Clarence Rasley is sick with tonsillitis. A new roof is being placed on the eating house at South Norfolk, and other substantial repairs are being made. The ladies guild of Trinity church will meet in the guild room of the church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The monument to the memory of the late Dr. Verges was placed in position at Prospect Hill cemetery yesterday. J. Bennet of Omaha superintended the work.

A large number of local baseball enthusiasts went to Stanton today to see the finish game between Coleridge and Stanton that was recently begun at Winside.

Mrs. W. W. Roberts had the misfortune to step on a nail last evening and ran it into her foot. She was suffering considerable pain from the wound this morning.

The bullet which was accidentally shot into the foot of George Schwartz several days ago was located this morning and removed. The injured foot is now improving nicely.

Members of the McKinley-Roosevelt club should be on hand at the G. A. R. hall this evening at 8 o'clock, as that is the hour at which the program is announced to begin.

The Bryan club was addressed last evening at their rooms by Congressman R. D. Sutherland of the Fifth district. There was a good attendance and Mr. Sutherland's remarks were well received.

The Stanton county fair was opened at Stanton yesterday very successfully. It will continue in session over Friday. Norfolk people should improve the opportunity of visiting the sister on the east during this occasion.

Paul Friebe, the popular clerk in Oscar Uhle's grocery, celebrated his 26th birthday last night in the hall of the German singing society. About 75 guests were very pleasantly entertained the greater portion of the night with singing, music and dancing.

W. O. Toliver, formerly of this city and in 1896 a supporter of Bryan and free silver, writes from Laurel under date of the 19th as follows: "John R. Hays addressed a very large audience here last night. Our large hall did not begin to hold the crowd. John R. is all right."

Mrs. C. H. Reynolds and Mrs. W. N. Huse have been invited to represent Norfolk as ladies of the court at the Ak-Sar-Ben ball in Omaha on the evening of September 28. Miss Edith McClary and Miss Fannie Norton have been invited to act as ladies of honor at the same function.

Prospects for a large crowd at the Roosevelt meeting on the 4th of October continue to grow. Many people from neighboring towns have expressed their intention of attending. Norfolk will be the nearest point for people living as far away as Sioux City and Columbus to see and hear the governor.

A telegram from the state committee this morning cancels the date for President Shurman of Cornell university, who was billed to speak here on the evening of the 26th. It is suggested that the speakers' department of the state committee should know what it is talking about before it announces speakers of the prominence of President Shurman.

The committee has definite replies from all the railroads entering Norfolk in regards to the rates which will be in effect on Roosevelt day, October 4. All roads have made a rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip. On the Elkhorn this rate will apply to Oakdale and Verdigris and all intermediate points. On the Union Pacific and C. St. P. M. & O. the rate applies to stations distant 75 miles and less from Norfolk. The committee is now at work trying to arrange for trains to take people home who live on the C. St. P. M. & O. and Creighton line of the F. E. & M. V. after the Roosevelt meeting, and it is probable that this will be done.

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS

Presiding Elders Report Work in Their District.

DR. MASON DID NOT COME.

Audience Last Night was Disappointed but was Entertained by Extemporaneous Talks—Anti-Saloon League Will have Charge of Meeting This Evening.

A disappointed audience at the M. E. church waited in vain for the eloquent negro, Dr. M. C. B. Mason, last night. For some reason he was not able to be present and a large congregation was denied the opportunity of listening to one of the best orators of the church.

The occasion last night was the anniversary of the Freedman's Aid and Southern Educational society. Dr. Marquette presided. While the audience was waiting for Dr. Mason, the chairman called on the different ministers for extemporaneous speeches relative to the work in the south. Dr. Chase, pastor of First church, Omaha, gave his recollections of the underground railroad that existed in slavery times. His father was one of the engineers. Dr. Hodgetts, who had a daughter engaged in the work among the negroes of the south, spoke of "our duty to our brother in black." It was a fervent speech. Dr. Gort and Robinson and others also made short addresses. The choir kept up the enthusiasm of the meeting by singing several selections between the speeches.

Wm. Gort of the Nolligh district, read his report to the Methodist conference yesterday morning. The report shows the district to be in a flourishing condition. Agent Hart of the Methodist Church Insurance company was introduced and he addressed the preachers on the subject of insuring in their own company. Mr. Hart said that the company now had nine millions of dollars worth of property insured, and that they had done more business than thirty percent of the old line insurance companies.

Dr. Tyndall, the presiding elder of the Grand Island district, was the recipient of a happy surprise from the preachers of his district this morning. In a neat speech Dr. Robinson said that they had treated Dr. Tyndall right during the six-year term of his presiding eldership and they intended to watch him still and with these words he presented the doctor with a handsome gold watch, the gift of the preachers who have served under him. Dr. Tyndall expressed his appreciation of the gift in a very feeling way. The wife of the presiding elder was not forgotten in this surprise and Mrs. Tyndall was presented with a handsome gold pin.

