Baker will spend Saturday with her sister, Miss Hartley at Madison. A. F. Malby of Colorado Springs, Col., is in the city looking after property interests. Mrs. E. W. Stevens and son have gone to Sioux City and South Dakota for a visit to friends. Mrs. Henry Haase has returned from a visit of two months duration with her parents in Wisconsin. J. W. True of Omaha came in last night and will spend the winter at the home of his son, S. W. True. Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre of Blencoe, Iowa, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Rees at the hospital for the insane. Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Rubenfall and Miss Schavland of Madison are in the city attending the county Sunday school convention. Mrs. A. S. Shurtlett, who has been enjoying a visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Holden, leaves today for Hot Springs, S. D. The West Side Whist club was very pleasantly entertained last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Baum on North Tenth street. J. F. Jemal of Hartington, county clerk of Cedar county, was in the city today to see about the printing of ballots for his county. Dr. O. L. Stevenson of the hospital for insane, is enjoying a visit from his mother and two sisters, who arrived last evening from Geneva. C. C. Gow will go to Kearney to attend the state convention of the Y. P. S. C. E. as delegate from the society of First Congregational church. Mrs. Sarah W. Morrell, owner of the Mast block, is having a one-room addition built adjoining the rear of the one occupied by the Norfolk National bank. Friends of Mr. Shurtz are glad to note that he is able to be out again, he having almost entirely recovered from what threatened to be a serious sickness. Mrs. Elizabeth Fletcher, who has been the guest of Mrs. Geo. L. Hes, departed this noon for Beemer, where she will visit a few days before returning to her home in Aberdeen, S. D. Rev. H. Koester of Clearwater and Rev. E. Just of Ainsworth were in the city yesterday on their way home from Wayne, where they had been attending the German Lutheran conference. Mrs. Geo. L. Hes gave a reception yesterday afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock in honor of her guest, Mrs. Elizabeth Fletcher. Those who responded to the invitation passed an enjoyable afternoon. The Republicans of Norfolk and vicinity should not forget the meeting to be held at the city hall tonight to arrange for the meeting by Senator Hayward and Congressman Taylor of Ohio on Saturday, the 4th. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tucker of New York, who have been in the city for several days examining the sugar factory, left on the noon train for Ames to view the factory at that place before continuing their journey. Mr. Tucker is secretary of the American Beet Sugar company. Rev. Helzel of Fond du Lac, Wis., has accepted a call to become pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church of this city, and will probably arrive here next week and preach to his new congregation the Sunday following. Mr. Helzel comes highly recommended for the position and he will undoubtedly receive a warm welcome from his parishioners. C. F. W. Marquardt, C. E. Doughty, S. L. Gardner, John Osterling, Wm. Kissau and E. E. Beels were Norfolk Odd Fellows who assisted in instituting the new lodge at Meadow Grove last night. They report a large attendance of members of the order from the various lodges in the vicinity and a royal good time. The lodge starts out with 11 charter members, while a large number were initiated last night. The ladies should take especial interest in the movement for a free public library in Norfolk and should attend the meeting called by Mayor Simpson at the high school building tonight. Perhaps no one thing exerts a better influence on the young manhood and womanhood of the world today than good reading matter, and to place this within the reach of all should be one of the objects of all charitable, emulating people. Whoever is instrumental in instituting a free public library in Norfolk will have a monument to his credit of more than ordinary moment. The men have taken an interest in pushing along the opera house and the opportunity now offers for the ladies to equal or exceed that attainment in providing a public library. The men will certainly lend their assistance to the work, but it would be a nice thing if Norfolk's ladies, always loyal to their home-town's welfare, could take the lead and be entitled to the greater credit. F. Warrant who has the supervision of the opera house at this place, has received some fine photographs of the building erected by his company at York, which he is exhibiting to his friends. One is an interior view and discloses a fine, substantial building of commodious proportions. Another is an interior view of the seating capacity of the hall, showing the lower floor and balcony seated with fine opera chairs with upholstered seats. The other view discloses the stage and boxes which are both works of art and make a handsome appearance, even in the photograph. Mr. Warrant promises that the Norfolk auditorium shall be