Many of the store windows have handsome holiday displays, but the window of Oscar Uhle is a decided novelty. In it he has a Christmas tree the pedestal of which is a music box. As the music box turns and plays sweet music it also slowly turns the tree, which is handsomely decorated and illuminated evenings. The music box came from Germany.

The funeral of L. K. Hills of Warnerville was held at one o'clock this afternoon from Trinity Episcopal church and was conducted under the auspices of the Masonic lodge of this city. Rev. W. R. McKim of Hartington officiated. Mr. Hills recently came to Warnerville from Missouri and since his arrival has been afflicted with kidney trouble, which finally resulted in his death. He was 68 years of age.

Bob Reynolds and Miller Mather are laying the brick on the front of the new opera house under difficulty. Enough of the sheeting is knocked off to admit of them sticking their arms and heads through and in this position they lay brick. They do the work rapidly and well in spite of the handicap. The asbestos roofing is being rapidly put on and work on the interior is keeping good pace with that on the outside.

The city schools closed this afternoon for a two weeks' holiday vacation. Exercises appropriate to Christmas were held in the various buildings and were well attended by patrons of the school. The teachers of the Lincoln building, Misses Howig, Ruth Matrau, Grace and Bessie Kidder, united in giving their pupils a very pleasant surprise in the shape of a large Christmas tree loaded with abundant remembrances. It is needless to say that the efforts of these ladies were most thoroughly appreciated.

Mr. Braasch has for a number of years been assistant cashier in the Tilden State bank and has succeeded in winning one of Tilden's fairest daughters. His friends in Norfolk will unite in extending congratulations on the approaching event. The young couple will make their home in Tilden.

Letters have been received at the University of Nebraska from General Manager Geo. F. Bidwell of the Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley railroad in which he calls attention to experiments in hog cholera being conducted along the line of that railroad. The results of these experiments seem to indicate that many farmers in Nebraska and western Iowa, have successfully raised hogs by ranging them with sheep, and also by mixing peas with corn. Mr. Bidwell or the university would be very glad to correspond with anyone who has made tests of this kind and had similar experiences.

The old postoffice building on East Main street, occupied by the industrial store of the ladies of the Congregational church, and owned by the Norfolk National bank, caught fire on the roof this noon and an alarm was turned in which soon brought the three hose companies and hook and ladder company to the scene of action and a few squirts of water soon put a quietus on the disturbance. The upper story of the building is unoccupied and there has been no fire in the lower story since Saturday, so the only plausible cause of the blaze is that a spark or burning piece of soot from a neighboring chimney lodged in the shingles and set them on fire. Quite a hole was burned in the roof, which was the only damage done by the fire. The upper floor was quite liberally flooded with water, but whether or not it did any damage has not been ascertained. The West Side hose company had the record for the first water.

Those big double header freight trains continue to be a regular thing on the Union Pacific. From Columbus here the train is a double header, but beyond this place to Sioux City only one engine is required to handle it.

The Christmas dancing party of the Early Hour club will be held at the Mast hall Tuesday evening, and promises to be the pleasantest party yet given by that popular club. The hall will be decorated in a manner appropriate to Christmas. Sassano, the Sioux City harpist, will furnish music.

While the postoffice force will conform to the usual custom and observe Christmas, they will also give due regard to those who are anxious to know what Uncle Sam's mail contains for them in the way of presents, and the office will therefore be open from 9:30 to 11:30 in the morning and again in the evening at 7:30.

Three young lads of Omaha were arrested Sunday night in the Creighton Orpheum. The young fellows occupied front seats in the gallery and amused themselves by spitting upon the people sitting below them. Norfolk may have mean boys, but THE NEWS is certain that none of them would attempt such nasty devilry as this.

Plainview Republican: A couple of Norfolk parties are contemplating the erection of a two-story brick hotel in this city next spring. They are of the opinion that Plainview is in need of a better hotel building, and if their plans carry through, will put up a fine building, with all the modern appliances. Further particulars later.

