No Trial, Paid Fine.

Why was not the arrest of James Flood reported to Judge Eiseley until after two days' delay? That is a question which has been puzzling the justice court in the city hall. James Flood was arrested on Jan. 20 and an effort was made to have the judge record the arrest on Jan. 22. Flood was never brought into court and although he was charged with being drunk and disorderly, his fine of $7.10 was handed to the judge by the Chief of police. No explanation was given. Judge Eiseley never saw the prisoner.

Meningitis Embargo Lifted.

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 23.—Of the fifty or more Texas towns that established rigid quarantine against the meningitis epidemic then centered in the northern and central part of the state, several today announced the embargo has been lifted. The largest of these towns, Briand, abandoned the quarantine last night.

"Black Hand" in Servia.

Belgrade, Servia, Jan. 23.—The existence of a secret society known as the "black hands" has been discovered among the younger officers of the Servian army. The object is supposed to be anti-dynastic and as a consequence of its discovery the crown prince has resigned his post as inspector general of the army, which carries with it the duties of commander-in-chief.

Homer Williams' Narrow Escape.

The way car and locomotive which were mixed up in the freight collision at Pierce Monday, are in bad shape. The way car is almost completely demolished. The front end of the locomotive, also, is badly shattered.

Engineer Wood, who was piloting the oncoming engine, saw the way car of the through freight ahead of him, moving. He thought the train, which was not supposed to stop at Pierce, was getting out of town. So he came ahead until he was too close to stop. No flagman had been sent back, as the rules require, to halt the approaching train.

Brakeman Homer Williams had a narrow escape. He was between the way car and a freight car, on the train that was struck. Somebody shouted to him just as he was about to uncouple the air hose. He jumped just as the crash came. The way car struck him and hurled him out to one side. The way car was mashed into the car ahead. Another instant and he would have been mashed between them. The freight car ahead, filled with machinery was badly damaged.

When the engine struck the way car, the locomotive lifted up the caboose and ran under it. The smokestack of the engine was battered off, the front end caved in, a cylinder smashed and other damage done. Then the way car, after jamming into the freight car ahead, turned over on its side. Traffic on the line was not interferred with in any way. The damaged engine, it is said, will have to be hauled back to Norfolk by another locomotive.

Conductor Beck is still at Pierce. Mrs. Beck is with him.

Ill Fate Pursues Beck.

Conductor William Beck seems to be pursued by ill fate. After his accident in the west, he came back to Norfolk and thirty days ago his train backed into a handcar at Long Pine, which collision resulted in the death of a boy. Since the Long Pine accident, Beck has been laying off and Monday morning he took out the freight for the first time since the Bonesteel accident. The train he took out was Conductor George Searg's train but the latter is enjoying a vacation.

Must Buy Stock in the Brewery.

Facts about the West Point brewery and the prospects of that brewery moving to Norfolk were given out by a high official of the company to a Norfolk relative yesterday.

The talk of the brewery moving to Norfolk originated among the brewery officials, who see the great advantages the brewery would derive by moving here. They want, however, enough stock subscribed in Norfolk to build a new brewery in this city and this, says this official, would cost much money. Probably $100,000 would have to be subscribed, it is said. A new brewery built here would have to have a capacity of about 75,000 barrels of beer annually. Personally, this official is favorable to moving to Norofik and declared he did not know just how other officials or directors of the company felt about it. He could not state definitely whether or not the brewery would move to Norfolk. He declared, however, that the brewery would move here if sufficient stock was subscribed, notwithstanding the fact that he would be sorry to see the plant move from West Point.

He did not believe that the brewery would lose any of its present business in West Point or elsewhere if it moved here and was certain that the business would be increased by reaching direct points which they now must pay transfer charges.

New South Omaha Record.

Omaha, Jan. 23.—Today's receipts of hogs at the South Omaha stock yards—22,500 head—constitutes a new high record for a single day for that market. The previous record was 21,500 one day in 1906.

Royal Party to Visit Taft.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The Duke of Connaught will make a flying visit to Washington to pay his respects to President Taft, it was learned here today. His original plans did not include a call on the president which fact provoked considerable comment.

Boss Hobo Re-arrested.

Daniel Murphy is back in Madison county. In fact Daniel is "doing time" in the Madison county jail, and according to Sheriff C. S. Smith, who passed through Norfolk with him, Murphy will continue "doing time" until the expiration of his regular sixty days' sentence, which Daniel suddenly interrupted by escaping from a deputy sheriff at Madison last summer.

Murphy has been in touch with the Madison county authorities ever since he left the county, but didn't know it. Since his departure from Madison county Murphy has visited the western coast but his fondness for Nebraska brought him over the Union Pacific via the box car route to Grand Island, where Sheriff Smith bound him with handcuffs and brought him back to Madison.

Murphy is a "boss hobo." Last summer he bossed the Norfolk hobo camp and objected when Special Agent Jolly of the Northwestern asked him to leave the railroad yards forever.

