Pension Bill Chance Lost.

Washington, Aug. 8 .- What possibly was the last chance to get pension bill through the house at this session, was lost yesterday when Speaker Clark sustained a point of order made by Representative Fitzgerald against the Anderson invalid pension bill. The democratic-republican congressional baseball game broke up the session two hours before the usual time for adjournment. A number of local bills had been passed and there was practically nothing else to be taken up. Most of the republicans voted against ey; G. Lynde and Tappert. Umpire, the motion to adjourn which was made by democratic Leader Underwood. Many of the men hurried to Georgetown to witness the combat.
