The child being born was not strange but the fact that its liver and intestines are on the outside of its abdomen in a thin membrane, is rather strange. Dr. Muirhead, the attending physician, is talking about having them placed in the proper cavity by a surgical operation.

Miss Monroe sings beautifully, and her audience was so captivated that she was twice obliged to respond to an encore.

A SUDDEN SUMMONS.

George Davenport Dies, With Slight Warning.

FAMILY AND FRIENDS SHOCKED.

Was Apparently Quite Well Yesterday, With But Two Light Attacks--In the Evening He Was No More--History of Life and Family of the Deceased.

From Tuesday's Daily.

People of Norfolk were greatly startled last evening to learn of the sudden death of George Davenport, sr., which occurred at his home on North Ninth street about 8 o'clock, of neuralgia of the heart. The surprise and shock were keener because of the fact that he had been about town during the day and none realized that he was so close to death's door. The blow to his family, by whom he was deeply loved, must have been indeed.

While Mr. Davenport was around town nearly all day and suffered two mild attacks of heart trouble, one in the morning and another after dinner, nothing serious was apprehended until about 6 o'clock when, while in the furniture store of W. R. Hoffman, he was stricken with a severe pain in the heart and it was found necessary to take him home in a hack.

Dr. Bear was summoned at once and administered the most effective medicine he had with him, got him to bed and made him as comfortable as possible and then went down town to secure a more potent remedy, but while he was absent Mr. Davenport passed away, but a few members of his immediate family being present owing to the suddenness of the attack. He retained consciousness to the last and up to within a few moments of the end no one present apprehended that he was on his death bed.

Mr. Davenport was highly respected as a citizen, during his long residence in Norfolk having made few if any enemies, while his friends and admirers were numbered by the score, including the young as well as the old.

To these old friends and neighbors his death is received with scarcely less sorrow than that of the immediate family, to whom he was a kind and loving father and husband, with their welfare ever in view and their interests always at heart.

George Davenport was born in Monroe county, Ohio, June 20, 1835, and grew up to manhood in that state, where he resided until coming west 18 years ago.

On September 1, 1858, Mr. Davenport and Miss Mary E. Reckard were joined in the bonds of holy wedlock. The wife still survives, being now 61 years of age. Her mother, now well along in years, also survives, making her home at the family residence.

As the result of this union 12 children were born, 10 of whom still live, the other two being buried at Marietta, O., when yet infants.

When the war broke out George Davenport patriotically responded to his country's call, entering the service as lieutenant of Company H, First Ohio light artillery. He was afterwards advanced to the captaincy of his company and served during three years of the civil conflict.

After the war was finished, Mr. Davenport located at Salem, Ohio, where he engaged in business. During his residence at Salem he was elected sheriff of Washington county, which office he held four years.

At the conclusion of his term of office he engaged in a retail business at New Matmoras, Ohio. While residing at this town he was employed as traveling salesman by the grocery firm of C. Shangburg of Sioux City, Iowa, and, with his family, removed to that city in 1882. In the spring of 1883 he moved his family to Norfolk, going on a farm nine miles north of the city, where they lived for five years and then removed to the city, where they have since made their home. He continued to travel for his wholesale house for a number of years after moving to Norfolk, and only quit when he found his strength inadequate to the duties imposed by his position.

He engaged in the livery business here a number of years ago and continued in that work until this spring, when he sold out to John Krantz.

Since his residence in Norfolk he served one term as councilman from the Third ward. This spring he was appointed water commissioner by Mayor Robertson, but his appointment to the position had not been confirmed by the council at the time of his death.

While not an active churchman, the deceased has for years been a trustee of the M. E. church. He was also a member of the Masonic fraternity, having been initiated in Ohio lodge, No. 1, A. F. and A. M. He transferred his membership to the Norfolk lodge some time after his removal to this city. He was likewise a member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Of his children William C. is the oldest, his home being in Sioux City, Iowa, where he has served for six years as sheriff of Woodbury county.

Frank E. is a resident of this city, being engaged in the boot and shoe business.

Mrs. George A. Latimer lives at Spokane, Wash., where Mr. Latimer is engaged in the practice of his profession, attorney-at-law.

Mrs. Thos. E. Odiorne is a resident of this city, her husband being engaged in the real estate business and is secretary of the Elkhorn Building and Loan association.

John A. is at present employed as permit clerk in the military governor's office at Wallace, Idaho.

George A. also a resident of Norfolk and is engaged with Frank in the boot and shoe business.

Elizabeth is at present visiting in Stockton, Cal., but is expected home this week.

Martha, Carl and Frances live in Norfolk, making their home at the family residence on North Ninth street.

All the children but Frances were born in Ohio, she being born in Sioux City.

Eleven grandchildren live to mourn the death of Mr. Davenport.

Funeral services will be held from the house at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and interment will take place in Prospect Hill cemetery, Rev. G. H. Main, pastor of the M. E. church, officiating. The Masons and G. A. R. post will probably attend and participate in the ceremonies.

Not This Year.

It is being reported among the pops that Senator Allen by astute strategy got the Norfolk government building appropriation put on as an amendment to the general appropriation bill the other day.

But that is an easy trick. The "courtesy of the senate" is such that any little old appropriation no matter of whatever nature is always stuck on to the house bill at the request of any senator.

That is the reason why all appropriation bills are doubled in the aggregate on the senate when they are sent up to the house. The "courtesy" enables every senator to make a record for himself to read to his constituents. The senate doesn't consider itself at all responsible in money matters and would apparently spend twice our income every session if the house would only let it. But the house doesn't. It just says "non concur" and that ends the heart-ache.

The house long ago gave it out straight from the shoulder that in view of the extraordinary expenses of the government this year, no appropriations should be made either for the improvement of rivers and harbors or for public buildings except where it is necessary to finish a job to avoid loss. And Norfolk will have to wait with the others until Uncle Sam has loose change to spare for luxuries.—State Journal.

The kicking democrats of Douglas county who do not want Walter Moise to pose as the whole executive cheese have issued a call for an independent county convention. With democrats split; populists split and free silver republicans not large enough to be counted it looks as though fusion had seen its best days.

TO THE MAN WHO THINKS. LOOK yourself squarely in the face and see if you are not half ashamed to be without Ivory Soap in your house. Worse than this, your wife is without it. It is bad enough for a man, though a man often doesn't care how his comfort is mis-spelled. But a woman misses all these little helps to housekeeping. And Ivory Soap is one; its great potency makes it actually cheaper than yellow soap for general work. It floats.
