

Bryan Boosted in Party War.

Washington, March 27.—When William Jennings Bryan was decisively beaten in the last campaign, it was assumed by the country at large that the Democratic party would devote itself at once to the important task of a reorganization on an entirely new basis.

Mr. Bryan did not seem to join in with this plan with any great amount of enthusiasm, and he announced he would hold himself in readiness at any time to respond to the call of his country as expressed in any regularly organized Democratic national convention.

There was, therefore, a great deal of talk about coming unity in the Democratic party and a reorganization which would center around the nomination of some popular or conservative Minnesota or Governor Harmon of Ohio.

Leaders Drifting Farther Apart.

Recent events have proved extremely disappointing to the Democratic leaders. Instead of getting together on a harmony basis they are actually drifting farther and farther apart.

There are some years to elapse before the next national campaign, and it may be that the warring elements in the Democratic party may agree to bury the hatchet.

It was the plan of the Democratic leaders to do everything the insurgent Republicans wanted in the way of a revision of the house rules, with the idea that the regular Republicans would retaliate.

By increasing the disaffection among the Republicans and fomenting in the west a campaign against that condition of affairs which is mysteriously known as Cannonism the oldest and sanest of Democratic leaders believed they could elect a majority in the house in 1910.

Well Laid Plan Goes Awry. By increasing the disaffection among the Republicans and fomenting in the west a campaign against that condition of affairs which is mysteriously known as Cannonism the oldest and sanest of Democratic leaders believed they could elect a majority in the house in 1910.

Johnson Not in His Set. Jeffries asserts he will not discuss Fight With Champion. Boston, Mass., March 27.—When shown the dispatch from Chicago stating that Jack Johnson was coming to Boston for a conference which had been arranged with him Jeffries said today:

New Statesmen Very Modest. Washington, March 27.—Some of the autobiographies of new members in the congressional directory are refreshing.

Senator Wesley L. Jones of Washington, who with Senator Burton of Ohio was promoted from the house, pays a warm tribute to his wife, an unusual contribution to an official publication.

of any state of the union during the history of the government—over forty general statutes and five separate constitutional amendments that were adopted by a vote of the people."

Saved Nation $10,000,000 a Year. While serving as postmaster at Caruthersville, Representative Crow of Missouri, relates that "several times he called the attention of congress to the manner of weighing mails; congress finally revised the method, whereby it is estimated that a saving of $10,000,000 a year was effected."

An interesting figure in the house is Delegate Cameron of Arizona, Republican. He defeated veteran Mark Smith last fall, whereupon the story went the rounds that this result was a part of a scheme to secure staidness—allying the Republican opposition by the idea that two Republican senators would be chosen by the new state.

The baby of the house is Palitte Elvins of Missouri, who was sworn in on the day on which he completed his thirty-first year.

Secretary Dickson of the war department makes no reference to his politics in the sketch of himself. The one political fact stated in Secretary MacVane's biography is that he was a Democratic candidate of the United States senate in the '90s.

"Bill Club" Banquet Proposed. A banquet unique in the history of official Washington may be held here before congress adjourns.
