In the fire which destroyed 40 buildings at Leed, S. D., yesterday morning, the jewelry house of C. S. Bargelt, formerly with C. S. Hayes of this city, was destroyed. His relatives and friends do not yet know what his loss was. It is possible that a portion of his stock was saved.

The sheeting for the roof has been placed on the new Catholic church and it will now be but a short time until the building is enclosed. The new edifice is assuming more handsome proportions each day and will be one of which not only the parishioners, but the entire people of the city can well be proud.

A dispatch to the Bee from Fremont states that John W. Schadt of that city has succeeded in making syrup from sugar beets, which he thinks will prove a strong competitor with cane and other syrups and molasses for cooking purposes. It is of about the same consistency and a little darker in color than the best grade of New Orleans molasses and contains no granulated sugar in suspension.

Yesterday morning Frank Eble was currying some of the links and dust out of the fur of the grizzly bear mounted by Sessions & Bell, using a horse brush in the operation, when some member of the crowd gathered asked where the animal was killed. "A mile north of Hadar," said Frank with a promptness and apparent sincerity that would be convincing to anyone who didn't know him. The knowing ones smiled audibly and Frank continued his dexterous wielding of the brush.

A New Industry.

Norfolk is to have a new enterprise, or one which has been but partially represented for a number of years. It is a marble and stone-cutting works. The Alderman Granite and Marble company has rented the west store room of the Elsie block and is now receiving a large invoice of stone and monuments. F. B. Alderman, the proprietor, has done a large amount of business through this section of the state for several years past and has decided to move into the territory where he can be in closer touch with his trade. Heretofore he has handled all of his business from West Point and while he will still maintain a business there the main business will be done from Norfolk. The front of the building will be used for a display or ware room and a partition will be used to separate it from the stone-cutting department in the rear. The firm has put in a large number of the handsome monuments in Prospect Hill cemetery and a large number have also been placed in the cemeteries at towns tributary to Norfolk. Yesterday Mr. Alderman was down to Albion and sold Governor Poynter a fine monument to be erected over the grave of his father. Mr. Alderman is an energetic business man and should receive a cordial welcome to Norfolk. He has been engaged in the marble business since 1888 and contemplated going into it on a more extensive scale than ever, buying stone in larger quantities and direct from the quarries.

Enjoy Themselves.

The railway employees of no distant city have their own ideas in regard to the officials who occasionally inspect their work. A by-stander remarked that these officials must enjoy themselves riding around in their private cars.

"Yes they do," remarked an employee, "when they feel good."

"And when the don't feel good," chipped in another employee, "they are raising Cain with us."

Madison is confronted by a scarcity of empty houses suitable for renters. The same condition prevails in Norfolk and perhaps every other town in north Nebraska. It is everywhere apparent that people are coming to this section of the country to make their homes and take advantage of its excellent opportunities.

Robbers entered a hardware store at Pierce last night and relieved the establishment of considerable valuable property. They also entered a saloon, but were not highly rewarded for their efforts. The officers here are keeping an eye out for any suspicious characters or circumstances that will lead to the arrest of the thieves.

Mrs. Chas. Harding went to Omaha today, where Mr. Harding has a house in readiness, and where they will make their home in future. The children will remain here a few days with their grandmother, Mrs. McMillan. Norfolk is sorry to lose the family, and best wishes of many friends will accompany them to their new home, coupled with the hope that Mr. Harding will make a success of his new creamery venture in the metropolis.

B. P. Campbell and Wilson Cook got into an argument in the rear of one of the saloons yesterday afternoon and were arrested on the charge of disturbing the peace. Cook appeared before the police court and contributed $10 to the support of the city. Campbell was too much intoxicated yesterday to appear, and was kept in the city jail over night. This morning he was given some medicine to steady his badly shattered nerves and appeared before court, where he was given a fine and costs amounting to $10. Having no money he wrote for some and is still under control of the court.

The West Side Whist club met with Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Weatherby last evening. The members were invited to attend in costume, and the outfits worn by those present gave one the impression that time had turned backward a few hundred years and that ancient history was being reviewed in living example. The unique and sometimes rather gaudy attire of the assemblage furnished the foundation for a great amount of fun.

