RALPH RYNEARSON DEAD. Appendicitis Operation Fatal to Son of Secretary of Madison County Fair.

Madison, Neb., Sept. 16 .- Special to The News: Following a surgical operation for appendicitis, Ralph Rynearson of this city, son of Secretary John Rynearson of the Madison County Fair association, died last night. He was operated on a week ago.

Oakdale. John Cooper and family returned last Friday from Hot Springs, where they have been spending part of the ummer months.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Martin returned Saturday from Lincoln, where they spent the week at the state fair. Mrs. Nina E. Thuma made a busi ness trip to Neligh Saturday forenoon. The aeroplane which was exhibiting n Neligh the last of last week was easily seen from here, and some living in the west part of town could hear he buzz of the motor.

O. B. Manville was a business visitor to Neligh Tuesday.

J. B. Foster of Wayne was over Wednesday inspecting the work on the new schoolhouse. The work is being pushed as rapidly as possible, but there is some delay waiting for the face brick to arrive. F. M. Obershaw, who purchased the Milligan property on Lawton avenue, has had the old house torn apart and moved back, and grading is being commenced for the erection of two mod ern dwellings, Fred Warwick commenced work the first of the week in the Oakdale Drug company's store.

Mrs. L. C. Peterson and daughter Margaret and Opal were guests at the home of O. B. Manville Tuesday. A booster meeting is announced fo Friday evening in the K. P hall at 8 o'clock. Arrangements will be made for the corn show at that time, also for a chautauqua for next year. A party of Neligh boosters will also be down to discuss the good roads ques tion with the local boosters.

Announcement is made of a marlige license being issued to Eric A Brodboll of Oakdale and Miss Florence Smith of University Place, E A. Brodboll is assistant cashier of the Antelope County bank here.

federation of shop employes of the Harriman lines will be reached by the ederation's executive board within the next fifteen days and more probably within the next ten days, according to J. W. Kline, international president of the blacksmiths, member of the executive board and spokesman for the board. So declared Mr. Kline last night.

"Unless we hear further from Mr Kruttschnitt or some other person in authority for the Harriman lines within the next ten or fifteen days, the executive board of the general officers of the unions of the federation will meet and decide what shall be done," said Mr. Kline. "Some of the newspaper men have been trying for three

The knights and Masons marched from the lodge rooms to the Latta for a day and finally told him that I home, and at the hour announced the short services at the home began. The body lay in state from 10 o'clock until shortly before the arrival of the Masons, and there it was viewed for the last time by the hundreds of friends who had gathered to pay their last hearty accord with me on that propotokens of esteem. The floral offerngs were many and beautiful.

Rev. Mr. Marsh of the Blair Episco pal church read a portion of scripture and offered prayer. A quartet composed of Ralph Conkling, N. W. Preston, Mrs. Neil Campon and Miss Irene hostile to Mr. Bryan. Sutherland sang "Softly in the Light of Day," "In the Hour of Trial," and a closing song, "Abide With Me." After the benediction the funeral cortege drove to the Tekamah cemetery, where the interment took place under the ritual of the Masonic order, Grand Custodian French conducting the service.

The honorary pallbearers were Wellington Harrington, R. A. Templeton, S. T. Story and J. R. Sutherland of Tekamah; W. H. Garland and J. B. Garland of Green, Ia.; Dr. J. B. Whittler of Decatur, C. P. Matthewson of Walthill and John Berry of Ponca. The congressional delegation appointed by the sergeant-at-arms of the ouse was present, as were the representatives appointed by the United States senate.

Tekamah feels a distinct and peronal loss in the death of Congressman Latta. Having come here in 1863 when he was but a young man and having grown with the country when it was nothing but a wilderness, he had become a pioneer and had a great nany friends all over this part of the state. As a farmer he was successful. Congressman Latta leaves a name that will be lasting for its rugged honesty. He was a man of strong personality and his friendships formed are. strong proof of his real worth.

Kane Wins Ten Rounds. Under the flickering lights from gas

line torches in a secluded spot a few miles east of Madison Friday night 'Gene" Kane of O'Neill and "Kid' Herman of Columbus fought a fast tenround battle to almost a draw. The slight decision, however, was given to Kane, who was seconded by his cousin Fred Kane of Norfolk. Many automobile loads of fight fans from the coun ty fair were in attendance.

Before the county officials were aware of anything unusual Fred Kane who had much to do in promoting the fight, had a rude platform constructed under the trees and no time was lost in roping off the arena. Gasoline torches from several of the concesions and hamburger stands near the fair grounds were appropriated and the word was quietly but effectively circulated among the crowd that a fight was on.'

Over 300 witnessed the bout and paid admission fees of fair size.

"A chance to make a piece of mon was the basis on which this battle was fought, and recognizing in the rowd a scientific boxer in the form of Kid Herman, Fred Kane put up the cold money proposition to this lightweight, who was asked to meet the ousin lightweight of O'Neill.
