

FIRST DAY RACES WERE A SUCCESS

TILDEN AND KANSAS HORSES WON FIRST MONEY.

BIG CROWD AT SEASON OPENING

With No Trace of Rain Yet in Sight the Norfolk Races, the First Meet of the Season, Opened Auspiciously Thursday.

Kansas and Tilden divide honors in the first day races at the Norfolk track. Dr. Riber, a Kansas trotter, taking honors in the 2:35 class while Bessie Billon, owned by the Osbornes of Tilden and driven by Cown, swept everything before her in the fast 2:20 class for pacers and trotters.

A First Day Success. And what of the first day of the Norfolk races? Several hundred Norfolk people rubbing shoulders with many of their friends from neighboring towns in north Nebraska, watching the track circled a dozen times by fleet well matched horses, keeping an eye on a rattling fast ball game, enjoying the cool air and the snap and glinger that is always in evidence at the season's first races, proclaimed the first day races a success.

The Attendance. The attendance was very nearly as large as the first day crowds which last year set a new record for Norfolk. The grandstand was comfortably filled, the paddock was lined with carriages and the quarter stretch enthusiasts kept one glued on a high class diamond battle and the other on the oval course.

The Track Slow. The track was a trifle heavy though it hardened as the races progressed and gave promise of a fast stretch of track for the last two days, barring rain.

The Winners. Bessie Billon, the bay mare from Tilden, who took three straight heats in the fastest race of the day, the 2:20 class, was seen on the Norfolk tracks last year. The Tilden race was then driven in the 2:50 class and came in for fourth money.

A Wayne racer, Alice L. Woodford, owned by W. S. Miller of Wayne, took second money in the 2:35 trot, taking second place in two heats. King Ree, a Hartington horse owned by P. C. Deller, took fourth money in this race. Dr. Riber, a bay race horse from Sebestha, Kan., had little trouble in taking first honors.

The Season's Opening. When J. A. Waller, the Norfolk starter, shouted "It's a go" and the crowd murmured "They're off" seven horses swung off on the turn with a dash that only trotting horses have. The first race in the north Nebraska racing season was on.

The Officials. The judges for the Thursday races were J. S. Hancock of Stanton, W. C. Caley of Creighton and R. Y. Appleby of Stanton. The timers were Woods Cones of Pierce, Al Marks of Stanton and D. D. Brunson of Norfolk.

The 2:35 Trot. Three straight heats won by Dr. Riber gave the 2:35 trotting race to the bay horse from Kansas. Considering the track the time, 2:29 3/4, 2:30 3/4 and 2:28 3/4 was considered fast for the class.

Dr. Riber took the first heat with ease. The bay was followed closely by Gladolia, the two maintaining their positions from the start. Alice L. Woodford, the Wayne mare, and Birdie Cloyer gave the heat the appearance of a race. For the condition of the track the time 2:29 3/4 was surprising for the class. Gladolia, who was unable to push by the doctor made the double circle in 2:32. Seven horses participated in the heat.

Dr. Riber led from the start in the second heat, establishing what proved to be a safe lead before the quarter post was reached. The heat furnished a spectacular dash for second place. Alice L. Woodford, the bay from Wayne, pushing out from the field at the three-quarters post and winning second honors from Gladolia by the narrowest of noses. The gain made by the big bay over Gladolia was one of the features of the afternoon. The next was made in 2:30 3/4, the two mile horses dashing under the wire in 2:33.

Dr. Riber gathered in the third heat and the race in 2:28 3/4. Alice L. Woodford hung on to second place in the heat, Gladolia was in third. The race was a speedy drive, the time clipped so indicating. Birdie Cloyer was not put on the track by her driver, Evans, in time to get in the race, the line swinging down the track just as the sore mare was being led to the track. Evans drove Windsor Walnut in the 2:20 race and was slow in changing horses, his absence passing unnoticed.