The trustees of the public library association have selected Superintendent O'Connor to represent them at the meeting of representatives of the various public libraries of the state at Lincoln on the 26th. The F. E. & M. V. company have again exhibited their liberality and interest in all matters of benefit to the public by offering the representative free transportation.

Miss Edith Morrow gave her pupils of the school three miles south of town a jolly Christmas festival last evening. The school house was decorated with a beautiful tree, well laden with presents for every scholar, there was a sur-enough Santa Claus, with exercises appropriate for the occasion. A novelty was introduced this year in the form of a cake walk, participated in by eight pupils in con attire.

A report on the sugar beet crop in Nebraska, issued by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road estimates the total amount produced at 25,000,000 pounds of sugar. The price paid for the beets ranged from $4 to $5 per ton. The factories at Grand Island and Norfolk report that it was difficult to get a sufficient acreage of the beets planted notwithstanding the fact that the early part of the past season was excellent.

Reinhardt Wilde was quite badly hurt yesterday. He was riding a horse after cattle, when a rabbit ran across just ahead of the horse frightening it so it shied and threw Wilde off, injuring his knee so he could not walk. Neighbors saw the accident and assisted him to the home of his father, Frederick Wilde, who lives a few miles north of the city. At last accounts it was not known whether any bones had been broken or not.

Meadow Grove Press: Mr. Oscar Warner, better known as "Old Grizzley" living north of town, captured an eagle one day last week in a wolf trap. He had a 20-pound weight tied to the trap which the bird carried about 35 yards after being captured; he says that the wings of the eagle will measure 11 feet from tip to tip. Mr. Warner was in town Saturday to get material for a cage to put it in. From the description he give of the bird it must be the Golden eagle.

Battle Creek Enterprise: Meadow Grove has two school ma'ams who believe in physical as well as mental development, and in keeping with the theory that a brisk walk gives that delightful glow to the complexion so much admired by the sterner sex, Misses Gertie Wade and Josie Avery "hoofed" it from Meadow Grove to Battle Creek last Sunday afternoon. They returned on the evening passenger, having acquired the "delightful glow" with a few corns thrown in.

An exchange says that the latest thing in entertainments is a left-handed party. The guests are required to have their right hands tied up, pinned down or cut off, and everything is then done left-handed. All the guests are required to register their names, ages, residence, nativity, etc., left-handed and then play left-handed games, left-handed music, etc., and eat left-handed pickles and other refreshments, and then bid the hostess a left-handed farewell and take the other hand home.

Jack Adair, aged 35 years, a resident of this county for many years, but for several years living at Cripple Creek, Colo., where he was employed in one of the mines, met with a horrible death while capping a cartridge. The latter exploded, causing instant death. He leaves a wife and four children. His body was brought to Madison for burial Saturday night. The Ancient Order of United Workmen lodge, of which Mr. Adair was a member, had charge of the funeral, and will pay the widow $2,000.

The following item from the Battle Creek Republican refers to the old gentleman who made Norfolk his headquarters for some time and fondly imagined that he was a real estate dealer. He also operated at Tilden and other towns along the Elkhorn: "F. W. Richardson received a telegram last Friday informing him of the death of J. E. Chase, at the hospital for insane, Hastings, Neb., on the 8th of December. Mr. Chase was familiarly known here for a number of years. For a time he was an inmate of the county poor house, but later was taken to the Norfolk insane asylum and from there to the Hastings asylum."

The B. & M. sent a double headed special train of 45 cars loaded with soap from the Cudahy Soap Works in South Omaha. This was the largest train of soap ever run and is to supply the wholesale houses in Denver, Salt Lake, Ogden, San Francisco and Los Angeles. One would hardly believe that 45 cars of soap, requiring two of the largest locomotives to draw them, could be shipped at one time to supply the trade of one section of the country; but it is a fact. The train load of soap weighed 1,500,000 pounds, consisted of 2,000,000 cakes packed in 20,000 cases and if stacked one bar above another would make a pile 135 miles high and worth $60,000.

