CHANGE EFFECTED LAST EVENING

Major E. H. Tracy is Now Landlord New Company is Premoted by Prominent Citizens-H. H. Patterson President, and E. A. Bullock Secretary and Treasurer.

From Wedn sday's Daily.

The Pacific hotel yesterday afternoon passed out of the control of Knox Tipple and is now the property of the Pacific Hotel company. The promoters of the new corporation are H. H. Patterson, E. A. Bullock, D. J. Koenigstein, E. H. Tracy and Burt Mapes. Its affairs will be administered by a board of three directors, consisting of Messrs. Bullock, Patterson and Mapes. The president of the company is H. H. Patterson and the secretary and treasurer E. A. Bullock. The authorized capital is $25,000 and the business of the corporation will be that of purchasing, leasing, conducting, renting and selling hotels in Norfolk and at other places.

The new proprietors are all well known business men of Norfolk who have always made a success of whatever they have undertaken, and the Pacific under its new management will prove a popular home for the traveling public.

The exchange was completed last evening before supper and Major E. H Tracy is now in charge as landlord. Mr. Tracy has long been a resident of Norfolk and his capacity for pleasing patrons is well known, and he assumes his position with the appearance of always having served hotel guests. There is no question in the minds of those who know him but that Mr. Tracy will make the venture a paying one to the com-

The retiring landlord, Mr. Tipple, has established an enviable business and reputation for the hotel and has proved himself every whit a business and hotel man. He hasmany friends in Norfolk and among the traveling public who will be sorry to learn of his retirement. He will for the present take a rest from all business cares and visit his old home in Wisconsin.

The old employes of the hotel will be With direct connections to all South) retained and it is probable that the the guests of the hostelry will notice but little change in the management of the institution.

THE News hopes and expects to see the new company sustain and add to the house.

LAST SAD RITES.

Mrs. Parker.

The funeral of Mrs. J. J. Parker, held at the Congregational church at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was largely attended, not only by members of the church which she had served long and $20.25. faithfully as pastor's wife, but by those of all other churches in the city, who had learned to love and honor the beau- $3,25. tiful life which had been brought to a close. The service was simple yet impressive, every tone of speaker, every song of choir and every action of the congregation betokening love for the departed and sorrow that her life's work was ended.

The pall bearers were Messrs. S. S. Cotton, A. J. Johnson, N. A. Rainbolt, C. B. Durland, R. A. Stewart and C. S. Bridge, all deacons of the church. The services were conducted by Rev. John ballot of all members present for Miss Askin of Tabor, Iowa, and Revs. J. J. Jeffries and Wm. Leavitt of Norfolk.

The church had been prepared in an appropriate manner for the occasion. Friends had worked with loving hands clared duly elected. until the pulpit front presented the appearance of a solid bank of flowers, while the platform and walls on either side were tastefully and profusely decorated with bright blossoms, symbolizing the life in whose honor they were displayed.

Rev. John Askin took no text for his discourse, other than the life of Mrs. Parker, of which he spoke as one who had been a life long friend. His talk, for it could hardly be called otherwise, was clothed in plain, honest, pathetic language, as he told of the sincere wife and mother, of the helpmeet to husband and counselor to children, of the devotion to home and church of the one now departed, was more eloquent than the highest flight of oratory, and touched a responsive chord in the hearts of his hearers. Rev. Wm. Leavitt followed in much the same line and Rev. J. J. Jeffries closed with a tribute to the virtues of the deceased.

The funeral cortege was one of the longest that has ever wended its way to Prospect Hill cemetery. Here again devoted friends had been at work, the semblance of the grave was removed as far as possible, and the tired body was laid to rest on a bed of green and blossom, covered with the flowers which in life she loved so well, the first to be placed upon the coffin being offerings from each of her daughters. Then came a group of Sunday school children, who in passing each contributed a floral token of love, indicative of the sentiment of the Sunday school, the church Medicine Co., New York. and the community.

By birth and training Mrs. Parker was well equipped to shine in any walk of life. The stock from which she sprang was eminent for its sincerity and devotion and these qualities were strikingly reproduced in her heart and life.

She was the "Queen of the Home," a position for which her large-heartedness eminently fitted her. She was a womanly woman. In sym-

A few hot days, however, checked their growth to such an extent that the crop is estimated at but 15,000 tons. It is planned at present to ship these to Oxnard for manufacture.

"Should anything occur, however, by reason of which the Oxnard factory will not be able to work to capacity or handle the crop there, then everything is in readiness to at once open the factory here and work our own crop as well as a part of that from Oxnard. The factory here is in complete readiness for slicing beets any day should the necessity arise. If all runs smoothly and up to expectations in the Oxnard factory, the company does not expect to operate the Chino factory this year. That, however, is a great deal to ask the first year of a complete sugar factory and refinery, new in all its parts, and there still remains the possibility that we will have a good campaign in Chino this fall. The factory management authorizes this announcement. Anything more definite they are obviously unable to give.

The management of the factory tells us that this work will be given, as far as possible, to men who cannot leave their families to go a distance. In other ways, also, the company will do what it can to tide the men over what is to all an unfortunate season, bringing conditions beyond the control of all.

What Not to Say. Do not say, "I can't eat." Take Hood's Sarsaparilla and say, "I am hungry all the time and food never hurts me." Never say to your friends that you are as tired in the morning as at night. If they happen to be sharp they will tell you Hood's Sarsaparilla cures that tired feeling.

Do not say, "My face is full of pim oles." You are quite likely to be told by some one, "There's no need of that, for Hood's Sarsaparilla cures pimples.

It is improper and unnecessary to say. My health is poor and my blood is bad." Hood's Sarsaparilla will give you good blood and good health will follow as a natural consequence.

S. cures, and none can offer such incontrovertible evidence of merit S. S. S. is not merely a tonic—it is a cure! It goes down to the very seat of all blood diseases, and gets at the foundation of the very worst cases, and routs the poison from the system. It does not, like other remedies, dry up the poison and hide it from view temporarily. only to break forth again more violently than ever; S. S. S. forces out every trace of taint, and rids the system of it forever.

Mrs. T. W. Lee, Montgomery, Ala., writes: "Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. I was covered with sores and my babe with blood taint. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and in my great extremity I prayed to die. Several prominent physicians treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash which they gave me seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was devouring me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific.
