After Sunday the evening Dallas passenger connects with this train. The new morning train west, though a seven-day train, is not put on until Monday morning, when it leaves the Junction at 7:10 and comes uptown, leaving the city station at 7:25, proceeding west towards Chadron over the west wye. All of the trains are local save the new fast train from Omaha, which arrives at 7:35 p. m. The corrected time card appears in The News today. Mrs. H. S. Overocker is on the sick list this week. The Methodist Aid society will be entertained at the Methodist church next Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Martin Brubaker and Mrs. H. B. Thomas. All the ladies are invited to attend. Mrs. H. A. John Kyl and family have moved here from Sioux City. Mr. Kyl is an expert cream tester and will work for E. B. Kaufman, who has found it necessary, on account of large increase in business, to make an addition to his force. A number of Norfolk followers of the wrestling sport arranged to attend the Saturday evening wrestling match at Enola between "Kid" Jensen and Dick Walton. It was stated Saturday afternoon that several carriages and autos were going down to Madison for the match. The Norfolk high school baseball team, which played a return game with the Neligh high school at Neligh Saturday afternoon, will close the season next Saturday by a game in this city with the Stanton high school. The Norfolk nine took the noon train to Neligh Saturday, expecting a close game. Fighting dogs badly frightened Mrs. Thomas Ferris last evening. Mrs. Ferris, accompanied by her husband, was walking down Norfolk avenue when several dogs started fighting beneath her feet and she fell to the sidewalk. She was carried into the Puesler tailor shop and, after a short rest, was able to go home in a carriage. J. H. Conley expects to ship his household goods to Presho, S. D., the last day of the present month. Mr. Conley has traded his home on South Thirteenth street to W. B. Donaldson

for a quarter section of land three miles south of town, which he has sold to John Barry of Wahoo. Mr. Conley disposed of a quarter of the acre adjacent to the Donaldson quarter to Barry two weeks ago. Salina (Kan.) Evening Journal: Miss Hattie McKim, of 141 South Eighth street, is having the pleasure of a visit for a few days from the following friends, who composed the party in which Miss Hattie and her brother, Rev. Wm. R. McKim, for a number of years rector of the Episcopal church of this city, took the Mediterranean cruise a year ago: Mr. and Mrs. Hiland Southworth, Miss Elsie Southworth, Mr. J. C. Stevens, Mrs. G. K. Alexander of Abilene, and Miss Bertha McGregor of Parkersburg, W. Va. Miss McKim is entertaining a few friends with her guests at dinner this evening. A "tip" was secured today indicating that the Ringling circus would visit Norfolk. Barnum & Bailey recently had a "skirmisher" here but failed to connect with a Norfolk date and may really have been here in the interest of the other big show owned by the circus trust. In formation comes in an indirect way from the Ringling organization that the circus, which is said to carry 1,200 people, has contracted with the Union Pacific to carry its special trains over the Columbus-Norfolk branch for a Norfolk date. A very pleasant surprise was sprung on Miss Bessie Hunter Friday evening. A party of friends and classmates calling at the home of her aunt, Mrs. John Phinney unannounced bringing with them several beautiful presents and lots of good things to eat. Among those attending were: Misses Ethel Long, Lilla Williams, Gladys Hartford, Hattie Adams, Martha Brown, Opal Dunn, Ethel Hibben, Birdie Kuhl, Marguerite Lough, Buel Low, Alice Ogden, Myfamy Solomon, and Bessie Turner. Miss Hunter has been attending high school here, but will leave for her