Three Others Hurt. Besides the serious injuries sustained by Miss Anna Williams, other occupants of the touring car were bruised and hurt. The injured: Ben Nelson, driver of the car, sustained a severe ankle sprain.

Speeding in Dark; No Lights. It was in a Ford touring car, driven by Nelson, that the party were riding. They were on the race track and had just been passed by Bert Miller in his Maxwell machine, going in the same direction.

Car Turns Somersault. Because of the speed and the sharp angle, the car turned over on its left side, spilling all occupants, and then went on over, landing on its wheels again.

In my opinion Secretary Wilson is afraid to rescind the order and is also afraid to have the matter come into court, believing that he will be defeated. In the meantime Nebraska millers will continue to manufacture bleached flour.

Performers Here; Al Ritchie Gone. A number of show performers, including men and women broncho riders and aerial acrobats, who came to Norfolk in response to the advertisements of Al Ritchie in the national dramatic papers claiming that he would start a wild west and frontier show in Norfolk today, have arrived in the city and are at the present time stranded here.

Lucas Aerial Performers Here. Among the performers stranded here are the three Lucases—aerial acrobats—who came from Lincoln in response to Ritchie's magazine advertisement, expecting to join a show here. They say they cancelled other contracts in order to accept Ritchie's offer of higher pay.

Other Performers Stranded Here. The Lucases announced they would give street performances during the day to raise funds. Besides these, the following show people are here: H. W. Walton, Oklahoma City, with five horses; a boss canvasman.

Women Riders "Dead Broken." Miss Chase and Miss Turner, the two women riders, spent their last cent getting here. They ride wild horses, claiming to break any horse brought to them.

Y., leaving his boy to the judgment of the law.

Madison County is Out of Debt. The statement of County Treasurer Peterson published today, probably makes the best showing of any treasurer's statement ever published in this county. This statement shows that the county is out of debt, except the current bills that have been contracted since the 1908 levy was exhausted, and these will be paid as soon as the 1909 levy is available.

Good Work of Commissioners. This showing speaks volumes for the economical management of county affairs under the direction of the present board of county commissioners. It will be remembered that some five or six years ago, the county was asked to vote bonds in the amount of $40,000 to build and repair bridges, which proposition the voters very promptly turned down.

Real Things Done. Besides the bridge improvements, miles of road have been graded and put in first class condition all over the county, while considerable money has been invested in taking care of the river where it was cutting into roads and private property, the system of riprapping adopted having proved unusually successful.

Make Every Dollar Count. This showing is somewhat remarkable in view of the bad state of affairs four years ago, in that while the county owed large sums at that time, it is practically out of debt now. No more forceful commentary on the business sagacity of the board of county commissioners who have handled the financial affairs of the county could be made.

Democracy Meet on Saturday. Madison county democrats will meet at Battle Creek Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of selecting six delegates to the state platform convention.

Caucuses held in Norfolk to select delegates to the county convention resulted in naming the following persons: First Ward—John F. Flynn, H. E. Gerecke, Theodore Barnhardt, T. C. Cantwell.

Second Ward—Henry F. Haase, Paul Laebke, Tate Wille, J. E. Haase, C. H. Krahke.

Third Ward—August Steffen, Fred Leu, P. J. Stafford, Julius Degner.

Fourth Ward—W. J. Brannigan, Henry Kennedy, Matt Shaffer, J. S. Burnett, Cooney Campman.

Outside Precinct—C. F. Winter, Herbustow, Henry Uecker, C. B. Flint, Fred Kranz, John Wade.

Chairman John Flynn has just received a letter from State Chairman T. H. Allen stating that Madison county is entitled to six delegates.

Mr. Flynn has also received a letter from W. H. Fields, clerk of the district court, asking that the democrats name a full set of officers of election, as provided by law.

Miss Williams Slightly Better. Pierce, Neb., July 24.—Special to The News: Miss Anna Williams, the 17-year-old daughter of former Railway Commissioner J. A. Williams of this city, who was so seriously injured in an automobile accident here Thursday night, roused up slightly today from the state of unconsciousness into which she lapsed, and Dr. Salter thought that she was somewhat improved, though not out of danger.

Think Not Internally Injured. Dr. Salter this morning said that he did not believe, as he had at first feared, that Miss Williams was internally injured. He had also feared that there had been a fracture of the skull but now believes it was only a concussion of the skull.
