

CUCUMBER CROP TOTAL FAILURE.

Little Green Louse Has Caused Devastation-

PICKLE BUSINESS HARD HIT.

Acres Which Last Year Yielded 120 Tons of Cucumbers, This Year Brought Forth Only Three Tons and a Half, Near Norfolk.

A little insect, called the green louse, has caused an almost total failure of the cucumber crop all over the state. As a direct result of this little bug's activity, the Norfolk Pickle and Vinegar Co., has had but few cucumbers, and those of an inferior grade, with which to carry on their business.

G. W. Evans said that they received but three and a half tons of cucumbers this year. It practically the same number of acres which yielded 120 tons of cucumbers last year. The weather conditions were good all the time and the prospects of a large crop early in the season were very favorable.

The green louse lives on the underside of the cucumber leaf, where it is almost impossible to spray with any success. The louse multiplies rapidly, and is hatched from an egg, laid by a black gnat. The only known method of getting rid of the louse is fumigation by placing some tight box or vessel over the vine and burning tobacco under the box.

Weather conditions being favorable, the season is from the middle of August until frost time.

Manager G. W. Evans said that he had lived in this state for twenty-five years, and had never before seen a failure of the crop from this cause.

TAFT WON'T SPEAK HERE.

Republican Presidential Candidate Can't Come.

TRIP INCLUDES NEBRASKA.

Judge Taft Comes Into Nebraska by Way of Omaha From Fort Dodge, Ia., and Then Travels Westward Through the State.

W. H. Taft will not speak in Norfolk on his tour of the middle west, as had been hoped by local Republicans.

The itinerary issued late Wednesday afternoon in Cincinnati leaves Norfolk off the trip and shows that the Republican nominee will speak only in Omaha and along the line of the Union Pacific westward through Nebraska.

Within the next ten days The Daily News will contain one of the most interesting and unique advertisements yet published in the city. Twenty-six business firms of Norfolk will be represented by the different letters of the alphabet, arranged in alphabetical order. Scattered through the ads in general will be several misspelled words, placed there intentionally, and $10 in cash prizes will be given by The News to the first persons who will send in a correct list of those words.

Prizes will be divided into first, second and third, namely $5, $3 and $2. Wait and look for it—you can be a winner—and you might be able to get to be a proofreader on some big daily paper.

Is Afraid of His Wife. O'Neill Frontier: A petition, long and full of sensational charges has been filed in district court by James H. Bacon who wants a divorce from Mary E. Bacon. They reside on a farm near Atkinson—that is, the family do. Mr. Bacon alleges in his petition that his wife made life so unbearable at home that he removed to bachelor quarters about five miles away. The family occupy his farm and he operates the same and keeps out of the way of his wife, who he says threatens to kill him, by living alone. They were married in Hillsdale, Neb., in 1880, and have nine living children, six of whom are minors, from three to nineteen years. They came here two years ago from Dawes county, where, the plaintiff says, he sold his property at a great sacrifice to please his wife. Since coming to this county and before the petitioner alleges his spouse has frequently threatened to shoot him and once to use poison. He also charges that on two different occasions while sleeping alone he awoke to find his wife beside him with a drawn knife, and expresses the belief that she intended to kill him. Numerous charges of cruel treatment and conduct unbecoming a wife toward her liege lord are made. He wants a divorce and the defendant enjoined from in any way interfering with the free use of his home and other property, and that he may have access to and provide for his children.

A SOUTH DAKOTA REUNION.

Supposed Grandchildren of Lord Chesterfield Find Each Other.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 17.—Special to The News: While in the city Dr. Spencer, a well known physician of Montrose, northwest of Sioux Falls, told of a remarkable and interesting reunion which has just taken place at Montrose, the principles in the reunion being Miss Rachael Chesterfield, a Young Women's Christian association worker of New York City, and Edward Chesterfield, who since boyhood has been a resident of Nebraska and South Dakota.

The reunion was the culmination of a search which has been prosecuted by Miss Chesterfield for many years for her long-lost brother, whom she now has found. Miss Chesterfield and her brother are said to be grand children of the famous Lord Chesterfield of England, who was noted for the beauty of his attire and who for years set the fashion for his countrymen.

When Miss Chesterfield and her brother were more children and resided in New York city their parents, as well as themselves, were stricken with typhoid fever. The parents died, but the children slowly recovered and when they had entirely recovered and left the hospital where they had been cared for they had no home to go to and were taken in charge by an orphan's society.

Young Chesterfield, together with a number of other orphans, about twenty years ago was sent to a home in Nebraska, where he remained for some years. A few years ago he drifted to South Dakota, where he was given a position by Dr. Spencer, whom he has faithfully served since as ostler and as general utility man about his office, barn and home.

He was known as Ed Chester, the "field" having been dropped from his name, and this fact greatly handicapped Miss Chesterfield in tracing and locating him. But as stated her many years' search has resulted successfully and the brother and sister are once more united.

Their plans for the future are not definitely known, but it is believed the brother will accompany his sister to New York and in future reside with her in Gotham.

Thurston Speaks.

