Prospect Hill is now a beautiful cemetery and its appearance is being improved each year. The green sward is as smooth as any lawn in the city, while the well-kept flower beds, trees and shrubbery serve to greatly enhance its beauty.

The Yankton Press and Dakotan of Monday says: "W. W. Graham, who is to build the Yankton, Norfolk & Southern railway, is expected to reach Yankton from Norwalk, Ohio, tomorrow. He reached Norwalk from New York city on Saturday."

Lincoln Journal: A resident of North Nineteenth street was up town the other evening with his wife, and on returning home was surprised to find a bundle on his doorstep that very much resembled a little baby. Examination proved that the baby was only a "make believe" one and all ended well. He says the owner can have the doll by calling for it. The matter was not reported to the police.

Crete Herald: The Custer County Chief tells of a gentleman who has recently finished a telephone system to Merina, using the barbed wire on the fences for the line. It states that the system is a success and some extensions will probably be made. It seems to us that the scheme is a good one, but wouldn't the words be a little pointed by the time they got to the end of the line?

A considerable judge of human nature had an opportunity to exercise his talents in this direction today. He saw a farmer drive up in front of a store with a load of potatoes, get off the wagon and enter the store. When he had got out of sight the team started and moved out toward the middle of the street, where they were stopped by a boy. This is where the reader of character got in his work. He said, "If that man does not sell his potatoes he will lick the horses, if he does he will not." After a few minutes the farmer came out of the store, whipped the horses and drove off. Moral—no sale. Conclusion—A man generally lets his mad out on something and usually it isn't the direct cause of the mad that gets the worst of the deal.

The "kissing bug" is causing considerable worry and is said to be the cause of a number of deaths in various parts of the country. Its bite or sting is said to be fatal and as it attacks the lips of a sleeping person it has come to be known as the kissing bug. Reports of deaths from this source state that the face and body of the person attacked swell to about twice their normal size. The latest report of its action comes from Chicago, where it is said that Mrs. Mary Steger, wife of a saloon keeper, was the victim. The private opinion of THE NEWS, publicly expressed, is that these tales are more or less of a hoax on a par with the flying machine and sea serpent stories of previous summers, and the writer does not propose to take any great precautions against the attacks of this terrible insect.

A. J. Wosterhill, familiarly called "Blacky," who worked for G. R. Seiler last spring and later went to work for Mr. Shaw, the well contractor, and accompanied him to Omaha, went to the police station in that city Tuesday and filed a complaint against M. A. Sadler, a woman who conducts an employment agency at Sixteenth and Dodge streets. In an interview with a Bee reporter, he said he gave her $1 for a position as blacksmith, as she had informed him she had a place for him and could send him right out into the country. After receiving the money she concluded that she had better write a letter regarding the position and told him to come back again. He returned half a dozen times without receiving a satisfactory answer. Finally he gave it up in disgust and notified the police. The woman is accused of violating the ordinance governing employment agencies.

Grand Island Independent: The Union Pacific had a novelty on the tracks in this section this morning, it being an observation car for the foremen of the various section crews. The car started out at Omaha and took all the section foreman along the division to this city to allow them to view the track and observe how other foremen than themselves kept their districts. Here those of the first division were excused to return to their homes on the regular trains, and the section men on the second division were gradually picked up and the train proceeded on its run to North Platte. It is stated that the car is to be a permanent thing and that every now and then the section men will be thus taken over the road. The car looks much like a section of an opera house, one seat being higher than the other. The car is pushed instead of pulled by the engine, is entirely open, free from smoke and the trip will, especially in this weather, be a pleasurable one as well as instructive.

W. R. Foster, manager of the poultry department of Swift & Co. of Omaha, was in the city yesterday in conference with W. A. Hemleben, who represents western poultry interests, and to look over the field tributary to Norfolk. He states that they are getting short of poultry in Omaha and are noticing the drain made by the western buyers, whose prices they have thus far failed to meet. They do not want to make a fight, but want a division of territory. The present western prices are so high that the dressers of Omaha and Sioux City are barely getting out even. They have been having this territory all their own way until recently and have made a good thing on the poultry handled, but the western buyers are now strong competitors and are able to pay prices almost prohibitory to the eastern purchasers. They seek an agreement regarding territory which they hope to reach about October 1st, and if this cannot be effected there will probably be a fight for supremacy in which the poultry raiser will profit. Poultry is now being purchased at the highest price ever known here and the chicken is proving a source of much profit to farmers in the country. Mr. Hemleben is of the opinion that the western buyers will sustain their end in case it comes to a show down.

Mayor Simpson has taken considerable interest in making inquiries as to what is thought of the proposition from Madison of helping in the reception of company F on their return home. Chief Winter and President Hartford look favorably on the proposition of the fire department going over and have promised to present the matter at the next meeting of the department. Captain Gerecke of company I will ask for an expression from members of that organization as to whether or not they desire to assist, at their meeting Monday evening. Prof. Ludwig Koenigstein will use his best endeavors toward organizing a band to lead the crowd and Commander H. M. Roberts will ask the G. A. R. post at its next meeting if they choose to attend in a body. Everybody spoken to was most favorably impressed with the proposition to assist Madison on that occasion and it is quite likely that a large crowd will attend from Norfolk. The trains run very favorably, leaving at 10:40 in the morning and returning a 9 in the evening and Agent Juneman states that his road will endeavor to comfortably handle the crowd that may go down. It is suggested that it can be made quite an interesting affair if the men will take their families and a basket of provisions prepared to enjoy the day.

CROPS IN NEBRASKA.

The Outlook Very Encouraging to a Prominent Elevator Man

Frank H. Peavy of Minneapolis, who with a party of friends, passed through Norfolk some days ago, has returned to his home. He has this to say concerning his trip through Nebraska and Kansas:

"Our trip covered the Union Pacific line in Nebraska and Kansas. We went west to North Platte, Neb., and from Manhattan and Salina in Kansas to Kansas City. I found wheat better than I expected to in Nebraska, and in Kansas about 50 per cent of last year's yield on the Union Pacific system, which makes a better showing than on lines further south, however. With no accident to corn Kansas will break all her records as a corn-producing state.

"In Nebraska the corn looks better than in Kansas if that is possible. The farmers are improving their lands and buildings substantially and also their dwellings."

Mr. Peavy said that the prospect was so encouraging that he should build a new line of elevators in Nebraska, and would probably add to his system in Kansas. As to northwest prospects Mr. Peavy said: "Our private reports suggest a splendid wheat harvest for the northwest. It looks to me as if good fortune is again to shine upon us."
