

FRIDAY FACTS.

Mrs. G. H. Main is on the sick list. C. S. Hayes is in Stanton on business today. Dr. Salter returned at noon from his trip to Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. George Story of Pierce are visitors in the city today. Mrs. Herman Raasch of Stanton was in the city yesterday shopping. Miss Lena Daninger was in the city yesterday on her way to Madison. Mesdames Story and Sargeant of Pierce were city visitors yesterday. E. C. Howe has returned from a flying visit to Grand Island and Omaha. Frank Walker, a real estate man of Columbus, is in the city on business. Mrs. W. H. Clark departed this noon for Randolph to visit friends a few days. Mrs. David Baum returned last evening from a visit to Stromsburg, this state. Mort Stewart of Lincoln transacted business and visited friends in the city last evening. S. G. Dean is arranging to have his residence heated with hot water. W. H. Rish is putting in the plant. Joe Teahon, of Omaha, traveling passenger agent of the Wabash line, is in the city in the interest of his company. Mrs. F. W. Wietzer and baby returned last evening from Grand Island where they have been spending several weeks with her parents. Mrs. C. H. Blood gave a party to her class in the Baptist Sunday school at her home on north Twelfth street yesterday afternoon. Col. S. J. Alexander of Lincoln, representing the German American insurance company, is transacting business in the city today. Miss Pickerill, who has been teaching a physical culture class here, left this morning for Columbus. The class instruction was closed last evening. Mrs. Becker and daughter, Mrs. Strans of Legonier, Ind., left today for the former's home in Albion, after a visit at the home of Morris Mayer. Julius Degner and wife took advantage of the pleasant weather yesterday and drove down to Wisner, where they will visit a week with their son, Julius, Jr. Born, yesterday evening, to Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Stone, an eight-pound boy. Papa makes his own cigars and probably dispenses them with a liberal hand to all friends. Mrs. J. M. McDonald is now in Omaha, where she will take treatment for a month with a skilled specialist. Her friends have strong hopes that the treatment will effect a cure. Rev. Mr. Chamberlain, formerly of Blair, now of Birch, will occupy the pulpit of the Free Methodist church every other Sunday, commencing next Sunday, when he will preach at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. F. Stratton's team became frightened at the minstrel parade yesterday afternoon and proceeded to run. A collision with a heavy drag wagon brought the horses to a standstill, however, without serious results. The driver of Eddy's hack appeared before the police judge this morning, after spending the night in the cooler, on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was assessed the usual dose for that kind of sport, and it cost him $7.10. Omaha World Herald: A reception will be tendered to Rev. F. M. Sisson and family at the Hansom Park Methodist church this evening. Dr. Sisson having been appointed presiding elder of the Norfolk district, will leave Omaha with his family, Saturday. J. Hartley, ex-postmaster of Lincoln, and J. Paul, ex-postmaster of Hastings, are city visitors. Mr. Paul has resided in the state over 20 years, and this is his first visit to Norfolk. He expresses himself as very agreeably surprised to find such a thriving city here as greeted him on his arrival. Marquardt's hall was filled to overflowing last evening, the occasion being the appearance of Richards & Pringle's Georgia minstrels. The company gave the best minstrel show ever seen in this city notwithstanding the fact that the stage in the hall is so small that some of the features had to be omitted. A special train came in over the Union Pacific last night, having on board R. W. Baxter, general superintendent, J. K. Langtree, superintendent of bridges and buildings, and A. D. Schemerhorn, chief engineer of this division. The officers were on a tour of inspection of the road. They departed this morning. Manager Sprecher, of the local telephone office, is