"Well, the traitor seems to be covering up his tracks rather effectually. How did you come to know him?"

"I don't know him. I've never met him in my life, but it came to my knowledge that one of the morning papers had already made all its plans for getting this information. The clerk was to get £50 for the document, but the editor and he are at present negotiating, because the editor insists upon absolute accuracy, while, as I said, the man wishes to protect himself-to cover his tracks, as yon say." "Do you know M: Stoneham," she asked hurriedly, "the quite willing to oblige the editor of The editor of The Evening Graphite ? He is Evening Graphite with 50 sovereigns in exchange for the bit of paper, and the editor, handing to Miss Jennie the envelope containing the gold, saw her drive off for Brixton (where, at 17 Rupert square, the directory had told her Mr. Hazel lived), while he turned, not to resume his game of dominos at the self appeared, looking perhaps a trifle cafe, but to his office, to write the leaddisconcerted at having his whereabouts er, which would express in good set terms the horror he felt at the action of the board of public construction. for you that wouldn't wait," said Miss

It was a little past 7 o'clock when Miss Baxter's hansom drove up to the two storied building in Rupert square numbered 17. She knocked at the door, and it was speedily opened by a man with some trace of anxiety on his clouded face, who proved to be Hazel himself, the clerk at the board of public construction.

"You are Mr. Hazel?" she ventured, on entering.

"Yes," replied the man, quite evidently surprised at seeing a lady instead of the man he was expecting at that hour, "but I am afraid I will have to ask you to excuse me. I am waiting for a visitor who is a few minutes late and who may be here at any moment." "You are waiting for Mr. Alder, are you not?"

"Yes," stammered the man, his expression of surprise giving place to one of consternation.

"Oh, well, that is all right," said Miss Jennie reassuringly. "I have just driven from the office of The Daily Bugle. Mr. Alder cannot come tonight.' "Ah," said Hazel, closing the door

"Then are you here in his place?" "I am here instead of him. Mr. Alder is on other business that he had to attend to at the editor's request. Now, Mr. Hardwick-that's the editor, you know"

"Yes, I know," answered Hazel. They were now sitting down in the front parlor. "Well, Mr. Hardwick is very anxious that the figures should be given with absolute accuracy.'

"Of course, that would be much better," cried the man; "but, you see, 1 have gone over all that with Mr. Alder the board of public construction, I am already. He said he would mention what I told him to the editor."

Just The Blues.

Many a woman dresses to go out, feels irresolute, sits down, and falls into a fit of despondent musing. Ask her what's the matter, and she'll probably answer "Just the blues." And what are the blues? Only another name, in general, for a disordered liver and a diseased stomach. The effects of this condition are something similar to those produced on brain and body by a vitiated atmosphere or by the inhalation of poisonous gasses. There is dullness of mind, languor of body, a feeling of depression, and irresolution. The worst thing that any one can do when in this condition is to use so-called tonic medicines whose "tonic" properties consist in alcohol, or some such narcotics as opium or cocaine. Many a "cocaine fiend" took the first step toward that degraded condition in the use of some so-called tonic or nerve medicine.

The essential thing to be done is apparent. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition must be cured of disease. The clogged liver must be cleansed. The poisons must be driven out of the blood. All this is done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the "weak " stomach, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, cleanses the clogged liver. and makes itself felt in the vigorous health of both brain and body.

"I had liver complaint for the past fifteen years, com-plicated with dyspepsia and gall stones," writes Mrs. N. Bernier, of 461 Elm St., Oshkosh, Wis. "I doctored with seven of our prominent doctors, and not one or all of them have done me the good, nor begun to do what your medicines have. I have used three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, one vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Fa-vorite Prescription, and have gained about eighteen vorite Prescription, and have gained about eighteen pounds since I first began to take these remedies."
