of the horses was badly cut up by the wire, but strange to say, a broken tongue was the only injury received by the buggy.

C. F. W. Marquardt returned yesterday from Winona, Minn., where he took his son Rudolph to Professor Woodcock's Watchmaking and Optical school, the best in this country. Mr. Marquardt took advantage of the opportunity while there of taking a course of special instructions from Professor Woodcock in regard to fitting spectacles properly to persons whose eyes are not natural or malformed, and is now prepared to fit glasses to persons' eyes correctly.

Children's day was quite generally observed by the churches of the city yesterday, some of which had special services in the morning and others in the evening. The interiors of the houses of worship were beautifully decorated with flowers, while in some the scene was still further brightened by an abundant display of flags. The services were given up to the Sunday school scholars and consisted of singing and speaking by the little ones, and in some instances the day was made the occasion of baptizing infants. Children's day has now come to be one of the church affairs which is looked forward to with pleasant anticipation, as one to interest the children and bring teacher and parents into closer touch. The idea of having a special day set apart for children was originated about 12 years ago, and has now been adopted by nearly all the denominations.

Yesterday was the warmest of the year, the thermometer going as high as 93 in the shade at about 6 o'clock. People here and elsewhere have become accustomed to make unkind remarks about Nebraska winds, but between 6 and 8 o'clock last evening, when the world was like a smouldering furnace, there was a dead calm. Not a particle of air was moving, and sweltering humanity fairly panted for breath, limp and almost lifeless. But what a change came over the condition of things after 8 o'clock, when a fresh breeze sprang up, bringing new life and vigor to mankind! The writer has dreamed for years—when he had time—of what pleasure it might be to live in a country where there is no wind, where the world is calm and peaceful and one is not annoyed by having great chunks of atmosphere jump around the corner and slap him in the face at most any old time or place, without provocation or warning. But the two hours' experience last evening, when air to breathe was at a premium, has dissipated all that foolishness, and henceforth Nebraska breezes will be welcomed as health giving, joy producing auxiliaries of life. Let the hurricane proceed, and may it be unconfined!

to tea and the festivities continued well into the evening.

During the absence of Messrs. Sessions and Bell for a few days this week, Geo. Reckard is looking after their undertaking business.

Those interested in bicycling should not forget the meeting of the Norfolk Bicycle club at THE NEWS office tomorrow evening.

The county road grader will commence work tomorrow on North Fourth street, which will be graded up as far as the creamery.

There will be a special meeting of Music lodge, No. 55, A. F. and A. M., this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of work. By order of the master.

A team attached to a lumber wagon without a driver, took a lively spin down Fourth street last evening, but was stopped before any damage was done.

A drizzling rain has been falling nearly all day. This moisture seems to be some that was left over from the terrific storms in Wisconsin and Minnesota last night.

Rev. J. P. Mueller returned from his trip to Bancroft yesterday and Rev. A. W. Freese, who accompanied him, returned to his home at Columbus last evening.

Mrs. Von Beckman and children left this morning for Pekin, Illinois, where her husband has a fine position in a new sugar factory. Mr. Von Beckman was formerly an instructor in the Norfolk college.

Judge Evans of Dakota City went to Madison this morning, where he is to hold a special term of court to dispose of cases in which Judge Allen is interested as attorney.

Work has been resumed on Dr. Verges' new office just east of the Chicago Lumber Co.'s yard, the city council having granted a building permit covering its construction.

The Sharpless millinery store has been raised up to grade, and when the sidewalk in front reaches the same level, pedestrianism along that part of the street will be vastly improved.

Wm. Huse, Sr., of Ponca was in the city over night. He was joined at this place this morning by his son E. W. Huse, and they left over the Union Pacific for Portland, Oregon. They have sold their newspapers at Ponca and Newcastle, and expect to locate on the Pacific coast.

Commissioner J. J. Hughes came down from Battle Creek last evening and in company with Commissioner H. W. Winter went to Madison this morning, where the commissioners meet as a board of equalization during the next two or three days.

Stone crossings are being laid over Main street at Eleventh, at Tenth and Nebraska, at Seventh and Pasewalk and over First street at the Junction. There are many old worn-out sidewalks in town which should be similarly replaced by new ones of stone, brick or even boards.

The water works whistle blew long and lustily at 8 o'clock last evening, warning people that it was time to shut off their lawn sprinklers. For a few moments many thought the whistle was an alarm of fire, but they soon remembered old customs and walked out and twisted the lawn hydrants.

The stereopticon entertainment at the First Congregational church this evening will be well worth attending. Mr. Adams has one of the finest machines of the kind that money could buy, and he has operated it long enough to be thoroughly conversant with the machine and the subject of his lecture.

The local committee having in charge the preparations for the Lutheran picnic given for the benefit of the orphans' home at Fremont, have received notice that their invitation has been accepted and that the picnic will be held here on Sunday, June 25. Rheulow's grove, east of town, will be used, and it will be placed in good condition to accommodate a large number of people.

Ben Wood formerly on the Star and for a short time editor of the Reporter, has accepted a position on the Chronicle force.

Judge Allen has been holding court this week and many non-resident attorneys have been sojourning here as a result.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hume returned Tuesday from their trip to Ireland where they have been visiting relatives for some time.

Last week Wednesday, after the week's issue had been run off and the forms thrown in, the Reporter plant of this place was loaded into wagons and taken to Newman Grove where it will be published in the future in the same manner it has formerly appeared in Madison. Who the editor will be we are unable to state but the name will remain the same and it will be under the same management as before it left this place.

A meeting of the citizens of this place was held at the G. A. R. Tuesday evening and the question of city electric lights again discussed. Several interesting speeches were given and among other things the city council was instructed to employ an expert to make a complete and thorough estimate of the separate costs of the several plans submitted and report the same to the citizens at a meeting to be called for that purpose. It seems sure that Madison, at last, is in a fair way to secure the much needed plant and we hope that the improvement will be secured as soon as possible.

The annual reception of the High school alumni was held at the home of Miss Roxy Wills last Saturday evening and an unusual enthusiastic meeting was held. Almost all of the resident members of the alumni were present and a most cordial welcome extended to the graduating class. The address of welcome was given by Mr. Howard Leste and responded to by Mr. Will Dowling, of the class of '99. Vocal and instrumental solos were prominent parts of the program, while several well delivered and well received recitations helped to fill out a most enjoyable evening. At the business meeting Miss Marie Snure was elected president, Roxy Wills, vice-president; Marion Hodges, treasurer and Will Dowling secretary. At a late hour the "veterans" of the High school adjourned to meet again next spring and voting hearty thanks to their hostess for the royal entertainment they received at her hands.

NEW CITY WELL.

An Abundant Flow of Water Found at a Depth of 100 Feet This Afternoon.

From Monday's Daily: This afternoon the new city well reached a depth of 100 feet, when a strong flow of water was struck, which rose to within eight feet of the surface of the ground. This will give, in conjunction with the other two wells, an abundance of water for city purposes, and as the well only cost $250, the councilmen, and more particularly Councilman Bullock, who has from the start been an advocate of this kind of well, feel well pleased with the venture in the well line. The well is situated on the city's property about 200 feet east of where is located a lamented hole in ground, down which was recently poured $4,000 of public money, the hole still being in evidence but the money not. It required just a week to get a new well, the contract being let last Monday, while work on the hole aforesaid took six months.

Warnerville.

C. W. Pettitt is building an addition to his house.

Pat. Carberry sold 32 head of hogs in Norfolk, Tuesday.