another man who finds it difficult to secure a needed force of men. The company is endeavoring to put up a new line at Snyder and Mr. Sprecher was requested to send six men to that place. Thus far he has not been able to secure a man. He came near getting one yesterday but his hopes proved to be of an ephemeral nature and he is still on a quiet hunt. He has good inducements to offer, too. At the meeting of Norfolk lodge No. 46, I. O. O. F. held last evening Judge H. D. Kelly resigned as one of the representatives to grand lodge on account of pressing business duties and H. L. Spaulding was elected in his stead. The grand lodge will convene in Hastings the 17th to 21st of this month. C. W. F. Marquardt is the other representative. Mr. Spaulding introduced quite an important bit of legislation at the last session which will come up for action at the coming meeting. Another quite serious wreck occurred on the Elkhorn line between this city and Stanton yesterday morning. The disaster was occasioned by a boiler, which was being shipped to the Harding Creamery company at this place, rolling off the flat car on which it was carried. It fell in such a manner as to get in the way of the cars following and as a result three cars of freight and one of stock were derailed. Although no one was hurt the damage to the cars derailed was considerable. It is understood that the track was not blocked. A wrecking train has been busy since the accident in righting things and every vestige of the wreck will soon be removed. The crowd at the entertainment last evening demonstrated the fact that all hogs do not travel on four legs. There were many cases of seat jumping, where a man without a reserved seat check would come in and take possession of a chair that had been sold to another. Most of these cases were settled by the seat jumper giving way after an annoying parley, but one man is known to have squatted himself in another's seat and refused to budge even after he was shown that it had been reserved long before he thought of buying a ticket to the entertainment. If, as is popularly supposed, names originate from the vocation or nature of the individual, the name of this man should be Swine, but it isn't. Dr. and Mrs. A. Hodgetts have broken up housekeeping, preparatory to their removal to Grand Island and are stopping at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ransom where about forty of their friends called in and surprised them with a farewell party last evening. During the evening the doctor was presented with a handsome easy chair as a token of the esteem in which he is held by many Norfolk friends. Mrs. Hodgetts, who has during her residence here, been an active and valuable member of the Ladies Aid society, was also the recipient of a choice gift from the members of that society. The gift was a quilt, the blocks of which bore the autographs of the different members of the society and will no doubt be highly treasured by the recipient for the many pleasant memories it will recall. Mr. Hodgetts will leave tomorrow for Grand Island where he will preach Sunday, and his family will follow to their future home Monday or Tuesday next. They leave many friends who sincerely regret their departure.

SATURDAY SIFTINGS.

Mrs. E. A. Lawrence of Madison is a city visitor today. R. W. Williams and daughter went to Madison this morning. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Fuerst of Battle Creek were visitors in the city yesterday. Miss Schwerin, teacher of a school near Pierce, is shopping in the city today. F. A. Huston of Ewing is here today looking after his mercantile interests in the city. Wm. E. Alexander, the traveling man, will spend Sunday with his family in the city. Mrs. A. Bear entertained the members of the "Kaife Klatsch" yesterday afternoon. Miss Rice, one of the teachers in the Tilden public schools, is visiting her friend, Miss Mygatt. Born, this morning, to Mr. and Mrs. Michael M. Slick at their home on South Fourth street, a son. Al Richardson of Emerick and his brother Fred Richardson of Battle Creek, are city visitors today. Born, last evening, to Mr. and Mrs.