Dr. F. M. Sisson reported the condition of the Norfolk district. He made a glowing report of the condition of the Norfolk church and said it was necessary that the "Main" man of the conference be sent to such a place. Dr. J. W. Jennings, a former pastor of the Norfolk church but now presiding elder of the Omaha district, keeps up his debt paying record and reported $10,372 raised in payment of church debts on his district. Dr. Jennings paid a touching tribute to the memory of John B. Maxfield, his predecessor, who died September 11, 1900. Dr. Maxfield was one of the charter members of the conference and was the best known Methodist preacher in the state of Nebraska. Dr. Jennings reported $35,000 in the treasury of the Omaha Methodist hospital and Deaconess home after the purchasing of a site for a new hospital at a cost of $15,000. Omaha district has made a progress on all lines under Dr. Jennings' leadership.

The afternoon session was devoted to the interests of the Woman's Home Missionary society. Mrs. Uhl of Omaha presiding. Addresses were made by Mrs. Anne Hobbs-Woodcock and Mrs. Rhoades. The evening meeting is to be in charge of the Anti-Saloon league with J. B. Carns, state superintendent, presiding. Addresses will be made by Dr. Sanderson of Fremont and H. N. Spear, assistant superintendent of the state Anti-Saloon league.

Following is the program for tomorrow:

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

Juneman-Cutler Nuptials Pronounced Before a Large Audience in Trinity Church Last Evening.

The fragrance of many cut flowers and potted plants filled the sacred edifice of Trinity Episcopal church yesterday afternoon and was the first pleasing impression of the three hundred guests of the Juneman-Cutler nuptials, as they handed to the ushers their small white cards of admission.

Within lavish but skillful hands had converted the altar and chancel into a bower of beauty.

Long before the hour set for the ceremony every seat in the church was occupied and the gentlemanly ushers, Messrs. Ralph Braunsch, W. E. Eddy, B. C. Gentle, Leo Pasewalk, Clarence Salter and H. A. Wilmerding had no small task in providing seats for the many guests of the occasion.

The full vested choir entered the church from the street entrance singing "The Voice That Breathed o'er Eden," and promptly at 6 o'clock the carriages containing the wedding party drew up at the church entrance, and to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, deftly fingered by Miss Ruth Matrau, proceeded slowly up the main aisle of the church, in the following order: Mr. Max Asmus, Mr. Carl Jenkins; the maid of honor, Miss Annie E. Cutler, a sister of the bride; Miss Mattie McNish, Miss Minnie Norton; the bride, Miss Clara Louise Cutler; preceded by little Dorothy Rudat, the flower girl.

The bridal party was met at the chancel steps by the bridegroom, Mr. Frederick William Juneman, and his "best man," Mr. Julius W. Hull. From this point, while the choir sang "O Perfect Love," the bride and bridegroom, accompanied by Miss Annie Cutler and Mr. Hull, and the flower girl, proceeded to the altar rail, where the Rev. J. C. S. Wells awaited them and spoke the solemn yet joyous words which linked together forever two loving hearts.

After the short but impressive marriage service, to the notes of "Mendelssohn's Wedding March," the charming little flower girl, who added so much to the sanctity of the occasion by her childish innocence and beauty, led the way down the aisle which was embellished on either side with white satin ribbon and rosettes of the same material, to the outer door, where the party took carriages for the reception at the Pacific hotel. And thus ended the first marriage ceremony in the history of Trinity Episcopal.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white duchess, with silk tulle veil, caught with tulle; she carried bride roses and tuberoses.

The maid of honor, carrying Jacquemont roses, and the bridesmaids, carrying pink and white carnations, wore pink silk organdie over pink.

Miss Cutler's handsome silver favors to the maid of honor and the bridesmaids, and Mr. Juneman's favors to the ushers and best man, beautiful gold stick-pins, will long be treasured as mementoes of the occasion.

The many beautiful and useful wedding presents proved the high esteem in which the recipients are held.

Mr. and Mrs. Juneman, amid showers of rice and old shoes, took the evening train for Hot Springs and points in the Black Hills, and after a short visit there will make this city their home.

STOLE MERCHANDISE.

Store of Roland & Wilkinson, South Norfolk, Robbed Last Night.

The general merchandise store of Roland and Wilkinson of South Norfolk was robbed last night of some shoes, gloves, and a bolt of cloth, the goods approximating in value between $45 and $50.

The robber, whoever it was, worked most cleverly, as there is nothing to indicate how he gained admittance. The store was carefully locked at closing time last night, and the only way in which entrance might have been gained would be through the use of a skeleton key.

A number of empty shoe boxes were found under the sidewalk, but no trace of the robber has been discovered. It is probable that the raid was made by some tramp who stopped off between trains.

The officers are still working on the case with the hope of finding a clue to the perpetrators.

Everybody keep an eye on J. D. Sturgeon's Colored Porter's Sewing Machine contest. Now is the time to vote.
