Madison Chronicle: J. F. Neidig shut down his sorghum mill a week or ten days ago, having worked up all the crop. The output this year in sorghum was not as large as usual while the seed made a greater quantity. There was manufactured 2,500 gallons of the molasses and about 1,000 bushels of seed were threshed out.

These people will be glad of the opportunity they will again have to hear him in Norfolk. He is to speak in the Auditorium on the evening of the 31st—next Wednesday—and will undoubtedly have a good house.

Pat is Converted.

All who know Pat Stanton, the Tilden wet goods merchant, and know his political leaning will fully appreciate the huge joke that has been perpetrated by the World-Herald fakery upon its readers as disclosed by the following from the Tilden Citizen:

"It would seem from that great and reliable Bryanite paper, the Omaha World-Herald, that Pat Stanton has been, until quite recently, living a double political life. His intimate acquaintances have supposed, erroneously it now appears, that he had always been a rock-ribbed democrat who doubted if anybody could be quite certain of eternal salvation unless he voted the democratic ticket. The contrary must be true, however, for the World-Herald says so in the following, taken from its issue of October 12: 'Obliged to be a democrat. Pat Stanton leaves the republican party. Knows about the miners. Pat Stanton, one of the leading citizens of Tilden, was in town last evening to here Bourke Cockran. Mr. Stanton says he has been a republican all his life, but the time has come for a parting of the ways. He was reared in the Pennsylvania coal fields and knows the conditions of the miners. He is convinced that Bryan is the only hope for the laboring man. The whole Stanton family is in the same fix.' The republicans of Jefferson precinct acknowledge the right of Pat to change his political faith, but it is doubtful if ever they will be charitable enough to forgive him for having habitually voted for all the democratic nominees in the district for twenty-one years past when he was all the time a true-blue republican. After all, though, it may be possible that the World-Herald lies like hades."

Pleads Guilty.

There has been considerable talk about the editor of late. Either his actions have betrayed him or the people of Winside are mind readers. To save further worry and troubled minds he pleads guilty to the charge of intent to wed. He will be as badly disappointed as the people Winside will be if he does not return the first of the week with a lady called Mrs. Benj. McKean. He left on Monday morning for Volga, Iowa, where his intended bride (Miss Celia Duff) lives. Miss Duff and the editor are old schoolmates, boarding at the same club and graduating the same year from the Iowa State Normal school. Both are teachers holding state certificates in Iowa, which we trust will not be any detriment to the paper. After the wedding takes place next Thursday, the bride and groom will make a brief stop at Waterloo, Iowa, to see a brother of the groom and from there to Sac county to visit parents and sisters of the editor, returning to Winside the fore part of next week.—Winside Tribune.

Probably Read Democratic Doctrine.

The Chicago Newspaper Union publishes from the National Printer Journalist, an item which leads a person to believe that both have recently come in contact with democratic journals to a greater or less extent. The item is as follows: "An editor should not be a pessimist, if he is not an optimist. People have enough of the burdens of life without being compelled to bear the gloomy foreboding of a dyspeptic mind poured out through the columns of a newspaper, that above all things should be filled with good cheer as well as with news. Sparkling, bright, refreshing, are among the most essential qualities of a newspaper as well as of the cup of pure water, brewed in nature's laboratory, that cheers the weary and thirsty more than costly wines, while it does not inebriate. Prophets of ill and of decay are out of place in this land, and especially out of place in the editorial room of American newspapers."

August Flower.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy, for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at A. K. Leonard's. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

Owen Bros. have let contracts for the erection of two dwellings in South Omaha which are to be completed in six weeks. The contract was let yesterday morning and the houses were rented before the agreements were signed. It shows a great demand in that city for residence property by renters.

The Auditorium was filled last evening to see the performance of Victor Lee, the magician, the audience being composed largely of women and children. Some very clever tricks were performed but an apology was offered that the program was not longer and more perfect, although the reason was not given. Something better is promised for tonight.

A number of Mrs. Rudat's old time friends gave her a surprise visit yesterday noon, and took dinner with her. They brought their own refreshments, and a set of china plates which were presented to Mrs. Rudat. All enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon. Those present were Mesdames L. Sessions, H. E. Hardy, P. F. Bell, P. F. Sprecher, L. L. Rembe, W. C. King, S. H. Overton, H. A. Pasewalk and Miss Elsie Asmus.

A horse trainer in town yesterday was particularly noticeable for his height, measuring six feet, 10 1/2 inches. He was on his way to Tilden where he was to have a horse race today with Geo. W. Losey but when part way on his journey he was taken sick and was brought back to Norfolk. Dr. Mackay attended him and removed a bone about an inch and a half in length from his esophagus. He was soon all right again and it is understood that the race will come off.

H. E. Owen, of the firm of Owen Bros., returned last evening from Cheyenne, Wyo., where they are closing up their railroad grading contracts, with the exception of one, which will probably last well into the winter. They expect to complete the bulk of the work inside of 30 days, providing they take no new contracts. They would have finished sooner could they have secured all the help they could use, but they have found it exceedingly difficult at times to get men.

One of the news agents on the Main line of the Union Pacific has been polling the trains quite persistently on the political preferences of the passengers. He finds that McKinley preferences average about 20 to 30 per cent ahead of preferences for Bryan. He notices a change in sentiment by the demands for papers. During the last campaign the demand for the World-Herald equalled if not exceeded the demand for the Bee, now he takes no extra World-Heralds at all but finds the demand for the Bee largely increased.

