

SUGAR MEN MUST APPEAR.

Or Else Congressional Committee Will Go and Get Them.

Washington, June 17.—Chairman Hardwick, of the house sugar investigation committee, is sending tart replies to persons who seek to delay appearing before the committee in response to formal summons. The following telegram was sent to prospective witnesses:

"You will please appear on the day designated or we will send an officer to bring you here and keep you until we want you."

Among the prominent sugar men asked to appear in the near future are Joseph F. Smith of Utah, head of the Mormon church; John D. and Adolph Spreckles of California.

CHANCES OF LIFE.

Figures That Indicate Your Probable Future in Years.

Do you ever wonder how long you are going to live? Ask an actuary, the man who figures it all out for the life insurance companies and who can tell with almost supernatural precision.

He'll tell you that if you are 20, and in good health, chances are 12 to 1 that you'll live beyond 30. For longer life he'll offer these odds: To be 40, 5 to 1; to be 50, 3 to 1; to be 60, 1 to 2; to be 70, 1 to 3; to be 80, 1 to 5; to be 90, 1 to 10; to be 100, 1 to 20.

Suppose you are 30. Your chances run this way: To be 40, 11 to 1; to be 50, 4 to 1; to be 60, 2 to 1; to be 70, 1 to 2; to be 80, 1 to 5; to be 90, 1 to 10; to be 100, 1 to 20.

Or 40 years old. Actuary's odds are: To be 50, 8 to 1; to be 60, 3 to 1; to be 70, 1 to 2; to be 80, 1 to 5; to be 90, 1 to 10; to be 100, 1 to 20.

Fifty-year-olds' prospects are figured: To be 60, 4 to 1; to be 70, about 1 to 1; to be 80, only 1 to 5; to be 90, 1 to 10; to be 100, 1 to 20.

Say you are 60. It runs this way at that age: To be 70, 2 to 1; to be 80, 1 to 2; to be 90, 1 to 5; to be 100, 1 to 10.

If you are 70 your chances of turning the 80 year milestone are 3 to 8; to be 90, 1 to 5; to be 100, 1 to 10.

Eighty-year-old men and women have only 1 chance in 17 to stave off the funeral until after 90.

If you are 90 there is no hope for you. The actuary has no figures.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The Seal's Marvelous Instinct.

The instinct of the seal is marvelous. It will leave its young on the ice in the morning and, going down through a hole, remain away all day swimming in search of food. Returning in the evening, it will locate its offspring in the same "patch" among hundreds of thousands of other baby seals notwithstanding that the ice may have wheeled or drifted fifty or sixty miles during the day from wind and tide and notwithstanding that the patch may extend thirty or forty miles from one end to the other. Whether this instinct is of the class that enables the bird without any mark or chart to find its way back with ease and precision to its nest I do not know, but it is one of those wonders in nature before which human knowledge is brought to a full stop.—Sir Edward Morris in Wide World Magazine.

Third Street Paving Assured.

The petition for the paving of South Third street requires now but the signature of any person owning 200 feet on that street. This morning a property owner cut the required number of feet down by asking that his name be placed on the petition for the paving of 200 feet of his property. George N. Beels, who has been active in the circulation of the petition, is assured by Third street property owners that his petition will have the required number of signers in time to hand the matter to the city council Monday night.

Plan a Big Poultry Show.

The Northeast Nebraska Poultry association held one of the most enthusiastic meetings in its history in Norfolk last night. The organization is found to be resting on a strong foundation. Every preparation has been made to start arrangements for the largest poultry show in the west. The show will be held in Norfolk January 3, 4, 5 and 6, 1912, with Judge Southard of Kansas City and local Judge E. I. Custer of Norfolk in charge.

The committee on arrangements for the new premium list are: W. P. Logan, H. B. Dixon, E. I. Custer. Larger premiums will be offered and every inducement given to get the breeders out with their birds. The association has conferred with other associations so there will be no conflict of dates as there was this year. So breeders from far and near have a cordial invitation to bring or send their birds and have them scored by a competent judge and to meet in strong competition and see what they have, for a ribbon at this show will mean a great many dollars to breeders as an advertising medium.

Candidates Are Backward.

