The list of transfers published today shows an increasing activity in the real estate markets at large prices. This is a condition that has been anticipated and is highly gratifying to those who have placed their confidence in the value of Nebraska dirt. It is believed by many that this is but a beginning of a movement that will prevail during the coming year, which is looked upon to develop an activity not known in real estate markets for years.

The monthly weather record for February as kept by Dr. P. H. Salter, voluntary observer, shows that the highest temperature was 55 on the 7th, the lowest was 29 below on the 15th and the mean minimum temperature was 3, showing the coldest month of the winter but not a record breaker as compared with other years. The total snowfall was 9 1/2 inches. Total precipitation .34 inches. There were 16 clear days, 6 cloudy and 6 partly cloudy. The prevailing wind direction was north.

The Salvation Army people have been bothered for some time past by a company of young hoodlums who tried, to the extent of their ability, to make life a burden to them, and their disturbance was endured until forbearance was impossible. They have been pleaded with and threatened repeatedly, but all to no purpose. Yesterday one of the main leaders of the gang was arrested under complaint of the captain, and brought before Judge Hayes. The captain said they would not prosecute this time if a promise of future good behavior could be extracted. The young man, who is a late comer to the city, promised and was given a serious lecture by the judge. He was then given his liberty with the understanding on the part of the officers that any further disturbance would be dealt with in accordance with the law. The penalty for disturbing religious meetings as provided by statute is a fine of $20 or imprisonment until fine and costs are satisfied. The law further provides that a member of a religious organization may forcibly eject a disturber from the building. The boys may be very thankful that they have been accorded such lenient treatment.

The fragrance of life is vigor and strength, neither of which can be found in a person whose blood is impure, and whose every breath speaks of internal troubles. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, gives a good appetite and makes the weak strong.

It is the unexpected that happens. Norfolk theatre-goers have been treated to two surprises during the week. The first was in the Huebner-Settle company, which gave on the second and third nights of its appearance far better entertainments than the advertising of the company led the public to believe would be given. The other surprise was last night's rendition of McCarthy's Mishap by Barney Ferguson. It had been announced that as a comedian Barney Ferguson ranked only second to Tim Murphy, and that the attraction would be unusually good. As a matter of fact Ferguson does not begin to be as good as a comedian as Huebner, with the Huebner-Settle company, and is not to be spoken of in the same day with Tim Murphy. The presentation last night was nearly all bad, with a very few partially redeeming features. As a whole the entertainment was but a very low grade vaudeville performance, and the alleged "fun" which was supposed to predominate was altogether too suggestive and too coarse to be funny. Smut is not necessarily wit. The Huebner company can come to Norfolk again and be greeted by a good house; Ferguson can not come to Norfolk again and be greeted by anything more than a frost.

Mr. Durland says that each time he goes east and returns home he is more pleased with Nebraska. He reports a great deal of rain in the section of country he has been visiting.

Madison Chronicle: J. E. House, through his attorney Fred H. Free, of Norfolk, filed with the Clerk of the District Court Schavland, Monday a petition asking for a judgment of $5,458.57, over charges paid to Cox, Jones & Cox, a commission firm of South Omaha, and also for $3,000 damages to business and cost of suit.

Bert Eberhart denies in toto the rumor that he is to remove his restaurant to the Junction the first of May. He says he is well satisfied where he is, and has no notion of removing or quitting business. The item yesterday was given upon the authority of a man who talked about it though he knew what he was talking about, but evidently he didn't.

C. W. Mihills met with quite a serious accident yesterday morning at the Brunson livery barn. He had driven his hack in and had the horses unhitched with the exception of one tug, and the tongue removed. One of the horses was a little nervous and before he could get the remaining tug unfastened it started up, pulling the hack along. Mr. Mihills tried to get out of the way but in doing so got against a post supporting the roof and one of the iron pieces which connects the tongue with the vehicle caught the fleshy part of his thigh and entered it to the depth of about five inches, producing an ugly wound. He was taken home about 4 o'clock and Dr. Tashjian has been attending him. He suffered some pain yesterday and the limb is swollen some today but if complications do not set in he will probably be about in a short time.

Winter & Schulz, the Norfolk manufacturers of harness and dealers in saddles, collars, bridles, and all the other articles that go to make up an outfit for the horse, are now occupying both floors of their large building on east Main street with their stock, which is at the present time the largest of its kind in northern Nebraska. Not only is the salesroom filled to overflowing with harness, saddles, robes, etc., but a room of similar size up stairs is equally a full of reserve stock and that in course of manufacture. The firm has two shops, up stairs and down, where constant employment is given to six or eight men, so that the institution is not only a good place to buy goods, but as a manufacturing plant it is of considerable value to Norfolk. This city needs more plants which will employ eight or ten men each. They are the making of a small city, and should be encouraged by receiving all patronage possible.

Mrs. Chas. Harding gave a very pleasant reception at her home on Norfolk avenue yesterday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 6. Invitations to the number of 100 were issued and from the number of ladies who responded it was apparent that there were very few regrets. Those who assisted the hostess in entertaining were Mrs. S. P. Bryant, Mrs. J. K. Boaz, Mrs. W. H. Bucholz, Mrs. H. E. Warrick, Mrs. Geo. L. Iles, Mrs. E. P. Weatherly and Misses Josephine Butterfield and Louise Iles. Miss Ruth Harding presided over a punch bowl. The dining room was decorated with bouquets of beautiful cut flowers and on leaving the dining room each guest was presented with a carnation. The occasion was an enjoyable one and its remembrance will linger in the minds of those who participated. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Harding very pleasantly entertained the West Side Whist club.