Chicago Tribune: The want of excitement in the presidential campaign is doubtless causing some concern to the party managers. Apathy is feared especially by the Republicans, and with reason founded on painful experience. Mr. Taft's hint that the success in Vermont might result in over-confidence indicates that the Republican leaders are awake to its dangers in this campaign.

As to the existence of apathy among the voting rank and file, former Senator Thurston of Nebraska has an interesting opinion. Nebraska, he says, will certainly go for Mr. Taft, and any apparent want of excitement and enthusiastic partisanship now prevailing, he declares, is more apparent than real. Not apathy but contentment is the cause of the quiet. The Nebraska farmer is far from indifferent, he says, but he is prosperous and disposed to feel that the state of the nation under Republican administration is, if not perfect, at any rate reasonably satisfactory and better than it would be if the rule were changed.

The first issue of the new paper soon will make its appearance.

HADAR MAN CLAIMS HE WAS SOAKED ON.

On Faubel's Complaint, Grocery Store Closes.

The grocery store of C. F. Wakeman & Sons, of Hadar, has been closed upon complaint of J. F. Faubel who claims that the former parties secured possession of the store through misrepresentation of a part of the land traded for the store.

Wakeman & Sons gave their farm of 200 acres for Faubel's stock of goods in the grocery store some time last summer. Now Faubel claims, so L. C. Wakeman said Wednesday at the Junction, that forty acres of this land is not as good as represented. Wakeman said that his father had been in possession of the land but a short time and was unable to show Faubel the exact boundary lines.

The trial has been set for the first part of November, and will be held at Pierce.

A Directoire Gown in Wayne.

Wayne Herald: Quite a little excitement was stirred up on the streets the other day by the announcement that a visiting girl was the owner and wearer of a directoire gown. The report was unfounded, however, as the gown proved to be a very modest affair, one that the most exacting Wayne woman could wear and still retain her self-respect and her position in the church.

South Dakota Justice.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 17.—Special to The News: Judge LaCraff, who presides over a court at White, Brookings county, has set a new pace in dealing out justice to those who indulge in gambling. A man who had lost a considerable sum of money in an effort to punish the men who had beaten him and secure a return of the money, made complaint and had the men arrested. When the case was stated to Judge LaCraff he imposed a fine upon the defendants and declined to give aid to the plaintiff in securing the return of the money he had lost. On the other hand, the judge held that the plaintiff was equally guilty and also imposed a fine in the case of the plaintiff, who paid the fine and departed a sadder and wiser man. At this season of the year the state is flooded by expert gamblers and crooks, and individuals who are foolish enough to get into the games with them and lose money, according to the reasoning of Judge LaCraff, are not entitled to any sympathy or redress.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

FUNERAL OF MISS CHENEY.

Business Houses Were Closed For an Hour at Creighton. Creighton, Neb., Sept. 17.—Special to The News: The funeral of Miss Vivien Cheney was held here yesterday. Many friends of the family from all over the state were present, including one of the Brownell Hall faculty members. Business houses in Creighton were closed for an hour and school was dismissed. Children lined up on each side of the street while the funeral cortege passed between them. There were sixty carriages in the funeral procession. Rev. Mr. Briggs had charge of the services.

CARPENTERS NEEDED PREPARING FOR RUSH.

Dallas Arranged to Care for Visiting Women.

Dallas, S. D., Sept. 17.—Special to The News: The building that is being done in Dallas preparatory to the opening is to be wondered at. Carpenters are still in great demand and more than 100 of them could find employment at big wages. There will be accommodations for all who come if the work now planned can be completed by October 5.

When it is considered that the mail capacity in both Dallas and Gregory, the towns to which all affidavits must be mailed, will be greatly taxed, it is believed here that most people will get by information bureaus, real estate men and others advertising their lines of trade, and this will continue for many weeks after the drawing takes place.

All affidavits sworn to before notaries at affidavit points designated at O'Neill, Valentine, Presho and Chamberlain, must be received by Judge Witten at either Dallas or Gregory before 4:30 o'clock p. m., October 17, and with the congested condition of the mails which will surely exist, there must be many hundreds of affidavits that will not be received register here rather than at affidavit points, in which case there would be danger of the affidavits being miscarried in the mails, or lost entirely.

A congested condition of the mails can hardly be avoided. It is true that the government is arranging additional clerking forces in the Dallas and Gregory postoffices, but the additional help that will be secured will be inexperienced, and they will be overwhelmed by the mail-rush, since all affidavits must be mailed to these towns.

Tons of mail matter each day are being handled now, being matter sent in time to entitle the senders to any chances in the drawings.

The Masons of Dallas are arranging to have their hall equipped with beds and they will be able to accommodate about seventy-five people. Those who will have charge of this, will care only for visiting Masons who can show cards or who are vouched for by someone as Masons.

Ladies of the different churches will provide beds for women only, and these will be in charge of an Omaha woman, a representative of the Omaha Young Women's Christian association.

Those who register should see to it that their affidavits are properly executed. Too much care can not be taken in this regard. There will be perhaps 100 notaries in Dallas.

RATES LOWER THAN IN EUROPE

And American Railroad Employees Are Paid Far More.