Dr. H. C. Herring, pastor of the First Congregational church of Omaha, will preach in the First Congregational church, this city, tomorrow morning at 10:45, and in the evening at 7:30 in the Second Congregational church at South Norfolk. Tomorrow is the day devoted to the home missionary rally by the First Congregational church and Dr. H. Bross of Lincoln, state superintendent of missions, will be here. Mrs. Bross will also be here.

W. H. Wigton writes THE NEWS from Omaha that he expects to be in Norfolk the latter part of the week, when he hopes to be in position to make definite propositions for settlement of the claims against the Auditorium. It is certainly to be hoped that a satisfactory settlement of the troubles now existing may be brought about. The people of Norfolk have the kindest feelings for the young men who put up a fine opera house for this town, and on every side the hope is expressed that they may so adjust their affairs as to reap the reward of their enterprise.

The city has purchased the building on Dorsey Place addition built by Gene Stevens for a paint or carpenter shop and the same will be moved to the city lot on Ninth street, south of the Episcopal church, where it will be fitted up and used for a hose house for the West Side team. The building has double doors and will require but little fitting up to be in readiness for the purpose for which it is intended. It is understood that the price paid for it was $75 and that it will require the expenditure of $35 to move it to its new location. This appears to be a very reasonable price for a hose house as compared with the proposition made at the last council meeting.

The Tennyson club held a most thoroughly enjoyable meeting at the home of A. J. Durland in the Heights. The feature of the evening was a charming parlor talk on "In Memoriam," by Professor Foffler, instructor in German at the state university. The club has studied "In Memoriam" during the winter, and the professor came at the earnest solicitation of the membership. His talk was exceedingly interesting and was given from the standpoint of one who had made the author and his works a deep study. Prof. Foffler is an old classmate of Mrs. Durland and it was largely through her efforts while visiting in Lincoln this winter, that the intellectual treat to the members and their guests was secured. In addition to the address by the professor, the company was treated to some Tennyson music by a quartet. Refreshments were served during the evening and a good social time was enjoyed. The club membership numbers 26 and each was permitted to invite a friend, so that, with members and guests, there were about 50 persons present.

ITS PLATFORM.

Statement of the Object and Purposes of the Good Government Club.

At a meeting of the Good Government club, held Thursday evening, the following statement of its purposes was formulated, and the request made that it be published in local papers:

Whereas, It has been asked, "What is the object, purpose and intent of the Non-Partisan Good Government club?"

Therefore, we wish to state to the taxpayers, voters and public generally, that

Whereas, Our city finances are in a bad condition and that expenditures are in excess of receipts, thus running our city in debt. We ask for a system of economy and retrenchment in the financial administration of municipal affairs generally and particularly in the following:

1st. That the police station now maintained be abolished.

2nd. Believing that the amount paid as salaries in operating our waterworks system is excessive, especially the salary paid the water commissioner, that either the office should be abolished or the pay reduced to an amount equivalent to service required.

3rd. That the expense of lighting the city be investigated and if found excessive, be reduced.

For the best moral interest of the city we further demand:

1st. That minors be prohibited from loitering in the saloons.

2nd. That the saloons be prohibited from maintaining what are commonly called wine rooms.

3rd. That the saloons be required to observe the law respecting night and Sunday closing.

4th. That the saloons be required to keep the windows and doors of their places of business unobstructed.

5th. That whenever any person keeping a saloon and selling intoxicating liquors within the city shall violate any of the provisions of the statutes of the state of Nebraska, or the ordinances of the city of Norfolk, such person's license shall be at once revoked.

6th. That gambling be suppressed.

The members of the Non-Partisan Good Government club stand ready to support candidates who will pledge themselves to carry out the above measures.

THE NON-PARTISAN GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUB.

Many of the farmers throughout the country are busy sowing their small grain crops, the ground being in excellent condition for the purpose, and the weather most propitious.

