

Pleasures of the Week.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. George N. Boels entertained a com pany of friends at an informal musicale in honor of Mrs. Lucy A. Hull of Chicago and Miss Qivie C. Howard of Warren, Ohlo.

The program was rendered by Miss Howard, who was at her best, playing with a freedom and breadth of style which was delightful and fully appre clated by her listeners.

Miss Howard is an artist of exceptional merit; her technique is ample and her interpretation is both intel lectual and postical, and given with a breadth of authority which carries conviction to the listener. Her playing is sincere and truthful, unmarred by mannerisms or striving for sensa tional effects. The greatness of her art is shown in her ability to lose herself in the music and let its beauty be manifested. Following was the program: 1回月間

Chopin-Prelude and Ballade in E Flat.

Schumann-Nachtstucke.

Listz-Hark, Hark the Lark. Wagner-Evening Star and Magic Fire.

McDowell-In an Indian Lodge, and March Wind.

Grieg-Wedding Day.

Miss Jeannette Parish gave two numbers on the program which surprised and pleased the guests by the sweetness of her singing.

The hostess was assisted in serving by Miss Lucile Hazen.

Mrs. C. P. Parish entertained a dozeh neighbors and friends informally on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Howard of Warren. Ohlo, who is a guest in the Parish home, gave the guests a delightful musical treat. It was the first opportunity many of the ladies had had to hear Miss Jeannette Parish sing, which she does most charmingly. The afternoon was a thoroughly enjoyable one. Mrs. Parish served a light refreshment at 5 o'clock.

The birthday of Mrs. Paul Hinz was celebrated at the family home nine miles south of Norfolk last Sunday. There were 147 guests present for dinner and supper and a jolly time was enjoyed. A tug of war, a water fight, a ball game and a horse shoe contest were features. The children skipping the rope and running races were forms of amusement.

Miss Olga Johnson, daughter of Dr. Johnson, superintendent at the hospital, celebrated her seventeenth birthday last Saturday afternoon. A company of young girl friends and the officers of the institution enjoyed a splendid supper at the Country club.

Misses Martha Koehn and Lizzie Podoll entertained the Thimble club

FUN WITH ROYAL INITIALS. A Pun That Pleased Victoria and One That Hit Albert Edward.

Caroline Fex in her memorials under date of May 24, 1837, Queen Victorla's birthday, jots down an egreglous pun reported by her famous kinsman, Charles James Fox. "Uncle Charles dined with us today. He was delighted and diggled by the display on the queen's day and mentioned right merry outbole perpetrated by my Lord Albeunrie, who on her unlesty's saying, 'I wender if my good people of London are as glad to see me as I am to see them? pointed out as their innaedlate cockney answer to the query 'V. R.* "

Jokes run in cycles. Sixty five years later Edward Vil. was on the English throne. Sir Walter Parratt, professor of music at the University of Oxford. was practiclug with part of his hand in the music room at Windsor palace, where all the furniture was covered with sheets bearing the royal cipher. Suddenly he turned to the musicians and said, "We all know that the king is king, but why is he?" The menlooked astonished, but said nothing. "Because E. R., of course," chuckled Sir Walter as he pointed to the initials around him. A more humorous jest of this sort is found in the "Life of Richard H. Barham," author of the "Ingoldsby Legends." On the night of Jan. 25, 1842, the late king of England was christened Albert Edward. Barham, going out to see the illumination and observing in almost every window the initials A. E., heard some one say (most likely it was himself), "Ah, he'll make acquaintance with the other three cowels before he cohies of age!"-New York Tribune.

Mean Advice.

Old Gent-On the eve of your mardage let me give you a piece of advice. Remember when your wife's next birthiny comes and give her a handsome presents Young Man-Yes, of course. "Give her the best your pocket can buy every birthday, but at Christmas, New Year's and such times give her only inexpensive little tokens. Form that habit ! "Yes, bur why?" "It will pay." "1 presume so." "Yes. In a few years you can begin to forget the birthdays and she won't say a word."-New York Weekly.

Fully Informed.

"Is this Mr. Walsingham's office?" asked the gentlemanly solicitor as he paused before the dignified old man who sat at the only desk in the room. "Yes, slr."

"Are you Mr. Walsingham?" "No. I'm just an inquisitive young scamp who has come in to paw over his papers, read his private correspondence and smoke a cigar that I have taken out of his vest pocket."-Chicago Record-Herald.

"HE RUINED MY HOME."

That's the Excuse Given by New York Italian for a Murder.

New York, July 17 .- "He ruined my home," said Guisseppe Romanello, when arraigned on the charge of killing Aljandro Serra and mortally wounding Filipo Prosapo. The shooting occurred in an Italian cafe in Harlem late last night while thousands of Italians outside were celebrating the annual festival of "Our Lady of Carmel." Fifteen policemen had all they could do to get Romanello to the police station through an angry mob of celebrants.

Shot is Removed After Four Years. After resting four years in the fleshy part of a hand, a shot from a large sized air rifle was extracted Monday by a local physician from the hand of the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schlacht of Hoskins. Four years ago the boy was playing with the air rifle and had placed his hand over the muzzle of the gun, which was accidentally discharged. The shot remained in the fleshy part of the hand ever since. The hand was rendered almost useless and gave much pain when put to any use. The lead had to be cut cut and the physician had some difficulty in extracting it.

MAKE GOOD AS SCOUT.

Mans Lobert, the clever third baseman of the Phillies, tells a good story at the expense of Clark Griffith, manager of the Cincinnati Reds. Last season Hans met with an accident and was unable to play. Griff then decided to use him as a scout and told Hans to go through the Virginia league and see if he could pick up any good youngster. "I looked over everything in the league," said Hans, "and the only player that looked good to me was a third baseman. At that time I was the third baseman for the Cincinnati team. Wouldn't I have been a bonehead if I went to Griff and told him that the only player of promise I could find was a youngster for my job?"
