

Healing by Music.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—The newest science, which is also one of the oldest, is the science of healing by music. Tests which have been made direct and are being used in the Samaritan hospital here, under the supervision of Rev. Russell H. Conwell, its president, were announced today, and are verified by Dr. William Haeckles and other physicians and surgeons comprising the staff of the Samaritan hospital. These men and the nurses who have aided in making observations unite in testifying to the beneficial effect upon the temperature and pulsations of their patients of certain musical airs and the evil and depressing influences of other tunes. They found that the old, rich, melodious hymn, "I know that my redeemer liveth," brought patients forth from the trance of anesthesia with none of the nausea and feverish symptoms that usually follow an awakening. They further found that fever was abated and restlessness reduced by a fine old song, "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton"; that "Dixie" calmed a patient who had delirium, and that "Juanita" and "The Last Rose of Summer" and other soft phrased melodies sent pain racked invalids into soothing, healing slumber.

In the course of the experimentation Dr. Conwell and the physicians discovered that a number of songs produced injuries effects upon the patients. Among these disturbing tunes were many hymns, as "Abide With Me" and "Behold a Stranger at the Door" were distinctly unfavorable in their results. "Ben Bolt," "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The Dead March From Saul" produced the worst effects.

WON'T TREAT WITH STRIKERS.

Chicago Garment Makers' Strike Now Seems Far From Settlement. Chicago, Nov. 16.—Hopes of peace in the garment workers' strike faded when the most of the large firms refused to hear of any proposition that in any way resembles a union. They asserted they would not sign any contract that recognizes the principle of collective bargaining.

Commissary stores, each with provisions for 300 families, will be opened in the localities where most of the strikers live. The goods will be sorted in parcels, each containing provisions to last an average family three days.

An effort is being made to have the American Federation of Labor, now in session in St. Louis, levy an assessment of two cents per capita on all affiliated unions.

This would net the strikers about $25,000.

INSTRUCT EMPLOYES.

Railroad Men Now Busy With New Set of Rules. Now rules contained in the book just issued to employes formed a topic for discussion at a meeting of railroad men in Norfolk.

An effort will be made to have the men on the eastern division thoroughly schooled in the new rules so that they can be put into effect December 1, or by December 5 at the latest. It is thought that a new timecard will be issued at that time, in order that it may embody the new rules.

With a view to aiding the employes to learn the new rules, examining boards will conduct classes at the various terminal points on the division. Trainmaster E. O. Mount of Fremont, assisted by Conductor A. C. Wadsworth of Omaha, will have charge of this work at Fremont, and will hold two classes daily, commencing today. Later they will do the same at Omaha, Council Bluffs and Lincoln. Winnetoon's Fire House.

Winnetoon Pioneer: The Winnetoon fire department, who were intending to build a hose house over the pump station on the hill near the standpipe, decided it would be more convenient and much better for the property interests to have it located nearer the business section and the bell tower. Last week a number of the fire ladders pulled off their coats and secured their hammers and saws and proceeded to get busy. Contractor Paulson engineered the work, and the way the building went up would be credit to most any bunch of "wood butchers." The hose house was built directly north of the hose house a fifty foot incline about four feet wide was built for drying the hose after being used. Yes, Winnetoon has a fire department, waterworks, and a well that supplies all the water needed.

KUHL A CANDIDATE.

Enters List for Presiding Officer of House After Urging by Friends. Randolph, Neb., Nov. 16.—John Kuhl, re-elected to the house of representatives of the state legislature for the third successive term, has announced himself a candidate for speaker of that body during the coming session. The announcement of his candidacy comes in response to an urgent petition of friends, not only in Cedar county, but all over Nebraska.

The boom for Representative Kuhl was started as soon as it was known that he had filed for re-election. Having ascertained that the next house is surely democratic he made an announcement of his candidacy yesterday.

