A HOMING INSTINCT. IT DEVELOPS IN YOUNG ANIMALS ALMOST AT BIRTH.

The Wonderful Ability Displayed by Various Species in Finding Their Way Home—A Tale of Little Pigs and the Story of a Mare.

The homing instinct develops in young animals almost as early as their desire for food. In the wild state it is a necessity, since without it the young could never keep in touch with their pack.

Witness this tale of little pigs: The were under a month old when the owner decided to move. He wanted to fatten and kill their mother, so offered the lot of 40 at a bargain price.

That afternoon the original owner sent word he had found 20 of the 40 standing squealing at his gate when he awoke.

Upon the same middle Tennessee plantation a 7-year-old mare was bought from an Ohio drover. The drover had been brought down on stock cars to the country town, seven miles away.

Nothing more was seen or heard of her for three months. Then by a singular chance she was discovered. Impounded as an stray, more than half way across the state of Kentucky.

Among fowls, domestic turkeys are the most persistent homers. This same plantation's mistress found that out in a way at once odd and provoking.

Cats are proverbial homers. Southern negroes have many entertaining superstitions connected with their transfer. In moving they say it is the worst luck in the world to take along a cat.

Black walnuts, which it is nearly as bad luck to move as a cat, may be made to serve as ill luck antidotes by cracking them carefully and either trying a necklace of shells on the cat or putting them upon her feet for boots.

Notwithstanding this was done in the case of a tortoise shell tabby, she came home over a distance of 15 miles. She took all summer to do it in.

"It was in the English class," says the Louisville Courier-Journal, "and a new teacher had just been employed. She was from the north and called all the pupils 'Miss,' at which they marvelled greatly."

"When the class was called next day, there was not a girl who could not show two closely written pages of slang expressions. The teacher looked 'Very good,' she said. 'Now translate them into readable English.' They haven't fooled with her since."

A SON SAVED.

Is there anything sadder than to see the child you love fall and fade before your eyes. Money is lavished upon doctors, all that love can suggest and science can perform is called into requisition. But the cough tears and tears at the tissues, the cheeks grow hollow and yet more hollow, and the little frame weakens until the limbs can no more support the body.

What joy must come to the parents who find at length a remedy which helps and heals. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured in hundreds of cases where doctors had altogether failed or given up the patients.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," neither opium, cocaine or any other narcotic. Do not be imposed upon by a substitute medicine in place of "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for weak lungs as the "Discovery," and all "just as good medicines" are made to fill the dealer's purse and not to heal the diseased lungs.

"After using about five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery my boy seems to be all right," writes Mr. J. W. Price, of Ozark, Monroe Co., Ohio. "He was very bad when I commenced to give him the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' The doctor claimed he had consumption, and we doctored with him until he was past walking. It has been ten months since he stopped taking your medicine and he is still in good health. We are very thankful to you for saving our son."

Children appreciate Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are easy to take and do not gripe. They regulate the bowels and cure constipation.

Benson, President of the Omaha Real Estate Exchange and one of the leaders in real estate circles in Nebraska, writes: "I tried Dr. Kay's Lung Balm for a severe cold, as did my neighbor, Mr. W. L.
