

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Wm. Pfeyl, Jr., of Hoskins Meets Violent Death.

BOLT STRUCK LAST EVENING

Found by His Wife Half an Hour Afterward—Was an Old Resident of this Part of the Country—Mysterious Fluid Tears His Clothes Badly.

Last evening the elements took a hand in contributing to the record of violent deaths in this vicinity, which, during the past week or ten days, has been astonishing. Wm. Pfeyl of Hoskins is the latest to lose his life in a violent manner, his death occurring last evening from a stroke of lightning.

Wm. Pfeyl, jr., lived with his wife on a farm three and one-half miles northwest of Hoskins. Last evening during a thunderstorm he went out to do his chores and while opening a gate about three rods from the house he was struck by lightning and instantly killed. The bolt struck on the right side of his head and followed down on his arm, leaving at the hand. The shirt was torn from his shoulder and arm and his face, arm and body were blackened and burned.

Mrs. Pfeyl was in the house, saw the flash of lightning and supposed it had struck nearby but it was her opinion that it struck northwest of the house, whereas it took effect northeast. Mr. Pfeyl failed to appear for some time after the bolt struck and his wife supposed that he was in the barn doing the chores. She went out to look for him and found him lying near the gate, dead. Her discovery was made about half an hour after the lightning flash.

She notified the neighbors of the disaster and an unsuccessful attempt was made to resuscitate the dead man but he was beyond all human help.

The deceased was 36 years of age and was among the pioneers who settled this part of the country at an early day. He had been married about nine months to Mrs. Pfeyl, he being her second husband.

He was highly respected by all who knew him and his sudden death comes as a shock to a large circle of friends in this neighborhood.

His father, Wm. Pfeyl, sr., and a brother, Ed Pfeyl, live in the same neighborhood. The sorrowing father and bereaved wife were in the city this morning making arrangements for the funeral.

The funeral will be held from the house tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and the services will be conducted by Rev. Gruber of the German Lutheran church of Hoskins, of which he was a member. Interment will take place in the cemetery belonging to the Hoskins Lutheran church.

Mr. Pfeyl is the seventh man to lose his life in a violent manner during the past eleven days in the territory tributary to Norfolk, all of them occurring separately. The following is the record: August 14—Herman Roecker of Stanton county killed while raising a pump. August 14—Benjamin Y. Mead hangs to a windmill tower near Winside.

August 16—Fred Peters of Stanton suicides with strychnine.

August 21—Julius Bolofski of Meadow Grove shot and killed by his son-in-law.

August 21—Rudolph Freese falls from his wagon while drunk and is run over and killed.

August 22—Robert Bigham killed in Wayne jail by a crazy man.

August 23—Wm. Pfeyl of Hoskins struck by lightning and killed.

Some are now wondering who the next will be.

Crop conditions have improved considerably during the past week or two. The following from the bulletin issued by the university at Lincoln shows the condition in this and neighboring counties: Antelope—Corn and pastures doing well; soil fine for plowing. Knox—Haying progressing slowly, crop light; corn doing finely. Madison—Rain helped the corn, but retarded haying and damaged some hay and a little wheat in shock; pastures improved; plowing good. Stanton—Stock thrashing has been much retarded by rain; corn promises to be a good crop; haying mostly done. Wayne—Haying about done; corn will be a good crop.

While fishing for minnows this morning in the race below the mill Mr. Van Horn, the ice cream man, fished out a gold watch and chain which was lost about two years ago by W. F. Campbell, the cigar manufacturer. There is a barb wire fence at the place the watch was lost and when crawling through the wire Mr. Campbell's chain was caught and hauled out by it dropping into the stream below. An effort was made to recover it but without success. Mr. Van Horn was agreeably surprised at his good fortune and as Mr. Campbell left without leaving his address, he is probably a watch ahead. It isn't everyone who can fish for minnows and catch gold and Mr. Van Horn has proven himself as good at fishing as at making ice cream.

Ben Brumels died in an Omaha hospital on Wednesday. During the summer he has been herding sheep in Wyoming, and while there was attacked with toothache. Finding no relief where he was, he came to Norfolk and had the tooth extracted. By this time, however, he had developed what is known as antrum disease, which had passed upward through his face and affected his eye. After an examination a local physician informed him that it would probably be necessary to remove the eye to save his life. He went to Omaha to secure the advice of an expert oculist, and while there the disease attacked his brain, forming an abscess, from which he died. This is said to be one of the most remarkable cases in the history of disease, and is attracting considerable attention from medical men. A brother of Mr. Brumels lives at Hoskins, where the remains were shipped for burial.

OLDEST DEMOCRAT.

Mr. Powell of Warnerville Still Insists on the Honor for Madison County.

Mr. Powell of Warnerville insists that the Times-Tribune of recent date was mistaken when it claimed that Mr. Bohanon of Madison was the oldest democrat in Madison county and dislikes to be termed a "fakir," by the Norfolk fusion organ. He writes the following:

WARNERVILLE, August 23.—Editor DAILY NEWS—Dear Sir: Thinking you like the truth and fair play, and as there are many in Norfolk who know my age I again address a few lines to you. I see the Times-Tribune of August 16 claims Mr. John Bohanon of Madison to be the oldest democrat in the county and states that he voted for Martin Van Buren. He may have voted for Van Buren in 1840 as he was 20 years old when Van Buren ran for president in 1836, as I wrote to Madison yesterday to a friend who visited the family and was told he was born in 1816. Now sir, I was born June 22, 1815, and voted for Van Buren in 1836 and in 1840 and am still a democrat. I voted for McKinley in 1896 and shall in 1900 if living on election day.

