TAFT IS STUCK IN MUD.

Abandons His Motor Car for Return Trip from Manassas.

Washington, July 22.—President Taft returned to Washington by train from Manassas, Va., after an automobile voyage over seas of Virginia mud and through swollen creeks earlier in the day to the reunion of the blue and gray, where he spoke. Several motor cars in the presidential train that left here are mired at various points between the capital and the Virginia battlefield. The president's automobile was abandoned at Manassas.

Manassas, Va., July 22.—President Taft announced to the blue and gray veterans that France had expressed willingness to enter into the arbitration treaty being negotiated between this country and England and that both treaties will be signed within ten days. He added that he expected at least three other nations to come into the treaty within a few days.

A Tribute to an Umpire.

Verdigré Citizen: Huffie's colts were here from Creighton Sunday to play a game with Schmidt's champions and they would have been skinned to a frazzle had it not been for the thieving scoundrel who pretended to umpire the game. It made no difference to this rotten thieving scoundrel where Creighton put the ball, it was fair, although it was ten or more feet outside of the foul line. Verdigré had to put the ball into the center of the field or it was a foul with this thief and not only that but base runners had to beat the ball at least twenty feet or they were out. It didn't make any difference where McKay threw the ball, it was a strike, but not so with Verdigré. The pitched had to put the ball in the center of the home plate, and even then the thief often called it a ball. No team on earth can beat ten men, especially when one of them is the umpire and a thief.

One Trust Probe Has Been Dropped.

New York, July 21.—The investigation into the affairs of the American Smelting and Refining company to determine whether the so-called "smelter trust" is in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, has been dropped.

United States District Attorney Wise said today that he had investigated the complaints against the "smelter trust" and found them without foundation.

There will be a dance at the Country club this evening. Voget's trio will play.

Elton Seymore has accepted a position in the office of the Nebraska Telephone company.

Ten Fremont golf players will arrive in Norfolk Saturday evening to play a match game with a team of Norfolk players on Sunday.

The police were called to 299 South Second street at a late hour last night. It was reported that some one was prowling about the house and it was believed an entrance to the house was about to be forced. The police found nothing.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. J. H. Berry will take place at the family home at 10:30 Saturday morning. Rev. Roy Lucas of the Christian church will hold short services, after which the remains will be taken to New Sharon, Ia., for interment.

G. W. Woodruff has filed charges before the board of insanity at Madison, alleging that his stepson, working at the Union Pacific restaurant, conducted by Woodruff's wife, is insane. The trouble is the outcome of a family quarrel some weeks ago when Woodruff knocked his stepson down.

Sheriff C. S. Smith was in the city with the money which is being paid for the capture of the Meadow Grove bank robbers. The sheriff paid Earl Ray and A. W. Finkhouse $3 each. E. H. Gascoigne, the express messenger, is now employed by the Milwaukee road. His share of the reward is about $83.

In a letter to the city council Councilman Robert Eccles, now taking treatment at Hot Springs, S. D., asks that the street commissioner be given an increase in salary. Councilman Eccles recommends a $10 increase. The council at this time does not wish to change the ordinance and has taken the matter under consideration.

On the Robert Fenske farm, five miles east of the city, are camped a number of Norfolk young men. They report a good outing. Charles Durland and Sam Erskine, Jr., have charge of the camping. Among the campers are: Lloyd Cole, Frank Lucas, George Odiorne, Stanley Brush, Carl Ranklifer, Gerald South, Clyde Johnson.

A. O. Hazen, master of the Norfolk boy scouts, has received a full report from the detachment of scouts sent out to find a camping place. The spot selected is located on the August Klentz farm about two miles southeast of the city. The scouts will go into encampment next week and will be under the direct charge of Fred Inglis and Elder Kirkpatrick.

Two Citizens Come to Blows.

