Mr. Cooper is a member of the Norfolk real estate firm of G. R. Hodson & company. The bride during the past year has taught music at Lynch and Spencer, having studied music in Chicago and at the Wesleyan conservatory, at Lincoln. Thursday morning the big gravel shovel will be started at the Northwestern gravel pits at Atkinson. Fish of Bonesteel, coroner of Gregory county, passed through Norfolk yesterday enroute home from Wayne, where he had been attending court. Mr. Fish was in Norfolk last week when he received word by telegram of the suicide of Mrs. Bradley of Burke. He returned, held the inquest, working all night, and then came back to Wayne. Mrs. Bradley's mother, whose departure from Burke on the morning train was immediately followed by the suicide of the bride, had reached Pierce before she was notified by wire of the daughter's tragedy. The mother left the train at Pierce and waited for the next train back to Burke. Burt Mapes left at noon for Sioux City. Dr. P. H. Salter went to Hoskins at noon. Dr. W. H. The little son of County Attorney Stewart of Pierce underwent a surgical operation here Wednesday morning for an eye affliction. Dr. P. H. Salter performed the operation. Hunters returning from the region of Newport say that the duck shooting is not so good just now as it has been at other times. Farmers there said that the shooting had been better two weeks ago. The little twenty day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Nistel of South Norfolk was buried yesterday afternoon in Prospect Hill cemetery. Dr. C. W. Ray of the Methodist church had charge of the funeral. The Norfolk hunting party, headed by M. C. Hazen, returned Wednesday morning from Newport, where they have been shooting at ducks for the past week. Duck shooting was not the best, but the party had an enjoyable outing. It seems to be the general opinion around the Newport lakes that the flight went farther east this year. Some Newport hunters expect a flight a little later, but the majority believe that native ducks will constitute about the only hunting from now on.

a proclamation declaring Norfolk to be a city of the first class. The governor's proclamation is based on the recent city census figures giving Norfolk a population of over 5,300 and brings to a successful close a campaign made by Mayor Sturgeon to secure for Norfolk the special privileges to which a city of the second class is entitled. Two Year Terms. Effective at once, the governor's action means that the city officers elected at the city election next Tuesday will all serve for two years. This is the opinion of City Attorney Hazen and the statutes seem to read clear on the subject. There will be a number of changes in the details of city government. Norfolk has been governed in the past under what is known as the Norfolk charter for cities under 5,000 people. It will now fall under the class of cities regulated by the Beatrice charter for cities having from 5,000 to 25,000 people.

Defined by Lad Who Got Nothing if He Worked, and Worse if He Didn't. Washington, March 31.—Representative Cushman in referring today to a speech made by Chairman Payne in which he intimated that lumber might be placed on the free list instead of having been given a reduction of one-half, said it reminded him of the story of a boy hoeing in a field of corn one hot summer day. The boy was working hard, so Mr. Cushman told the house, and beads of sweat stood out upon his forehead. A man riding by in a carriage said to him: "You are working hard, my boy. How much are you going to get for it?" "Nothing if I do it, and hell if I don't," the boy replied.

Anoka Royal Neighbors Entertain. Anoka, Neb., April 1.—Special to The News: The Royal Neighbors of Anoka, Golden Rod camp, No. 5557, held their first banquet and social in the Owen's hall and the ladies of the order set an immense example for their parent camp, the M. W. A. of Anoka, to follow. The R. U. A. camp was instituted just a month ago with twenty members, and increased to thirty in one month with more "Jin-jing." This social in attendance and merriment, was unequalled of any thing of the kind ever held in Anoka or vicinity. The ladies of the order furnished all the material used for such an occasion, and received much praise from the people and visitors in attendance for the appearance and profuse decorations and loaded down with the best the market could afford banquet tables. The Anoka brass band serenaded the crowded hall at 10:30 p. m. They also were encored to a fazeel, which showed that the people appreciated their selections played. The banquet and social was given for the purpose of raising funds to buy an entire new set of regalia and paraphernalia. Following are officers of the Golden Rod camp, No. 5557: Oracle, Mrs. A. F. Arnold; V. O. Mrs. A. B. Green; P. O. Mrs. H. W. Parchen; C. Mrs. T. J. McMullen; recorder, Mrs. Charles Grainger; Rec., Miss S. Wilberger; M. Miss E. Wilberger; A. S. Mrs. A. Wilberger; I. S. SHE HORSEWHIPS MAN. Attacks Him in Postoffice and Applies Whip Until He is Rescued. Burbank, S. D., March 31.—With a buggy whip in her hand and a look of determination in her face, Mrs. J. W. Hammond, wife of the keeper of a general store at this place, entered the postoffice evidently looking for someone, and the way she applied the corrective rod to the head and shoulders of T. C. Maud, a local stock buyer, indicated that he was the man she was looking for. A son of the victim came to the relief of the man and the whip was grabbed and broken. The cause of the sensational attack on the part of Mrs. Hammond is said to be that insinuating reports had been spread by Tom Maud to the effect that intoxicating liquors were being sold at the store owned by the woman's husband. There have been no arrests as the result of the spectacular assault. Repair Shop for Huron. Huron, S. RICH WOMAN ENDS HER LIFE

Mrs. Pierre Lorillard Commits Suicide in Washington. FOUND LIFELESS ON FLOOR.