home in Custer, S. D., in a few days. The new clothing store of I. Sonneland, in the Marquard block, was formally opened to the public on Saturday, and the opening will continue tonight, when cigars for the men and carnations for the ladies will be given away by the proprietor. The room in which Mr. Sonneland opens a clothing store is that formerly occupied by the J. D. Sturgeon Music company. The room has been redecored and remodeled. Mr. Sonneland has been in business at Newman Grove for several years, prior to that having been located at Harlan, Ia. Mr. Sonneland has rented a dwelling on Eleventh street. He has two sons, one of whom is in the state university medical school, the other just finishing the high school course at Newman Grove. The latter will assist his father in the clothing business. The primary election this year takes place on August 17, the third Tuesday in the month. Misses Bertha Hanson of Tilden and Gertrude Thelan of Alton, Ia., have come to Norfolk to accept positions in the A. L. Killian store. Joe Trulock, who has been critically ill, was able to be up town Saturday morning for the first time since his illness. Pierce Leader: Miss Rena Olmsted of Norfolk, principal of our high school, was offered a similar position in the Plainview school the first of the week. However, Miss Olmsted will remain in Pierce for the coming school year. The Norfolk Jewelry company will open a new store on Norfolk avenue. This is the same company who have for years had a store at this location, but, who last year sold their entire stock to H. D. Howard of Fairfield, Mr. Howard removing the stock to Fairfield. Seven-year-old Charles Mather, a fishing in a ditch, succeeded yesterday afternoon in catching his left hand in the throw line he was using to catch fish none of which of course were really in the little pool. One of the hooks on the throw line became deeply imbedded in the fleshy part of the hand. It was impossible to extract the hook until a physician was called. Dr. Hagey cut out the prong. The lad is a son of George Mather living on South Fourth-street. A meeting of the Fourth of July committee will be called next week to take action on the Norfolk celebration, which has been rather hanging fire recently. The business men declared strongly in favor of a celebration, and it is desired that the celebration be one of the best in Nebraska. Wayne has decided not to celebrate, but a number of Norfolk's close neighbors, including Stanton, Pierce and Osmond, will celebrate. Up in the Rosebud both Dallas and Fairfax have decided to celebrate. Wakefield and Carroll, in northeast Nebraska, will celebrate. Norfolk, Pierce, Osmond and Fairfax have decided to celebrate on Saturday, the third. Carroll celebrates on the fifth. The Fourth of July escapes the daylight saloon law by a close margin. The new 8 o'clock law becomes effective Tuesday, June 8. Pat Chandler no longer languishes in the county jail. One of the acts of Judge Welch in Madison during the week was to issue an order discharging Chandler from the custody of the sheriff on condition that he remain in the jurisdiction of the court and that he report each month to District Clerk W. H. Fields the amount of his earnings, which, after deducting what is actually necessary for his own support, shall be paid on the judgment obtained by Minnie Preuss. Chandler has been in the county jail for about six months, during which time he has made repeated efforts to be released. He was held in the jail because the judgment was not paid and, having no money to pay it, he might have spent the remainder of his life in the county jail, had not Judge Welch thought that he had been punished enough to be entitled to a chance to pay off the claim. Chandler's real name is Chauncey Chandler, but he is known as Pat Chandler.