George Wheeler was the victim of a foul in a one-round battle on the driving park track at noon when James Kolash, recently a Verdigré citizen but now residing on South Thirteenth street, showed some scientific methods in the art of something more than boxing. As the result of the fight Wheeler has a badly scratched eye and face, and Kolash has three wounds on his hands from the teeth of Wheeler. About thirty people witnessed the fight, which followed a long argument between the two principals as to who was the better man. The fight was the result of a threat made by Kolash to "whip" Wheeler whenever he met him. The threat was made because Wheeler had turned Kolash and his family out of his house on account of alleged delinquent house rent. Kolash left the house in very bad condition, it is charged by Wheeler, who says Kolash tore the plaster and wall paper from the walls and painting up the bedroom with dirt.

While returning from an inspection of the house at noon Wheeler met Kolash on Norfolk avenue and Fifth street. Kolash demanded to know why he was sued for the rent and declared if Wheeler would come out of the city limits he would "lick" him. After some argument both men, who were in buggies, drove to the race track, followed by a crowd in automobiles and buggies. Kolash refused to get out of his conveyance and was called a coward by Wheeler, who was really on the defensive, having accepted the challenge. The argument soon grew warmer, intensified by remarks of some of the onlookers. Kolash declared he was not afraid to get out of his buggy. "But I will stand close to the wheels," he said. "You can't hit me here, Wheeler," said Kolash as he climbed down from his seat and stood between two wheels of his conveyance. Kolash then uttered a vile oath and Wheeler resented it with a straight fight which was somewhat short. They clinched and Kolash put two short fingers into the eyes of Wheeler, who was blinded.

The fingers seemed to go deeper into the eye sockets and the crowd yelled "fight fair" to Kolash, who then released his fingers from the optics and, taking advantage of the blinded man, commenced a rapid fire on the face. He succeeded in getting in two or three hard rights on the cheeks and Wheeler cleverly ducked other terrific swings and jabs, which he took on the head. They clinched again and Wheeler succeeded in rolling on top of his smaller opponent.

Accidentally Kolash's finger slipped into Wheeler's mouth and the teeth closed upon it, causing Kolash to yell, "Take him off; he has bitten my finger off." The fight ended there, Wheeler saying Kolash had "got him" that time, but next time the fight would go the other way.

D., July 21.—Special to The News: The committee appointed by the Catholic Society of Bonesteel, have purchased the large Burke residence about two miles east of Bonesteel, and will have it moved upon the fine property located in Bonesteel near the Catholic church and owned by their society. The residence is a structure 28x36, two stories high. ASKED $1,000 FOR FACTS.

N. Y. Secretary of State's Office Tried Hold-up Game.

Washington, July 21.—The office of the secretary of the state of New York was brought into the Lorimer investigation today when C. F. Wiehe, one of the central figures in the present hearing before the senate Lorimer committee, testified that $1,000 had been asked as the price for a copy of the list of contributors to the Taft campaign fund in 1908 on file at Albany.

He testified that he had been informed by telegram from either the secretary of state, or his office, that the list consisting of 123 pages had been destroyed, but that later an offer to furnish it for $1,000 was made. Wiehe explained that he wanted to know if Cyrus McCormick had contributed to the fund, but he said he did not consider the information worth $1,000.

WILEY CASE NEXT WEEK.

Secretary Wilson is Taking His Time to Look Through Papers.

Washington, July 21.—The Wiley case will probably not be settled until next week. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson declared before the cabinet meeting today that it would take him several days more to go through the papers in the case.

"This is a highly important matter and one which I am not going to hurry through. I may make a report this week but I doubt it."

Mickey's Son Married.

Valentine, Neb., July 21.—Special to The News: Benjamin H. Mickey, son of ex-Gov. Mickey of University Place, and Miss Mary Hanna of Wood Lake, Neb., daughter of ex-Senator Hanna, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents at Wood Lake, Neb., Wednesday night, the Rev. W. W. Wells officiating. The wedding took place at 8:30. The groom was attended by Russell D. McNeil, a schoolmate from Lincoln, while the bride was attended by Dora M. Johnson of Loup City, a schoolmate of hers. The wedding march was played by Miss Woodruff of Alnsworth, Miss Juveneau sang a solo, while Miss Florence Hanna, sister of the bride, played a violin solo. The bride was dressed in white, with roses as flowers, while the groom wore the customary black. Mr. and Mrs. Mickey left on the midnight train for St. Joseph, southern Mexico, where the groom owns a plantation where they will spend their honeymoon as well as make it their future home.