He was a member of both the 1907 sessions of the legislature, representing the Ninth district consisting of Cedar and Pierce counties. His record has been so satisfactory to his constituency in this district that each time his re-election has been by an increased majority. This year it was 816. Local democrats are rejoicing to learn of his candidacy and will make a strong effort in his behalf to land him in the speaker's chair.

Mr. Kuhl attained considerable prominence by his hard work during the session of 1907, when a republican majority controlled the house. As chairman of the committee on privileges and elections and member of several other important committees during the last session he was regarded as one of the leaders of that session of the legislature.

He was strongly urged two years ago to become a candidate for the speakership, but refused at that time, declaring that he preferred to gather more experience through work on the floor of the house.

GETS 48 WOLVES IN A YEAR.

This is the Record Made by W. W. Goode in Boyd County. Butte Gazette: We believe we can without successful contradiction say that W. W. Goode is one of the most successful wolf hunters around this country. One week ago Sunday he went down to the Niobrara river and with his pack of hounds, captured three wolves, and last Sunday he went again and rid Boyd county of one more chicken thief. This makes forty-eight wolves all told that he has killed with his fine pack of dogs in less than a year.

The Fairfax Jail Delivery.

Fairfax Advertiser: The two prisoners who have been confined in the county jail for several days, made their escape some time Thursday night, November 10. Jailer Ford, on going to the jail Friday morning discovered that the breakfast prepared for the prisoners was not needed. They had concluded to forego their morning meal in order to save time and put as much space as possible between them and Fairfax.

On examination it was found the prisoners had cut out the wooden sill where the iron bars to the window were imbedded and bending one of the bars down, squeezed through. The prisoners were P. L. Wyman awaiting trial for forgery, and a man named Glover, charged with robbery. No clue to the prisoners has so far been discovered.

Cruelty Charged Against Hospital.

Tilden Citizen: J. A. Hayes, who was recently adjudged insane at Neligh and committed to the asylum at Norfolk, was in town Saturday, apparently as rational as ever. He states that much brutality is practised by the attendants at the asylum and is of the opinion that any sane man, compelled to spend a few months at the institution, would become demented from the excessive cruelty of those who are paid by the state to administer humane treatment to those under their charge.

Before the convention ends the delegates, according to leaders, will have to decide for or against socialism. Gompers in his report said that politically an invariable problem which confronts the trade union movement is now to take action without binding itself to a hard and fast "ism," "ology" or platform.

Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee, the socialist congressman-elect, and Max Hayes of Cleveland are leading in the struggle to have the convention declared for socialism. Hayes' friends would like to see him succeed Gompers in the presidency.

Crying piteously, an employe of John Robinson of the Norfolk Junk and Iron Co., walked from Hadar to Norfolk yesterday after his horse had run away from him. The man, about 29 years of age, took the runaway so much to heart that many people passing him took pity on him and asked the cause of his ill fortune. With tears pouring in torrents from his eyes the man told of leaving his horse and wagon on the road and entering a house. When he had come out he saw old Dobbin making hasty steps for Norfolk and he followed. At times he believed he would be able to catch the rig, but when his hopes were almost realized the steed galloped away faster than ever. When the rig nearly reached the city it collided with an obstruction in its path and the wagon was slightly damaged and the horse, breaking its moorings, arrived in the city minus the wagon.

Electric Light Difficulties.

An expert from the boiler factory that manufactured the big new boiler in the electric light plant, which has been giving so much trouble since it was set up, is here and, after an inspection of the boiler, announces that it was not set up right originally. The automatic stoker is the part that has been causing all the trouble, and this the expert announces will have to be taken down and reset several inches lower than it now stands. When this is done, the expert announces, there will be no further trouble with the steam generating plant, and it ought to be in condition to furnish continuous power for months. In the meantime it is announced by the electric light management that a duplicate power plant has been ordered and that it will be in place as soon as possible to install it.

The frequent failure of the plant to furnish light and power during the past two weeks has caused a good deal of dissatisfaction among patrons, which seems to make a good opening for utilizing the power at the Sugar City Cereal Mills. To that end, Messrs.