The result was that the dispatchers' office in South Norfolk was turned into an arena and Murphy gave the special agent a full half hour's battle before he allowed himself to believe he had been subdued. During this battle the hobo tried every trick known to professionals to injure the officer, but he was put out of commission.

Murphy, while boss of the Norfolk hobo camp, had at least five "cripples" hard in the game of "working" the town for him. It was unnecessary for him to make the rounds for the "dookies" and the "crips" worked sympathetic men and women for enough funds to buy a load of beer with sufficient supplies for twenty "mulligans" thrown in. Murphy directed the operations from headquarters and when the special agent found him, Daniel was fast asleep between two of the "cripples" close to the camp fire. He objected strenuously to being arrested. Murphy was taken to Madison for a sixty day term, but he escaped after serving thirty days. The authorities believe him a dangerous man.

So He Served Out the Time.

Neligh, Neb., Jan. 23.—Special to The News: Calvin Howard, a farmer who resides a few miles northeast of Neligh, was released yesterday morning, after serving eighteen days in the county jail.

It was during the year 1900 that Howard was fined $25 and costs for assault and battery, and being unable to liquidate at the time was placed in jail, where he served six days of his fine and, accirding to his story, by request of the then county attorney, E. D. Kilbourn, was released from further confinement.

It was during the Charles Burdick trial last spring, in which Howard appeared as a witness, and whose evidence was of such nature as to exonerate Burdick on the charge of horse stealing and cite another man entirely that the county attorney issued an order compelling Howard to serve the balance of his time, which he did after instructions were given by the court.

Jack Sullivan Whips Trummer.

Ewing, Neb., Jan. 23.—Special to The News: "Montana" Jack Sullivan of O'Neill knocked out Mont Trummer of Omaha in the seventh round of what was to have been a ten round boxing contest at Emmett last night.

It was Sullivan's fight from start to finish. Sullivan knocked Trummer down twice in the second round, three times in the fourth, six times in the sixth, with continued left jabs to the jaw ,and finally knocked him out in the eighth with a right on the body.

Trummer fought gamely all through, but was outclassed and only once found Sullivan with a right swing.

It had been planned to hold the fight in Ewing but the city council met Saturday night and put the ban on any further exhibitions of the manly art here. A number of Ewing fight fans went to Emmett to see the mill.

Pavelka Holds Dr. Roller.

Plainview, Neb., Jan. 23.—Special to The News: Dr. Roller failed to throw Pavelka, the Verdigre wrestler, within an hour last night. Roller had agreed to throw Pavelka twice in an hour. Part of the time Pavelka took the aggressive. They have arranged a finish match for Friday, winner to taek all. A number of women were in the crowd.

Westergaard Wins at Omaha.

Omaha, Jan. 23.—Jess Westergaard defeated Henry Ordeman in two out of three falls at the auditorium, catch-as-catch-can. Ordeman claimed after the match that he had not been fairly treated in the last bout, which was a rolling fall, with a side hold, in seven minutes. Ordeman took the first bout in thirteen minutes, with an English bar and a half Nelson hold and the second went to Westergaard with a leg hold. All three bouts were "flying" falls, but Westergaard supporters claimed they were fair because of an announcement of the referee that a fall would result with both shoulders being put to the mat. Generally, the match was unsatisfactory to a big crowd which gathered to witness it.

Johnny Coulon Whips Forbes.

Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 23.—Johnny Coulon, bantamweight champion of the world, last night knocked out Harry Forbes, the former champion, in the third round of a scheduled ten-round fight. The end came when the round was two minutes and thirty-four seconds gone, a right swing to the jaw and counter to the stomach doing the work.

AN INDIAN LAND FRAUD.

Government Has Evidence Against Agents in White Earth Reserve.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 23.—For the purpose of investigating charges that Indians of the White Earth reservation have been defrauded of their lands, a congressional sub-committee is examining witnesses here today. The committee is composed of Congressmen James M. Graham of Illinois, Henry George of New York and F. W. Mondell of Wyoming. The latter is unable to attend the earlier meetings, but probably will be here later. Agents of the department of justice have been at work on the case and, according to M. C. Burch, who has had the inquiry in charge, evidence will be presented involving government agents, insurance and lumber agents.

Acting Mayor H. W. Winter has given orders to Chief of Police Marquardt that every automobile or hack found without a light at night, should be investigated and the owner or driver should be arrested. Acting Mayor Winter declared he had not heard much about the disorderly and gambling houses which are being reported as "common" in all parts of Norfolk. "It would be hard to locate them," says the acting mayor, "but if they exist, the police must enforce the ordinances."

Norfolk firemen, with the assistance of the chemical apparatus on the combination hose and chemical wagon, extinguished a fire in the Fred Klug farm house, one mile north of town, at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. About $50 worth of clothes were burned and some slight damage was done to an upstairs room. The damage is covered by insurance. A stove pipe leading through the floor of the upstairs room ignited the many clothes which were hanging on lines too near the pipe to be out of danger.

Capt. C. L. Anderson of the local militia company is doing a five mile walk daily, to be within the requirement of the new regulations under which the local company will have to pass an examination by the regular United States inspector in March. They Suffer From Hunger.

