colored, was arrested at Albia, charged with assaulting Sarah Hovel, a widow. Booker was taken before the grand jury. Before an indictment was returned, Sheriff John Doner was compelled to get his prisoner out of town to prevent a lynching. Indignation is high in Albia, and the timely action of the sheriff undoubtedly saved Booker's life.

Preparing to Receive Kruger. Marseilles, Nov. 1.—The Kruger reception committee has issued an appeal to the population to participate in the demonstrations that are being arranged for Mr. Kruger's reception, but to abstain from hostile acts or words toward a nation friendly to France.

Akron Rioter Convicted. Akron, O., Nov. 1.—Harvey Earl, one of the rioters indicted by the special grand jury, was yesterday convicted of illegally possessing and using dynamite. This is the first of the riot cases to be tried.

Ironton Mill Starts Up. Ironton, O., Nov. 1.—Ironton mill, owned by the Republic Iron and Steel company, and which has been idle since May last, was started today, giving employment to 300 men.

Fatal Fall From Cliff. Eldora, Ia., Nov. 1.—Thomas M. Bailey, an old resident of Hardin county, fell 50 feet from a cliff in Riverside park and was killed.

German Force Occupies Yung Sing Fu. Berlin, Nov. 1.—A special dispatch from Peking says an Anglo-German force has occupied Yung Sing Fu, west of Shan Hai Kwan, on the Tsung Lun Ho river.

MacVeagh for McKinley. Franklin MacVeagh, the Chicago merchant who six years ago was the democratic selection for the United States senate, has written a letter to Henry C. Payne, of the republican national committee, declaring his intention to vote for McKinley and to do all in his power to bring about his reelection. Mr. MacVeagh is a gold democrat and asserts that silver is the paramount issue. He says that Bryan would make an unsafe executive and that the greater number of Bryan gold democrats do not want Bryan elected; furthermore that many gold democrats have come out for Bryan with the obvious view of being in line for influential positions in the event the Nebraskan is elected. Mr. MacVeagh adds that the Philippine question can wait, but that it is necessary that the country should immediately be saved from Bryanism.

THE LAST ARMY BILL.

Favored by Democrats in Congress When They Voted Last Year.

The democrats were not so fearfully afraid of "our large standing army" when they voted last year that more men were needed in the Philippines. With few exceptions they voted for the increase, and when the question was pending they made utterances that look queer when compared with what they are saying now, when small politics are doing.

There was Senator Francis M. Cockrell, of Missouri. On the 25th of February, 1899, he said, speaking on the army bill:

"This measure has been examined carefully, and I want to say I indorse it. I indorse it because I believe it is right, and just, and proper, and necessary; and in addition to that, it will settle for years to come the question of the reorganization of the regular standing army. When 1901 comes, the army will revert to what it is provided for in the pending bill without debate or contention, and it will remain at that figure, and I think that is amply sufficient.

"I have been connected with several efforts to reorganize the army. We have never been able to get anything that could meet with approval, and I believe honestly and conscientiously that this is the best measure that has been presented to the congress of the United States for settling the regular army of the United States since I entered this chamber, on the 4th of March, 1875. I do not believe that you will ever get a better one. * * * Therefore I shall indorse the bill. I vote for it heartily and cheerfully. I believe it is right in the sight of God and man, and I am willing to take the responsibility for it.

Senator Richard R. Kenney, of Delaware, democrat, said on February 27, 1899:

"I agree with the distinguished senator from Missouri, Mr. Cockrell; I believe it is right in the sight of God and man, and like him, I am willing to take my share of the responsibility for its enactment.

Senator A. O. Bacon, of Georgia, said on February 27, 1899:

"I am voting to furnish the president with 71,000 men, which he and his secretary of war say are necessary to enable the president to perform the duty imposed upon the executive by the ratification of the treaty of the annexation of the Philippine Islands."

Still more emphatic was Congressman William Sulzer, of New York, now a Bryan boomer. On March 1, speaking on the army bill, he said: "I am in favor of it and shall do all I can to pass it. Fifty-five members of the senate voted for it, and only 13 voted against it. * * * I trust that every democrat who sympathizes with the men under arms at Manila, with our soldiers and sailors in the Philippines, will uphold at this critical moment the hands of the president and give him the power vested in him by the terms of this bill. I am a partisan, but in times like these I always subordinate my partisanship to my patriotism. We should all be patriots to-day. We must not forget, we must not forsake, our brave and heroic soldiers and sailors who are upholding and defending our flag in the orient.

"This is no time to be captious. This is no time to split hairs or play small politics. We should do our duty. We should do what is right, and the people will judge us accordingly."

BRYAN'S PROPHECIES.

Farm Products Went Up in Spite of His Doleful Predictions.

Don't forget that Bryan predicted 40 cent wheat, ten-cent corn and ten-cent potatoes unless he was elected.

And remember—That the advance in prices in the New York market between July 2, 1896, and July 5, 1900, the dates of his first and second wares:

	Per Cent. Increase
Wheat	35
Corn	49
Oats	54
Lard	88
Mess pork	90
Beef	41
Cotton	76
Wool	68
Hay	11
Butter	37
Average	45.4

Mr. Bryan wasn't much of a prophet, was he?

Now he says the prosperity is not real, and predicts the fall of the republic.

Mr. Bryan's predecessors all said in 1864 and 1872 that the republic was dead.

It isn't. Mr. Bryan is as good a prophet as they were.

Two Bad Bites.

Diogenes, being asked, "What is that beast which is the most dangerous?" replied, "Of wild beasts the bite of a slanderer and of tame beasts that of the flatterer."

If the average man could read the story of his life he wouldn't believe it.—Chicago News.

