedians of the company is Al Lawrence, the celebrated mimic, "the man of a hundred faces." His delightful impersonation of the simple and ignorant country boy, who comes to the city and accepts a position in a stylish family, attempting to pose as an English butler, leads up to many execrably funny complications; and his attempt to master the English accent affords no end of amusement. Mr. Will Phillips assumes the role of a philandering lawyer who is mercenary in the extreme, and he is willing to do most anything for money; but when he has to make love to old Aunt Matilda Dunn, the pennurious but wealthy old New England spinster, his desire for money almost forsakes him at times. Still, his attempts to win the old woman's money without her caresses are funny in the extreme. Speaking of the character of Matilda Dunn, Miss Florence Langdon Tempest, who made such a distinct hit in the production of "Sam Houston," at the Garden Theatre in New York City, also in the character role with Thomas W. Ross in "Checkers," is originating the unique comedy character, and one that stands out prominently in the production. Mr. Louis London, the well known young baritone, who has gained enviable notoriety on the other heart breaker, Miss Daisy King assumes the role of Maymo Green, an adventuress, and her clear soprano is heard to good advantage in the musical numbers given to this role.

Besides a large chorus, both male and female, a bevy of pretty show girls, and a charming pony-ballet, numerous extra added features are carried by this attraction, including the great musical act of the Criterion Musical Four, which made such a terrific hit in the New York Roof Garden in the past summer.

Miss Phoebe and Jessie Cardowise present an elaborate electrical dancing novelty with full chorus; Miss Olaf Faber appears in her celebrated violin specialty and the Elm City male quartette render many pleasing vocal selections. This attraction is one of the gala bookings of the season and one of the most important events. The seat sale will go on at The News business office Friday morning. There is every indication that the Auditorium Saturday night will be packed with one of the largest audiences of the season.

Norfolk always did like a musical comedy, filled with catchy songs and funny people. Norfolk likes to laugh at a show, and forget its troubles. That's why Norfolk likes the Prince of Pilsen, the Isle of Spice and the Mayor of Tokio. That, too, is why Norfolk will like Little Dollie Dimples Saturday night.

Miss Cameron is one Nebraska girl who has achieved theatrical distinction in New York and London. She has already earned her reputation and she will delight Norfolk. Al Lawrence, one of the country's best mimics and fun-makers, will also bring down the house.

This engagement will be one of the events of the season in Norfolk and many out of town people are expected for the attraction. Seats are now being reserved by mail.

BECOMES A NATIONAL BANK.

The Bank of Ainsworth Becomes the National Bank of Ainsworth.

Ainsworth, Neb., Jan. 21.—Special to The News: The Bank of Ainsworth became the National Bank of Ainsworth at 12:15 Saturday afternoon. This is one of the strongest and most substantial banks in the upper Elk-horn valley. It has a capital of $50,000 and deposits as shown by the last quarterly statement of $107,951.59. Hon. R. S. Risling is president, J. M. Hanna is vice president and C. A. Barnes cashier.

Wm. Coryell has sold his extensive general merchandise business at Johnston, this county, to A. G. Carpenter. Mr. Coryell will go to the coast.

LID IS ON IN GREGORY.

Gambling Devices Have Been Removed From Saloons.

Gregory, S. D., Jan. 20.—Special to The News: The "lid" is now on in Gregory. It seems to be clamped down good and tight. All gambling devices have been removed from the saloons and the saloon men are complying strictly with the law. Like other new towns Gregory has had considerable gambling in the past. However, strict control has always been exercised and the saloons have never been allowed to become disorderly. For this reason the town has always borne a good reputation.

The present action was due to a recognition of the strong sentiment against open gambling which has been gaining ground among the people of Gregory and also, in no small measure, to the fact that it is now definitely settled that Gregory is to be the principal registration point for the coming Tripp county opening and the authorities here are determined to stamp out all the sources of disorder which the experiences of other towns have demonstrated in the past to be detrimental to the successful maintenance of good order among the vast crowds of people who are sure to be attracted by a great land opening.