Noted Fighters in Norfolk.

Never before has Norfolk entertained so many noted prize fighters as there are now congregated in the city. Dick Green of Chicago, Jimmie Caine of Sioux City, Clarence English of Omaha, Kid Daniels of San Antonio, Tex., and Kid Brown, a retired pug, are all in Norfolk holding a conference for the purpose of preparing a tour of the country.

The fighters are all well known and have attained prominent places in the sporting columns. English, Green and Caine have visited Europe and have won some glory there. Daniels is also well known and has "reps" all his own.

When the fighters start on their tour of the country is not known, but it is said they will open with an exhibition in this city. All the men are in excellent condition and have planned on a tour of some length.

Walking to the Pacific Ocean.

Walking from Philadelphia to San Francisco on a wager of $1,000 that he could make the trip between March 1 and November 1, William Newton Wyand, aged 25, a member of the Quaker City Athletic club of Philadelphia, reached Norfolk Thursday afternoon and left shortly afterward for Cheyenne.

Wyand left Omaha Tuesday afternoon and made the trip of 120 miles to Norfolk in two days. He averages forty miles a day. He is a week ahead of his schedule at this time. "I've had some hard knocks, and I'm about all in," he said.

How Wager Started.

"We were sitting around talking about Weston's walk, one night, like young fellows will, and I said I could do it myself. A wager of $1,000 resulted and on March 1 I left Philadelphia for San Francisco. I left Philadelphia dead broke, as one of the conditions of the wager. I must get my meals the best way I can. I have worn out three pairs of shoes and one suit of clothes. In case I must have anything like shoes or clothes, I'm allowed to work to earn money to buy them. Otherwise I'm not permitted to do any work."

Route Laid Out for Him.

Wyand's route is laid out for him piece by piece. At Omaha he received a letter ordering him to walk to Norfolk, thence to Cheyenne. At Cheyenne he will get further instructions as to his route. At each division point he gets the signature of the city mayor, to show that he has reached that town. When he reached Norfolk, Mayor Friday was attending a funeral, so the pedestrian waited and came over to The News office. The last signature previous to Norfolk, was that of James C. Dahlman of Omaha.

Wyand is obliged to follow the railroad and to make a mail report from every station. This prevents his taking automobile or buggy rides.

Too Swift for Companion.

"The president of the athletic club started out with me, but I set too hard a pace for him and he turned around and went back after the first day," Wyand said.

The route up to date had included Harrisburg, Pittsburg, Wheeling, W. Va., Columbus, O., Cincinnati, Indianapolis, La Fayette, Ind., Chicago, Marion, Ia., Perry, Ia., Council Bluffs, Omaha and Norfolk.

Among other experiences, Wyand was chased by an enraged bull and had a sensational leap over a barb wire fence, he had a fight with a big snake under a tree where he wanted to sleep and three or four times he was held up by hoboes, though he never had any money that they could get.

Sleeps in Rain, Lungs Affected.

"I went to sleep in an open field the other day and slept so soundly that I didn't waken when it began to rain. I was drenched and woke up with congestion of the lungs. It's getting worse now."

"Aren't you worried about it?" he was asked.

"I never worry about anything," the walker answered.

Wyand is an electrical engineer and expert automobile machinist, by trade. He uses the very choicest of English, and talks like a college graduate. He always says "wager" instead of bet, he gives the correct pronunciation of the word "route," and in a score of little ways like that his speech indicated that he was well educated.

"And now one other little thing," he said, in conclusion. "If you'll stake me to the price of a meal, I'll not bother you any more."

TRIPLE PLAY MADE.

Catches a Line Drive Off His Shoe, Trips and Then Retires Runners.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 21.—Walter Carlisle, centerfielder of the Vernon club, of the coast league, made the sixth unassisted triple play recorded in organized baseball against the Los Angeles team in a game won by Vernon, 5 to 4.

