NEW INVENTION.

P. O. Hirsch of This City Has Patented a Milk Cooler, Aerator and Separator. P. O. Hirsch of this city is an inventive genius and his ideas have been employed in directions varied and unique. His latest effort has been to perfect a cream separator that would be adaptable to the use of farmers generally and that he has been more or less successful is evidenced by the fact that several farmers now have his machine in satisfactory operation. The method does not require power, the separation being produced by natural processes. The complete machine has the appearance of a large milk can. On the interior near the top is a tank to be filled with cold water, and lower down is another tank or place through which cold water may be circulated from a windmill. The milk is poured in at the top and runs over the first tank in a fine film and through the second tank, thus cooling it gradually. The milk does not come in contact with the water but is influenced by it and when it reaches the tank at the bottom it appears separated, the milk at the bottom and the cream or butter fat on top. While going through the process the inventor claims that the milk is not only cooled and separated, but the quality which causes it to ferment or sour is removed, thus admitting of its remaining sweet for a much longer period than for the cream to be left to rise in the ordinary manner. After the process the milk may be drawn off for feeding purposes through a faucet at the bottom of the can and then the cream will flow out of the same faucet, the bottom of the can being on an incline that it may flow readily. After the milk and cream have been drawn off a plug is removed from the upper can and the water contained therein is allowed to flow through, cleaning the apparatus for the use of the next milking. The invention is called a milk cooler, aerator and separator and Mr. Hirsch was, on the 10th, granted letters patent under the number 649,604. If it will accomplish all the inventor claims for it, the apparatus will be of much value to farmers and dairymen and he should find a ready sale for it. His facilities for manufacturing are limited but he hopes to either increase them or sell county and state rights for the making and selling of the invention.

AN IDEAL CLIMATE.

The first white man to set foot on Utah soil, Father Silvestre Velez de Escalante, who reached the Great Salt Lake on the 23rd day of September, 1776, wrote in his diary: "Here the climate is so delicious, the air so balmy, that it is a pleasure to breathe by day and by night." The climate of Utah is one of the richest endowments of nature. On the shores of the Great Salt Lake especially—and for fifty miles therefrom in every direction—the climate of climates is found. To enable persons to participate in these scenic and climatic attractions and to reach the famous health, bathing and pleasure resorts of Utah, the Union Pacific has made a rate to Ogden and Salt Lake city of one fare for the round trip, plus $2.00, from Missouri river, to be in effect June 21st, July 7th to 10th inclusive, July 18th and August 2d. Return limit October 31, 1900. For full information, call on or address F. W. Juneman, agent.

Prospect Hill cemetery is being placed in fine order for Decoration day. The lawns have been clipped, a row of trees has been planted on the south side of the grounds, and other changes made that will result in the grounds being prettier than ever this spring. A number of handsome new monuments have recently been placed. The fence on the south side will be taken down and replaced by a more suitable one, while it will be moved further back from the road, straightening the south line. The cemetery association is accomplishing much each year toward the beautifying of the grounds and they are being assisted materially by people owning lots who are showing more interest each year in planting flowers and shrubbery. The grounds are very handsome and in time will be a veritable garden of beauty.

Eclipse, May 28th.

The people of this country will soon witness an astronomical event that is very rare, being a total eclipse of the sun, and astronomers, as well as the people at large, are anticipating the event as a rare treat. An exchange gives the following concerning the eclipse: "On May 28 the circular shadow of the moon cast by the sun upon the earth, and about eighty miles in diameter, will come sweeping across the American continent from New Orleans to Cape Henry. Along the center of the path traveled by this swiftly moving shadow the sun will be completely hidden for a period of about two minutes. More than forty miles away, on either side of the track, the eclipse will be partial, not total. The period of totality of the eclipse varies at different points along the track. At the Rocky mountains the spectacle will last but about thirty seconds, and at New Orleans the period will have been lengthened thirty-seven seconds. At Union Point, Green county, Georgia, the center of the path for the United States, the time of totality will be ninety-two seconds, while those who are at the Atlantic coast, just south of the city of Norfolk, will be able to continue their observations for 295 seconds."