West Point News.

West Point, Neb., Jan. 21.—Special to The News: The new directorate of the West Point Electric Light and Power company is as follows: W. A. Black, William Stuefer, John Meier, J. T. Baumann and Henry Hunker. The officers are: President, W. A. Black; vice president, John Meier; secretary, J. T. Baumann.

The dates for the West Point Farmers institute have been definitely set for Tuesday and Wednesday, February 25 and 26. The stockholders of the West Point Brewing association have elected the following seven directors: M. E. Kerl, F. Koch, J. T. Baumann, William Stuefer, John Meier, Alex Chambers, A. Derr. The officers are: president, F. Koch; vice president, John Meier; secretary and manager, M. E. Kerl; treasurer, J. T. Baumann.

PERILS OF A GREAT CITY.

Big Crowd Greeted the Neligh Dramatic Company's Play. Neligh, Neb., Jan. 21.—Special to The News: The presentation of "Perils of a Great City" at the auditorium last Saturday evening by the Neligh Dramatic company, was greeted by a crowded house—as was announced by Manager Jenkins, "a record-breaker since the opening of the auditorium."

Many were the surprises expressed by Neligh theatre goers in the remarkable ability of the local talent that took part in the cast. Over $100 was realized, which will go to the I. O. O. F. lodge of this city. It is gathered from good authority that the play may be presented to the people of Norfolk in the near future.

BOOTH INSULTS FLAG?

Volunteers Officer Accuses Head of the Salvation Army.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 22.—Gen. William Booth, commander of the Salvation army, today was accused of having spat on the American flag and expressed his contempt of it during his recent visit to the United States.

The accuser, J. C. Dunster, a major in the Volunteers of America, the rival organization commanded by Gen. Ballington Booth, son of the old leader of the Salvationists, says he has a sworn statement made by the younger commander accusing his father of the insult to America's banner.

The charge against the venerable leader of the older branch of slum workers was only one of a long string of accusations and counter accusations which have been hurled back and forth between the local branches of the two armies since Christmas.

RAY KENNARD ARRESTED

EX-NORTHWESTERN BRAKEMAN TAKEN OFF A TRAIN.

TO ANSWER FORGERY CHARGE

Kennard Was Bound For Plainview When Taken Off the Dallas Train by Chief of Police Flynn—Was Implicated in Lensef Confession.

Bound for Plainview, Raymond R. Kennard, an ex-brakeman recently in the service of the Northwestern, was arrested on the Bonesteel train Monday afternoon on a warrant issued from Justice Lambert's court charging Kennard with forgery. The arrest was made by Chief of Police Flynn.

Kennard's arrest follows the arrest of young Chris Lensef, the Northwestern brakeman arrested last week on the charge of attempting to pass a forged Northwestern pay check. Lensef in his confession implicated Kennard, accusing him of having obtained the pay checks issued to Garfield Woodbury and with having forged Woodbury's name to the checks. The pay checks passed through Lensef's hands in the railroad mail.

The warrant against Kennard was issued from the justice court last week. The arrest was made by Chief Flynn Monday afternoon on a tip from the Junction. The chief got his man as the train was pulling out of the uptown depot. Kennard said that he was in Beemer Sunday night and had a ticket for Plainview, said to be his home.

Chief Flynn not only arrested Kennard but took a companion of Kennard's, Burt Shumaker, from the train, holding the latter on suspicion.

Kennard denied any knowledge of the forgery, claiming to Chief Flynn to have left Norfolk on December 2.

County Attorney Jack Koenigstein was in Battle Creek Monday afternoon.

RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM.

Policy of the New Republican Board of Cuming County.