Summary of the 2:35 trot: Dr. Riber, bay h., (Cagwin).....111 Alice L. Woodford, b. m., (Miller).....32 Gladolia, bay m., (Mitchell).....233 King Ree, bay m., (Deller).....644 Nut Point, blk. s., (Montgomery).....565 Paderewsky, gr. s., (Lankstaff).....776 Birdie Cloyer, s. m., (Evans).....45-2:20 Trot or Pace.

The 2:20 class offered a pretty race, Bessie Billon being pressed close enough to make the contest interest-

The Tilden horse took three straight heats.

The first heat in the second race occasioned more delay than any other heat in the afternoon, the string of pacers being called back time after time. The heat when the start was finally made was taken by Bessie Billon, the Osborne horse from Tilden. Little Wonder for second place and Windsor Walnut for third pushed close behind. On the first time around the half the three horses were neck to neck, the lead held by the Tilden mare at the finish being no more than safe. The time was in 2:26 3/4.

Tilden annexed honors again in the second heat in 2:26 3/4. Little wonder and Captoia pushed Bessie Billon the first half mile. Little Wonder was pushed out of second place by Captoia, giving third rank to Windsor Walnut.

Bessie Billon annexed the third heat in 2:27 3/4. Captoia and Little Wonder protected their positions. Summary of the 2:20 trot or pace: Bessie Billon, b. m., (Crown).....111 Captoia, b. h., (Myers).....522 Windsor Walnut, b. h., (Evans).....333 Little Wonder, bay h., (Wilson).....245 Miranda, b. m., (Wall).....454 Ruben Baby, gr. m., (Stantz).....666

The First Day Races. J. L. Rynearson of Madison, secretary of the North Nebraska Short Shipment Racing circuit, was in Norfolk to witness the season's opening. Officers of the Norfolk Driving club, their fears of rain being temporarily allayed Thursday, greeted their outside visitors with the glad hand and a satisfied smile. Secretary P. M. Barrett was the busiest man on the ground while President Groesbeck was a close second.

Among the prominent visitors from away at the first day races was Harry B. Fleharty of South Omaha, a candidate for the fusion nomination for attorney general.

The Creighton delegation at the first day races consisted of W. A. Graham, W. A. Strain, W. C. Caley and D. J. Jansner. Mr. Caley who is at the head of the racing circuit said that Norfolk would have many Creighton visitors Friday and Saturday with fair weather. "Saturday is always a big day at the Creighton races," said Mr. Caley. "We never follow the custom of closing with a Friday race. The farmers in the vicinity of Creighton are among the best patrons the association has. And on Saturday as on every other race day every store in Creighton closes while the races are in progress."

A special coach was added to the east freight Thursday night for the accommodation of the race visitors from Stanton and Pilger. The coach was crowded. Stanton sent the largest delegation. In addition many Stanton people drove over in carriages and touring cars.

PILGER IS FIRST TOURNAMENT WINNER

DEFEATS STANTON IN EXCITING BALL GAME.

Defeating Stanton 3 to 2 and winning the game in the eighth inning, Pilger won a thrilling game of base ball. Norfolk race tournament games have won a reputation in local base ball history and Thursday's contest was worthy of a place with the other clean cut, snappy diamond battles.

After the first heat of Thursday's races the ball game begun. Stanton the day before had played a shut-out game with Pilger resulting in a score of 3 to 0. Thursday's game was Pilger's, but it was close and the game doubtful to the very finish.

Hartman, Stanton's pitcher, played excellent ball, striking out ten men. Mayer of Stanton made the first hit of the game in the first inning. Schwartz, Pilger's pitcher, made a nice hit in the second. Holstein, Stanton's star second baseman, made a good running catch in the second and brought in the first score of the game in the third.

Saunders, Stanton's third baseman, was struck on the elbow in the second, but he stayed in the game and played star ball to the end. Lundak, Pilger's right fielder, made several neat catches in the third.

