A gang of telephone men arrived in the city last evening and will at once commence putting up a new metallic circuit between Norfolk and Fremont. One line has been found to be insufficient to handle the commercial business and the proposed addition is to relieve the congested condition of the service.

Rev. G. H. Main of this city and Rev. Wm. Gorst of Neligh will exchange pulpits next Sunday. The former will hold quarterly services at O'Neill. Rev. Gorst was formerly pastor here, but has not preached in Norfolk since he was appointed presiding elder of the Neligh district. His old friends and parishioners will be pleased of the opportunity to hear him again.

March has held up its repute for chill winds and blustery weather in a very commendable manner and does not seem inclined to relinquish even the last few days of the month to the gentle influence of spring. Something better in the way of weather is looked for from April, which enters with Sunday. The wiseacres predict, however, that April will not be excessively springlike before Easter, which is on the 15th.

The Ladies Presbyterian Missionary society of the Niobrara presbytery closed a very interesting session last night at Pender. Twenty-four delegates were present, representing the different churches of the district. Mrs. S. F. Sharpless of this city was elected delegate to the 28th annual meeting of the Woman's Presbyterian Board of Missions of the Northwest, which will be held at Evansville, Indiana, the 2nd and 3d of next May.

Miss Anna Streicher left on the noon train for Omaha and from there will go to her new home in Iowa. Last evening she was given a surprise visit by members of her music and Sunday school class and a hearty time was enjoyed. Her father, Rev. G. Streicher, who has been pastor of the German Evangelical church here for the past year has been appointed to a charge in Iowa. Rev. G. Beckow has been appointed to the Norfolk charge.

The mechanics at the F. E. & M. V. machine shops at the Junction are today congratulating themselves over having accomplished the greatest feat yet done in Norfolk, having put on two full sets of engine tires or eight tires in all. They have before put on a set in a day but never before have two sets been put on. Six sets have been put on thus far this year. These tires weigh from 1,050 to 1,150 pounds apiece and it can be readily understood that their handling is no light task.

In regard to theatricals there is sometimes as much difference of opinion concerning merit as there are people present. In reference to the Air Ship company which held the boards at the Auditorium last night this difference was manifest. Some thought that the performance was one of great merit and very cleverly rendered while others were not pleased. Some thought that certain parts and characters were first class while others chose different situations as meriting praise. It is seldom that a performance will please all classes and it is seldom that one will be unanimously condemned. For the class of entertainment the Air Ship company was fully up to the average and it is judged that a large portion of the audience was delighted. The farce-comedy performance, however, is evidently not a drawing card in Norfolk as there were many vacant seats and all who did attend were not lavish in their praise, and it would probably be just as well for farce comedies in the future to give Norfolk a wide berth, unless they come with cheaper prices and content to play to the class whom they delight, of whom there are not a few in Norfolk. The city has recently had but little theatrical entertainment and it is difficult to determine what class of attractions is the most generally popular, but perhaps the old fashioned drama will please equal to any.

NORFOLK HONORED.

Teachers Choose This City as Next Meeting Place—Miss Williams is Treasurer.

The teachers association at Wayne held interesting meetings yesterday and the attendance was very large.

In choosing the meeting place for the next session there was an interesting rivalry, with Norfolk, Columbus and Fremont as competitors. The meeting was located at Norfolk, however, induced no doubt by this city's strong and active representation.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows:

President, Superintendent Wolfe of South Omaha.

Vice President, Superintendent Sundelin of Tekamah.

Secretary, Miss Wallace of Pierce. Treasurer, Miss Williams of Norfolk.

This city is doubly honored by the teachers on being chosen as the place for the next session and the choosing of one of its popular teachers as treasurer.

At a late hour this afternoon the reporter reached this office that Dr. F. Verges, who has been so low with the grip, is dead. Particulars in regard to the funeral and other details have not been learned. The doctor was a valued member of the community and his loss will be keenly felt.

Dr. W. H. Deering of the Lincoln hospital for the insane visited at the home of C. D. Jenkins and departed with a party of friends for Hay Springs to hunt ducks. Fred Jenkins accompanied the party. It is understood that Dr. Deering has recently been appointed superintendent of the institute for the feeble minded at Beatrice.

The social given last evening by the Y. M. C. L. in their rooms in the Mast block was a grand success in point of attendance, sociality and receipts. A nice program was rendered and the evening was heartily enjoyed by all present. The receipts of the entertainment were about $35. The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church served the supper.

Mr. Thompson leaves a wife to mourn his decease who will accompany the remains to their last resting place.

St. Paul Republican: The town is full of Assyrian peddlers and more of them seem to arrive daily. They are queer customers and some people do not hesitate to pronounce them an unqualified nuisance. So serious has their cut-throat competition become that the legitimate merchants of St. Paul and surrounding towns are urging the county board to enforce the law requiring them to pay a license for the privilege of peddling. Some mornings the street in front of the Walker house is full of rickety carts, spavined ponies and jabbering "dagoes," the scene bearing some resemblance to the old geography pictures of the streets of Constantinople, Cairo or some other foreign seaport.

The agent of Lew Morrison's "Faust" has been in the city billing that attraction for the night of the 6th. The paper put up is a splendid production of the lithographer's art and those who have knowledge of the production state that the half cannot be told by the paper.

This is Morrison's last season with "Faust" and those who delight in the work of a true artist on the stage should not fail to attend. The company is now playing in Tennessee and will jump from that state to Nebraska next week to play two engagements—one at Lincoln and the other at Norfolk.