exactly like the York structure with the one exception that the building is 20 feet longer than the one under construction here, but this 20 feet is occupied by store and office rooms so that the opera house proper is no larger than the one planned for Norfolk. The Norfolk opera house will be fully the equal of any in the state, the Boyd and Creighton at Omaha being no exceptions. Although these are larger and have a greater seating capacity they will not answer the purpose for which they are intended any better than the one for Norfolk. SATURDAY SIFTINGS. E. B. Ovelman is in to spend Sunday. F. Wietzer went to Omaha this morning. Judge Allen was in the city again this morning. Howard Beemer returned from Omaha last night. Mrs. W. Jemal, of Hartington, county clerk of Cedar county, who is here looking after the printing of election ballots, clerked in Palmer's grocery store at this place 18 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Dexter, who have been spending some weeks in the city, left today for their home in Lowell, Mass. Mr. Dexter is proprietor of the cold storage plant. The second dance of the Early Hour club was held last evening in Mast hall Sassano, the Sioux City harpist, furnished the music and the party was thoroughly enjoyed. Superintendent C. H. Reynolds will depart for Chicago tomorrow to meet Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. McBride on their return from a visit to eastern friends and relatives. Mrs. A. J. Davis is enjoying a visit from her brother A. J. Griswold of Decatur, Ill., whom she has not seen for more than a quarter of a century. He is a conductor on the Wabash line. Telephone No. 159 has been placed in the building occupied as police headquarters. No. 160 is now in E. H. Winder's residence and 161 has been put into the residence of J. K. Boas. Manager G. F. Sprecher of the telephone exchange reports the arrival of a new assistant at his home early this morning. The young gentleman will call the manager "papa" as soon as he is able. G. W. Evans has struck a flowing well on his farm south of the city which he considers of much value to him. He thinks that the valuation of his farm has been increased about $500 by the lucky strike of the well-boring apparatus. While at Grand Island recently W. R. Hoffman passed a successful examination as an embalmer and undertaker before the state board and is now in possession of a certificate, as required by the recent law passed by the legislature. It is understood that Rev. J. P. Van Fleet of Trinity Episcopal church will preach his farewell sermon tomorrow afternoon and will soon depart for Kansas City to take up work. Who will in the future be the pastor here is not known. W. O. Hall has discontinued the barber shop recently started by him at South Norfolk because he needs Will Hazel's services in the up town shop to take his place, as he is compelled to be absent from his business much of the time on account of his wife's serious illness. Sioux City Journal: C. J. Howen aged 43 years, a switchman, has been declared to be insane by the commissioners of insanity and this morning will be taken to the hospital for the insane at Clarinda. It is about four weeks since Howe first displayed signs of mental ailment, and now his malady seems to be getting worse. It is thought to be the result of taking over-doses of patent medicine for relief of spinal trouble. H. Vant Lane, general manager of the Nebraska Telephone company, and H. C. Denny, superintendent of toll lines of the same company, were in the city today on their way to Creighton to look after the proposed construction of the new line between this city and that town. Five carloads of poles for the new line passed through this morning. One was set aside here and is being unloaded today by Messrs. Sprecher and Requa. The others will be unloaded at the other towns along the line. MONDAY MENTION. J. S. McClary was a passenger for Omaha today. Ed Bates went to Missouri Valley on the noon train. J. H. Berryman is a city visitor today from Creighton. Mrs. W. H. Bucholz returned from Omaha Saturday. O. Fantl of Chicago is a business visitor in Norfolk. Chester A. Koeningstein was a passenger to Madison this morning. Fred Klentz, sr., and daughter Lizzie went to Omaha yesterday. P. W. Warner and Arthur Pilger drove to Stanton yesterday. Mrs. E. A. Crum of Creighton is visiting her daughter, Miss Ora. Misses Ruth and Grace Matrau were visitors in Omaha Saturday. Bank Examiner E. H. Luikart visited with Mrs. Hibben on South Third street tomorrow afternoon, after which they will serve one of their popular 10-cent teas, from five to seven o'clock. Every-body is invited to attend. A number of little friends called in and surprised Clyde Edwards Friday evening the home of his parents and assisted him in observing the 12th anniversary of his birth. The little folks enjoyed a good time and were especially delighted with the choice refreshments served. The work of laying brick on the new opera house was commenced this morning and the front foundation is rapidly assuming proportions. The brick of the foundations is being laid with cement, which while making it strong