West Point, Neb., June 19.—Special to The News: Fillings for county office are not very numerous in Cumming county as yet. Joseph Schueth has filed for the democratic nomination for clerk of the district court. Numerous candidates are spoken of for all offices except coroner and surveyor, but all seem to be afraid to break the ice.

SULTAN'S DENTIST HIDES.

Located by Wife After Flight from Constantinople, She Asserts. Philadelphia, June 19.—Mrs. Frank Faber, wife of Dr. Faber, who during the last twenty-five years has been dentist to the court of Constantinople, arrived in Philadelphia and announced that she had located her husband after a search of more than a year.

She has followed him all over the world only to learn that he is in Chicago. Mrs. Faber, who is an Armenian princess, says her husband will leave there to join her here.

According to Mrs. Faber, the departure of her husband from Constantinople was hurried. One day he was requested to call at the palace for the purpose of extracting a molar from the jaw of Abdul Hamid, who since has been dethroned.

Apparently the dentist did not use enough cocaine, as the sultan came out. The next thing Mrs. Faber heard from her husband was in Berlin.

The fleeing dentist wrote his wife he had incurred the sultan's displeasure and she should dispose of his Turkish properties "at any old figure" and leave the country immediately.

Dr. Faber declared he feared he would be beheaded or cast into a dungeon had he remained in Turkey.

Mrs. Faber said she followed the instructions of her husband and proceeded immediately to Berlin. She could not find him there and she went to London, where she met with no better success.

Then Mrs. Faber came to Philadelphia, where she met Dr. Robert Nones, who twenty-five years ago worked with her husband. Dr. Nones said he had seen Dr. Faber in this city within a month, and finally, she says, she located and communicated with him in Chicago. She refused absolutely to give the Chicago address.

Mrs. Faber asserts the present sultan wishes her husband to return to Turkey and again be the court dentist. She has an idea they wish to return on account of having in his possession many secrets of the old regime and that after the present ruler gets these the court dentist will be among the missing.

Postal Bank Deposits Grow.

Washington, June 19.—A statement issued by Postmaster General Hitchcock shows that a total of $290,666 was deposited in the first forty-eight postal savings banks in the five months of their operation. The second group of forty-five depositories which opened for business on May 1 received in the first month $70,749 in deposits—14.47 percent more than was taken in at the initial offices during the first month's operation. There were 2,119 separate deposits averaging $33.39. On July 1 it will be possible for depositors to convert their savings account into United States bonds bearing 2½ percent interest. Many applications for the bonds have been received. The reports received from the depositories are so encouraging the prediction is made that by June 1 deposits will have reached $1,000,000.

LA FOLLETTE WILLING.

Senator Would Be Candidate of Progressives for President.

Washington, June 19.—Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin will be a candidate for the republican nomination for the presidency.

This announcement, while not authoritative, is made at this time, when President Taft's friends are claiming the nomination of the chief executive by an overwhelming vote of the republican convention.

It is the more interesting, also, because it follows upon the heels of public reports that the progressive movement had disintegrated and that practically all the progressives in the senate had determined to support the president for the nomination.

Dumas' Riot of Extravagance.

Dumas' Monte Cristo villa was a lovely pleasure house, tropical in its taste and its extravagance—a weird confusion of Bohemia and the Arabian Nights. The spoils of the bazaars of Algeria and Tunis lay about the house, commingled with costly treasures of home manufacture, in a supreme disorder, and there was every embellishment which the caprices of a luxurious and undisciplined imagination could suggest—grottoes, trellises, pavilions, minarets, an artificial lake with an island and a cascade, a picture gallery, a studio, an aviary, a monkey house, a stable, a lion theater, a lion with a blue ceiling studded with stars to serve as a workroom for the master, who had the titles of his principal plays and stories graven conspicuously on the stones of his dwelling—"Passions of the French Romantics."

JAP BELLBOY WAS A PH.D.

Boston, June 19.—A good looking, quiet mannered Japanese, who usually sat on the end of the bell boys' bench waiting the call of "front" in a Boston hotel, will carry bags for guests no longer. It became known today that he sailed on the Romanic Saturday on his return to Japan, where he will be known as Prof. Yoshio Tanikawa, head of the department of philosophy in the University of Kioto.