West Point, Neb., Jan. 20.—Special to The News: The policy of the new republican board of supervisors of Cuming county has been announced as one of retrenchment and reform. While no charge of extravagance can or has been made against the outgoing board, it is realized that the cost of running the county has materially increased in recent years. The first step taken in this direction was in cutting down the amounts allowed to county officers for clerical help. The treasurer's application for a clerk at $600 per annum was rejected and $200 allowed for clerk hire. The deputy treasurer will receive $700. In the county clerk's office a deputy at $700 has been allowed but instead of a recorder at $600, clerk hire to the amount of $250 was deemed sufficient. Sheriff and superintendent's salaries were fixed at $1,200.

Teachers' meetings are scheduled to take place in Cuming county as follows: Bancroft, Jan. 25; Beemer, Feb. 1; Wisner, Feb. 8, and at West Point on Feb. 15. The third lesson of the state reading circle work will be the subject of study and discussion at all the meetings.

Two of the victims of the Boyer-ton theater tragedy were the niece and nephew of Landlord J. A. Graver, of the Green Tree hotel at West Point. The unfortunates were aged 19 and 23 respectively, and were the children of A. P. Graver, a resident of Boyer-ton.

Julius Schadamann and Miss Alma Kruse were united in marriage on Wednesday at St. Paul's German Lutheran church, Rev. A. R. E. Oelschlaeger, pastor, performing the nuptial ceremony. The parties are well known young people of this vicinity and will commence housekeeping on their own farm north of West Point.

Theodore Ludwig and Miss Luil Borgelt were married at the home of the bride's parents on Thursday, by Rev. Otto Von Gemungun, pastor of the German Lutheran church. Immediately following this marriage occurred the union of Edward Borgelt and Miss Mary Ludwig, the ceremony taking place at the Ludwig home in Elkhorn township, Rev. J. F. Meeske, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, being the officiating clergyman. These marriages unite two of the most prominent and wealthy families in this vicinity.

Killed a Buffalo.

Kenmare, N. D., Jan. 21.—J. A. England, proprietor of the Center Lane stock farm, four miles north of this city, killed a buffalo on his place on Saturday. When the foreman rounded up the cattle and drove them to sheds for the night, a medium sized buffalo was discovered to be among them. An effort was made to separate the buffalo from the herd, whereupon it attacked a horse and it was necessary to shoot it. Where the buffalo came from is a question that perplexes.

AUTO RACERS CROSS NEBRASKA.

International Endurance Race Course Includes Nebraska.

Omaha, Jan. 20.—Nebraska automobile enthusiasts will shortly witness the passing through the state of the contestants in a remarkable endurance contest. This is an international race which will start in New York on February 15, going by way of Alaska and Siberia and ending in Paris, passing through Omaha the latter part of next month.

Representatives of many nations will participate, foreign contestants sailing from France for New York on February 1, with machines that are the product of their respective countries.

H. E. Frederickson has received a letter from Frank B. Haver, chairman of the touring board of the American Automobile association, asking for route information in territory between Chicago and Omaha and then on to Denver. While in Omaha the contestants will be entertained by local automobilists.

In Nebraska the course runs through Fremont, Schuyler, Columbus, Central City and Grand Island.

The American committee, which will be present at the starting of the race, includes George B. McClellan, mayor of greater New York; Col. J. J. Astor and Dave Rosen, Russian ambassador to the United States.

The start will be made from the Times square, New York city, and points included in the course are as follows: Albany, N. Y.; Cleveland, O.; Omaha, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Ogden, Utah; Reno, Nev.; Coconero, Nev., and then south to Sangre, Santa Barbara, Monterey and San Francisco, Cal. From there they will go by steamer to Valdez, Alaska, where the overland route will be resumed to Fairbanks and Tanana on the Yukon river; then down the river to Kaltag and Unalakleet and on to Nome. From Nome they will go by steamer to East Cape, Siberia, in the Bering strait, when the ice has frozen along the coast, making travel possible, they will proceed to the Bay of Kolchitka; thence inland to Moscow. From Moscow they will have a comparatively easy course south to Paris.

From the route chosen it will be seen that the contestants will necessarily encounter many hardships and dangers and the race will be closely followed by automobile enthusiasts the world over.

