That the Anti-Saloon league of Nebraska is taking an active part in the present state campaign, and particularly with reference to county elections, became apparent in Norfolk when Marna S. Poulson, state superintendent of the league, reached Norfolk Sunday to make inquiries regarding the various candidates running for office in Madison county.

The exploding of a gasoline stove at the Busy Bee restaurant at the Junction resulted in a small blaze at 5 o'clock this morning, which destroyed some furniture, but did little damage to the building. The fire team was delayed in starting because no firemen were available for some minutes. The fire was practically out when the firemen arrived.

Mrs. Frank Winter, who cut the arteries of her wrist accidentally last week while opening fruit jars, is much better and will soon recover. It was thought the case was serious, as three of the arteries were cut and a wound five inches long and three inches deep was made by the broken glass.

Mrs. W. R. Hoffman, who has been spending a month's vacation in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey, returned Sunday. Mr. Hoffman says the Hudson-Fulton celebration is the greatest fete in the history of our country.

The naval parade, he says, was immense. Although he did not witness any flight of the aviators, Curtis and Wright, he looked over their machines on Governors Island. Mr. Hoffman spent most of his vacation visiting at his brother's farm in New Jersey, forty miles from New York City.

A lone burglar entered the Kiesau drug store at 11 o'clock last night, but was frightened away by Herman Schelley, one of the clerks, who had returned to the store to put away a bicycle for the night. As Schelley entered the store he noticed the burglar rummaging around, and with Patrolman O'Brien immediately gave chase, but the burglar jumped out of the rear second story window, through which he entered, and escaped.

Neligh Leader: The game of football last Saturday between the high school teams of Neligh and Norfolk was closely contested. Perhaps from a critical standpoint the Norfolk boys played the better game, yet they lost by a score of 6 to 0.

M'MILLAN'S NOTED DISCOVERY

Peary Party Member Found Tropic Fern on Rock Near North Pole. Professor Donald McMillan, a member of the Peary north pole expedition, has made some important discoveries tending to prove that the frigid zone was once hotter than the equator is at present. He found large numbers of vegetable and marine fossils. In a huge rock split open by frost the perfect imprint of a great tropical fern was visible. The petrified stump of a tree eighteen inches in diameter was found, while there were other evidences of whole forests in a state of petrification. Some fine coal seams were also located. Near Black cape.

PROFESSOR DONALD M'MILLAN.

latitude 81 degrees 25 minutes, fossil remains of tropical animals were found.

A new species of seal was discovered by Professor McMillan, and the eggs, nest and a photograph of the knot, a rare arctic bird, never before collected, were secured.

The knot is a bird that does not come down from the ice regions. It has been rarely captured by arctic explorers. There is a mounted specimen in a museum in St. Petersburg, the only one in Europe.

Professor McMillan's loss in the recent raid on the steamer Roosevelt made by souvenir hunters is more than 100 books of all kinds, a camera, a notebook containing the names of 237 Eskimos of the Etah tribe and a notebook on animal life above the eighty-second parallel. Mr. Borup has lost twenty-five books and material relating to photography.