In the sixth inning, with the score tied, Moore and Metzger of the Los Angeles team, walked. Akin, third baseman for Los Angeles, hit the first ball Stewart pitched low over second base for what looked like a clean aim. Moore and Metzger both got off to a hit and run signal, but Carlisle, playing close in, came forward like a flash and picked the ball off his shoes. His plunge carried him off his feet and when he recovered both base runners, counting Akin's drive a sure safety, had passed the second station. Carlisle raced to second and touched the bag while Moore was well on the way to the plate, then trotted to first, retiring Metzger. The unassisted triple plays on record are:

Paul Hines of Providence, at Providence, 1878.

Harry O'Hagan, of Rochester, at St. Joseph City, 1902.

Larry Schaeley of Portland, at Portland, Ore., 1904.

Murch of Manchester, at New Bedford, 1906.

Neal Ball of Cleveland, at Cleveland, 1909.

Walter Carlisle of Vernon, at Los Angeles, 1911.

Senate Nears a Vote.

Washington, July 21.—Speeches by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin explaining his proposition for revising the woolen and cotton schedule of the tariff law and William Alden Smith of Michigan and other senators on various phases of the reciprocity bill, were scheduled to occupy today's session of the senate in anticipation of tomorrow's reciprocity vote. The house will be in session tomorrow.

Dakota Corn Crop Best Yet.

Aberdeen, S. D., July 21.—The Dakota Farmer says: South Dakota crop conditions have not changed materially since our last report. A very light crop of small grain was then indicated and late rains bettered it only in limited areas. No part of the state will harvest a normal crop of wheat, oats or barley, and in some sections there will be a total failure. Every part of the state reports a few fields much better than the rest and usually attributed to better methods of tillage. Flax still gives promise of fair to good yields in nearly all sections. Corn is the best ever known and greatly in advance of any previous year in every particular. The fields are free of weeds and reasonably weather free from now on will assure the best and largest crop in the history of the state.

Insane Man From Norfolk.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 21.—A mysterious tapping heard night and day for hours at a stretch, in a tent pitched on the banks of Lake Contrary, a summer resort near here, led to the capture last night of F. W. Boyd, supposed to be an escaped inmate of the insane asylum at Norfolk, Neb.

Other campers in the vicinity complained that the incessant tapping prevented them from sleeping and two officers went to the tent where they found Boyd hammering on a trunk with a stick. His answers to questions were incoherent and he was arrested. The Nebraska authorities have been notified.

Dr. Johnson, superintendent of the insane hospital, says F. M. Boyd was committed to the hospital February 17, 1911, from Glen, Sioux county, suffering from alcoholism. He was discharged April 18. Nothing had been heard from him since Dr. Johnson put him on the train and started him for Crawford.

A Fight on Mr. Bryan.

There's a fight on in the democratic party of Nebraska, against Mr. Bryan. M. F. Harrington's selection as temporary chairman of the forthcoming convention at Fremont, was a part of this fight.

The Omaha World-Herald has been attacking Bryan, and R. L. Metcalfe, editor of the Commoner, is just now engaged in a heated controversy with the World-Herald over the lack of harmony. Mr. Metcalfe was formerly editor of the World-Herald.

The plans of the anti-Bryan men are reported to be to organize the convention without reference to the wishes of the democratic leader and without consulting any of the Bryan democrats.

Harrington made the principal speech against the Bryan county option plank last year and his selection for temporary chairman has been at least concurred in by the Shallenberger forces.

Shallenberger has openly broken with Mr. Bryan. He did not attend the Bryan banquet at Lincoln this spring and in other ways has shown that he is not in accord with his former leader.

Democrats opposed to Mr. Bryan will try to induce the convention at Fremont to adopt resolutions attacking Bryan along the same lines as those adopted recently by the Douglas county democracy, according to members of that party.

CONTROLLER BAY PROBE.

Secretary Fisher of Interior Will Visit Alaska in August.

Washington, July 21.—The congressional probe into the Controller Bay, Alaska, government land operations involving an alleged attempt to monopolize an outlet for the rich coal field area in the interior, will be resumed today, when Delegate Wickersham of Alaska will testify before the house special committee on investigation.

Mr. Wickersham has made wholesale charges of official ignoring of charges of frauds in that territory. Secretary of the Interior Fisher will leave about August 1 for Alaska to spend a month inquiring into conditions there, particularly with respect to Controller Bay transactions. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is busy compiling a report of the records of his office bearing on the transactions of his department in that section for reply to a senate resolution calling for the data.