Profitable Athletic Season.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 20.—At the annual meeting of the Michigan Athletic association today it was shown that the total receipts for the last fiscal year were $33,894. Of this amount football brought in $25,651. The baseball games lost $800 and track athletics, $2,000. The management put $18,000 into the Ferry field improvement fund and has a balance left of $7,816. Last year the balance carried over was $10,545.

Another pugilist (who filled a big space in the public eye some years ago, has received his final knockout at the hands of John Barleycorn. This is George Dixon, "Little Chocolate," who up to the time he received the soporific punch from "Terrible Terry" McGovern, was king of the feather weights. Dixon was a natural fighter and his champion status was beyond question, but John Barleycorn was too much for him.

ROB PLAINVIEW FARMER.

Sioux City Negresses Arrested as Footpads.

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 22.—Poorer by $30 in cash and $1,000 in certificates of deposit, Ernest Lemstick, of Plainview, Neb., called at the police station yesterday to report that in an alley on the east side of Jennings street, between Third and Fourth streets at about 11 o'clock Monday night he was robbed by three negro women.

Lemstick is a farmer and recently sold considerable property in the vicinity of Plainview. Since his arrival in Sioux City he has been staying at the City hotel. He said he was returning to the hotel from a trip down town and went through the alley because he thought it was shorter. He did not see the women until they had approached within two or three feet of him. He says that without a word they grappled with him and took the money during the struggle. He heard one of them say: "I've got it."

Then all three started to run in the direction of Jones street.

The certificate of deposit was issued by the Plainview State bank.

STILL HUNTING THE HUNTERS.

Marshal of Laurel Fails to Locate Run-away Boys.

J. D. West, city marshal of Laurel, was in Norfolk again Wednesday morning still looking for Carl Goltz and Willie Stukas, the two Laurel boys who started out to hunt Indians but who became discouraged on reaching Norfolk and expressed their guns back to Laurel.

The first report that the boys had gone to Sioux City from Norfolk did not yield results but later word had been received that a Winside banker talked to the boys and that they were going to Sioux City. Marshal West left on the noon train for Sioux City.

The Stukas boy has relatives in South Sioux City.

Mr. Goltz made arrangements to meet the marshal at Wakefield.

FRIEND OF COUNT WITTE

MISS GRACE CAMERON MADE HIT WITH RUSSIAN.

HE ASKED TO BE INTRODUCED.

The Eminent Russian Ambassador Who Negotiated Peace With Japan, Was Impressed With the Acting of This Clever Nebraska Star.

When the great Witte, Russian ambassador, was in America as an envoy from Russia to negotiate terms of peace with Japan, he attended the theater which Miss Grace Cameron was playing in, and wished to meet the clever young artist. Upon being introduced, Count Witte expressed great pleasure in witnessing Miss Cameron's performance and desired that she make a tour of the old world. The incident was forgotten for the time, but strange to say that two days afterward Miss Cameron received an enormous offer for an extended tour of the old world and accepted it. When the time came for Miss Cameron to sail she booked her passage on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and started her voyage, when to her great surprise Count Witte and his entire staff were aboard the same steamer.

The peculiar coincidence led to much pleasure in the meeting on board and Count Witte and Miss Cameron have been very good friends ever since. Through the influence of the count Miss Cameron's receptions everywhere abroad were cordial and friendly.

At a benefit concert given on the steamer en tour Miss Cameron was the star performer and the count and his escort the most liberal contributors.

Miss Cameron did not appear in St. Petersburg for in the height of her European success she was re-engaged for so many weeks in halls that she was playing in London, Berlin, Paris and Johannesburg that her tour, which was for a limited number of weeks, ended before reaching that point, and American engagements prevented a renewal of additional European contracts.

COMES TO NORFOLK SATURDAY

Miss Cameron Will be Seen in "Dollie Dimples" Here.

Grace Cameron makes her debut as a star in Norfolk at the Auditorium on Saturday night, in the tender, piquant dramatic and musical success, "Little Dollie Dimples," by C. H. Kerr, author of "The Beauty Doctor," "Over the Fence," "Papa's Baby," etc.