It would seem unnecessary for M. Stangland to continue trying his case in the newspapers. When brought before the police judge on the charge of being drunk and disorderly he denied the accusation and brought nine witnesses to prove that he was wrongly accused. In face of this weight of evidence the judge concluded that he was guilty, and consequently assessed a fine of $25.50 against him. From this decision he took an appeal to the district court and gave a good bond. When he gets before the district court, if he is found to have been wrongfully accused he will be cleared, but if not, he will be compelled to pay the fine. No amount of newspaper argument of the case will cut any figure in the final result, and if he is wise he will leave the trial of his case to the proper tribunal.

Stanton Picket: Report comes to Pilger of a peculiar and unfortunate occurrence, or series of occurrences, in Cumming county. North of Wisner near the county line lives Hezekiah Bresler, an old man. On his farm is a second house in which a tenant, a husky German named Huning lives. The man has had trouble and last Saturday Bresler shot Huning with a revolver injuring him considerably but not fatally. John Huning gave the old a severe pomeling Monday Bresler was arrested on complaint of Huning charging him with shooting with intent to kill and he was released on bail. Tuesday night Bresler came to Wisner from West Point and started to drive home. The team ran away and threw him out, breakin his nose, jaw and inflicting other serious injuries.

The ball and banquet of the K. P. S. L. last evening was a pronounced success in every particular. The members of the club to the number of ten couples met at the Mast hall, where dancing commenced promptly at 9 o'clock, music being furnished by the hospital orchestra. At 11 o'clock an adjournment was taken to the Oxnard hotel, where a banquet was served. The tables were tastefully decorated with cut flowers and Christmas greens, and the menu was an elaborate affair, served by a corps of trained waiters in a manner which reflected credit upon Landlord Spear. The toasts were wittily responded to by members of the club, the subjects being: "The school ma'ams," "The sugar factory," "The postal service," "Our absent ladies," "Our absent gentlemen," "The hospital for the insane," "The owl." At the close of the banquet the merry makers returned to the hall where the dancing was continued until 2 o'clock this morning. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Bundick, Misses Howig, Wood, Harvey, Gibson, McNish, Ruth and Mamie Matrau, Alberry, Messrs. Ellor, Sinsheimer, Owen, Fulton, Conklin, Baird, Sims, Eddy.

HEAT CURES APPENDICITIS.

Prominent Physicians Say It is Amenable to Proper Medical Treatment.

Dr. Hutton in the "Medical Record": This paper is a protest against the current surgical theory and practice that all cases of appendicitis must be split open. This protest is based on twenty-seven years' experience as physician and surgeon, including service in three hospitals, one western fort, five years in mining surgery, five years in railroad surgery, twelve years in general practice on the central western plateau of Minnesota, and four in this great city, which—unique in the speed of its rise, unique in the snap of its people, unique in vast tributary territory and population—is decreed by the fates to be the hub of the earth in the near-by future. My experience is that appendicitis and all other bellyaches for which men now operate are promptly amenable to proper medical treatment. I can recall 100 cases treated with symptoms of this malady—or of typhilitis or perityphilitis, as it was formerly called—but I have never yet met a case of it in which I felt it my duty to cut or which terminated fatally. Influenced by the prevailing craze to cut, time and again in coming to new cases I have thought: "Now, sir, your time has come, in this case you must be cut." But, presto! simple medical treatment again prevailed. Later on I shall cite other unimpeachable practitioners who share my views that medical treatment avails in this malady, one showing 49 out of 51 cases successfully treated—being more than 95 per cent. My treatment for appendicitis is free calomel and soda purgation, supplemented by hot applications, to be followed by a saline if action is too slow.