Get Money from West Pointers.

West Point, Neb., June 19.—The city council has passed an ordinance granting a franchise to the Nebraska Transportation company granting them the privilege of passing through the city with the proposed interurban railway. A preliminary survey has been made and considerable money subscribed by the citizens of West Point.

Tuesday the first twenty-five bird sweepstakes will be held, 100 targets completing the program. Wednesday the preliminary handicap, a 100-bird event, will be shot off.

NATIONAL ANTHEM STOPS PANIC

Lightning Struck a Church While Commencement Exercises Were On.

Highstown, N. J., June 19.—While more than one thousand persons were crowded into the Baptist church at the commencement exercises of Peddie Institute, lightning struck the 200-foot steeple and sent it crashing to the earth. Every light in the building was extinguished and the church caught fire in a dozen places. The audience, in a panic, rushed for the doors, but the cool headed orchestra leader directed his men to play "The Star Spangled Banner." The effect was magical, and the outburst of the audience was stopped. Fifty women fainted in the panic and several others were bruised in the jam through the exits. A few minutes after the last person was taken from the building the fire was beyond control. The loss is about $50,000.

Stolen Horses and Buggy Found.

Sheriff C. S. Smith of Madison was in the city Saturday, hot on the trail of the thief or thieves who stole a team of horses and a buggy from the barn of John R. Saxton at Tilden on the night of June 15. The horses and buggy were found Saturday near the Raasch farm, northwest of this city. Tilden 2, Norfolk 1.

Five hundred Norfolk and sixty Tilden fans witnessed nine innings of fast baseball Sunday afternoon, when Tilden defeated the local team by a score of 2 to 1.

The score was a tie until the last inning, when Tilden brought in the winning run by safe hits. The game was no pitcher's battle and there were hits for both sides, but the pitchers kept them well scattered, making work for both the out and in fields.

The diamond was almost a lake of water during the morning, but Capt. Glissman and his men were on the ground early, drying it off by means of sawdust and gasoline. A harrow followed by a heavy roller put the diamond in fair shape by the time the visitors had arrived. Norfolk was a strong favorite until the last inning. The game was opened with a zero for Tilden and Norfolk scoring one. From the third inning, when Tilden tied the score, there were no runs until the ninth when Nelson for Tilden hit. He went to second on Ury's single and Stewart grounded a few feet straight into the diamond. Dunaway, Norfolk's new pitcher, took the grounder and caught Nelson at third by a close margin.

A dispute followed. Tilden claiming Stewart's grounder was a foul, and one umpire claiming it was a fair ball. The game was delayed with Ryan for Tilden forcing Nelson to stay on third. After much rag chewing Nelson was taken off, leaving Ury on second and Stewart on first. Warren flew out to Dunaway and Smith's hit brought Ury home for the winning score. Prior hit but was out from Dunaway to Glissman. Norfolk followed and reached third but Kingdon pitched a safe game and Tilden was the winner. There were many spectacular plays on both sides. H. Ury, Miller, E. Ury, Kingdon, Ryan, Glissman and Hoffman featured in good catches.

Girl Thrown Off of Train.

Hoskins, Neb., June 19.—Special to The News: C. W. Manck, the irate father who pursued his daughter and her lover to Norfolk a few weeks ago when the couple eloped and were married at Madison, and who subsequently filed charges against Smith, the bridegroom, is in jail here today on a charge sworn out yesterday after he had pushed the daughter off a moving train. The girl was starting to Jackson, Neb., to join her young husband, who is now a telegraph operator at that place, when her father boarded the train and threw her off. But for bystanders catching her, it is thought the girl would have fallen under the wheels.

A crowd of young men, realizing that Manck intended to make trouble for the girl when he boarded the train, followed him through the cars and gave him the same treatment that he had accorded the young woman, kicking him off. But no bystanders caught him as he fell, sprawling, on the platform.

Then the girl issued a warrant for her father's arrest on the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. He was locked in jail. And a crowd raised a purse, said to be about $50, with which the bride was able to hire an automobile to take her to her waiting husband.

Mrs. Smith claimed that last Friday her father had beaten her and this she telephoned to her husband at Jackson. He told her to come to Jackson at once. When she got on the train here yesterday afternoon to go, the father followed her and kicked her off.