Miss Cameron's role is founded in part on a song which endeared her to the hearts of New York theater-goers when "Piff Paff Puff" had its long and successful run at the Casino. Miss Cameron has made many notable successes in important comic opera productions, including the "Bostonians," "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," "The Tenderfoot," "Foxy Quiller," etc., but her biggest and most pronounced hit was that of "Little Dollie Dimples," when she played opposite Eddie Foy at the Casino theater for nearly one entire year.

Hence her present management in selecting a play to suit Miss Cameron's ability, wisely founded her part and fashioned it after this notable selection. "Little Dollie Dimples" is by no means a light and airy or frivolous musical performance, but is of the better class of comic opera, the music being high class yet tuneful, the plot being absolutely consistent, the story and plot complete in detail as well as intense in dramatic construction.

Pathos and tears are mingled with laughter incessantly, not unlike David Warfield's great success, "The Music Master."

In fact many of the scenes and situations in their simple yet intense dramatic force, are very much upon the order of the "Music Master." In one scene where Miss Cameron appears as a poor, ragged, yet amusing little waif, she keeps her audience convulsed with laughter, as she stands by the side of a table loaded down with all sorts of good things to eat, her little mouth watering and her eyes sparkling to think of the feast she is going to have as soon as the guests of her stingy old auntie have departed.

THURSDAY TIDINGS.

Mrs. Fred Harder went to Pierce yesterday for a short visit.

Miss Emma Kruger has resigned her position in the Owl restaurant.

Mrs. Carl Krake is very ill at her home on South Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Perry arrived home from a visit in Elgin.

Miss Mary Levljohn left this noon for a two week's visit with her parents at Lindsay.

Miss Helen Sprecher, who has been sick with the grip, is able to be at school.

Miss Martha Christian started to work this morning in the Owl restaurant.

Fred Cornell has the frame of his second house on Hastings avenue, up.

Mrs. Frank Etter and two daughters, Margery and Jacqueline, stopped off at the Junction for a short visit with Mrs. Etter's brother-in-law, M. Moolick and family, on their way home to Niobrara from Iowa, where they had been visiting her sister and family, whom she had not seen for sixteen years.

Mrs. F. J. Coryell is recovering from a severe attack of the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Baum entertain the West Side Whist club tonight.

Mrs. A. Randklev has issued invitations for a one o'clock luncheon for Thursday, January 30.

The Trinity guild is making elaborate plans for a leap year party to be given in Marquardt hall on Friday, February 7.

The regular meeting of Bonlah chapter of the O. E. S. will be held Thursday evening in Masonic hall. Members were urged to attend.

Miss Nellie Hyde, who has been teaching school near Battle Creek, is home on a week's leave of absence. Miss Hyde has been ill with the grip.

These marriage licenses have been issued by Judge Bates at Madison: John Thomsen and Miss Hannah H. Perry of Madison; Feloyd H. Weland and Miss Augusta I. Patzel of Emeric.

The Madison county agricultural society meeting at Madison has decided to leave the initiation and membership fees unchanged. A committee will be appointed to revise the premium list.

The protest of the Madison commercial club against the parcels post proposition of the postmaster general has been presented to the senate by Senator Brown. The parcels post is declared to be inimical to the welfare of the small merchants and farmers.

In the notes of the firemen's convention the Nebraska City Press said: "The Fremont and Elkhorn delegation came in on the 3:45 last evening, and numbered strong. Norfolk sent a special down on the Missouri Pacific and arrived here at about 8 p. m. Other north Nebraska delegations to arrive early were from Creighton, Madison and Fullerton.

Miss Gertrude Steinbach, who was in Norfolk for several months last summer and fall, according to word received from Omaha is ill with the small-pox and under quarantine. Miss Steinbach was sent to Norfolk by the Nebraska Telephone company to serve as long distance operator in the Norfolk exchange and has since been working in the Omaha exchange.