Who is the fake he talks about in his article? Respectfully, JAMES POWELL.

OFF FOR CHICAGO.

Special Car for the G. A. R. Encampment Left this Noon With 33 Passengers.

The special car for the G. A. R. national encampment at Chicago left the Creighton depot over the F. E. & M. V. this noon for its destination. It contained a jolly company of old veterans and members of their families who anticipate a great deal of pleasure from the trip.

The following named veterans improved the opportunity of going to the national encampment in a special car: S. H. Grant, A. Bigelow, W. H. Widaman, H. C. Matrau, Chas. Young (2), E. P. Hogue, Goldsmith (4), Phillips, Pritchard, Elliott (2), Jerome Funke, McGinnis, E. Barton, R. Barton, S. A. McKay (2), J. S. Morrow (2), Geo. Dudley (2), Pat Carbery (3), Hayden (2), Frank Radel (3).

They expect to remain in Chicago during the entire encampment, after which many of them will improve the opportunity of visiting friends in the east.

One of Them in Norfolk.

It is said that there are only three printing presses in the state large enough to print the ballots on for the coming election. The estimated length of a ticket is over 50 inches.—Times-Tribune.

Although the official ballot this year will be the toughest proposition that the printers of this state have gone against for a long time, THE NEWS will as usual be prepared to furnish the counties of northeast Nebraska, although it is anticipated that not so many counties can be supplied from this office as has been done in former years.

A Challenge.

The following is a copy of a handbill recently issued: "Special race at the Madison county fair on Friday, September 14, 1900. Two-year-old and under—trot or pace. Purse $50. Half-mile heats to harness. Best two in three. Five to enter, three to start."

I have $50 more to add to the above purse that I can beat any two-year-old trotter in Madison county.

J. W. EDWARDS.

We use a package every week. I am ten years old.

Yours respectfully, FANNIE WILLIAMS.

The number of passengers who are traveling back and forth across the country these days, oftentimes present difficult problems for their movement by the railroads. For some weeks the west bound Black Hills train on the Elkhorn has been run in two sections, but Saturday night the traffic was so heavy that three sections were necessary.

Mike Enders, the concrete walk maker, has a lot of business in his line. He at present has a gang of five men working at Stanton where the improvement is very popular and he has thousands of feet to lay. The street in front of the court house is among the locations that will be thus improved. He also has a quantity of work to do for Norfolk citizens.

Tilden Citizen: Hon. John R. Hays met with the republican club Tuesday evening and addressed an interested audience. The meeting was opened by a five minutes' speech by Jay Kierstead, which Mr. Hays accurately described as "clear cut and patriotic." The latter then gave an hour's entertaining talk during which he covered all the subjects considered as issues in the present campaign and closed by a very convincing invitation for the return to the republican fold of those who have been led astray by populist vagaries.

Tilden Citizen: Willie Larson, aged 5, was riding with an elder brother on a sulky plow last Monday when the team became unmanageable, and, in the runaway which followed, the little fellow fell in such a position that the machine passed over him. His scalp was cut through for a distance of five inches, exposing and splintering the outer plate of the skull; a gash was made along the lower jaw which laid bare the teeth and he was badly bruised and lacerated otherwise. Medical attendance was called and the sufferer made as comfortable as his condition would permit. His progress may be inferred from the fact that he was well enough to be brought to town Wednesday.

Among the attractions booked at the Auditorium this fall by Manager Spear is Innes and his band on Wednesday evening, Nov. 28. This great organization is accompanied by two sets of grand opera singers, one set being used for the afternoon concerts and the other for the evening. Besides the regular program the singers do scenes from the operas of "Faust," "Trovatore," "Aida" and "Carmen"; and it is said by people who are acknowledged to be capable of judging, that the performances as given by this band and assisting artists, in the Innes Music Hall, Atlantic City, N. J., at the ocean end of the Steel Pier, which extends out to the sea half a mile, are marvels of artistic elegance for the musical connoisseur, great society events for the society people and festivals of music for the truly appreciative auditor.

This great aggregation of operatic stars and musicians travel in their own special train, and by the special arrangements that have been made for their appearance in each city of their coming tour, business eclipsing that of all other similar organizations is looked forward to by the local management.

Rock-a-Bye Baby

These are sweet words, but how much pain and suffering they used to mean. It's different now. Since Mother's Friend has become known expectant mothers have been spared much of the anguish of childbirth. Mother's Friend is a liniment to be applied externally. It is rubbed thoroughly into the muscles of the abdomen. It gives elasticity and strength, and when the final great strain comes they respond quickly and easily without pain. Mother's Friend is never taken internally. Internal remedies at this time do more harm than good. If a woman is supplied with this splendid liniment she need never fear rising or swelling breasts, morning sickness, or any of the discomforts which usually accompany pregnancy.

The proprietor of a large hotel in Tampa, Fla., writes: "My wife had an awful time with her first child. During her second pregnancy, Mother's Friend was used and the baby was born easily before the doctor arrived. It's certainly great."