GREAT IS TAMMANY.

Bryan's Connection with Croker and Commercialism.

Source of the Revenue Which Adds to the Democratic Campaign Funds—An Infamous Alliance.

One of the most remarkable attacks ever delivered against Bryan was the likening him to Satan by Carl Schurz on September 5, 1896.

In his famous speech at the Central Music hall, Chicago, Mr. Schurz said: "Mr. Bryan has a taste for Scriptural illustration. He will remember how Christ was taken up on a high mountain and promised all the glories of the world if He would fall down and worship the devil. He will also remember what Christ answered.

So the tempter now takes the American people up the mountain and says: 'I will take from you half your debts, if you will worship me.' But then, brave old Uncle Sam rises up in all his dignity, manly pride, and honest wrath, and speaks in thunder tones: 'Get thee behind me, Satan; for it is written that thou shalt worship the God of truth, honor and righteousness, and Him alone shalt thou serve.'"

Since 1896 Mr. Schurz has become one of those who has listened to the voice of the same tempter he warned the American people against in 1896. Not for "all the glories of the world," but for infinitely cheaper reasons he has fallen down to worship the one who, in 1896, he pictured as akin in his principles to Satan. Bryan is still, as in 1896, the personification of the doctrine—thou mayest steal from the laborer 50 per cent. of his hire, and from the farmer 50 per cent. of his crop value.

Mr. Schurz worships his new idol with his face turned away. He is ashamed to mention his name when he gives testimony in his cause. But by "their works shall ye know them," and by his present works Mr. Schurz leaves no question in the public mind whose servant he has become.

Mr. Bryan has recently said: "Great is Tammany, and Croker is its prophet."

He has, in these words, made an open expression of his sympathy with the political power which tends to make of Greater New York a hell on earth.

The New York World (democratic) has figured out that Croker's committee is collecting $4,150,000 a year through the police, as a tax on crime, and gives a list of the forms of vice, and the average rate of tribute, which is from $75 per month to $100 per week each, as follows:

150 poolrooms	$30,000
100 swell gambling houses	50,000
1,000 little gambling houses	1,300,000
500 policy shops	450,000
1,000 dives	900,000

Illicit tax on crime per year, $4,150,000. And this is the supply tank which pours revenue into the campaign fund of Bryan. Every dollar of it is tainted. Every dime and every penny is smeared with the villainess of the slums, harlotries and criminal joints and dens of New York city. This is the trust in crime to which Carl Schurz has seen fit to lend the respectability of his name.

FARMERS GROW WEALTHY.

Gain Over a Billion Dollars in Crops and Live Stock in the Last Year.

Washington, Oct. 24.—A statement of the value of nine of the principal crops of the United States for 1900 and of the animals on the farms has just been made by the department of agriculture.

The crops included in the statement are corn, cotton, wheat, oats, potatoes, barley, rye, hay and buckwheat, and their aggregate value is $2,707,057,500. The same crops last year were worth $2,060,023,171, so that for these nine crops alone the farmers received a total of $647,034,329 more than in 1899—and that was admittedly one of the most prosperous years ever known by the producers of the United States.

The live stock statement is equally gratifying. Swine are not included in the totals, as the information is not available, but the total value of the horses, mules, cows and other cattle and sheep this year amounts to $2,212,756,578, while the same animals on the farm last year were worth $1,826,900,664.

This is an increase of $385,855,914. Adding this to the gain in crop values, and the farmers are over a billion dollars better off than they were a year ago, the exact figures being $1,032,890,243.

This gain in one year would be sufficient to pay the entire interest paying debt of the United States.

No Sectional Lines.

Sectional lines no longer mar the map of the United States. Sectional feeling no longer holds back the love we bear each other. Fraternity is the national anthem, sung by a chorus of 45 states and our territories at home and beyond the seas. The union is once more the common altar of our love and loyalty, our devotion and sacrifice. The old flag again waves over us in peace, with new glories which your sons and ours have this year added to its sacred folds. What cause we have for rejoicing, saddened only by the fact that so many of our brave men fell on the field or sickened and died from hardship and exposure, and others returning bring wounds and disease from which they will long suffer. The memory of the dead will be a precious legacy, and the disabled will be the nation's care.—President McKinley's speech before the Legislature in Joint Assembly at the State Capitol, Atlanta, Ga., December 14, 1895.

SOUTH REACHING FOR TRADE.

Republican Tariff and Currency Laws Have Helped That Section.

No section of the country has had a larger share of the general prosperity during the present administration than the south, and it has been due mainly to the operations of the republican tariff and currency laws, as the southern business men now understand and acknowledge. Never before in the history of the United States has the output of the southern iron ore and pig iron, lumber, coal and coke been so large as it has been in the past two years, and not for years, if ever, have the prices been so high. Never before was so large a proportion of southern products shipped from southern ports. Never before has money been loaned there at such low interest. All this has occurred under the gold standard and the protective tariff. A few years ago the south had practically no manufactures; it has now over $1,000,000,000 invested in factories, paying over $350,000,000 in wages and producing between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000 products yearly. Most of this increase has been secured under the present administration, and it is directly due to the operation of the republican policies.—Senator N. B. Scott, of West Virginia.

Hard Facts vs. Pessimism.

"Bradstreet's" says: "There was a grand total of decrease in the liabilities in failures in the first six months of 1900 from the corresponding period of 1896 of $45,471,728."

Mr. Bryan says: "The much-vaunted prosperity is on the wane." Which is right, the hard fact business agency or the intellectual dyepot?

Squarely Met.

The Republican platform doesn't equivocate or dodge. Every issue is fairly met and frankly treated.