Frank Caster at their home on South Tenth street, a baby girl. Miss Nettie Hingate of Chadron is in the city to spend Sunday with her friend, Miss Hattie Ailberry. Robt. Johnson, a car repairer, is nicely settled in a house at the corner of Nebraska avenue and Ninth streets. Prof. G. H. Whaley is in town from Nellig, coming down last evening in time to attend the dancing party. Miss Hartley came over from Madison last evening and attended the Early Hour club party at Must hall. Frank Estabrook returned last evening from a trip on the road in the interest of the cold storage plant. George Koehlig, who enlisted as a brakeman a few days ago, has had to lay off on account of a boil on his hand. Mr. Sinsheimer, from Oxnard, Cal., has come to take the position of assistant superintendent at the sugar factory. Mrs. Shurtz is not improving very materially. The little boy, who has been very sick, is considerably better. A. O. Johnson of Montross, S. D., was here yesterday looking up values of farm lands in the vicinity of Norfolk. The Baptists have just closed a very instructive and successful state convention at Omaha, and will meet next year at Broken Bow. Republican prosperity has struck the dye house of Eli Rasley, and the event is being celebrated by the application of a new coat of paint. C. D. Jenkins returned last evening from the southern part of the state, where he has been on business connected with the Fair store. E. K. Spencer and daughter of Waukon, Iowa, are expected in the city tonight to make a short visit with the family of W. E. Spencer. Misses Pearl Reese, Oriole Adams and Anna Law, Norfolk girls who are teaching school in the country, all spend Sunday with friends and relatives in the city. Mrs. and Miss Walker returned to Schuyler this morning. Mrs. Geo. Fox and son Will went with them to attend the golden wedding of Mrs. Fox's father and mother. Mrs. L. R. Pritchard of Meadow Grove and her daughter, Mrs. E. Bartlett of St. Paul, this state, are in the city for a short visit with Mrs. C. Rudat and other friends. The cold storage shipped a 20 foot car, loaded with 455 cases of eggs, to headquarters at Lowell, Mass., yesterday. It is understood that a like shipment will be made every Friday for some time. W. H. Baugh of San Francisco, is in the city on business. He makes a semi-annual trip to this section, and notes with pleasure that the country shows signs of improvement every time he comes. The following Pierce people were visitors in this metropolis today: Mrs. C. E. Hutton and daughter Fay, Mrs. C. E. Staley, Mrs. C. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. E. Zahn, Miss Emma Inhelder and Mrs. F. Frahm. Omaha Bee: Judge J. B. Barnes of Norfolk is in the city on business. Judge Barnes is one of the prominent men of his section of the country and has been identified with the growth of his home town for many years. The members of the fire department are having good success with the sale of tickets to the opening night of the opera house, and they have no fear that they will not be able to sell the full 100 seats that they have undertaken to dispose of. A. O. Hazen, who has been stenographer at the law office of Mapes & Hazen for some time past, has resigned that position and accepted the one of stenographer and clerk in the office of Superintendent Reynolds at the Junction. The Madison county term of the district court will not convene on November 13 as has been announced, the sitting having been adjourned until December, because of a conflict of dates with other counties. The Pierce term of court has also been adjourned. The Outside precinct caucus held at the city hall this afternoon nominated T. J. Harter for assessor, E. J. Rix for road overseer of district No. 1, and J. W. Bovee, sr., for road overseer of district No. 8. The caucus recommended for appointments as clerk of election E. D. Hammond, and for judge of election C. P. Byerly. Miss Lizzie Schram unexpectedly celebrated her 11th birthday yesterday afternoon at her home on South Third street. The celebration was occasioned by a large number of little friends calling in and surprising her. An enjoyable afternoon was spent, in which the refreshments served were of considerable importance. The seniors of the Norfolk High school gave a class party last evening at the home of Ray Hayes, one of the members, which partook of the nature of a farewell to Miss Etta Hodgetts, whose parents are removing to Grand Island. The evening was very enjoyably spent in games and such other modes of amusement as young people know well how to devise. Rev. John Jefferies writes from Ovid, Michigan, stating that his friends there have him in such a grip that he cannot return to Norfolk this week, as he hoped and expected to do. He has therefore deferred his return until some time next week. He states that he is feeling much better for his journey and rest, and is anticipating his return to home and work with delight. F. L. Myers writes from Modale, Ia., requesting information concerning his 14-year-old son, Fred, who left his home September 9th. He has brown hair, dark blue eyes, left eyelid drooping. Was bare-footed when he left home and wore a