Killed: Thomas G. Barnum, Union, skull crushed, died instantly.

Injured: Frank Heavrin, teamster, South Omaha, skull fractured, serious; Amos McNamee, rural carrier, Omaira, head, hands and legs injured; M. E. Thomas, newspaper man, Omaha, head cut, right arm fractured; Osia Huston, Plattsmouth, back injured; C. Massey, Unadilla, serious bruises; Gus King, South Omaha, serious cuts, J. E. Goldsmith, Omaha, head cut, arm hurt; J. W. E. Rome, Omaha, arm, leg and knee cut, slight,

Seven physicians were hurried to the scene of the wreck and quickly relieved the distress of the injured, who had been given quarters in the reat coaches, which did not leave the rail. The temperature was near the zero mark, but the injured suffered little from the cold, being quickly removed to the heated cars.

Thomas Barnum, who is a prominent stockman and real estate dealer of Union, was sitting near the water mosphere of New Orleans hospitality tank conversing with Amos McNamee, last night at a creole banquet, where national Woman Suffrage alliance, a rural mail carrier of Omaha, when the fattened oysters, the savoriness salled today for England on the At the wreck occurred and fell beneath of the cuisine, with its hundreds of lantic transport steamer Minnetonka. the tank, which crushed his skull. the rest of the country, it is hoped ... Before the conference at its meeting: in the White House on Jan. 25 and subsequently the president expressed the greatest interest in its work. The conference, which was composed of well known philanthropists and sociologists from all parts of the United States, assembled in Washington at his invitation, and its sessions were formally opened by him in a long address. The president gave his opinion that there could be no more important subject, from the standpoint of the nation, than the care of "the interests of those children whom cruel misfortune has handicapped at the very outset of their lives" He referred to the orphan the crippled child, the child worker and the child temporarily parted from its parents by circumstances.