A. W. Ladd, editor of the Albion News, accompanied by Mrs. Ladd, visited in Norfolk over Sunday with the family of Mrs. Ladd's brother, Conductor Fox of the Union Pacific.

W. H. Clark is moving his family to the large house on Third street and Philip avenue, while R. Stitt will occupy the house vacated by him at the corner of Sixth street and Park avenue.

The Y. M. C. L. is planning to give an entertainment and social on the 30th. The league room will be used for the purpose of serving the supper and the entertainment will be given in Masonic hall.

This is a new country and the opportunity for development is still great. It is said that 25 years ago not a furrow had been turned in Pierce county, while now there are 250,000 acres under cultivation and still a large amount of virgin soil which can be profitably tilled.

Yesterday was as delightfully spring-like as could be desired and the people were out in force enjoying the balmy atmosphere and bright sunshine to the utmost. Spring millinery and toilets were considerably in evidence thus early in the season. It is predicted by many that there will be some winterish weather yet.

The beet sugar company at Ames is beginning to enjoy the experiences resulting from a suit for damages, the first case having been started recently. John Kothoff sues for $5,325 damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of employment in the factory. While doing some steam fitting he fell from the top of a crystallizing tank, breaking an arm and lacerating his hand.

The crowd of people in town Saturday could scarcely have been larger had it been a show day or Fourth of July celebration. The side streets were lined with teams and the walks along Main street were literally thronged with people. The crowd was brought out by the glorious spring weather and was on shopping intent. The day was a very satisfactory one to dealers in spring goods.

The home mission services yesterday morning at the First Congregational church were very successful in point of interest, attendance and collection. Dr. Herron of Omaha preached a forceful sermon and Dr. and Mrs. Bross of Lincoln were also in attendance. It is understood that a collection amounting to about $113 was raised which will go toward the building of churches and support of ministers at places not financially able to support themselves.

The republican county central committee at its meeting in Battle Creek

Saturday decided to call the county convention at Norfolk on April 21 at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of choosing delegates to the state and congressional conventions. The representation was based on the vote cast for M. B. Reese for supreme judge at the last election, giving each precinct one delegate at large and one for each 15 votes or major fraction thereof. This gives a total of 124 delegates in the convention, of which Norfolk will have 38 and Madison 15.

Mrs. R. W. Williams gave a very pleasant party to a number of friends Saturday evening, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Williams. Mr. Williams was kept in ignorance of the fact that the party was in progress and was completely surprised on coming from town to find his home taken possession of by friends. The evening was spent with games and at 10:30 dainty refreshments were served, to which all did ample justice. The guests left seven pieces of silver and other substantial gifts as tokens of their high esteem for their host and hostess. At a late hour they bid them good night, wishing that many more years will be added to their married life.

The postoffice department has decided to issue stamps in books, but it will be two or three months before they reach the local postoffice. The book will be of a convenient size to carry in the pocket and will contain stamps to the amount of 24 cents, 48 cents and 96 cents. An advance of one cent on each book is all that is to be charged the general public, and if one-tenth of the stamps now sold in loose packages are distributed in book form, the government will realize a handsome profit on the investment. The government will pay $2 a thousand for these books, and they will be sold for $10 a thousand, in advance of course, of the face value of the stamps they contain. It is believed the book containing 24 cents in stamps and costing 25 cents will be the most popular.

Madison Star: Quo warranto proceedings have been instituted in district court by Perry V. Lewis against William McDonald, Joseph I. Beach, E. W. Johnson, James L. Dunn and Ira D. Alyea, trustees of the village of Meadow Grove, for the purpose of securing an order declaring void the action of the county commissioners in establishing the corporation of that village, and ousting the defendants as trustees. It appears that the plaintiff has taken this course because of the alleged illegal action of the incorporators in including in the incorporation a lot of farm land adjacent to the town in order to secure sufficient population to permit incorporation. Some of this farm land belongs to the plaintiff, and he seeks relief from excessive taxation in this way. W. M. Robertson of Norfolk has the prosecution of the case, which, from present indications, will be a hotly contested one.