Manck spent the night in jail. Sentiment in the community runs high against him.

At the time of the girl's marriage to Smith a few weeks ago, the father pursued the couple to Norfolk and had Smith arrested, causing the young bridegroom to spend a night in jail here. The father claimed the girl was under age.

Korea Being Taught Things.

After two years and a half of her life spent among the natives of Korea, Miss Julia Martin, sister of Mrs. F. E. Davenport of this city, is back in the United States for a few months vacation. Miss Martin is spending a few days with her sister and former Norfolk friends.

Miss Martin likes Norfolk. "The climate here is so nice," she says, "the evenings are cool and it is a beautiful city."

This compliment is a real one, coming from a missionary who has traveled in the far east, where there are many beautiful and wonderful cities.

Miss Martin is working under the direction of the Southern Presbyterian mission and her position in Korea is that of a supervisor of a district. Under her direction, many native Koreans are employed to teach their countrymen and women christianity and modern civilization.

Miss Martin was sent back to this country to accompany Dr. Forsythe and his sister, also missionaries, who were attacked by an ailment known in the far east as the "sprue." Miss Martin brought the sick missionaries to Louisville, Ky., and after a short stay in Chicago she came here.

Tomorrow she will go to St. Joseph, Mo., the headquarters of the Southern Presbyterian mission, and thence she will go to Atchison, Kan., her home. She will return to Korea, to take up her work in the province of Chulla in September. She will probably stay there about four years.

"I like Korea very much," she says. "The climate is good and the people need some one to tell them how to live. The Koreans are easily educated and once they become christianized they are apt scholars. The girls are quick to learn, and the men of Korea, who once thought the women their slaves, are beginning to realize this. The husbands, after becoming christians, teach their wives and they even admit that the women and girls are quicker to learn than the boys."

Travels Far Alone. Miss Martin speaks the Korean dialect fluently and without any white companion has traveled hundreds of miles inland, teaching the natives the gospel. Once she made a trip alone to an island south of Seoul, where she was stationed for some months, being the only white person among thousands of natives. Miss Martin believes that the Koreans understand christianity better than many white people who, she says, take it for granted that they know all about the gospel.

The bubonic plague, which has killed hundreds of natives recently, did not reach the district in which Miss Martin was engaged. The city in which she lives has a population of 17,000 people and the houses are built of the best material. Some of them are constructed with natural stone, brought from a nearby mountain. Before she left this city the Japanese were building a railroad to Seoul, which journey was made heretofore by boat.

Speaking of the Japanese, Miss Martin declares that the Koreans are submitting to the conquerors of Russia, and that the little Japs are making great improvements in their new possession.

Japs Make Progress. Before the Japanese took Korea the cattle were used as horses are used here. They were also killed for meat. When the Japanese came the cattle were experimented upon and now a fine dairy has been established in Chulla province, and the missionaries, who have been used to canned milk and canned butter, are able to enjoy fresh butter and cream. Besides this improvement, the Japanese are introducing scientific farming in Korea. Rice and barley and a few vegetables are the only products raised by the Koreans before the Japanese came. Now there have been experimental farms established. Cotton is growing well, and orchards with many fruit trees have been set out. The Koreans says Miss Martin, have found that there is no use trying to thwart the Japanese, so now there is a good feeling existing between the two countries, and the Koreans are helping the Japs make the country yield to their needs. The chief food of the Koreans is rice and fish. They seldom eat butter or drink milk.

They Relish Dog Meat. One choice morsel, however, of the natives is dog meat. Dogs whose owners pay no dog tax are killed and put on sale at the meat markets. "Often I have seen from five to nine dead dogs, ready to be cut up and sold for food in Korea," says Miss Martin. "I have known of a mad dog being killed and eaten by a native."

Miss Martin does not believe that there will ever be war between Japan and the United States. "We never hear such talk in Korea or Japan," she says. "One Japanese has told me that Japan has had plenty of fighting. He never wants to see war again. I believe the war talk between the United States and Japan is only paper talk."