dark shirt with white dots and a black hat with a torn rim. Any information concerning him will be thankfully received by Mr. Myers. Yesterday was the tenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Buckle, a date which was remembered by many of their friends in the city, who moved in upon them last evening and gave them a genuine surprise. The quality of tinware brought along as souvenirs of the occasion was A 1, but the royal congratulations which accompanied the visit of the friends were the most appreciated part of the evening. The congregation and membership of Hansom Park M. E. church of Omaha tendered their pastor, F. M. Sisson, and family a farewell reception Friday evening. Instrumental and vocal music, readings and refreshments constituted the evening's entertainment. Dr. Sisson was presented with a handsome painting of the Sistine Madonna and also a large Wilton rug. The doctor arrived in Norfolk this noon and will preach morning and evening at the M. E. church tomorrow. The first of the dancing parties to be given by the Early Hour club during the winter, held at Must hall last evening, was a success in every particular. The hall was handsomely decorated, the music furnished by the Italian orchestra was inspiring, the attendance was all that could be desired, and there was no flaw to mar the pleasure of the evening. Coffee and sandwiches were served during the evening by Eberhart. The series of parties will be continued, the next coming three weeks from last evening. Sioux City Journal: Henry T. Oxnard of Oxnard, Cal., president of the American Beet Sugar company, has written a letter to the manufacturers' committee of the Sioux City real estate board saying that his representative, whom he had intended to send to Sioux City during the latter part of September for the purpose of investigating the adaptability of Sioux City's territory for the raising of sugar beets, had been prevented from coming, but that he would arrive in Sioux City some time during the present month. J. J. Clements was a very surprised man last evening when a party of relatives and friends invaded his home on Madison avenue at about 8 o'clock, finding him playing with the children on the kitchen floor. Mrs. Clements had invited the guests, who met at the home of Mrs. Mather and proceeded in a body to the Clements home, and until they came in upon him he had not thought of the fact that it was his 41st birthday. The evening was very enjoyably spent at games of cards and other amusements. Refreshments were served, to which ample justice was done, after which Mr. Clements was presented with a handsome collar and cuff box. T. H. Tracy, who is a member of the Milford Soldiers' and Sailors' home, is in the city visiting his son and friends. Mr. Tracy is very well pleased with the home, of which he has furnished a few facts: The home was originally built for a sanitarium on account of the fine mineral springs in the near neighborhood. It was, however, never used for the purpose for which it was built, but was rented by the state for its present use. The institution is now the property of the state, the last legislature having appropriated $13,500 for its purchase. The legislature also appropriated $5,000 to erect a hospital addition. The main building is three stories in height, with basement, and is situated on the highest point of ground on the forty acres which is the property of the institution. From the building the ground slopes gently to the Big Blue river, which is the boundary line of the property on the east. More than one half of the forty acres is covered by a beautiful forest of native growth. The home is governed by Commandant Judge Fowler of Omaha, whose wife is matron, and Mr. Tracy states that they are doing all in their power for the comfort and convenience of the old soldiers of the home. Commissioners' Proceedings. MADISON, Neb., October 3, 1899.—At 1 p. m. board of county commissioners met in regular session—A. C. Johnson, H. W. Winter and John J. Hughes, present. On motion the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. On motion the clerk was directed to exchange valuations and taxes for the year 1899, on lots 7 and 8, block 1, C. W. Braasch's addition to Norfolk, making value of lot 7 $75.00 and lot 8 $10.00, and for the year 1898 reduce value on lot 8, erroneously assessed as improved to $8.00. On motion claims in the alleged insanity case of Geo. Beymer were allowed as follows: Geo. W. Losey, witness 1 day, $2.00. J. H. Kingman, witness 1 day and 17 miles, $3.70.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is a food medicine for the baby that is thin and not well nourished and for the mother whose milk does not nourish the baby. It is equally good for the boy or girl who is thin and pale and not well nourished by their food; also for the anemic or consumptive adult that is losing flesh and strength. In fact, for all conditions of wasting, it is the food medicine that will nourish and build up the body and give new life and energy when all other means fail. Should be taken in summer as well as winter. See and $9.00, all druggists. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.