Mrs. Charles Sweet, aged about 35, living one block east and one block north of the Washington schoolhouse at South Norfolk, immediately east of the Braasch blacksmith shop, is said by Norfolk police to be suffering for want of food. At 8 o'clock last night the woman reported to the police that she had nothing to eat since morning and then she only partook of a little bread. A little daughter living with her is also said to be hungry.

This is the substance of a report made to Chief of Police Marquardt early this morning by Night Patrolman George Wheeler of South Norfolk, substituting for Michael Kennedy, who is ill.

"The family is really in a destitute circumstance," says Patrolman Wheeler. "I have visited the house and the woman is deserving of assistance."

Charles Sweet, husband of the woman, was arrested a few days ago on charges of assault and non-support. On this occasion Sweet is said by the police to have beaten his wife and 14-year-old son, who has been sent to Creighton or in that neighborhood to work on a farm.

Husband in County Jail.

Sweet received a sentence of thirty days in the county jail and is now serving time at Madison. The woman has no visible means of support and is troubled with asthma.

"I have not had anything to eat since morning," said Mrs. Sweet to the officer. "I had a little bread this morning and now I feel very faint and weak."

The officer declared that while Sweet was not realy a drunkard, he objected strenuously to any kind of work. The family only a few days ago had but one blanket to cover the one bed in the house and Mrs. Sweet declared that a fire had to be kept burning full blast at night to keep from freezing.

Proposition to Light Streets.

The Norfolk Electric Light and Power company made two propositions to the city council last night, one for street lighting and one for furnishing power to the city pumping station. The propositions were placed on file.

The street lighting proposition was to install a tungsten system of street lights at intersections to be designated by the city and for the approximate number of 106 50-watt 40-candle-power lamps, on the following basis:

Ten year contract: Midnight, moonlight, $1 per lamp per month; midnight, every night, $1.15; moonlight, all night, $1.20; all night, every night, $1.50. Five year contract, same plan, $1.15, $1.25, $1.35, $1.60.

The pumping power proposition was to install one or two electric lamps, furnishing current at 3½ cents per killowatt, the city to pay rental on pumps until the rental amounted to cost of pumps and interest, when they would become the property of the city. The pumping would be done in "non-peak" hours—they would be operated from dusk till 10 p. m. except in case of fire.

Settle With Paving Company.

A final settlement was made with the Katz-Craig Construction company and a warrant was drawn for $38,735.91 in favor of that company for the final payment of the paving of Norfolk avenue, not including the $5,000 bonds held out by the city as a guarantee. The cost of the paving was approximately $54,487.00. Samuel Katz, president of the Katz-Craig company, also president of the Katz Construction company, and Supt. James Craig of Omaha, assisted by Attorney M. D. Tyler, assisted the council in figuring out the final settlement.

Acting Mayor Winter offered a resolution which was adopted, to enforce the ordinance regarding the digging up of the pavement on Norfolk avenue.

Another protest filed by the acting mayor was that the old sewer on Norfolk avenue is being used for a drainage pipe and that it is becoming unsanitary.

Two Killed on English Boat.

London, Jan. 24.—The main steam pipe of the British steamer Skipton Calv burst and killed two of her crew on the voyage from Galveston, from whence she sailed Jan. 6, for Antwerp. She was spoken on Jan. 20, and said she was proceeding to Fayal in the Azores after she had undergone temporary repairs.

German Veterans Celebrate.

Germans all over the country Wednesday celebrated the anniversary of the birth of Emperor Frederich of Germany, who was born 200 years ago. The entire district embracing many camps of the Landwehr vereins (German veterans) for many miles around Norfolk, decided as usual, to come to Norfolk for the celebration. Commander Louis Wetzel, assisted by August Fischer, H. C. Krahn, C. F. A. Marquardt and many other German veterans, have made suitable arrangements for this entertainment, and two halls of the city were thrown open to the visitors.

Over one hundred veterans from Hoskins, Stanton, Pierce, West Point and other towns were expected to be in the city by evening. About 100 Norfolk people have been invited and music was arranged for, to make the celebration a happy one. Dancing was scheduled to commence in Marquardt hall at 8 o'clock sharp and in the Germania hall, where the refreshments were arranged, accommodations have been made for the out-of-town guests to spend the entire night.

In honor of the old German hero, who died many years ago, one of the German veterans will deliver an address.

Want Baseball League.

W. J. Stafford, former manager of the Norfolk baseball team, is getting correspondence from baseball enthusiasts from this part of the state. Several towns in this vicinity want to organize a baseball league for next summer and they ask Mr. Stafford to take some action to get Norfolk into the organization. Mr. Stafford declares he is "out of the game" and suggests that Norfolk fans get together and form some plans for next summer's games. Al Pont of Stanton is hard at work with Stanton ball fans and he is one of the actives ones in the league proposition. Madison and Creighton have also sent correspondence to the effect that they wish to organize a league.

South Norfolk.

Mrs. Archibald Campbell is quite ill.

Miss Winnie Smith of Atkinson was here the fore part of the week.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Williams, last evening, a son.