Fremont Tribune: Nebraska firemen enroute to the state convention at Nebraska City passed through Fremont this morning and at the union passenger station during the stops of the trains made their presence known. The Norfolk department sent a special car carrying its delegates. It bore a large banner on one side. Firemen from Stanton and other points were aboard the same train.

Madison county through the Madison militia company company "E," of the first regiment, has won first honors against the score of 50 of militia companies of the state. In the per cent of members shooting in the national guard rifle practice the Madison company stands first with seventy per cent. The Madison company also won the highest "figure of merit," the grade being forty-six. Weeping Water coming second at thirty-nine, Alma third at thirty-seven.

If Mr. Silberstein died in Nebraska and left $2,300,000, to be divided up among his unknown heirs, those who know of the fact will confer a favor by writing the particulars to Albert Ucko, Berlin, Culmbacher street, S. Mr. Ucko wrote to Governor Sheldon today that he had information that Mr. Silberstein had died interstate and his mother had a cousin by that name who came to the United States, he may be the same party, and Ucko wants to know all about the dead man so he can claim his part of the estate.

Madison Chronicle: The information came to us just before going to press last evening that a wrestling match between Jack O'Leary, welter-weight champion, and Jack Casey of Fort Dodge, Iowa, had been arranged and would be pulled off in the opera house in this city on Friday evening, January 31. O'Leary weighs 145 pounds and Casey 160. The latter comes from the state where they make wrestlers, it being the home of "Farmer" Burns and Frank Gotch, the champion wrestlers of the world.

There will be 200 seats on the lower floor of the Auditorium for the Grace Cameron performance Saturday night at $1. This will be Miss Cameron's first visit to Norfolk and she is a decidedly clever actress. Originally she was a Nebraska girl. Her play, "Little Dollie Dimples," has been one of the musical comedy successes of the past year in New York and other large cities. Norfolk is fortunate to get the attraction and many people from out of town are expected for the event. Seats go on sale Friday morning. It is expected that there will be a packed house Saturday night.

Al. Lawrence, The Mimic.

Al. Lawrence, the mimic, known in vaudeville as the "man with a hundred faces," has been especially engaged to play Hi Skinner in Grace Cameron's new musical comedy, "Little Dollie Dimples," which comes to the Auditorium Saturday night. Aside from making "rube fun" as the country boy, Mr. Lawrence will introduce his famous imitations, which have been so successful in vaudeville that some very tempting offers have been made the young man to return to that field of entertainment.

MRS. O'GRADY FREE.

Woman Accused of Killing Believed to be Innocent.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Julia Ann O'Grady who last fall was arrested on the charge of having murdered her aged husband, John O'Grady at the O'Grady home, north of Sioux Falls, will not be tried on the charge of murder, as had generally been expected.

State's Attorney Orr appeared before Judge Jones, of the state circuit court, and moved that the charge against Mrs. O'Grady be dismissed. It appears that diligent search has failed to bring forth anything in the shape of evidence upon which a conviction could be based, and under these circumstances the state's attorney asked that the case be dismissed, and Judge Jones so ordered. Mrs. O'Grady was under a heavy bond for her appearance in the state circuit court, and this now will be released.

John O'Grady was mysteriously shot and killed while seated in his home. One feature which pointed to the innocence of Mrs. O'Grady and which has not heretofore been printed in any newspaper concerning her actions immediately following her giving alarm at the home of a neighbor that her husband had been shot and killed. The neighbor and his wife returned to the O'Grady home with Mrs. O'Grady.

A lighted lamp standing on a table revealed the body of the old man on the floor, but the neighbor and his wife did not at the time enter the house, remaining at the doorway and peering into the room in which the body lay.

Mrs. O'Grady, however, entered the room, without hesitation, and going up to the body of her husband lifted the head and placed her cheek against that of the dead man, piteously called his name and urged him to speak to her. Those who have had much to do with criminals declare that this action clearly was an evidence of innocence,
