

YANKTON ROAD AGAIN

Project Coming to the Surface Once More.

OFFICERS ARE TO BE ELECTED.

Probable That a Meeting Will be Held in Norfolk Within a Few Days for That Purpose—Beginning to Stir on the Dakota Side of the River.

From Friday's Daily: The Yankton & Norfolk railroad project is again revived, and the indications are that a meeting will be held in this city within a few days for the purpose of electing officers of the new company.

The following from the Omaha World-Herald is significant: "W. W. Graham of Norfolk, O., owner of all that is tangible of the Yankton, Norfolk & Southern, states that it will organize and elect officers this week. The road is projected from Yankton to Omaha, 185 miles; surveyed from Yankton to Norfolk 73 miles; and graded from Yankton to Pierce, 45 miles. Plans for a depot and round house at Yankton have been accepted.

The Yankton Press of September 6, prints the following concerning movements of the proposed enterprise:

"In the city council last night an ordinance, drafted by City Attorney Harris, was introduced providing for a grant of right of way along the river front to the Yankton, Norfolk & Southern railroad. The ordinance was referred to the committee on ordinances and it will probably be reported at the next meeting of the council. The ordinance provides that right of way be granted to the Yankton, Norfolk & Southern Railroad company from the west line of Pine street, midway between First and Second streets, to the west line of Broadway where it intersects the levee. The ordinance contemplates a right of way along grounds parallel with the levee track of the Chicago & Northwestern and ten feet from that track. It affords side track privileges, depot, warehouse, round-house, turntable privileges and all the other concessions necessary in the way of terminal facilities. This is the first move of the Norfolk company to acquire rights on the South Dakota side of the river.

"It was the intention of W. W. Graham to go to Norfolk today and Colonel Meekling and Major Hanson were to meet him there and the Nebraska organization was to be perfected. A telegram last night stated that Mr. Graham would be here today and the whole party will proceed from Yankton to Norfolk when ready to complete the organization. After that the company will be in shape to do business."

Inquiry at the hotels in Norfolk this afternoon reveals the fact that none of the gentlemen named have yet arrived in the city.

The marriage of Miss Amy Barker and Mr. Charles W. Martin, both of Omaha, took place at the home of the bride's parents in that city Wednesday evening. The bride is quite well known in Norfolk, having frequently visited Mrs. W. H. Bucholz.

A change in temperature of 54 degrees within 26 hours is something remarkable, yet Nebraska is given to doing remarkable things. The highest temperature of day before yesterday was 101 in the shade, while the lowest of yesterday was 47. From intense heat humanity was suddenly thrust into a very chilly temperature.

At Beemer on Wednesday, the hottest day for many years, ladies of the Congregational church turned out and hauled and unloaded brick being used in the construction of a new house of worship. Those ladies evidently believe they are perfectly capable of doing their share of the church work, and demonstrated that fact in the face of 100-degrees of heat.

A number of coming attractions have been booked for the Marquardt hall, all to appear within the next four months, among which are the following: Gilhooly's Reception, A Royal Prisoner, Ten Nights in a Bar Room, Rich & Pringle's Georgia Minstrels, Monte Christie, Chase & Lister's Theater company in repertoire, Carlo Doty company in Faust, John Dillon in Bartlett's Road to Selzerville.

Sheriff Geo. W. Losey was here yesterday and appraised the Queen City Place property which is to be sold to satisfy a mortgage held by the bondholders. The indebtedness against the property amounts to more than $100,000. A number of the lots are not included in this sale, the mortgage having been released. Among these are the college property, that formerly owned by W. F. Haman, on which is located the green houses, and a number of other improved lots. But the bulk of the addition bounded by the F. E. & M. V. tracks on the west, the Northfork river on the east, the Union Pacific and C. St. P., M. & O. property on the south and the beet sugar company's property on the north, is included in the mortgage and will be sold.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock last night Frank Davis, living 14 miles out of the city, brought his daughter, Mrs. L. Martin of Columbus, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Dean and left her, she at the time being sick with diphtheria. As a consequence the Dean home has been quarantined, Mr. Dean and Leland being compelled to board out and Mrs. Dean, who contemplated leaving for Omaha in a few days to remain several weeks, being obliged to give up the trip. The Dean family are compelled to accept the task imposed on them and as far as the lady is concerned, she has their sympathy, but they consider that it is shabby treatment to them and the daughter, as well, by Davis, who states that he didn't know it was diphtheria, but inasmuch as he has had several children die of the disease Mr. Dean thinks he should know what it is. Mrs. Martin has been sick since Tuesday. The sick lady and Mr. Dean's daughter-in-law are sisters, the latter making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Dean.