North Nebraska Deaths. George Reimberger, 57, age 73, who died at the home of his son near Madison, had only recently removed from his home in Michigan. James K. Porter, who had lived in Alinsworth, Madison and Fairfax, S. D., died recently at his home in Spokane. Miss Ida Williams of Randolph, who died of pneumonia, was buried in the Wayne cemetery. Now Believes in Dreams. Sioux Falls, S. D., May 21.—Special to The News: That there is nothing whatever in dreams has been the belief of Frank Delire, a business man of the little town of Platte, but now it is different. Delire himself had a dream which proved to be one of the more than ordinary kind. Last fall he in some manner lost a diamond while in his store, and a search at the time failed to reveal the slightest trace of the missing jewel. Since that time he has thought of the diamond on a number of occasions, being greatly puzzled as to what could have become of it. Doubtless through thinking of the lost diamond he a night or two ago dreamed of the missing gem. In his dream he saw the lost diamond swept out of his store and dumped into a barrel of sweepings which stood in the yard behind his store. The dream was so vivid a character and made such an impression upon him that he decided to examine the contents of the barrel. Going somewhat shamefacedly to the rear of his store, he dumped the contents of the barrel upon a clear spot of ground, and then commenced pushing the debris aside as he looked for the missing diamond. After working for a time he caught the reflection of something bright, which proved to be the lost diamond, which had remained in the barrel since being placed there last fall soon after it was lost. Court at Fairfax. Fairfax, S. D., May 22.—Special to The News: Judge Tripp arrived at noon from Yankton and opened an adjourned term of district court, and it is understood will "clear the calendar." There are probably fifty cases to be disposed of. Several outside attorneys are present. Peterson-Calver. Ainsworth, Neb., May 22.—Special to The News: Miss Mabel Calver of this city and Hans Peterson, a railway machinist at Long Pine, were married at the home of the bride in this city Thursday evening. They are at home to their friends in Long Pine. Unite Madison Phones. Madison, Neb., May 22.—Special to The News: At a meeting of the directors in the Madison Telephone company and the Farmers' Independent Telephone company, held in the office of County Attorney Nicholson yesterday, consolidation was effected. Otto Fuerst will be superintendent of the new company and is now blocking out the city for new cables and wires. About $2,000 will be expended. One switchboard will be used—that now in the Jensen building. The same instruments as those used by the Bell company, will be used. $191.80 From Braasch Fund. Madison, Neb., May 22.—Special to The News: The inheritance tax which Madison county received from the Braasch estate, of which final account was made yesterday before County Judge Bates, is $191.80, less the expense of making the appraisal and accounting therefor, which will be paid by the county treasurer out of this fund. The portion of the tax coming from the heirs of the estate was paid under protest; however, there is little ground or likelihood of a contest. All taxes of this nature go into the road fund of the county. O. H. Gillespie, one of Madison's popular merchants and a member of the city council, has received notice from Governor Shallenberger that he had been appointed a delegate to the national good road congress, which convenes at Seattle during the exposition this summer. Mr. Gillespie has long been preaching the gospel of good roads, and has patented one of the best road graders on the market. George Moline, a pioneer resident of Madison county, died this morning at St. Anthony's hospital, Denver, where he was taking treatment. His funeral will take place at the Catholic church of this city Monday. Goes to Naper. West Point, Neb., May 24.—Special to The News: Miss Katherine Linton, primary teacher of the West Point public schools, has resigned her position and will become principal of the schools at Naper, Boyd county, at an increased salary. Wisner Contributes Liberally. Wisner, Neb., May 24.—Special to The News: To Rev. L. V. Slocum and W. E. Kelso is due the credit of soliciting $1,620 toward remodeling the Methodist church and parsonage of this city and, as but six and a half hours were required for the work, the gentlemen are happy over their success. The people of Wisner are responding generously to this call and, since the work of soliciting is not yet completed, the prospect for a larger church and a comfortable parsonage is unusually good. This need has been felt for some time, and now that the work has begun, the desired changes are practically assured. Funeral of Mrs. Jones. Neligh 20; Norfolk 8. Neligh, Neb., May 24.