A Sick Person.

The best of humor or ridicule is that which comes through ignorance or spontaneity. Thus the cute sayings of children and the ready answers of unlearned Irishmen are received with amusement the world over. The following letter is a case in point. It was not gotten up but was probably written with a great degree of earnestness. It was addressed to a Norfolk physician by a former resident of the city or vicinity and is indeed an amusing epistle. The best part of it would be lost by correction and it is therefore given as nearly like the original as possible, omitting of course, all names:

To the Dr.—
Please examine this matter and send please send me a copy true about my health I would be ever so much obliged for your trouble. I am in a bad shape. I cannot help myself I am not able to work only very light work. I give you my complaint

1. winter I am not to go out doors I catch cold so quick
2. Asthma
3. spitting up so bad in the evenings and mornings
4. bowels do not work right for 12 years as they would
5. my stomach
6. my heart is something the matter I am liable to die if I should get scart
7. my feet soon get plaid out weak and shake and the same time the stomach gets sick
8. my eye's are aful weak
9. the right side near the ribs something bad aful bad. If I turn my body or if setting on a wagon it seems to lungs crawl up and take away my breath entirely. this is something bad if I get a little warm I have to be aful careful. it is danger for me to crawl in a well or narrow places and so far that is all the matter with me

Yours Truly

Important to Educators.

The North Nebraska Teachers' association meets at Wayne, March 28-30. This will be the most important educational meeting in the state this year. The North Nebraska "Educational Council" will be organized, the object of which will be to discuss and recommend plans for systematizing, uniting and improving the different departments of school work in north Nebraska; and in general to organize north Nebraska educators into a body for the dissemination of right ideas in educational work, with the intention of such body becoming a force for good in the state.

A committee will report and recommend a course of study for high schools of differing strength; considered and prepared from the standpoint of the amount of work teaching forces composed of four, six, ten, twenty or more teachers, should attempt to do.

The program is one of the best ever presented at an educational gathering in the state. The topics to be discussed in the general session are of vital interest to teachers in all departments of work from the rural school to the high school, while the programs for the section meetings are especially strong and practical.

Railroad rates are fare and one-third for round trip on the receipt or certificate plan. (Take receipt from your R. R. agent.)

All who have been asked to take part in the meeting have expressed a willingness to do so, with very few exceptions. We are safe in giving assurance of a large number in attendance, and an enthusiastic meeting. North Nebraska teachers should not miss this meeting.

BOARDS OF EDUCATION.

Members of the board of education of our state have often remarked that the wide-awake, progressive teachers are they who attend teachers' meetings. At such meetings the most advanced educational thought of the time finds expression. The teacher returns to her work feeling that she has a comprehensive view of the best educational sentiment. She renews her work with more courage, devotion and enthusiasm. The children under her feel the impulse of her increased ardor. The teacher does her work better; the children do their work better; the district receives better returns for money paid for teaching. People take pride in saying: "Our teachers are away attending the teachers' association; they are ambitious to keep abreast of the times." Because of these facts, gentlemen, we respectfully request not only that you encourage your teachers to attend this meeting but that you allow them the time to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bullock were the recipients of a surprise party Saturday evening, which was participated in by about 30 of their friends. A very pleasant evening was spent in games and music, which was well rounded out with refreshments that had been brought by the visitors.

Marshal Widaman picked up an old man who stretched out on the sidewalk at a late hour Saturday night, and gave him lodgings in the cooler until morning. The marshal said the old man had been drinking, but he also had the appearance of being drugged. He went away without giving his name.

Mrs. Requa's uncle lives in San Diego and he has been ill for some time, which is an incentive to the visit.

Carl L. Laubsch is getting ready to open up a tinshop in the building just west of the Oxnard hotel recently vacated by J. H. Conley's bicycle shop. He will be ready for business as soon as his stock arrives and is getting his tools and machinery in place meanwhile.

He is an old hand at the business and will probably receive a share of patronage.

The horse of Arthur Koenigstein met with a peculiar accident yesterday morning by which its neck was almost broken. It was loose in the alley when it fell under against a building with its head under its body. It laid that way for 10 or 15 minutes before it was released. Arthur and Dr. McKim have been working with it since endeavoring to save its life and they hope they have been successful.

Saturday was the nineteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Roland, and that evening about 50 friends gave them a genuine surprise party, taking with them two beautiful rugs as a substantial memento of the occasion. Besides, there were many mysterious baskets carried by the visitors which, upon investigation at the close of a pleasantly spent evening, furnished the material for a delightful lunch.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR!

Ask your physician this question, "What is the one great remedy for consumption?" He will answer, "Cod-liver oil." Nine out of ten will answer the same way.

Yet when persons have consumption they loathe all fatty foods, yet fat is necessary for their recovery and they cannot take plain cod-liver oil. The plain oil disturbs the stomach and takes away the appetite. The disagreeable fishy odor and taste make it almost unendurable. What is to be done? This question was answered when we first made of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Although that was nearly twenty-five years ago, yet it stands alone today the one great remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs.

The bad taste and odor have been taken away, the oil itself has been partly digested, and the most sensitive stomach objects to it rarely. Not one in ten can take and digest the plain oil. Nine out of ten can take SCOTT'S EMULSION and digest it. That's why it cures so many cases of early consumption. Even in advanced cases it brings comfort and greatly prolongs life.