Fremont Tribune: Mose Horner, a brakeman on a freight crew running between here and Norfolk, was caught between two cars yesterday afternoon at Wisner and very seriously hurt. Several ribs are said to be broken and he is bruised badly about the hips, beside being more or less injured on other parts of the body. He was placed on the train and taken to Scribner, where he received medical aid. Later he was brought here and taken to his home. Reports today indicate that there is little doubt but that he will recover, although he will require considerable time. He is receiving careful medical attention, and everything possible is being done to aid a speedy recovery.

Ex-Consul Williams of Manila passed through the city this morning on his way from Hartington to Madison where he speaks this evening. He spoke at Hartington last evening to a large audience which was very highly entertained. Mr. Williams thinks one of the greatest evidences of prosperity is the tremendous increase in enrollment at the colleges and universities of the country. He is a graduate of Cornell university and is naturally in closer touch with its affairs. Whereas two years ago the enrollment of students at that seat of learning was 2,000, this year it is 3,500. The consul's home is at Rochester, N. Y., but he was stationed at Manila at the time of Dewey's battle. He was on the bridge with Dewey during his engagement with the Spaniards and witnessed the whole fight. He anticipated much pleasure in meeting members of the "Fighting First" at Madison.

WANTS CHEAPER CORN.

Grain Dealer Believes That Bryan's Election Will Mean a Lower Price.

A farmer living near Norfolk delivered to one of the dealers 700 bushels of corn for which he received 25 cents a bushel. After the delivery was made the farmer wanted to deliver more at the same price but the dealer told him to wait a while saying:

"If Bryan is elected, we can get corn for 20 cents a bushel."

The remark gave the farmer food for thought, however, and there is no question but that he will vote in the interest of maintaining the present prices of farm products. If the fusionists have this way of figuring it is easy to comprehend what the agriculturists should do on election day.

There are those who believe the dealer may be short sighted for if his buying price goes down his selling price will certainly not keep up unless he has a trust "cinch."

He might be benefited, but meanwhile hundreds of his neighbors may suffer losses to pay for it.

Said the Minister Lied.

From Meadow Grove comes a story concerning the political meeting addressed at that place last Friday by Rev. Cheeseman, Lem Brown was in the audience and, when the minister stated that Mark Hanna was a thief, a rogue and a slave driver, Lem couldn't let the slander pass without saying "that's a lie sir." As the preacher of the gospel became more earnest he grew more intemperate in his scandalous remarks and, among other things, told his hearers that President McKinley had sent to Manila 600 dissolute women under the protection of the Red Cross badge. Lem emphatically called out "that's a damned lie, sir." Realizing that by these interruptions he had rendered himself liable to arrest for disturbing a public meeting, he left the hall and did not return to town until Tuesday morning. He then found that a complaint had been lodged against him before Justice Colegrave, who unwillingly fined him the minimum of $1. The people of the village as soon as they became aware of the fact of Lem's presence and of the penalty inflicted on him, gathered together and with a lot of horns and other noise producing instruments, paraded the streets hurrahing for Mark Hanna and the republican candidates.—Tilden Citizen.

DIRT CLEARANCE.

It is a good plan for every bather to know something of the soap he uses. There is a well-founded objection to using a floor-cleaning soap upon the human body. Ivory Soap is the bather's soap. It costs more than common soaps, but the difference is in the ingredients and making. Why not treat yourself with a little respect. Is not the human skin with its marvellous delicacy entitled to pure soap? Ivory Soap—it floats.

TO AID THEIR MISSION WORK.

Mennonite Brethren Church of Kansas Will Start a Bank.

McPherson, Kan., Oct. 31.—The Mennonite Brethren church of Kansas proposes to go into the banking business. The bank is to have a capital of $50,000 and is to be run strictly as a money making institution. The stock will be subscribed by members of the church. The stockholders will receive a small percentage of the profits, but the greater part of the money earned will go into a missionary fund to be handled by the Mennonite Brethren Missionary association of North America. The money is to be used for foreign missions, principally in India, where the church is already doing missionary work. The church also has missions among the American Indians. The bank will be managed by a committee responsible to the stockholders.

This was decided at the general conference of the church at Butler, 20 miles southwest of here. Delegates were present from the territory extending from Manitoba to Texas.

Situation at Ames.

Des Moines, Oct. 31.—Dr. J. B. Kennedy received word yesterday morning from Ames in relation to the typhoid fever situation. There are practically no new cases and those down with the fever are getting better, although a number of the patients are very weak. The board is notified that samples of water from the college and from a number of wells in the city had been forwarded for analysis. These upon arrival will be turned over to the state chemist and Professor Grimes, state bacteriologist, for examination. The water at the college was analyzed at Ames, but the analysis is for the purpose of confirming the former one and for the further purpose of deciding whether or not the water from the dairies from which the milk supply was obtained is pure.

Agree Upon Negotiations.

Peking, Oct. 28.—A meeting of the diplomats was held this morning to consider the form of the negotiations for a settlement of the Chinese difficulty. The decision arrived at is kept secret, in order to prevent any information reaching the Chinese.

Replies Not Yet Received.

London, Oct. 31.—The British foreign office has not yet received the Russian and French reply to the Anglo-German agreement on China. The reply of the United States was expected yesterday afternoon, but it had not been delivered at 4 o'clock.

Body Found In Ruins.

Long Pine, Neb., Oct. 31.—A vacant building two miles from town, owned by J. M. Mead, burned last night and in the ashes was found the charred body of an unknown man, burned beyond recognition. Two theories account for the presence of a man in the house at the time of the fire. One being that he was a tramp, who put in for the night and the fire started from the stove, the other that a murder had been committed, the corpse being taken to this isolated place by the perpetrator and incinerated along with the house to cover up any clue.

GOSHEN, ILL.—Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.—Dear Sirs: Some days since a package of your Grain-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the Grain-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

Respectfully yours,