—Special to The News: Funeral services of Mrs. Louis Lamson-Jones was held yesterday afternoon at the Congregational up after the ball game Saturday afternoon at the Riverside park grounds. The old saying held good in the second inning of the game, when the score should be eleven or no count, and so it was. Estabrook, for Norfolk, was knocked out of the box in the fifth inning, after the game was won twice over. Kelleher was placed in the box and was effective the rest of the game, Neligh being unable to score during the remainder of the innings. Woods of Neligh was credited with two home runs, as was also Miller and Herring with one each. Harriman was unusually wild, allowing eight to walk. A dance was given in Daxon's hall in the evening in honor of the Norfolk young people. Following is the score by innings: Norfolk 0 3 0 0 4 1 0—8 Neligh 2 1 1 0 6 0 0—20 Batteries—Norfolk, Estabrook, Kelleher, Erskine and Rice; Neligh, Harriman and Fletcher. Hits—Neligh 19; Norfolk 5. Struck out—By Harriman 11; Estabrook 3; Kelleher 6. Her Parents Objected. Fairfax, S. D., May 22.—Special to The News: Eddie Miller, a mixed blood, living south of Herrick and well known ball player, and Miss Curry quietly drove down to the county capital and, after securing the necessary permit from the county clerk, were quietly married. It afterward developed that they had "stolen a march" on the girl's parents, who opposed the match. Gates 17, Elgin 9. Neligh, Neb., May 24.—Special to The News: The second baseball game for the afternoon of Saturday was played after the high school boys of Neligh and Norfolk had finished. This contest was between Gates academy and Elgin, and was an extremely one-sided affair, the Gates boys having it all their own way. Owing to the lateness of the afternoon the game was limited to seven innings. Following is the score: Gates 3 4 0 3 5 2—17 Elgin 1 4 1 0 2 0 1—9 Batteries—Gates, Harris and Wood; Elgin, DeWitt, Clark and Bennett. Pilger 5, Wisner 2. Wisner, Neb., May 24.—Special to The News: Pilger defeated Wisner in a game of baseball on the Wisner diamond. Score: Pilger 5 Wisner 2 Hits: Pilger 12; Wisner, 5; bases on balls: Pilger, 1. Batteries: Pilger, Cooper and Happel; Wisner, Zajizek, Anderson and Thompson. Umpire, Saunders. Theatrical Season Ends. The theatrical season of 1908-9 came to a close at the Norfolk Auditorium with the presentation by the Burwood Stock company of Omaha, of "The Girl From Out Yonder." The company was greeted by a crowded house and the audience was well pleased with the play and players. The company, which had made the acquaintance of the Norfolk theater-going public previously during the season, is capable and well balanced. The play was an interesting little love story with human interest and a bit of pathos mixed in, and the special scenery brought for the production was all that could be desired. Miss Leone capably filled her role and Mr. Ingraham played the role of the pitiful old man with consistency. Mr. Gibson, the company's comedian, was intensely clever as Ben Cook, the typical fisherman. The theatrical season just closing has not been highly successful in a financial way in any portion of the United States, due to the money panic of 1907, more than half of the theatrical companies that started out, going to the wall before the season had fairly begun. This has made it extremely difficult to secure good attractions. On the whole, however, the shows that have come to Norfolk have been above former averages in point of quality. Among them was Klein's "The Lion and the Mouse," which was pronounced by many as the very best attraction that ever came to Norfolk. Promise for next year is much brighter than the past year, the revival of business prosperity having already made it apparent that there will be more good shows on the road. The Norfolk theater-going public has given loyal support to the Auditorium on those attractions which could be secured for the year just closed, and the management wishes to cordially thank one and all for the liberal patronage and good words extended. The effort of the Auditorium management is to constantly secure better attractions and this can be done, of course, only through universal co-operation on the part of Norfolk people. But Norfolk has already demonstrated pretty well that it will support high grade attractions and, with the theater-goers and the Auditorium working together in supporting the better class of shows, the promise is bright for the future. Said to Have Kissed Bride. Madison, Neb., May 24.—Special to The News: Saturday afternoon, at the county court room, Judge Bates issued a marriage license to and joined in holy wedlock Warren T. Rash of Albion, and Miss Florence M. Bain of Elgin. It is rumored around the court house that W. H. Harding, assistant county clerk, kissed the bride and County Treasurer Peterson wanted to, but Judge Bates refused to either affirm or deny the report. At any rate, they both witnessed the ceremony. Funeral of Mrs. Jones. Neligh, Neb., May 24.—Special to The News: Funeral services of Mrs. Louis Lamson-Jones was held yesterday afternoon at the Congregational