and enduring, will also make it impervious to water. Yesterday was the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Benning and a number of their friends called in and surprised them at their home on Tenth street. A very enjoyable time resulted and a large number of wooden presents were left by the guests as reminders of the occasion. It is reported that an epidemic of typhus fever is raging in the vicinity of Stanton and there are many ill with the disease. This fever was responsible for the death of Arthur E., the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mittelstadt of that place, who died a week ago Friday and was buried the Sunday following. Battle Creek Enterprise: The infant of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bolifsky, recently born, died Tuesday night and was buried Wednesday, Rev. Hoffman officiating. The sympathy of everyone is with the parents, whose numerous sad misfortunes are without precedent. Of the 14 children born to them, only two are alive, one of whom has been sadly afflicted for years and was just recently consigned to the Norfolk asylum. A crowd of about 30 adult Russians and nearly twice that number of children came in on the 10:40 train from Sioux City, having come directly from their native land. To Americans the people presented a rather grotesque appearance in their native garments and they were the object of many curious glances by the people about the depot. It is understood that they will form a colony in this vicinity and till Nebraska soil for a livelihood. The following is related of one of Norfolk's bright youngsters: His papa and another gentleman went out duck shooting, the result of their hunt being one duck. This had been killed by the companion of the boy's father, who presented it to that less fortunate individual. The circumstances being explained to the lad, he was curious to know why his father hadn't killed a bird also. The "old man" stated that he guessed it was because he wasn't a good shot. On going to bed that night, the kidlet wound up his evening prayer with this rather shocking request: "God bless papa and mamma and teach papa how to shoot." The Pacific block had a narrow escape from another fire last night. One of the girls employed in the kitchen had been using a lantern and in turning it down to extinguish the light, the wick was turned into the oil, which caught fire and after blazing for a moment the bowl exploded, scattering the burning oil about the room, where it continued to burn with threatening vigor. The bright light was seen by some gentlemen passing along the street who hurried in, but the employees had been prompt in their action and when they arrived the flames were extinguished. The experience gave all present quite a scare, nevertheless. John Broecker and wife were 65 years of age last week, which contained also the anniversary of Mr. Broecker's introduction to the tailoring trade, he having plied the needle for 50 years past on the bench. This week of important anniversaries was royally celebrated yesterday at the home of the worthy couple. In the neighborhood of 40 guests were entertained at dinner and supper and during the evening. The occasion was heartily enjoyed by all the guests and the choice refreshments were given merited consideration. It is said that Mr. Broecker still does his work with a deftness that is a revelation to many a younger man. The Marshall Field ranch southeast of the city is soon to receive a very fine blooded cow. The animal was bought at the last day of the auction sale of the National Hereford association held in Kansas City, last Friday. Fifty-eight

Mr. Salter will go to Battle Creek, Mich., to visit her parents for a month. Clyde Pollock, the boy who recently had a leg broken by getting it in a revolving buggy wheel, is now getting along very nicely and it is believed he will be able to be about again in a few weeks. A company of 13 of Ida Pasewalk's little friends called on and surprised her yesterday at the home of her parents on South Fifth street, the day being the young lady's 11th birthday. A good time was enjoyed by the children. The Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Hibben on South Third street tomorrow afternoon, after which they will serve one of their popular 10-cent teas, from five to seven o'clock. Every-body is invited to attend. That Cough Hangs On You have used all sorts of cough remedies but it does not yield; it is too deep seated. It may wear itself out in time, but it is more liable to produce la grippe, pneumonia or a serious throat affection. You need something that will give you strength and build up the body. SCOTT'S EMULSION will do this when everything else fails. There is no doubt about it. It nourishes, strengthens, builds up and makes the body strong and healthy, not only to throw off this hard cough, but to fortify the system against further attacks. If you are run down or emaciated you should certainly take this nourishing food medicine.

A clean, vigorous shampoo, with an abundant lather of Ivory Soap, is delightful and refreshing. It cleanses the scalp, removes dandruff and leaves the hair glossy and clean.