Reception at Tilden. From Friday's Daily: Yesterday was to have been a gala day at Tilden in honor of the soldier boys who went with the First and Second Nebraska regiments. Great preparations had been made for a big celebration. But on account of the rain the evening before and an almost continuous downpour during the day the crowd was not nearly so large as it would have been had conditions proved more favorable. Considerable of the program prepared was necessarily abandoned. The banquet at the Hotel Whitney, however, was not interfered with, and the boys were treated to a royal spread. The banquet board was presided over by C. E. Burnham as toastmaster, and responses were made as follows: The volunteer soldier, by C. H. Weedman; the Philippine islands as they are, Sergt. G. W. Snider; the Cuban patriots, Sergt. R. R. Williams; the greater America, Col. J. E. Simpson; the achievement of Admiral Dewey, Corp. M. D. Baker; Tilden's quota to the war of 1898-99, A. J. Dunley.

At about 2:30 in the afternoon, although it was still raining, the crowd assembled at the large tent that had been erected for the occasion. An address of welcome was given by F. L. Putney, Sergeant G. W. Snider, Corporal M. D. Baker and Private Don W. Hansen gave short accounts of their trip to the Philippines and return, and also some of their experiences while on the island. Col. Simpson made the closing address to the soldiers of '98-99, including in his remarks also the veterans of the civil war. The sports that were to have taken place were postponed until September 16.

IVORY SOAP PASTE.

In fifteen minutes, with only a cake of Ivory Soap and water, you can make a better cleansing paste than you can buy.

Ivory Soap Paste will take spots from clothing; and will clean carpets, rugs, kid gloves, slippers, patent, russet leather and canvas shoes, leather belts, painted wood-work and furniture. The special value of Ivory Soap in this form arises from the fact that it can be used with a damp sponge or cloth to cleanse many articles that cannot be washed because they will not stand the free application of water.

DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING.—To one pint of boiling water add one and one-half ounces (one-quarter of the small size cake) of Ivory Soap cut into shavings. Boil five minutes after the soap is thoroughly dissolved. Remove from the fire and cool in convenient dishes (not tin). It will keep well in an air-tight glass jar. At the sugar factory on Monday the lists will be posted showing the names of the men who will be employed during the coming campaign. Beet harvest will commence Monday and delivery at the factory will begin Tuesday morning. The intention now is to commence cutting beets next Saturday morning.

Calvin Burns has purchased from P. F. Sprecher and W. W. Craig the market grocery lately conducted by A. F. Lewis and will stock it up and continue the business. This small institution has had many proprietors since it was started and it is to be hoped that the right man has at last secured control of the business.

It is announced that a considerable portion of the beet crop raised for the new sugar factory at Ames, will be shipped to Norfolk and Grand Island to be worked up, as the Ames factory will not be completed before November 1, and possibly not then. The Ames people confidently expect, however, to work part of their crop themselves.

Dr. J. W. Jennings, formerly of this place, is exercising his well known ability of raising church debts and has this week completed the task of paying off indebtedness of $11,000 against the Trinity Methodist church of Omaha, of which he is pastor. The church is a large and handsome one, but its growth and success has naturally been impeded by this indebtedness, of which it is now relieved.

Wm Keeler, a farm laborer, was up this morning before Police Judge Hayes on the charge of disorderly conduct and was assessed the minimum fine which, with the costs, amounted to $7.10. Being without the cash he put up security and was permitted to depart. It was believed he had enough money to pay the assessment yesterday morning but he got on the outside of its value in liquor and therefore the trouble.

The telephone business is improving so rapidly that a new switch board accommodating 20 wires, has been added to the equipment. This, however, is intended only as a temporary arrangement, to handle the business until a new 240-drop board can be secured. The superintendent of the system will be here on Monday to decide how many operators shall be employed. It is understood that there will be two day operators at least, and perhaps more. They are certainly needed, as one person cannot begin to keep up with the calls during the busy hours of the day.

Firmin Moindron, a California sea captain, is making his plans to attend the Paris exposition, and is going to sail in the trunk of a redwood tree. "I will build a schooner from one of the largest trees in Humboldt county," he says. "The hull will be one solid piece—simply the trunk of the tree hollowed out and hewn into shape. I will take a tree from twenty-two to twenty-four feet in diameter for my boat. She will be forty eight feet long, fifteen feet beam and ten feet deep, and will be rigged as a schooner. I will sail from here, go around Cape Horn or through the Strait of Magellan, cross the Atlantic and down the Seine to Paris. I want to be ready to start in time to reach Cape Horn about the last of December of this year, so that I will arrive in Paris by May of 1900."

Senator Pettigrew's declaration that this country should apologize to the world for its course in the Philippines, recalls the fact that this country has a few would-be statesmen whom the country ought to apologize for to the world.