Meantime a joint congressional committee that was created at the last session of congress—headed by Senator Nelson of Minnesota and Representative Fitzgerald of New York—to go to Alaska and investigate conditions there, has concluded not to make the trip this summer on account of the protracted session of this congress.

Dies at the Age of 99 Years.

O'Neill, Neb., July 21.—Special to The News: John Rathbone, one of the old timers of O'Neill and probably the oldest resident of Holt county, died Wednesday and was buried yesterday. He was almost 99 years old, lacking only a few days of it. He was active and worked until a few days before he died. He was in full possession of his mental faculties at all times and his oft expressed wish was that he would live at least a century. Living alone for years, he had always managed to support himself by odd jobs given to him by kindly neighbors.

DROUTH STORIES EXAGGERATED.

Maurice Jencks Tells Easterners About Conditions Here.

Washington, July 21.—Maurice W. Jencks, of Sioux City, manager of the Maurice W. Jencks circuit of theaters and president of the Western Theatrical Managers' association, who has been in Washington for a few days on a pleasure trip, left for New York.

Mr. Jencks, who is also a director in the National Theatrical association, has just completed a three weeks' inspection tour over the territory covered by his circuit of theaters. This includes southern Minnesota, southeastern South Dakota, Iowa, and Norfolk in Nebraska.

"To me," Mr. Jencks said, "crop conditions are of the utmost importance, and I made a close study of them in my territory. It is my belief that the stories of poor crops are greatly exaggerated. I did not go into western South Dakota, where conditions are said to be very bad, but elsewhere I found things in good shape. The corn crop will be immense. Last season was good theatrically and I don't believe the crops this year will be such as to make the season anything but the same."

Chautauqua.

The fourth annual chautauqua in Norfolk will be held August 5 to 13, inclusive. The attractions presented this year are much superior to those of past seasons. Only three numbers will appear that have been here in past seasons. Shungopavi, the Indian magician, who was so popular last year; Dr. Charles S. Medbury, who was the best lecturer of the program last year, and Walter M. Chandler of the New York bar, who was here two years ago. Chandler will deliver his great lecture, "The Master Magician." Some of the big men who will appear are Gov. Robert B. Glenn of North Carolina, Frank Dixon, who needs no comment as an orator; Dr. E. A. Steiner, the great authority on immigration and personal friend of the late Count Leo Tolstol; Leo E. Lybarger of the Philadelphia bar; Dr. N. M. Waters, pastor of the largest Protestant audience in Greater New York City, etc. The music is splendid. The Highland Ladies' orchestra of eight ladies, the Royal Hungarian orchestra of nine men, the Young concert company, and Ciricillo's famous Italian band of twenty-seven men. This is only a part of the splendid treat in store. Plan to camp on the grounds if you can. Indications are for a large camp this year. Tents may be rented at the management. Booklet and programs will soon be out.

Taylor to Philippines.

Lincoln, July 22.—Professor Frederick W. Taylor, formerly of the chair of horticulture in the University of Nebraska, has received the appointment of director of agriculture in the Philippine islands and has announced his acceptance. Mr. Taylor has in recent years been engaged in conservation and reclamation service in western states. He is at present in Denver. He will leave for Manila in time to begin his new duties October 1.

Giants at Burke Today.

Burke, S. D., July 22.—Special to The News: Today and Sunday the Omaha Giants (colored) are scheduled to play two games of ball in Burke. This team played a no-run game with Burke last year, which was finally stopped in the eighth inning by rain, and the games scheduled for this year are consequently creating a great deal of interest.

Tilden Beats Scribner.

Tilden, Neb., July 22.—Special to The News: One of the closest contested games of the season was decided yesterday afternoon when Scribner's aggregation, flushed with uninterrupted victories, confidently faced the young team that is making Tilden known to all players over the state. Cobbey's Annotated Statutes for Nebraska for 1911 are just off the press, and are now ready for distribution. Heretofore there has been an edition of Compiled Statutes at $6.00, but this is not being issued this year, so that the only Cobbey's Statutes now available is the Annotated edition.