Proclaim Portuguese Republic. Lisbon, June 19.—A constitutional assembly, organized with 192 deputies, ratified the government edict formally proclaiming the republic of Portugal, the abolition of the monarchy and the proscription of the Braganza dynasty. The proceedings passed off without special incident.

Not Popular Government. New Haven, Conn., June 19.—Attorney General Wickersham told the graduating class of the Yale law school today why he is opposed to the proposed constitution of Arizona and scores the referendum, the initiative and the recall. It was an abuse of language to call such a scheme of government popular, he said.

"It is an attempt," declared the attorney general, "to create a government of all the people, by a minority of the people, for a small minority of the people. To adopt it would be to substitute for the institutions which are the growth and the evolutions of centuries of American experience, the devices of French revolution and Swiss socialism."

Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock all persons who care to see the new oil road out of Norfolk, will leave the corner of Norfolk avenue and Fifth street, to make a trip of inspection.

are coming to Norfolk from many miles around to see the new modern highway.

County Commissioner Taft and directors of the Commercial club, under whose auspices the work is being done, will take charge of the train of automobiles on the Wednesday trip of inspection.

POLICE WERE BUSY.

Five Hoboes Arrested—Two Boys Beating Way Illinois to Minnesota.

Five hoboes, commonly known to Norfolk police as "sleepers," one "drunk" and two boys, neither of them over 17 years of age, kept the police department very busy Saturday night. The police had a net thrown about the city for a suspicious character and in the roundup the jail was filled. The hoboes brought to the city basket a large quantity of groceries, neatly wrapped in packages, which were about to have been opened for a "feed." Ed Raach imbibed too freely of the amber colored fluid and he stuck in the meshes of the net. The two boys, Leo and Roy LaJesse of Chicago, enroute to Marshall, Minn., where they expect to get work in the wheat fields, followed. They were turned loose and will endeavor to "beat" the remainder of the distance on freight cars. The hoboes were also turned loose and within a few moments after the chief's first visit to the jail Sunday morning he had the place well cleared.

Among the relatives attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hale, Sturgis, S. D.; Judge and Mrs. William Bates, Madison; Mrs. Fitzgerald, Omaha; William Kost, Neligh; Isaac Kost, New Underwood, S. D.

Winter-Klentz. At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klentz, on Braasch avenue at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, occurred the wedding of William F. Winter and Miss Lisette Klentz. Rev. J. P. Mueller of the Christ Lutheran church pronounced the words which bound the couple in wedlock. After the ceremony, a dinner was served.

Mr. Winter is the son of Carl Winter, a prominent farmer living three miles north of the city. Miss Klentz is a well known Norfolk girl, popular in a large circle of friends. The couple will make their home on their farm, three miles north of this city.

Tilden Ball Game Is Off. Secretary Charles Hulac of the Norfolk ball team declared Monday he would send a letter to the Tilden ball team cancelling the game between Norfolk and Tilden on July 4, at Tilden.

"We are playing ball for the mere sport and enjoyment we can get out of it," he says, "and in the interest of the harmony that exists between Norfolk and Tilden people, I am going to call the game off. My reason for this action is that five members of our team refuse to go to Tilden on July 4, and because I do not believe we can get a square deal in that city. We are perfectly willing, however, to play Tilden on neutral grounds any time, and for any amount of money."

Mr. Hulac declares that the players who refuse to go to Tilden say they were told that a square deal would not be forthcoming in that city and he says that four unfavorable decisions in Sunday's game cannot be overlooked.

Program for Ad Club Dinner.

The program for the entertainment and dinner to be given all railroad men, traveling men and citizens not members of the Ad club next Friday night in Marquardt hall, by the Ad club, is about completed.

Guild of the Omaha Commercial club, will talk on "Town Building," and G. L. Carlson of this city will talk on "The Country Around Norfolk." Gov. C. H. Aldrich has not yet been heard from, but it is believed by Ad club members that he will be here, if he can possibly leave Lincoln.

Many out-of-town people have been invited to be present. Among those who have signified that they will be here are S. R. McKelvey, president of the Lincoln Ad club and publisher of the Nebraska farmer, and A. L. Gale, assistant manager of the Darlow Advertising Agency of Omaha.

An invitation is extended to every railroad man and traveling man living in Norfolk.