Herman Gerecke was called upon to show his skill at base ball in the third inning, when a ball was knocked to him in his buggy and would have struck him had he not reached for it and caught it amid the applause of the spectators.

Montgomery brought in the first score for Pilger. Martin, Pilger's centerfielder made a pretty running catch in the fifth.

Pont, Stanton's rightfielder, made an out in the sixth in a way that seldom occurs. He struck a fair ball but the ball in turn struck him, which according to the rules makes the batter out.

DALLAS SENDS A MOST HEARTY INVITATION THROUGH JACKSON BROTHERS

NORFOLK WELCOMED NORTH.

A hearty invitation into the north country, inspired by the proposed Norfolk excursion, has been received from the town of Dallas through Jackson Brothers, who started this thriving terminal town a year ago.

The invitation is written by Frank H. Jackson of the firm of Jackson Brothers:

Dallas, S. D., Aug. 14.—Editor News: We note with pleasure the revival of interest in the Norfolk Commercial club's excursion and take this opportunity of extending to your club a hearty invitation to Dallas, "The Gate-Way." Such an excursion as your club plans is a good thing. It promotes and incites interest in all lines of business, and acquaints people with their business territory and the people they are dealing with. There are few men in Norfolk who realize the importance of the trade territory which is tributary to Norfolk.

We trust that they will successfully promote this excursion and turn out a good crowd to come up and "see for themselves."

Dallas extends a hearty invitation to Norfolk Commercial club and guarantees a warm reception to those who come.

Very sincerely yours, Jackson Brothers, Frank H. Jackson.

DRENCHED NORFOLK BOWS TO O'NEILL. WEATHER MAN CALLS OFF THE NORFOLK RACES. O'NEILL NOW RACING CENTER

Norfolk, Rain Soaked With the Rest of North Nebraska, Gives Up Last Two Days of the Races, Ball Games, Balloons and All.

Race meet, ball tournament, balloon ascension and street shows were all washed away in a typical north Nebraska rain which started about 3 o'clock Friday morning and continued during the day. At 8 a. m. .87 inches of water had been poured from the sky.

The rain was general over the territory, embracing all of the territory under the direction of the Northwestern offices in Norfolk. To north Nebraska the rain falling steadily with never a sign of pause told of the doom of the Norfolk races.

Norfolk race men, pleased with the success of the first day's races and what was stamped as a very encouraging opening of the north state racing season, dreamed pleasant dreams of a quarter stretch swarming with thousands of race followers on the morrow. And the "rain king," having pity in his heart for the havoc he was to play, sent his storm up gently not to rudely awaken the race promoters with any violent clap of thunder or rush of wind. So the Norfolk racing world when it rubbed its eyes Friday morning awoke to the steady patter, patter, patter.

It was hardly necessary for the Norfolk Driving club to announce that the races for both Friday and Saturday had been called off. The rain told that to the north state country. With the abandonment of the races went the Norfolk-Humphrey and the Norfolk-Spencer ball games, the second balloon ascension, the public marriage and all the other carnival and race side delights.

O'Neill Next. Norfolk, her race opening blocked by rain, passes on the season's opening to O'Neill, where three splendid days of racing are promised Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the coming week. O'Neill has made elaborate plans for the week.

There were suggestions made Friday that the Norfolk races be held later in the season but it is very unlikely that a second attempt will be made this year.

The Driving club was unable to announce its exact financial status Friday morning as the result of losing the two biggest days of the racing. The treasury has been in good condition, however, and it was said that the results would not be disastrous.

Ship Horses to O'Neill. By Friday noon many of the racers which have been stabled in Norfolk were on board Northwestern cars ready to be shipped to O'Neill for the O'Neill races.

Appleby at Battle Creek. Battle Creek, Neb., Aug. 15.—Special to The News: R. Y. Appleby of Stanton, one of the Republican candidates for state senator, was in Battle Creek this week. While here he made a good strong impression and won lots of friends. Nor was Mr. Appleby entirely a stranger to many Battle Creek citizens before his visit.
