Dr. Frank Salter—Diseases of children. Half-Rate Excursions to Utah. While there are tourist rates to Salt Lake City and Ogden and return in effect every day, a special opportunity is afforded to visit the world's greatest sanitarium and health and pleasure resort through a series of cheap excursions to leave Chicago and St. Louis June 5, 19, 20, July 3, 9, 17, August 1, 7, 21.

These excursions leave Omaha, St. Joseph, Kansas City, etc., on June 5, 19, 21, July 3, 7, 8, 9, 10, 18, August 2, 8, 22. These dates are subject to change if found advisable. No place in the universe presents such a complement of attractions as Salt Lake City. It is the place of the great Mormon temple and tabernacle, the seat of ecclesiastical authority of the saints and the home of their prophet. It is quaint, curious and picturesque in environment. The summer climate is incomparable. There are cool mountain and lake resorts near by, the greatest of which is Salsair Beach on Great Salt Lake. Here you can float upon the surface of the water almost a mile above sea level. Within the limits of the city are Warm Sulphur and Hot Springs, parks, drives and beautiful canyons. Furthermore, the trip to Utah by way of Denver and Colorado Springs over the Rio Grande Western railway in connection with either the Denver & Rio Grande or Colorado Midland railroads is one of unequalled splendor. The scenery is the most magnificent in America. Send two cents postage for copy of "Salt Lake City—the City of the Saints," to Geo. W. Heintz, General Passenger Agent Rio Grande Western Railway, Salt Lake City.

"Outward Acts Betray the Secret Intention."

Placing an advertisement in a well circulated newspaper is an outward act that betrays an intention.

It indicates that the advertiser is bound to be at the head of the procession, that he is up to date.

The merchant who has confidence in his goods and honestly and plainly states his case begets confidence in prospective buyers.

The place for such a statement is the advertising columns of the local newspaper. For this community these are the columns.