Tragic Death of Wife of Tobacco Magnate Shocks First Social Circles of National Capital—Wearies of Gay Whirl of Society.

Washington, March 26.—Weary of the gay whirl of society and face to face, as she believed, with years of physical suffering, Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Jr., aged forty-nine, wife of the tobacco magnate, committed suicide by asphyxiation at her home near the fashionable Dupont circle in this city. Her tragic death has shocked the first social circles of the capital as nothing else in years. The members of the Lorillard family, famous because of its wealth, are gathering here to mourn over the unexpected blow. In spite of the coroner's certificate of death by suicide, members of the family declare Mrs. Lorillard died of heart failure. The death was more dramatic by occurring only a few hours after Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard had been the guests of Mrs. Townsend, on Massachusetts avenue, at a dinner given in honor of Lady Paget. In fact, it is believed that as soon as Mrs. Lorillard arrived at her home at 2:30 Hillier place, shortly after midnight, she began to prepare for her death.

About 8:30 a. m. the butler in the Lorillard residence detected an odor of gas permeating the rooms. With little difficulty the origin of the fumes was traced to Mrs. Lorillard's apartments. Opening the door of the bathroom, just off of her suite, the butler was horrified to behold the body of the mistress of the house stretched out lifeless on the floor. Her face was turned to the mat on the floor. Mrs. Lorillard left a note which the coroner has seen, but which Mr. Lorillard has declined to give his permission for it to be made public. While addressed to no one, it is said, it is personal in its nature. It is understood that it contains no intention on the part of Mrs. Lorillard to take her life.

Mrs. Lorillard was subject to frequent attacks of despondency, it is said. Mr. Lorillard stated that in his opinion the death of his wife was not due to suicidal intent, but was the result of an accident. He is said to have denied that his wife left a note. Mrs. Lorillard before her marriage to Mr. Lorillard in 1881 was Miss Caroline J. Hamilton. She is survived by two sons, one of whom is now traveling in the Orient and the other is in college in New York. Since the Lorillards began spending the winter social season in Washington they have entertained largely. They were prominent in the social and diplomatic life of the capital.

SEVEN KILLED BY FALLING WALL

Victims Were at Work in Ruins of Fire in Chicago Stock Yards. Chicago, March 26.—Seven men were killed, five were seriously injured and a dozen others narrowly escaped injury when a part of a thirty-five-foot brick wall, left standing after a fire a month ago which destroyed the butter plant of Swift & Co., crashed down on them without warning. They were laying foundations for a new building a few feet from the tottering wall of the butter plant when the wall fell, burying the victims in tons of bricks. It is thought that the wind blew the wall over. The dead: R. A. Schmidt, contractor; James Herbert, laborer; five unidentified laborers.

The package of bills, still marked as they were said to have been paid to the abductors by Mr. Whitia, were taken to a safety deposit bank, to remain till it may be needed as evidence in the trial.

Tells How to Prepare a Simple Mixture to Overcome Disease. To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime. Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home drugists, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses. This prescription forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism. As Rheumatism is not only the most painful and torturous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief. It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism. Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you want it badly.

FIGHT OVER NORFOLK GIRL.

Sioux City, March 31.—Considerable excitement was caused at the Northwestern passenger depot when Mrs. Mary Mulligan of 215 Sixth street, Sioux City, and Miss Freda Siler of Newcastle, Neb., each tagging at eight-year-old Grace Mulligan, fought for her possession. Mrs. Mulligan had hold of the child's shoulders, while Miss Siler held fast to her feet, each woman trying to break the other's hold in order to secure the child. Meantime the little girl was screaming from pain. Releasing the child, Mrs. Mulligan waded into Miss Siler and was giving her a thrashing when Patrolman Overmier, who was at the lunch counter, appeared on the scene and sent both women and little Grace to police headquarters.

LEANED THE CHILD.

The matter was taken before the Nebraska courts and Mrs. Mulligan lost. Following this an attempt to kidnap the child was frustrated by relatives of Miss Siler. Yesterday morning Miss Siler, accompanied by the child, came to Sioux City to do some shopping. Learning of this, Mrs. Mulligan stationed herself at the depot to await the appearance of Miss Siler and Grace, and when they entered the waiting room the mother grabbed her daughter and attempted to run away with her.

LIKE TUG OF WAR.

Quick as lightning Miss Siler followed, clutching the child by the feet and the two women tugged away for the possession of the child for several minutes. At police headquarters Miss Siler declared that Mrs. Mulligan had deserted Grace and that the courts of Nebraska had given the child to her. Denying this, Mrs. Mulligan demanded that Grace be retained in the custody of the police until the matter could be settled by the Iowa courts. Finally Miss Siler agreed to remain overnight in Sioux City to have the question settled, so she was allowed to go, taking the child with her. Miss Siler spent the night at the Arcade hotel, but when officers went there in the morning to serve a warrant, charging her with enticing the child away from its mother, which had been sworn out by Mrs. Mulligan, she could not be found. A child's hat was found in the room, but the supposition is that Miss Siler has returned to Nebraska.