New York, Sept. 17.—"Four billion dollars would be added to the American freight bill if the people of this country had to pay the same rates as the English shipper," said B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the executive committee of the Rock Island-Frisco lines, in an interview yesterday. Mr. Yoakum had been asked regarding the differences in rates on American and foreign railroads. After making the foregoing statement, he continued:

"Nearly every one of the thousands of travelers who return from abroad in the next sixty days will bear witness that our railroads are the best in the world. There is no doubt about this being true.

Three Important Factors.

"Three things are of importance to the people and their welfare concerning railroads. They are: "First—The efficiency of the service.

"Second—Cost of the service to the public.

"Third—Wages paid to employees.

"In all these things the railroads of the United States are ahead of the railroads of any other country. That the service furnished by American railroads is better than that furnished by the railroads of any other country is an undisputed fact.

"We will now look at the cost of the service.

"The average charge for moving one ton of freight one mile is: "In Great Britain, 3 1/2 cents; in France 1 1/2 cents; in Germany, 1 1/2 cents; in the United States, 3/4 cent.

"To state this in another way: "One dollar pays the charge for moving one ton of freight in the different countries the distance shown: "In Great Britain $1 pays for moving one ton forty-three miles.

"In France $1 pays for moving one ton sixty-six miles.

"In Germany $1 pays for moving one ton seventy-five miles.

"In the United States $1 pays for moving one ton 132 miles.

map of England, and indicating Manchester and London, said: "The charge to move a ton of grain between these points, a distance of 227 miles, is $4.21."

Then turning to map of the United States and pointing to St. Louis he said: "It costs only $1.40 to move a ton of grain from St. Louis to Chicago, a distance of 280 miles, and from St. Louis to New Orleans, 1,066 miles, a ton of grain is moved for $1, or twenty-one cents less than the English charge from Manchester to London, less than one-quarter the distance.

"The 1,675,000 railway employees of this country had been paid the English wages the total compensation for the year 1907 would have been $508,000,000 instead of $1,075,000,000 as it was.

"The average wage per annum paid to railroad employes in the various countries is as follows: "In France, $256; in Great Britain, $302; in Germany, $238; in the United States, $642.

"Classified in the different departments of railroading: Firemen in Great Britain are paid $309; firemen in the United States are paid $755; conductors in Great Britain are paid $315; conductors in the United States are paid $1,155; engine drivers in Great Britain are paid $487; engine drivers in the United States are paid $1,259.

"The compensation of the section man in the United States is $423 per annum, which is $108 more than conductors are paid in Great Britain and $123 more than locomotive firemen are paid in that country."

Spencer, Neb., Sept. 17.—Special to The News: At a meeting of the Spencer Republicans in Odd Fellows' hall, a very enthusiastic and live Taft club was organized.

BARTON NAMED FOR AUDITOR.

Nebraska State Canvassing Board Ends Work.

SHALLENGER'S LEAD 1,669

Dahlman's Vote Was 10,157—Fusion Parties Cast 36,000 Votes at the Primary Election—Barton's Lead is Just 265.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 16.—Special to The News: According to the state canvassing board, Shallenberger has been nominated for governor by a plurality of 1,669 over Berge in the Democratic and Populist parties. Dahlman's vote was 10,157. Shallenberger received 13,889 and Berge 12,221 in the fusion parties.

Silas R. Barton has been nominated by the Republicans for state auditor by a plurality of 265. Barton was easily the choice of Nebraska Republicans who knew the men in the race, but owing to the alphabetical handicap he came near being beaten by a man named Alden, whose name was first on the ballot, and whose candidacy is said to have been filed merely to test the primary in this respect.

W. C. Elley Quits Livery Business.

Madison Star-Mail: W. C. Elley, who has conducted a livery barn in this city for over a quarter of a century, quietly stepped out of the ownership of the big brick livery barn on Pearl street and A. E. Remender, one of Madison's brightest young men, took up the management where the veteran liveryman laid it down. Mr. Remender needs no introduction to the people of Madison, as he is well and favorably known. Col. Elley the well-known auctioneer, will remain in our city and conduct farm sales as usual and help maintain the peace and dignity of Madison county in his present office as deputy sheriff a position he has held with credit to himself and his friends for a number of years.

Fighting Mail Order Houses.

The following "stickers" are being used in Idaho to fight the mail order houses:

- HOW ABOUT THIS! Did you give your home merchant a chance to make you a cash-in-advance price on those goods before you bought? Did you ask for a delivered price, and on the same brand your home merchant quoted on, before you bought? Do that next time. To be fair take these goods to the local merchant and compare quality, prices and terms. THE RESULT WILL SURPRISE YOU. DOES THIS APPEAL TO YOU? When you need accommodation do you ask the catalog house or your home merchant for it? Should misfortune befall you, whom would you look for assistance? Do you think it fair to send your cash to the catalog houses and when you are short on account of the late harvest or a light crop, ask your home merchant to carry you? THINK IT OVER.

The right person would "jump at the chance" to buy that property of yours.

A reasonable "campaign" in classified advertising will "sell you out" in real estate.
